Do You Want to Rule a Man by Sneaky, Unfair Methods?

By WINNIFRED HARPER COOLEY

French women know the gentle alluring and ruling men softly and inside of ruling their husbands without sidiously, without their knowledge!

the mere males realizing it!

We are told that France is ruled by its women, and that their power is far greater than that of Americans, even without the vote away from.

sidiously, without their knowledge!

It is as if one would bring up a child to have charming manners, but to lie and steal, amiably and craftily. "You can get anything in the world you want if you just work a man right," is the immoral suggestion. It is not new; it is old as history, but it is a practice that honest men and women deplore, and are trying to educate the world away from. or any economic The fault is in the word "rule." It

Independence! has its origin away back in Oriental Do European despotism. It is a thing of monarchies women rule nations? If so, do in the firm belief in slavery! winnifred if it is a matter of marper cooley subterfuge, wheming, underhand dealing and cun-

In the first place, we deny absolutely that foreign women are a set of rulers! However they may pet and cajole statesmen and diplomats in private, they have little voice in bringing about reforms or in bettering their own condition. Laws generally do not protect them or give them even the most necessary freedom. Playing politics behind closed doors always has been indulged in by a few bold and unscrupulous women in European courts, and the favorites of kines have influenced orms or in bettering their own corms or in the Evzhind closed doors always has been called the voluments of talk of women's ruling men!

The sexes need not fight a secret to publish your answer in the EvzNNO PUBLIC LEDGER as soon as posNNO PUBLIC LEDGER as the parties of the part ral have power and rule the nations is absurd.

The writer who asserts all this ranges a few of the celebrated schemers and courtesans, as if they were an example of women in each nation. chemers and courtesans, as if they were an example of women in each nation and their power over all men. It is questionable taste to hold up as examples to American women, with their is a germ of masterfulness and tyranny. It is a heritage of barbarous ages, and traditions of fair play and democracy, schemers who trampled upon every right of the mass of human beings, it. If we played favorites, and bargained away to rule hi a kingdom for jewels and adulation, we hate hi we are exhorted to imitate such cour- with him. it. If we love a man, we do not want to rule him and weaken his will. If we hate him, we have no right to live Mrs. Wilson Gets

Egyptian Influence in Gray Chiffon Frock

BY CORINNE LOWE

The fashions have stolen a marchnot from but on "Aida." Go to this opera and you will find, in fact, many of the styles which the autump designer of 1922 has sponsored in his late costumes. Millinery is one item which has consulted this source frequently, and not only the silhouette but many of the trimming effects of our present-day evening gowns would have felt thoroughly at home in the time of Thus we find the stunning girdle of coral and crystal which acnieves the climax in the accompanying evening frock taken direct from figypt. For the the wide circular skirt is composed of tage the mood of the outer corsage and its bands show, in fact, at the top of

This is a charming dinner frock for the young woman-particularly the

The Woman's Exchange

Regarding Parties

Cleaning Dress

blond young woman.

e is a slave!
In the hearts of most persons there should weed it out, not encourage

Directions for Cookies, Desserts. Hot Bread and Famous Waffles Are Gathered During Stay in Tennessee By MRS. M. A. WILSON

Southern Recipes

Donurisht. 1922. by Mrs. M. A. Wilson. All rights reserved DURING the third week in September I was lecturing at the Tennessee State Fair, held in Cumberland Park, Nashville, under the auspices of the Home and Educational Department, of which Mrs. Robert W. Nichols is the director. Mrs. Nichols is my ideal of the American grand dame, affable, courteous and a real Southern lady to the tips of her dainty fingers; but also a splendid mother and housewife. She is a very competent judge of foods, dairy products, home manufactured delicacies as well as the artistic results of the needle. So well does Mrs. Nichols conduct her department that not only the young miss in the high school and the busy society matron, but also the woman from the farm community comes to her for advice and guidance; not only in making fancy work but also recipes

Tennessee Cookies

Put through the food chopper One and one-half cups of nuts. One cup of seeded raisins, Sufficient candied citron to measure

One oup of dried apples, chopped fine. Place in bowl and add
The grated rind of one lemon and one

Place in mixing bowl Two cups of brown sugar.
Three-quarters cup of sorghum sirup.
Cream well and add

Yolks of three eggs,

Three-ouarters cup of shortening.
New Orleans molasses.
One-half cup of black coffee and suffident flour to make a stiff dough. Now add

Three level tablespoons of baking powder and the prepared fruit.

