

THE WEATHER
Fair weather and moderate temperature tonight and Thursday; moderate southeast to west winds.
TEMPERATURE AT EACH HOUR
8 9 10 11 12 1 2 3 4 5
47 52 56 61 64 65 65 65

Evening Bulletin

NIGHT
EXTRA

VOL. IX.—NO. 36 Entered as Second-Class Matter at the Postoffice at Philadelphia, Pa. Under the Act of March 3, 1879. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1922. Published Daily Except Sunday. Subscription Price $4 a Year by Mail. Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company. PRICE TWO CENTS

MRS. ROSIER HALTS TRIAL BY COLLAPSE, BUT IS REVIVED

Woman's Nerves Give Out as Confession of Double Killing Is Read

"HE KILLED FIRST WIFE," SHE SAID TO DETECTIVE

Blamed Drink for Tragedy in Talks With Police After Crime

IF—!

IF acquitted of the murder of Mildred G. Reckitt, Mrs. Rosier may have to stand trial for slaying her husband. This indictment, however, may be nolle prossed.

IF the jury fails to agree application will probably be made to have Mrs. Rosier released in bail pending another trial.

IF Mrs. Rosier is convicted of murder in the first degree the electric judge must sentence her to the chair. Power to commute a death sentence is vested only in the Board of Pardons.

IF convicted of murder in the second degree she can be given a maximum sentence of twenty years.

IF convicted of manslaughter she can be sentenced to twelve years.

3 SENT TO 'COOLER' BY 'FINING SQUIRE,' WHO COLLECTS $490

Contractor, Enraged at Lecture, Hurls Paper Wad at Yerkes and Lands in Cell

AUTO SALES PRESIDENT IS FINED, JAILED, THEN FREED

'Get Him, Sapp!' Yells Dispenser of Justice When Defied, and Battle Follows in Court

Sir Thomas Lipton to Challenge Again

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Sir Thomas Lipton intends to challenge for the America's cup again in 1924. Sir Thomas, visiting here, said his desire to retrieve the yacht cup is as strong as ever.

"I don't think I would be willing to take the old mug back to where it can be satisfactorily filled," he said.

BREAK IN MACHINE IS FORESEEN OVER TRAINER CANDIDACY

Brothers Prepare to Strike if Vare Persists in Delaying Congressional Decision

REPRESENTATIVE TO MEET PINCHOT IN CONFERENCE

His Attitude in Fight for Organization Leadership May Depend on Meeting Today

Jerome Uhl, Painter-Singer, to Wed His Divorced Wife

Former Miss Elizabeth Norris, Cousin of Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, to Try Third Matrimonial Venture With Same Man

Jerome Uhl, painter and opera singer, is to be married for the third time to the woman he first married in 1903.

She then was Miss Elizabeth Norris, daughter of Henry Lattimore Norris, of the city. The marriage will be solemnized in Rome, Mr. Uhl said, the former Mrs. Uhl and her daughter having sailed for Europe October 5. Mr. Uhl will sail on the Majestic next Saturday.

At the Lambs Club, in New York, Mr. Uhl told today of his tangled marriage skein. Mr. Uhl related his meeting with Elizabeth Norris.

After four years of friendship they married in 1903. Mrs. Uhl is a niece of Mrs. Alexander Brinton Cox, of Philadelphia, and a cousin of Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury. Mr. Uhl is a son of S. Jerome Uhl, of Cornwall, a portrait painter, who painted Lincoln and every succeeding President except Roosevelt. He is a cousin of Cole Phillips, painter.

In 1914 Mrs. Uhl noticed her husband paying more attention to his painting than to his dinners. Many times he became too preoccupied to eat. She went to Reno and divorced him, alleging extreme cruelty as exemplified in his missed dinners. Custody of their daughter, Marion, was given to her.

In the years that followed they met frequently and wrote constantly. He studied painting in Europe while they remained in Santa Barbara, Calif., in 1917.

For two years they were happy, but Mr. Uhl learned in Europe that he could sing and critics said he might succeed there.

Mrs. Uhl charged he was more inter-

LLOYD GEORGE, URGES BRITISH UNITY WITH U. S.

Debates England Should Pay Debt to America—Makes Political Address

OPPOSES REVOLUTIONARY AND REACTIONARY MOVES

Pledges Fair Play for New Government—Favors Pact With Russia

NEW MINISTERS TAKE OATH

Bonar Law's Cabinet Begins to Function After Being Sworn In

NOTED CLERGYMAN DROPS CHRISTIANITY

The Rev. S. D. McConnell Denies Divinity of Christ and Miracles

ONCE WAS RECTOR HERE

The Rev. Samuel Davis McConnell, for fourteen years rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, of this city, has just published a book in which he denies the divinity of Christ, repudiates the foundations upon which Christianity has been built and calls the records of the miracles in the New Testament "incredible."

