

TAX-EXEMPT BONDS TREASURY MENACE

Wealthy Investors Showing Preference for State and City Securities

REFUNDING PLAN IMPERILED

By CLINTON W. GILBERT
Staff Correspondent Evening Public Ledger
Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company
Washington, Oct. 25.—All the tax experts of the Treasury Department are busy with the question of new taxes. Some think the Senator should not be so sure that new taxes will be needed. President Harding and his little cabinet are not in the mood of raising taxes. The Treasury Department is not in the mood of raising taxes. The Treasury Department is not in the mood of raising taxes.

Tax-Exempt Investments Heavy

As it is now, an average of $100,000,000 of capital is invested in tax-exempt securities. Men with big incomes are steadily shifting their investments into tax-exempt securities, so that the Federal Government is receiving less and less money from the sale of bonds.

The Treasury Department is all sorts of aching in the face of the fact that the United States bonds are not being bought with State and city issues. It is all sorts of aching in the face of the fact that the United States bonds are not being bought with State and city issues.

The Treasury Department anticipates difficulties in getting the rates in the higher brackets of the income tax reduced. The proposal will be to cut the top rate from 63 to 52 per cent. This has already been defeated and certainly will have no chance of success unless it is accompanied by a proposal to tax bond securities.

PLEAD FOR CAR ROUTE 18

Northeast Residents Protest at Rumor of Abandonment
Rumors that the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company is to discontinue Route No. 18 were the cause of a large mass-meeting of residents of the Northeast last night in St. Ann's Catholic Church, Lehigh avenue and Menck street, at which resolutions protesting the abandonment of the line were adopted. Route No. 18 serves a section of the Northeast east of Princeton avenue, which the residents say is too far removed from the Frankford elevated railway to receive adequate transportation service from that road should operation of the trolley line cease.

NAME BABY PRIZE WINNERS

Helen Jerrico and John Ross Take 29th Ward Show Honors
Judges of the Twenty-ninth Ward baby show, a feature of the carnival held last night by the Business Men and Taxpayers' Association, have named the winners of the prize-winning contestants.

$15,000 A YEAR FOR CANTOR

Josef Rosenblatt to Get $3000 for Each Concert at Which He Sings
Josef Rosenblatt, Jewish cantor, has signed a two-year contract to sing in Philadelphia at the principal Jewish synagogues of the city.

WHAT IS REAL HUMOR?

It is the ability to see the funny side of things. It is the ability to see the funny side of things.

NEAR EAST PARLEY MAY BE DEFERRED

Impending Elections in England and America Make Allies Uncertain

BRUSSELS DELAY PROBABLE

Paris, Oct. 25.—As time passes it is becoming more apparent that little can be done to regulate the important questions before European governments until the American and British election holidays are over. It is already reported that Lord Curzon has asked an adjournment of the Near East conference until after the elections, but so far the French Foreign Office has not received the request.

Constantinople, Oct. 25.—By A. P.

All the Greek soldiers who were formerly Turkish subjects have been notified by the Turkish Nationalists for trial by special military tribunals charged with high treason, according to cables received yesterday at American relief agencies here.

Wilson Allowed Vote at New Jersey Polls

Has Legal Residence Over Grocery Store at Princeton
Trenton, N. J., Oct. 25.—Woodrow Wilson is entitled to vote in New Jersey, notwithstanding it is no longer his actual place of residence, according to an opinion received by the Mercer County Board of Elections yesterday from Thomas P. McCran, Attorney General.

AMERICAN LEAGUE GERM IN U. S. PLAN

Hughes Invitation to Central States Regarded as Step to New Association

INVOLVES LAND FORCES

Washington, Oct. 25.—Secretary Hughes' words in the agenda of the forthcoming Central American armistice conference, to set "an example to the world and, above all, to the Powers on this hemisphere," came to be regarded yesterday as expressing something far deeper than mere casual appeal to the five republics. The germ of a world policy, stressed in ramifications of the highest importance, was seen in the Hughes call.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Secretary Hughes' words in the agenda of the forthcoming Central American armistice conference, to set "an example to the world and, above all, to the Powers on this hemisphere," came to be regarded yesterday as expressing something far deeper than mere casual appeal to the five republics.

Diplomats and others studying the Hughes invitation for its possibilities no less than for its immediate purpose were able to link a chain of circumstances which to them led straight toward ultimate organization of an effective association of nations of the Western hemisphere. To them the natural course of events was quite obvious. It was something about as follows:

The White House, the Department of State and the American embassies in Paris and London have been cultivating a spirit of American respect for certain plans and purposes of the League of Nations. Its welfare and humanitarian enterprises have been endorsed rather more cordially than some expected; yet, as a political assembly, the League is catalogued positively and specifically as a European institution.

Now, an association of Western nations—or an American society—is not possible just now for many reasons. Certain definite problems remain for solution. Central America is one and is very vital. Once he has been able to clear up that situation, reduce the military establishments which are such ready tools of revolutionary machinery and put the political relations of the group on a stable basis, Mr. Hughes could turn for new political worlds to conquer.

Naturally he would turn his face to the Pan-American conference. That would bring in the whole body of the republics of the Americas, from the Canadian boundary to the Straits of Magellan—assuming always the Mexican problem is a purely temporary one. The Pan-American Union, which has accomplished a great good for the advancement of the Western republics, feels some teeth to give it the place some seek for it.