Knead well to blend thoroughly, Chtil this dough for twenty-four hours, and then roll out one-half inch thick; cut with scalloped cookie cutter and lay on greased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven for twelve minutes. When cold brush with the following style text. Made of mist-gray chiffon mixture and dip in powdered sugar.

Stand in warm place for little while to dry off.

Place in small bowl

Three tablespoons of honey. Two tablespoons of boiling water. Beat well to blend.

Tennessee Waffles

These waffles are delicate and as light as a feather and when spread its bands showith melted butter and honey are a the shoulders. Place in mixing bowl

Yolks of three eggs. Three tablespoons of melted butter, Two tablespoons of sugar. One and one-half cups of either sicces er sour milk. If you use sour milk, use equal parts To the Editor of Woman's Page:

of sour milk and water.

Three and one-half cups of flour.
Three level teaspoons of baking pow.

Beat to smooth batter and then cut and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the three ears adding at this wines are adding at this wines.

Beat to smooth batter and then cut and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the three ears adding at this wines.

Dear Madam — Kindly advise me what would be nice to give at a miscellaneous shower. Also, I am going to be engaged in a short time and I am just having a dinner for my friend's people and my own. What would be proper to wear?

A READER. the three eggs, adding at this time one teaspoon of vanilla and one-quarter teaspoon of nutmeg. Bake in a hot, well-greased waffle iron.

Corn Pone

Place in saucepan

One quart of water,
One-half cup of good shortening,
Three-quarters cup of sorghum sirup
or New Orleans molasses.

proper to wear? A READER.

A miscellaneous shower is such a nice thing to plan for, because you can give anything from a piece of underwear to a shining pan for the kitchen. Here are some suggestions: A camisole, a small vase of colored glass, several bath towels, handkerchiefs, a pair of stockings, a fudge apron, a reliable book of recipes for two people or some attractive piece of kitchenware.

What to wear depends upon how formal an occasion the dinner is to be. I judge it is informal, though, so wear an afternoom dress of crepe or some material like it. Bring to boiling point and add one and one-half cups of cornmeal. Reat bard and cook for ten minutes. Then material like it. bern in mixing bowl. Cool and add To the Editor of Woman's Page:

Please Tell Me What to Do

To "'Academician" The Woman's Exchange will answer has its origin away back in Oriental despotism. It is a thing of monarchies and empires. It is imbedded deeply in the firm belief in slavery!

If you rule, some one else has to be ruled.

Even with children it is a bad word. We should not rule a child, but guide it. With the lowliest servant it is not a matter of ruling, but directing. We do not even rule animals; we use our superior knowledge to train them.

HOW much worse is it then, in a people has been called the voice of the people has been called the voice of the to talk of women's ruling men!

The sexes need not fight a secret battle. Men ruled women many centuries, and civilization suffered from it. Children inherited servile and ignorant minds and characters, when they had

He's Puzzled

Dear Cynthia—Hearts are peculiar organs, especially mine. When all goes weil I never know I have it—but allow a sudden jar to upset it and toss it about—then all the king's horses couldn't move it, it seems so heavy.

That is how depressed I feel just now, and hoping you can help solve my problem. I write to you.

I am engaged to the lovellest lady in all the world. But in the course of events our harmony has been ruptured by two semi-serious misunderstandings. Both times Little Lady has at once made engagements with other men for a theatre and dance, going out with them the very same evenings as our break. Cynthia, in your opinion, could a girl, really in love, find consolation for heartaches in such quick "fings"? I den't understand it, being only a mere man.