Dr. McConnell remained at St. Stephen's from 1882 until 1890. He was succeeded by Dr. Carl E. Grammer, the present rector. From Philadelphia he went to Holy Trinity, Brooklyn. He was made archdeacon of Brooklyn in 1908. He is now living near Easton, Md.

His book he calls "The Confessions of an Old Priest," and on the jacket of it he explains something of his reasons for writing it:

CHOLMELEY-JONES DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Theatrical Man's Death Is Hastened by Recent Loss of His Son

WAS ILL ONLY A WEEK

E. Cholmeley-Jones, widely known theatrical man, died today at his home in Broomall, Pa. He had been ill for more than a week with pneumonia.

His health began failing after the death about ten months ago of a son, Colonel R. C. Cholmeley-Jones, who had been director of the War Risk Insurance Bureau.

Mr. Jones in recent years had been publicity representative for the Nixon-Rindler interests and formerly represented the Shubert houses in the same capacity.

In earlier life he was a vocal tenor and was noted for the beauty and range of his baritone. His first connection with the theatrical world was with the old Chestnut Street Opera House and later he became associated with the Grand Opera House.

Mr. Cholmeley-Jones had many friends in theatrical, musical and newspaper circles. His manner was courteous and impressive. He was proud of the fact he had four sons at the front during the World War.

The four of his six sons who served overseas were Colonel Cholmeley-Jones, First Lieutenant Royton Cholmeley-Jones and Corporal Charles G. Cholmeley-Jones, who was with the American ambulance service in Italy.

His youngest son, A. M. Cholmeley-Jones, was present at the "cross" when the armistice ended hostilities.

SAVAGE DOGS PROTECT MATHILDE AND MAX OSER

Swiss Island Love Nest to Be Couple's Winter Retreat

Zurich, Oct. 25.—Miss Mathilde McCormick, seventeen-year-old granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller, and her betrothed, Major Max Oser, who, accompanied by members of the McCormick family, are living upon the little island of Saint Pierre, are to be allowed to spend the winter in this idyllic retreat, undisturbed by the outside world. It was learned yesterday.

Members of the McCormick family have definitely denied a rumor current in Switzerland that the McCormicks and Oser, middle-aged riding master, have been married. They say that the nuptials will be put off until the spring.

Men have been engaged to guard the island, accompanied by savage-looking waterdogs. Swiss guards meet all boats bound for the island to prevent journalists from landing to disturb the peace of the couple.

OPEN-AIR MURDER TRIAL

Day Given Over to Outdoor Session in Burch-Kennedy Case

Los Angeles, Oct. 25.—(By A. P.)—Sessions of the trial of Arthur C. Burch for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy were resumed today in the courtroom after a week of open-air hearings at Beverly Glen and Santa Monica Canyon.

It was at the former suburb that Kennedy was shot down on the steps of his summer cottage and it was at the latter that the State contended Burch threw the shotgun into the sea. The jury was also shown the room Burch occupied in a hotel directly across the street from Kennedy's brokerage offices.

Jerome Uhl, Painter-Singer, to Wed His Divorced Wife

Former Miss Elizabeth Norris, Cousin of Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, to Try Third Matrimonial Venture With Same Man

Jerome Uhl, painter and opera singer, is to be married for the third time to the woman he first married in 1903.

She then was Miss Elizabeth Norris, daughter of Henry Lattimore Norris, of the city. The marriage will be solemnized in Rome, Mr. Uhl said, the former Mrs. Uhl and her daughter having sailed for Europe October 5. Mr. Uhl will sail on the Majestic next Saturday.

At the Lambs Club, in New York, Mr. Uhl told today of his tangled marriage skein. Mr. Uhl related his meeting with Elizabeth Norris.

After four years of friendship they married in 1903. Mrs. Uhl is a niece of Mrs. Alexander Brinton Cox, of Philadelphia, and a cousin of Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury. Mr. Uhl is a son of S. Jerome Uhl, of Cornwall, a portrait painter, who painted Lincoln and every succeeding President except Roosevelt. He is a cousin of Cole Phillips, painter.

In 1914 Mrs. Uhl noticed her husband paying more attention to his painting than to his dinners. Many times he became too preoccupied to eat. She went to Reno and divorced him, alleging extreme cruelty as exemplified in his missed dinners. Custody of their daughter, Marion, was given to her.

In the years that followed they met frequently and wrote constantly. He studied painting in Europe while they remained in Santa Barbara, Calif., in 1917.

For two years they were happy, but Mr. Uhl learned in Europe that he could sing and critics said he might succeed there.

Mrs. Uhl charged he was more inter-

LLOYD WARREN FALLS SIX STORIES TO DEATH

Brother of Beau Arts School Head Discredits Suicide Theory

New York, Oct. 25.—(By A. P.)—Lloyd Warren, head of the Beau Arts School at Amherst, Mass., fell six stories from a window in his sixth-floor apartment in West Sixty-fourth street.

