

Pos Miller, Penn Captain, May Not Be Able to Start Against Swarthmore Next Saturday

PENN NEEDS BETTER OFFENSE FOR FUTURE

Veteran Follower of Red and Blue Surprised at Inability to Score More Frequently Against Maryland

By JOSEPH T. LABRUM
PENN is going to stack up well against such teams as the Navy, Pitt, State and Cornell, a better offense must be developed.

WHAT the veteran says is shared in by a vast majority of the 25,000 members who witness the fray against Maryland.

Plenty of Mistakes
A lot of mistakes were made during the game. That is to be expected.

Miller's Injury
Gloom pervaded the campus this morning when the news leaked out that Captain Pos Miller may be unable to play in the Swarthmore next Saturday.

GOOD news arrived with the bad. That Clark Craig, the Oklahoma backfield luminary, would be able to get into scrimmages during this week.

McGraw, Sullivan and Hamer
Getting back to the game, the player of Hank McGraw, the freshman star of last year; George Sullivan, and Tex Hamer was of the scintillating variety all afternoon.