Yes, some girls really could, and

Temptation

Yes, some girls really could, and probably would do just that, because they would not stop to reason, but would foolishly think the best way to make the man feel bad about the quarrel would be to go out with another. Later, they did it. But when some women are badly hurt they want distraction above all things, so they will not have to think. Try to understand and do not quarrel if you can possibly avoid it.

He's Disillusioned

Dear Cynthia—Although an infrequent reader of your column, I trust you will give space to this defense of the same than thought that if the same than the property of the same than thought that if the same than the same than thought that if the same than the same than thought that if the same than the same than thought that if the same than the same than thought that if the same than the same than thought that if the same than the cannot contemples this and there is a reconcilistion of series.

Temptation

Temptation

Temptation

Temptation

Temptation

The days that followed, although Steele found that his whole life centered around his need of Anne and her strange almost uncanny power to bring him to her feet, reason asserted itself.

Things could not go on like this, and finally there came the thought that if Anne would not tell him the truth he must find out for himself in some other way.

Dear Cynthla—Although an infre-quent reader of your column, I frust you will give space to this defense of bachclors in view of Miss Modern Girl's most susceptible period. While I was in high school I was too unprepossessing atudious and taciturn to attract the girls. While in college I was too busy earning my way through. I noticed that the idle fellows fell the most easy prey to the girls. Of course I did not escape without a few affairs, but I think the unfairness and unreasonableness of the sex relationship helped me to keep my balance. After the fever subsided I could analyze the case and the girl.

"And I learned about women from her."

Modern conditions, the rising tide of ferminers advectors more building and the thought that not only had she a past which he did not share, but a present.

When he left her in the morning he could not be sure that before he re-

Modern conditions, the rising tide of feminism, education, prohibition, antitobacco sentiment, the churches, and other causes tend to throw the male into the enervating influence of the female. The marriage relationship is altogether in favor of the woman, and there are very few happy marriages.

Steele showed the strain under which here are very few happy marriages. The could not be sure that before he reconstituted not be sure that before he returned that night she might not have been dealered to the strain under which he was living. The outlines of his face became sharp and his jaw was set more strendy than ever. Marcia noticed several layers of material. Its scallops are banded with crystal beads, and the same trimming is utilized on the shoulder-to-shoulder neckline and the deep armholes. An inner corsage of gray chiffon opposes by its square cut decolletage the mood of the outer corsage and a tight. The sail beyond the paths of all the Western stars until I die."

Isn't that better than grinding poverty, a fat wife, and the hopeless prospect of a dependent old age?

After my travels are over, then the comfortable club fireplace, my book and a tight. "For a woman is only a woman, but good cigar is a smoke."

You must have met strange people in your lifetime to be so bitter. You can scarcely call the children of a marriage "her children." Surely they are the father's as much as the mother's, although she has far more care, anxiety and responsibility with them. It's little enough for him to support them. You'll feel better some day when you meet the right woman.

WHAT'S WHAT By Helen Decie

one cup of flowr.
One teaspoon of salt.
Two fablespoons of baking powder, after with the flour and salt.
One cup of milk.
One cup of milk.
One cup of milk.
Beat hard to blend, then whip in the stiffly beaten whites of the two flowers liberally with good shortening, and then turn in the prepared pone.
This batter must be about three-type of the dress, because it is really a very pretty one, and I would be very grateful for any information you could give me to the top with paper-thin of bacon, nicking the edges nice-prevant the bacon curling up, was the bacon well. Cut in squares to find the start is a start of elegands.