The architect's body, clad in silk pajamas, was found by a milkman at the bottom of a fire escape. Police director of Whitney Warren, internationally known architect, jumped or fell to his death today from a window in his sixth-floor apartment in West Sixty-fourth street.

The architect's body, clad in silk pajamas, was found by a milkman at the bottom of a fire escape. Police director of Whitney Warren, internationally known architect, jumped or fell to his death today from a window in his sixth-floor apartment in West Sixty-fourth street.

Besides his work at the Beau Arts School, Warren was well known for his assistance he gave to poverty-stricken young artists and architects.

Ends Life on Puck Building Roof

New York, Oct. 25.—(By A. P.)—On the roof of the Puck Building, a few feet from the statue of that whimsical character chucking "What Fools These Mortals Be," an unidentified man, about sixty years old, ended his life today by hanging. He had no money in his pockets.

Blamed Drink for Tragedy in Talks With Police After Crime

Crime

Mrs. Catherine Rosier, on trial for murder, listened with streaming eyes and tragic face today to a statement she had made after she had shot her husband, Arthur Rosier, and his stenographer, Mr. Mildred Geraldine Reckitt, then suddenly became so faint that detectives were sent flying for a doctor and the trial halted.

Mrs. Rosier, who is being tried for the murder of the girl in her husband's office, at 1314 Walnut street, on January 21, went to the Court of Quarter Sessions, Room 453, City Hall, in a wheelchair on that one of the six previous days of her trial.

She was complaining of a pain about her heart, and her thin face, with its big brown eyes, was haggard from want of sleep and drawn with suffering. She said she had not slept last night, and had been ill most of the hours of the night and this morning. Her weakness began to make itself evident a short time after the trial started.

A detective on the witness stand had just read a statement she had made within an hour of the shooting, in a police station house, and which he had copied down and preserved.

"My husband killed his first wife—he broke her heart," he read dramatically. "I married him because I was young. I thought I was in love with him. But no one woman could hold him."

LONG REMAINED SILENT

"I have been for fifty years a minister in the Church. I entered the ministry with enthusiasm, believing as I did that the Church was the one organization in the world of divine institution, that it owes its origin to Jesus Christ and that He, the unique Son of God, I have been reluctantly led to the conclusion that none of these things is true.

"So far I have been silent, for I wanted to be sure before speaking. Fifty years is surely long enough for consideration. Now I openly avow my convictions and leave it to the Church to do with me as it sees fit. But I confess I do so with the hope that after I have said all I have to say the church may decide that I and such as I have a place in its ministry.

"I set forth here the steps and stages through which I have come to the place where I stand, the more willingly because I am sure many another has passed through the same stages, and to its edifice—and has kept silent as I have done."

Dr. McConnell deals ruthlessly with the miracles of the New Testament. He writes:

QUICK ACTION SAVES BLIMP

Dirigible C-14 Almost Meets Fate of C-2

Newport News, Va., Oct. 25.—(By A. P.)—Destruction of the army dirigible C-14 was prevented today in the opinion of many here by the quick action of a member of the crew when a hole was torn in the blimp's gas bag as it was being taken from its moorings. When hydrogen gas began to hiss from the hole, a member of the crew, who was nearby, secured for safety, except one member, who pulled the rip cord, releasing the gas.

If this had not been done the dirigible probably would have met a fate similar to that of its sister ship, the C-2, recently at San Antonio.

WEGLEIN GROUP LOOTS TO HALL

These leaders are satisfied to kick up a fuss just now, but they seem to be planning to enter the Congress in the fall. The latter group is "too busy," says a source here. This situation is important for the reason that friends of Wendell Weglein, president of the State committee, are considering the possibility of a merger with the group of Wendell Weglein, a well-known leader of the group, in the field as a candidate for Congress. They are not so sure that they want to follow Congressman Vare have their eyes on the time being at least, a Congressman in the State committee. They consider the Congressman as the best bet off to the Congress's aspirations for leadership.

FATHER BADLY BURNED TRYING TO SAVE SON

Both in Hospital After Lad Set Clothes Afire With Candle

Felix Lashinsky, thirty-eight years old, of 131 E. 10th street, and his five-year-old son, Browne, are in Mount Sinai Hospital suffering from burns about the face, hands and feet. The father and son were playing with a lit candle yesterday afternoon, and his father was badly burned while extinguishing the flames.

Mrs. Lashinsky was at a nearby store, the father returned home from work, and hearing cries of agony coming from the house, he rushed in and found the boy's clothing a mass of flames.

Lashinsky grabbed his son in his arms and attempted to smother the flames, at the same time using his hands to beat the fire.