WILSON ALLOWED VOTE AT NEW JERSEY POLLS

Has Legal Residence Over Grocery Store at Princeton

BRUSSELS DELAY PROBABLE

Paris, Oct. 25.—As time passes it is becoming more apparent that little can be done to regulate the important questions before European governments until the American and British election holidays are over. It is already reported that Lord Curzon has asked an adjournment of the Near East conference until after the elections, but so far the French Foreign Office has not received the request.

Constantinople, Oct. 25.—By A. P.

All the Greek soldiers who were formerly Turkish subjects have been notified by the Turkish Nationalists for trial by special military tribunals charged with high treason, according to cables received yesterday at American relief agencies here.

Wilson Allowed Vote at New Jersey Polls

Has Legal Residence Over Grocery Store at Princeton
Trenton, N. J., Oct. 25.—Woodrow Wilson is entitled to vote in New Jersey, notwithstanding it is no longer his actual place of residence, according to an opinion received by the Mercer County Board of Elections yesterday from Thomas P. McCran, Attorney General.

AMERICAN LEAGUE GERM IN U. S. PLAN

Hughes Invitation to Central States Regarded as Step to New Association

INVOLVES LAND FORCES

Washington, Oct. 25.—Secretary Hughes' words in the agenda of the forthcoming Central American armistice conference, to set "an example to the world and, above all, to the Powers on this hemisphere," came to be regarded yesterday as expressing something far deeper than mere casual appeal to the five republics. The germ of a world policy, stressed in ramifications of the highest importance, was seen in the Hughes call.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Secretary Hughes' words in the agenda of the forthcoming Central American armistice conference, to set "an example to the world and, above all, to the Powers on this hemisphere," came to be regarded yesterday as expressing something far deeper than mere casual appeal to the five republics.

Diplomats and others studying the Hughes invitation for its possibilities no less than for its immediate purpose were able to link a chain of circumstances which to them led straight toward ultimate organization of an effective association of nations of the Western hemisphere. To them the natural course of events was quite obvious. It was something about as follows:

The White House, the Department of State and the American embassies in Paris and London have been cultivating a spirit of American respect for certain plans and purposes of the League of Nations. Its welfare and humanitarian enterprises have been endorsed rather more cordially than some expected; yet, as a political assembly, the League is catalogued positively and specifically as a European institution.

Now, an association of Western nations—or an American society—is not possible just now for many reasons. Certain definite problems remain for solution. Central America is one and is very vital. Once he has been able to clear up that situation, reduce the military establishments which are such ready tools of revolutionary machinery and put the political relations of the group on a stable basis, Mr. Hughes could turn for new political worlds to conquer.

Uncommon Sense : Mental Indigestion

BY THE processes of digestion the food that is taken into the mouth is segregated into its various body-building elements, and turned into the blood stream, which puts it where it belongs.

The body is continually rebuilt with the materials that are taken from meat and potatoes and fish and sugar and everything that the butcher and the grocer and the vegetable man supply.

If the digestion is good, the body is well nourished and healthy. If there is something the matter with the digestive system, malnutrition results, and there is illness, or a disorder, and what the ears and eyes see and read, and what the ears hear, it rejects what is useless or trivial or foolish. It separates information from misinformation. It takes from the vast sources of mental supply only as much as it can digest and gives itself time to digest and assimilate.

Physical digestion puts into the brain the gray matter that composes its cells and keeps them supplied with replenishing blood. It goes no farther than that. What the mind, which occupies the brain, really feeds on is the food that comes in through the eyes and the ears and the other senses.

If it is a good mind—a healthy mind—it digests that food and turns it into mind and character building material.

MENTAL health means mental digestion. The better the brain the better the digestion, of course, but the most ordinary brain can, by carefully considering what the eyes and ears bring it, become better and more fully developed, and of much greater use to its owner.

Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company

Good clothes certainly pay

Many a young man in business has first attracted the attention of his "chief" by being well dressed "Looks like a comer," says the higher up

The neighbors nod their heads, "Pretty substantial citizen"

Even the children notice it; they are proud of a "nice looking Dad"

Most important of all, "she" likes to see you in stylish clothes

You're sure of being well dressed in

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes

"The Most Useful Thing I Own"

That is what women say who own a Willcox & Gibbs New Portable Electric Automatic Sewing Machine. And it is useful. It takes the toil and drudgery out of sewing. It makes it easy, pleasant and economical to make one's entire wardrobe at home. It saves the happy owner time, trouble and money. Sewing on a Willcox & Gibbs Portable Electric is unlike any sewing you ever did. No more vexatious bobbins to wind. No more tedious tension adjustments. No more back-breaking pedalling or handle turning. Just placing your material on the machine—pressing the controller with your foot and your sewing glides through easily, speedily and efficiently; sewed with firm, even stitches, four times stronger than the old machine stitch and finished in less than half the time. Until you have seen a Willcox & Gibbs Portable Electric demonstrated you cannot know how perfectly a machine can do its work. Come in and see a demonstration. It will be a revelation to you and at the same time you will learn how simply and conveniently you can own a Willcox & Gibbs Portable Electric through our easy-payment plan.

Willcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine Co.
1709 CHESTNUT STREET
Phone, Spruce 2192
Courtesy Service

Strawbridge & Clothier
Exclusive Philadelphia Distributors of Hart, Schaffner & Marx Clothes