To the Editor of Woman's Page:

Dear Madam — I have a silk dress that has become very solied and I would like to wash it, but am afraid that it will not wash it, but am afraid that it will not wash it, but am a stalk dress to forgive divine." That is the chical to forgive divine." That is the ethical point. But even as a matter of etiquette a well-bred person in society does not make any demonstrations of personal entire to five the skirt is impossible to use water. I do not want to dye the dress, because it is really a very pretty one, and I would be very grateful for any information you could give me as to how to wash it and keep its color without the blue running into the tan bacon, nicking the edges nice-prevant he bacon curling up.

It would be wise to send this dress to ful and gracious to accept it serency.

It would be wise to send this dress to ful and gracious to accept it serency meeting courtesy with courtesy. To respect to color professional cleaner's, because the application, or a point of professional cleaner's because the application, or a point of the tan application, or a point of the tan application of the

The Superior Sex by HAZEL DEVO BATCHELOR

John Steele marries Anne Temple knowing that she has a secret in her past which she refuses to divulge. He knows, too, that she does not love him, but he is determined to win her love and on their honeymoon they are swept irresistibly together. But having won her heart, Steele begins to think about Anne's past and to wonder about her secret. They return home, and on certain occasions Anne disappears and says nothing about where she has been. Finally she is gone overnight, and when she returns refuses to talk about her absence. She admits, however, that Steele has a right to know and offers to go away. His love for her is so great that he cannot contemplate this and there is a reconciliation of serts.

The minute the thought occurred to ebullition.

In order that I may not be charged with inexperience I may say that I am now thirty-one, and have passed the most susceptible period. While I was in high school I was too unreaded to him her, and yet the thought cocurred to him he realized that he must put it aside or sink in his own estimation of himself. He could not stoop to sp) on her, and yet the thought having once smile, that lighted up her dark eyes and gave to her face that look of gracious serenity, Steele torgot the press of business and smiled back.

"You're working too hard," she said accusingly.

"Why, have I that tired business man's look?"

"You have."

"And what are you doing downtown at this hour?"

"I've been at my father's office, and now I'm going shopping. Of course you get the connection."

They both laughed, and Steele with a sudden imspiration suggested that they have lunch together.

He took her to one of the few at-

Anne it was so different. She was a concerned to the very soul, to be the object of such wholesale curonstant stimulus, and when he was with her he never wanted to tell her what was going on in his mind, so much as he wanted to hold her in his arms and tell her that he loved her.

Though they know how it hurts those who are concerned to the very soul, to be the object of such wholesale curiosity, they will press forward earlies who may be the accident and know what happened and who got hurt, how much arms and tell her that he loved her.

A screaming of brakes, a sickening

Tomorrow-"Love or Hate." Things You'll Love to Make states there in favor of the woman, and there are very few happy marriages. The few successes are due to the gradual but complete surrender of the man to the woman, obeying her whins, supporting her clitidren, sinking himself always. If he resist, there is the inext world with the praying martis, which, even while in the embraces of the female, is catted in the embrace of the female, is catted in the embrace of the female, in the more of the female, is catted in the embrace of the female, in the more of the female, is catted in the embrace of the female, in the female, is catted in the embrace of the female of the female, is catted in the embrace of the female, in the female, is catted in the female, is c

Franklin Simon & Co.

A Store of Individual Shops

FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK

Announce an Exhibition in PHILADELPHIA, PA.

New Fashions . From Fifth Avenue For Madame and Mademoiselle

THE BELLEVUE-STRATFORD RED ROOM

THURSDAY Ост. 19тн

FRIDAY Ост. 20тн

SATURDAY OCT. 21ST Morbid Curiosity Draws Neighbors to Pry Into Some One Else's Sorrow and procession.

Rows of Sharp-Eyed Children, Watching to See Their Intimate Friends Clad in Black for the First Time, Are Unkind

A something awful!" gloated one of the neighbors. "First came the father and her sister, together, then the two older girls, walking together, all in black and everything, and after them the younger girl, and oh she cried and everything, and then the boys and his sisters. Yes, they were all in black, too—Oh, they had everything for her."

The mother of a farge family had died very suddenly.