Mrs. Lashinsky, who had returned in the meantime, called the police of the Fourth street and Snyder avenue station, and the father and son were taken to Mount Sinai Hospital.

It was said at the hospital this morning that both will recover, although the child's condition is serious.

CLINE'S COUNSEL OPENS FINAL ARGUMENT IN FILM MURDER CASE

New Prosecutor in First Day on Investigation Picks Up Clue Overlooked for Six Weeks

ASKS ACQUITTAL OF THREE WOMAN "TALKED" SUICIDE

Hackensack, N. J., Oct. 25.—Half an hour after he had opened this morning on the third day of the trial of George A. Cline, Charles Sullivan and Alton Thornton, charged with the murder of Jack Bergen, film actor, Senator Mackay, counsel for the defense, was addressing the jury in his appeal for the three prisoners' acquittal.

He based his plea for acquittal on the ground that the only self-defense and protection of life and the sacred marriage ceremony justified the killing of Bergen.

Mr. Mackay again asked for the dismissal of the murder charge against Miss Thornton and Sullivan, but the Court denied the motion, saying the wife would have to be considered by the jury.

"If George Cline on August 25, 1922, shot and killed Jack Bergen with malice aforethought, then the legal innocence of the murderer is not for you to consider," Mr. Mackay continued.

"We have a definition of a real murder, but how different from real murders the evidence in this case shows the prisoners to be."

"Jack Bergen had only three victims, the legal evidence in this case showed. How many more or whether he had any more victims is not for you to consider," Mr. Mackay continued.

He spoke feelingly of the goodness of the home and the man who had been killed and wife and the duty of husband and father to protect his wife and children from the "disposer of the home."

Cline sat with his eyes fixed on the speaker, and Mrs. Thornton seemed almost hypnotized by an attitude of attention as she watched her husband's every motion.

Mrs. Cline sat behind her children, her head bowed, and quietly sobbing with the almost hysterical abandon she showed yesterday in court during her own examination and that of her husband.

She did not once raise her eyes as Mr. Mackay made his plea for acquittal.

DOUBTS CONSERVATIVE VICTORY

"The Conservatives may win the next election, I doubt that, but supposing they do, that is not the end of the war between the great conflicting policies of the organization. Our business is to see that this bundle shall not do harm to our country."

At the question of German reparations he said:

"We should not attempt to impose upon Germany any payment which is beyond her capacity. What is within her capacity she ought to pay."

He expressed his opinion, some definiteness as regards the question of Russia.

"I am strongly in favor of the re-creation of a pact with Russia," he declared.

Dealing with Great Britain's foreign relations in general, he said:

"We must not be afraid of our responsibility. The policy of Great Britain must be peace-loving but unflinching. If I and alone I will resist any departure from it."

Never Let Britain Down

"I will never let Great Britain down. I will not stand by for any man who says 'Whatever Government is in power we must support it' in any factious opposition. There must be no gagging criticism; there must be fair play."

"We are told that the new Government is a Government of tranquility. In what respect does it differ from the old? There must be no change from the existing conditions of things, then it is bad."

"We have made peace in Europe, we have made peace in the Near East. What does the new policy mean? It means using words unless they mean something."

"I am all for cooperation with the Allies, but Great Britain has her own responsibilities. She has her own mission in the world and she must stand by it."

In dealing with home affairs, Mr. (Continued on Page Twenty-three, Column Two)

DO YOU WANT A JOB? THERE ARE

Do you want a job? There are many openings in the field of advertising. Contact us today on page 25.

CALLS MIRACLES 'INCREDIBLE'

"I believe the record to be incredible in the strictest meaning of the word. I have become convinced that miracles do not happen, never have happened and never will happen. The ground of my convictions is my idea of God. To take an instance, the twelfth chapter of the Acts of the Apostles tells the story of the man who was delivered from prison by the miraculous interposition of an angel. * * * It appears that the miracle by which Peter and the Church were freed from the stocks was the work of a dozen innocent soldiers, who had never heard the name of Peter or his Master. There is the story. Do I believe it? No not at all."

Dr. McConnell contends that the known facts about the life of Christ would fill less than a column of newspaper space. In a chapter called "Jesus of the Gospels," he declares that the lives of Christ are far more pagan than Christ than there is of a number of his contemporaries.

DRY RAID IN LANSDALE

Prohibition Agents Pour Oil in Junction House Cider

Lansdale, Pa., Oct. 25.—In a prohibition raid last night at the Junction House, the oldest hotel here, twenty-two cases of a beverage which the proprietor, John F. Luskaber, says is near beer, a quantity of stomach bitters and another liquid for medicinal purposes were confiscated. Cool oil was poured into seven barrels of cider.

No arrests were made. The raid was conducted by eleven enforcement agents from Philadelphia.

