

FOUR BOND ISSUES PUT UP TO VOTERS

Norristown, Narberth, Pottstown and Springfield Township to Decide Loan Questions

MAN, 89, KILLED BY TRUCK

Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger
Norristown, Pa., Oct. 18.—In three boroughs and one township of Montgomery County the voters on November 7 will pass upon loans for school and municipal improvements.

In Norristown the question of borrowing $500,000 for school building sites, buildings, additions and repairs will be decided.

Narberth citizens will vote on whether $105,000 shall be borrowed to build, equip and furnish a school on a lot adjoining the present one and refund $15,000 of indebtedness.

Pottstown will decide whether $200,000 shall be borrowed for completing sanitary sewers and erection of a disposal plant.

In Springfield Township the voters will decide whether to borrow $200,000 to purchase a site, build a school and construct an athletic field.

While backing his autotruck at Franconia square yesterday John C. Clemens, of Mainland, did not see William Overholzer, aged eighty-nine year. The heavy vehicle struck the old man and one of the wheels passed over his head, killing him instantly. The victim was one of the best known residents of that community. Coroner Neville is investigating.

Installation of officers took place last evening at the Knights of Columbus headquarters, the ceremony in charge of J. J. Gorman, of Conshohocken, district deputy, Joseph F. Lawless, of Bridgeport, was installed as grand knight. Addresses were made by Philip Crisman, of Bridgeport, and Edward W. Keane, of Worcester, Mass.

Supreme Court Decision Puts Former Political Leader in Solitary Confinement

FRIENDS TO ASK PARDON

William S. Leib, former Republican leader and County Commissioner in Schuylkill County and former resident clerk of the House of Representatives at Harrisburg, yesterday again lost his appeal to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania from his conviction and sentence for forging tax receipts.

The Court disposed of Leib's technical objections in unique fashion. Leib, through his attorneys, contended that his sentence was illegal because it did not contain the words "by labor, at separate and solitary confinement."

Leib's attorneys pointed out that these words are included in the Act of March 31, 1860, which prescribes the maximum sentence for forgery.

In meeting this objection the Supreme Court merely made an order that the sentence be amended by adding the words "at separate and solitary confinement." This latest court decision is final, leaving no ground for further appeal.

If anything, Leib is now worse off than before. It has been said he has had the run of the Eastern Penitentiary at all hours of the day and that he was responsible for Schuylkill County's swing to Gifford Pinchot at the primary election. Warden McKenty denied that, however, saying Leib did not have unusual privileges.

Reports last night from Pottsville, county seat of Schuylkill, were that Leib is far from being a "bent" man. His friends, it was said, will now ask for a pardon. Leib has been notified that a petition containing the names of 85,000 Schuylkill County citizens will be got up for him if he consents.

Leib was convicted on December 5, 1919, before former Judge Albert W. Johnson of Lewisburg, Union County, then substituting in the Quarter Ses-

Major General Enoch H. Crowder, personal representative of the President in Cuba, who is here discussing Cuban affairs with State Department officials, conferred at length with Secretary Hughes yesterday. General Crowder had just returned from several days in New York. It was not learned whether his visit there had to do with the $50,000,000 loan which Cuba proposes and which, it is believed in well-informed quarters here, will be made in the near future.