Like most closely associated communities this one was very sympathetic and offered help and consolation to the heartboken children and father who were left.

The kindest thing is to disappear, to hand over the whole street, the entire heartbroken children and father who were left.

But with their sympathy and their kindness was uncontrollable curiosity and a certain morbid delight.

They wanted to hear all the details; they told each other over the back fence at duck just how the girls were "taking on." what the boys did, how the father felt.

And the funeral, with all its pathetic ceremony and mournful associations, was an event of the greatest interest.

Their children wandered down the street to cluster about the gate or opposite the house on the other side of the street.

They did not show themselves, unless they were close enough friends to go to the service themselves, but every window along the street held a curious watcher, waiting for the procession. THESE people know the solemnity a sudden in piration suggested that they have lunch together.

He took her to one of the few attractive places that he knew in that locality, and they lingered 'ong over the simple meal. Once more Steele experienced that feeling of well being that he had on the night they had all taken supper together after the theatre. He wanted to prolong the time with her, he liked her tremendously, and it was a relief to talk with a woman without the danger of emotion interfering. With

A screaming of brakes, a sickening crash, a shrick—and then terrible si-

"Oh, come on," cries the girl whose brother lost his life when his airplane crashed in a trial flight, "An accident! Let's go see!'

She will help as much as possible when she gets there; she will be compassionate and deeply sorry over the whole thing.

But that is not the motive which makes her start to run and drag her companions with her to the scene of the disaster—it's morbid curiosity. She wants to see, to gloat over, the details of the accident; it is public property for the moment.

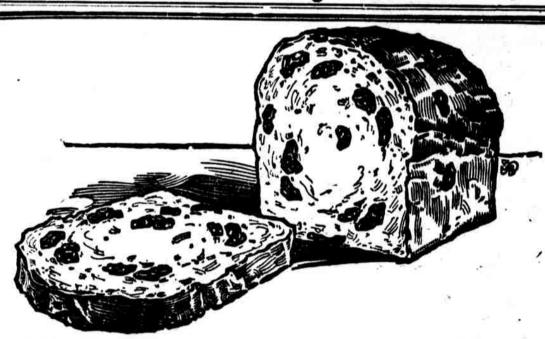

Quick Lunch at Home, Office and Fountains, Ash for HORLICE'S, SE Avoid Imitations & Substitutes

You never tasted anything so refreshing—so appetizing—so satisfying as Tetley's Orange Pekoe. It's all in the Tetley blend.

Makes good TEA a certainty

Bakers Bake It For You -no need to bake at home

HERE'S your old-time fa-vorite—full-fruited raisin bread with at least eight tempting raisins to the slice-already baked for you by master bakers in your city.

Simply 'phone your grocer or a neighborhood bake shop and have a fresh loaf for lunch or dinner to delight your folks.

We've arranged with bakers in almost every town and city to bake this full-fruited raisin bread.

Made with big, plump, tender seeded raisins. The raisin flavor permeates the bread. Sun-Maid Raisins You've never tasted finer food. Order a loaf now and count the raisins.

Raisin bread is a rare combination of nutritious cereal and fruit

-both good and good for you.

Serve at least twice weekly to get the benefits. Use Sun-Maid for home cooking of puddings, cakes, cookies,

You may be offered other brands that you know less well than Sun-Maids, but the kind you want is the kind you know is good. Insist, therefore, on Sun-Maid brand. They cost no more than ordinary Taisins.

Mail coupon for free book of tested "Sun-Maid Recipes."

The Supreme Bread Raisin

Your retailer should sell you Sun-Maid Raisins for not more than the following prices: Seeded (in 15 os. blue phg.) -20e Seedless (in IS on red pkg.) -18c Booded and Seedless (II os.) -18c

CUT THIS OUT AND SEND IT Sup-Maid Raisin Growers Dept. N-5-2, Fresno, California. Please send me copy of your free book, "Recipes with Raisins."