NEW JERSEY MAN, 100, DIES IN HOME HE OCCUPIED 75 YEARS

Bridgeton, N. J., Oct. 25.—Daniel H. Garion, 100 years old, is dead at his home in Friendship, near here, which he occupied for 75 years. He was a regular habit and advised sleep from 7 P. M. to 7 A. M.

He is a graduate of the West Philadelphia High School in 1915 and was captain of the football team in 1916 and was captain of the team in 1917. He was picked as an All-Scholastic guard.

He is a member of the Delta Sigma Delta, the Junior Staff Society, the Dutch Company, the Bowl and Spool and the Thirteen Club. He is a first sergeant in Troop A, 103rd Cavalry, N. G. P., and expects a commission as second lieutenant in a few weeks. He is a member of the troop polo team and also played polo at the University.

A. H. Sving, Assistant Auditor General at Harrisburg and formerly Mayor of Contesville, is an uncle of the bridegroom.

The bride is twenty-two years old and is a graduate of the West Philadelphia High School. She is prominent in West Philadelphia. She and Dr. Sving will be at home after December 1 at the Montney Apartments, Forty-third street and Chester avenue.

WEGLEIN GROUP LOOTS TO HALL

These leaders are satisfied to kick up a fuss just now, but they seem to be planning to enter the Congress in the fall. The latter group is "too busy," says a source here. This situation is important for the reason that friends of Wendell Weglein, president of the State committee, are considering the possibility of a merger with the group of Wendell Weglein, a well-known leader of the group, in the field as a candidate for Congress. They are not so sure that they want to follow Congressman Vare have their eyes on the time being at least, a Congressman in the State committee. They consider the Congressman as the best bet off to the Congress's aspirations for leadership.

BRANDS BERGEN FINGERPRINT FOUND AS HOME-WRECKER IN HALL-MILLS CASE

Clue in Investigation of Murder of Actor

Hackensack, N. J., Oct. 25.—Half an hour after he had opened this morning on the third day of the trial of George A. Cline, Charles Sullivan and Alton Thornton, charged with the murder of Jack Bergen, film actor, Senator Mackay, counsel for the defense, was addressing the jury in his appeal for the three prisoners' acquittal.

He based his plea for acquittal on the ground that the only self-defense and protection of life and the sacred marriage ceremony justified the killing of Bergen.

Mr. Mackay again asked for the dismissal of the murder charge against Miss Thornton and Sullivan, but the Court denied the motion, saying the wife would have to be considered by the jury.

"If George Cline on August 25, 1922, shot and killed Jack Bergen with malice aforethought, then the legal innocence of the murderer is not for you to consider," Mr. Mackay continued.

"We have a definition of a real murder, but how different from real murders the evidence in this case shows the prisoners to be."

"Jack Bergen had only three victims, the legal evidence in this case showed. How many more or whether he had any more victims is not for you to consider," Mr. Mackay continued.

He spoke feelingly of the goodness of the home and the man who had been killed and wife and the duty of husband and father to protect his wife and children from the "disposer of the home."

Cline sat with his eyes fixed on the speaker, and Mrs. Thornton seemed almost hypnotized by an attitude of attention as she watched her husband's every motion.

Mrs. Cline sat behind her children, her head bowed, and quietly sobbing with the almost hysterical abandon she showed yesterday in court during her own examination and that of her husband.

She did not once raise her eyes as Mr. Mackay made his plea for acquittal.

DOUBTS CONSERVATIVE VICTORY

"The Conservatives may win the next election, I doubt that, but supposing they do, that is not the end of the war between the great conflicting policies of the organization. Our business is to see that this bundle shall not do harm to our country."

At the question of German reparations he said:

"We should not attempt to impose upon Germany any payment which is beyond her capacity. What is within her capacity she ought to pay."

He expressed his opinion, some definiteness as regards the question of Russia.

"I am strongly in favor of the re-creation of a pact with Russia," he declared.

Dealing with Great Britain's foreign relations in general, he said:

"We must not be afraid of our responsibility. The policy of Great Britain must be peace-loving but unflinching. If I and alone I will resist any departure from it."

Never Let Britain Down

"I will never let Great Britain down. I will not stand by for any man who says 'Whatever Government is in power we must support it' in any factious opposition. There must be no gagging criticism; there must be fair play."

"We are told that the new Government is a Government of tranquility. In what respect does it differ from the old? There must be no change from the existing conditions of things, then it is bad."

"We have made peace in Europe, we have made peace in the Near East. What does the new policy mean? It means using words unless they mean something."

"I am all for cooperation with the Allies, but Great Britain has her own responsibilities. She has her own mission in the world and she must stand by it."

In dealing with home affairs, Mr. (Continued on Page Twenty-three, Column Two)

DRY RAID IN LANSDALE

Prohibition Agents Pour Oil in Junction House Cider

Lansdale, Pa., Oct. 25.—In a prohibition raid last night at the Junction House, the oldest hotel here, twenty-two cases of a beverage which the proprietor, John F. Luskaber, says is near beer, a quantity of stomach bitters and another liquid for medicinal purposes were confiscated. Cool oil was poured into seven barrels of cider.

No arrests were made. The raid was conducted by eleven enforcement agents from Philadelphia.

WEGLEIN GROUP LOOTS TO HALL

These leaders are satisfied to kick up a fuss just now, but they seem to be planning to enter the Congress in the fall. The latter group is "too busy," says a source here. This situation is important for the reason that friends of Wendell Weglein, president of the State committee, are considering the possibility of a merger with the group of Wendell Weglein, a well-known leader of the group, in the field as a candidate for Congress. They are not so sure that they want to follow Congressman Vare have their eyes on the time being at least, a Congressman in the State committee. They consider the Congressman as the best bet off to the Congress's aspirations for leadership.

NEW JERSEY MAN, 100, DIES IN HOME HE OCCUPIED 75 YEARS

Bridgeton, N. J., Oct. 25.—Daniel H. Garion, 100 years old, is dead at his home in Friendship, near here, which he occupied for 75 years. He was a regular habit and advised sleep from 7 P. M. to 7 A. M.

He is a graduate of the West Philadelphia High School in 1915 and was captain of the football team in 1916 and was captain of the team in 1917. He was picked as an All-Scholastic guard.

He is a member of the Delta Sigma Delta, the Junior Staff Society, the Dutch Company, the Bowl and Spool and the Thirteen Club. He is a first sergeant in Troop A, 103rd Cavalry, N. G. P., and expects a commission as second lieutenant in a few weeks. He is a member of the troop polo team and also played polo at the University.

A. H. Sving, Assistant Auditor General at Harrisburg and formerly Mayor of Contesville, is an uncle of the bridegroom.

The bride is twenty-two years old and is a graduate of the West Philadelphia High School. She is prominent in West Philadelphia. She and Dr. Sving will be at home after December 1 at the Montney Apartments, Forty-third street and Chester avenue.

WEGLEIN GROUP LOOTS TO HALL

These leaders are satisfied to kick up a fuss just now, but they seem to be planning to enter the Congress in the fall. The latter group is "too busy," says a source here. This situation is important for the reason that friends of Wendell Weglein, president of the State committee, are considering the possibility of a merger with the group of Wendell Weglein, a well-known leader of the group, in the field as a candidate for Congress. They are not so sure that they want to follow Congressman Vare have their eyes on the time being at least, a Congressman in the State committee. They consider the Congressman as the best bet off to the Congress's aspirations for leadership.

FATHER BADLY BURNED TRYING TO SAVE SON

Both in Hospital After Lad Set Clothes Afire With Candle

Felix Lashinsky, thirty-eight years old, of 131 E. 10th street, and his five-year-old son, Browne, are in Mount Sinai Hospital suffering from burns about the face, hands and feet. The father and son were playing with a lit candle yesterday afternoon, and his father was badly burned while extinguishing the flames.

Mrs. Lashinsky was at a nearby store, the father returned home from work, and hearing cries of agony coming from the house, he rushed in and found the boy's clothing a mass of flames.

Lashinsky grabbed his son in his arms and attempted to smother the flames, at the same time using his hands to beat the fire.

Mrs. Lashinsky, who had returned in the meantime, called the police of the Fourth street and Snyder avenue station, and the father and son were taken to Mount Sinai Hospital.

It was said at the hospital this morning that both will recover, although the child's condition is serious.

BRANDS BERGEN FINGERPRINT FOUND AS HOME-WRECKER IN HALL-MILLS CASE

Clue in Investigation of Murder of Actor

Hackensack, N. J., Oct. 25.—Half an hour after he had opened this morning on the third day of the trial of George A. Cline, Charles Sullivan and Alton Thornton, charged with the murder of Jack Bergen, film actor, Senator Mackay, counsel for the defense, was addressing the jury in his appeal for the three prisoners' acquittal.

He based his plea for acquittal on the ground that the only self-defense and protection of life and the sacred marriage ceremony justified the killing of Bergen.

Mr. Mackay again asked for the dismissal of the murder charge against Miss Thornton and Sullivan, but the Court denied the motion, saying the wife would have to be considered by the jury.

"If George Cline on August 25, 1922, shot and killed Jack Bergen with malice aforethought, then the legal innocence of the murderer is not for you to consider," Mr. Mackay continued.

"We have a definition of a real murder, but how different from real murders the evidence in this case shows the prisoners to be."

"Jack Bergen had only three victims, the legal evidence in this case showed. How many more or whether he had any more victims is not for you to consider," Mr. Mackay continued.

He spoke feelingly of the goodness of the home and the man who had been killed and wife and the duty of husband and father to protect his wife and children from the "disposer of the home."

Cline sat with his eyes fixed on the speaker, and Mrs. Thornton seemed almost hypnotized by an attitude of attention as she watched her husband's every motion.

Mrs. Cline sat behind her children, her head bowed, and quietly sobbing with the almost hysterical abandon she showed yesterday in court during her own examination and that of her husband.

She did not once raise her eyes as Mr. Mackay made his plea for acquittal.

DOUBTS CONSERVATIVE VICTORY

"The Conservatives may win the next election, I doubt that, but supposing they do, that is not the end of the war between the great conflicting policies of the organization. Our business is to see that this bundle shall not do harm to our country."

At the question of German reparations he said:

"We should not attempt to impose upon Germany any payment which is beyond her capacity. What is within her capacity she ought to pay."

He expressed his opinion, some definiteness as regards the question of Russia.

"I am strongly in favor of the re-creation of a pact with Russia," he declared.

Dealing with Great Britain's foreign relations in general, he said:

"We must not be afraid of our responsibility. The policy of Great Britain must be peace-loving but unflinching. If I and alone I will resist any departure from it."

Never Let Britain Down

"I will never let Great Britain down. I will not stand by for any man who says 'Whatever Government is in power we must support it' in any factious opposition. There must be no gagging criticism; there must be fair play."

"We are told that the new Government is a Government of tranquility. In what respect does it differ from the old? There must be no change from the existing conditions of things, then it is bad."

"We have made peace in Europe, we have made peace in the Near East. What does the new policy mean? It means using words unless they mean something."

"I am all for cooperation with the Allies, but Great Britain has her own responsibilities. She has her own mission in the world and she must stand by it."

In dealing with home affairs, Mr. (Continued on Page Twenty-three, Column Two)

DRY RAID IN LANSDALE

Prohibition Agents Pour Oil in Junction House Cider

Lansdale, Pa., Oct. 25.—In a prohibition raid last night at the Junction House, the oldest hotel here, twenty-two cases of a beverage which the proprietor, John F. Luskaber, says is near beer, a quantity of stomach bitters and another liquid for medicinal purposes were confiscated. Cool oil was poured into seven barrels of cider.

No arrests were made. The raid was conducted by eleven enforcement agents from Philadelphia.

WEGLEIN GROUP LOOTS TO HALL

These leaders are satisfied to kick up a fuss just now, but they seem to be planning to enter the Congress in the fall. The latter group is "too busy," says a source here. This situation is important for the reason that friends of Wendell Weglein, president of the State committee, are considering the possibility of a merger with the group of Wendell Weglein, a well-known leader of the group, in the field as a candidate for Congress. They are not so sure that they want to follow Congressman Vare have their eyes on the time being at least, a Congressman in the State committee. They consider the Congressman as the best bet off to the Congress's aspirations for leadership.

NEW JERSEY MAN, 100, DIES IN HOME HE OCCUPIED 75 YEARS

Bridgeton, N. J., Oct. 25.—Daniel H. Garion, 100 years old, is dead at his home in Friendship, near here, which he occupied for 75 years. He was a regular habit and advised sleep from 7 P. M. to 7 A. M.

He is a graduate of the West Philadelphia High School in 1915 and was captain of the football team in 1916 and was captain of the team in 1917. He was picked as an All-Scholastic guard.

He is a member of the Delta Sigma Delta, the Junior Staff Society, the Dutch Company, the Bowl and Spool and the Thirteen Club. He is a first sergeant in Troop A, 103rd Cavalry, N. G. P., and expects a commission as second lieutenant in a few weeks. He is a member of the troop polo team and also played polo at the University.

A. H. Sving, Assistant Auditor General at Harrisburg and formerly Mayor of Contesville, is an uncle of the bridegroom.

The bride is twenty-two years old and is a graduate of the West Philadelphia High School. She is prominent in West Philadelphia. She and Dr. Sving will be at home after December 1 at the Montney Apartments, Forty-third street and Chester avenue.

WEGLEIN GROUP LOOTS TO HALL

These leaders are satisfied to kick up a fuss just now, but they seem to be planning to enter the Congress in the fall. The latter group is "too busy," says a source here. This situation is important for the reason that friends of Wendell Weglein, president of the State committee, are considering the possibility of a merger with the group of Wendell Weglein, a well-known leader of the group, in the field as a candidate for Congress. They are not so sure that they want to follow Congressman Vare have their eyes on the time being at least, a Congressman in the State committee. They consider the Congressman as the best bet off to the Congress's aspirations for leadership.

FATHER BADLY BURNED TRYING TO SAVE SON

Both in Hospital After Lad Set Clothes Afire With Candle

Felix Lashinsky, thirty-eight years old, of 131 E. 10th street, and his five-year-old son, Browne, are in Mount Sinai Hospital suffering from burns about the face, hands and feet. The father and son were playing with a lit candle yesterday afternoon, and his father was badly burned while extinguishing the flames.

Mrs. Lashinsky was at a nearby store, the father returned home from work, and hearing cries of agony coming from the house, he rushed in and found the boy's clothing a mass of flames.

Lashinsky grabbed his son in his arms and attempted to smother the flames, at the same time using his hands to beat the fire.

Mrs. Lashinsky, who had returned in the meantime, called the police of the Fourth street and Snyder avenue station, and the father and son were taken to Mount Sinai Hospital.

It was said at the hospital this morning that both will recover, although the child's condition is serious.

BRANDS BERGEN FINGERPRINT FOUND AS HOME-WRECKER IN HALL-MILLS CASE

Clue in Investigation of Murder of Actor

Hackensack, N. J., Oct. 25.—Half an hour after he had opened this morning on the third day of the trial of George A. Cline, Charles Sullivan and Alton Thornton, charged with the murder of Jack Bergen, film actor, Senator Mackay, counsel for the defense, was addressing the jury in his appeal for the three prisoners' acquittal.

He based his plea for acquittal on the ground that the only self-defense and protection of life and the sacred marriage ceremony justified the killing of Bergen.

Mr. Mackay again asked for the dismissal of the murder charge against Miss Thornton and Sullivan, but the Court denied the motion, saying the wife would have to be considered by the jury.

"If George Cline on August 25, 1922, shot and killed Jack Bergen with malice aforethought, then the legal innocence of the murderer is not for you to consider," Mr. Mackay continued.

"We have a definition of a real murder, but how different from real murders the evidence in this case shows the prisoners to be."

"Jack Bergen had only three victims, the legal evidence in this case showed. How many more or whether he had any more victims is not for you to consider," Mr. Mackay continued.

He spoke feelingly of the goodness of the home and the man who had been killed and wife and the duty of husband and father to protect his wife and children from the "disposer of the home."

Cline sat with his eyes fixed on the speaker, and Mrs. Thornton seemed almost hypnotized by an attitude of attention as she watched her husband's every motion.

Mrs. Cline sat behind her children, her head bowed, and quietly sobbing with the almost hysterical abandon she showed yesterday in court during her own examination and that of her husband.

She did not once raise her eyes as Mr. Mackay made his plea for acquittal.

DOUBTS CONSERVATIVE VICTORY

"The Conservatives may win the next election, I doubt that, but supposing they do, that is not the end of the war between the great conflicting policies of the organization. Our business is to see that this bundle shall not do harm to our country."

At the question of German reparations he said:

"We should not attempt to impose upon Germany any payment which is beyond her capacity. What is within her capacity she ought to pay."

He expressed his opinion, some definiteness as regards the question of Russia.

"I am strongly in favor of the re-creation of a pact with Russia," he declared.

Dealing with Great Britain's foreign relations in general, he said:

"We must not be afraid of our responsibility. The policy of Great Britain must be peace-loving but unflinching. If I and alone I will resist any departure from it."

Never Let Britain Down

"I will never let Great Britain down. I will not stand by for any man who says 'Whatever Government is in power we must support it' in any factious opposition. There must be no gagging criticism; there must be fair play."

"We are told that the new Government is a Government of tranquility. In what respect does it differ from the old? There must be no change from the existing conditions of things, then it is bad."

"We have made peace in Europe, we have made peace in the Near East. What does the new policy mean? It means using words unless they mean something."

"I am all for cooperation with the Allies, but Great Britain has her own responsibilities. She has her own mission in the world and she must stand by it."

In dealing with home affairs, Mr. (Continued on Page Twenty-three, Column Two)

DRY RAID IN LANSDALE

Prohibition Agents Pour Oil in Junction House Cider

Lansdale, Pa., Oct. 25.—In a prohibition raid last night at the Junction House, the oldest hotel here, twenty-two cases of a beverage which the proprietor, John F. Luskaber, says is near beer, a quantity of stomach bitters and another liquid for medicinal purposes were confiscated. Cool oil was poured into seven barrels of cider.

No arrests were made. The raid was conducted by eleven enforcement agents from Philadelphia.

WEGLEIN GROUP LOOTS TO HALL

These leaders are satisfied to kick up a fuss just now, but they seem to be planning to enter the Congress in the fall. The latter group is "too busy," says a source here. This situation is important for the reason that friends of Wendell Weglein, president of the State committee, are considering the possibility of a merger with the group of Wendell Weglein, a well-known leader of the group, in the field as a candidate for Congress. They are not so sure that they want to follow Congressman Vare have their eyes on the time being at least, a Congressman in the State committee. They consider the Congressman as the best bet off to the Congress's aspirations for leadership.

NEW JERSEY MAN, 100, DIES IN HOME HE OCCUPIED 75 YEARS