

HOST OF EVENTS MARK HALLOWEEN

Colorful Celebrations Planned in Various Sections Throughout Billy Penn's Domain COSTUME PRIZES OFFERED

Philadelphia will celebrate Halloween this year on a more elaborate scale than ever before. There will be a score of events in various sections, from the northern line of the city to the southern water front.

While there was no official send-off for the harvest festival, it will get underway informally early this afternoon, when the Democratic Women's Club meets at the Bellevue-Stratford.

By nightfall the blare of many bands throughout the city will herald the approach of colorful parades.

West Philadelphia is looking forward to the time when Fifty-second street will be crowded with masquers.

The Fifty-second and Market Streets United Merchants' Association has been busy for several weeks on a plan to organize activities for the crowd.

A masquerade promenade on Chester avenue between Fifty-fourth and Fifty-eighth streets has been arranged by that district's Business Men's Association.

Tonight, the third annual charity ball masque will be given at the Academy of Music under the auspices of the Artists.

Besides the distribution of prizes to masqueraders a beauty pageant will also be held and the prettiest girls of the various assemblies of this city, Camden, Glenside, Chester and Wildwood will vie for the premier honor.

The winner of the contest will be named Miss Artisan. A special prize goes with the victory. Girls participating in the pageant are to wear evening gowns.

Miss Marguerite Walz, Miss Penny, packer and Mrs. Wagoner will judge the pageant.

The proceeds of the entertainment will go to charity. Last year enough funds were obtained to take care of 800 out-patients of the Children's Hospital, Nineteenth and Fitzwater streets.

The committee in charge of the entertainment: James C. Marr, Edwin MacCrackin, John D. Wilson, John A. Kelly and Robert G. Hoag.

The North Frankford avenue Business Men's Association has a program for the evening that vies with the schedules elsewhere.

A committee of the Business Men's Association of Germantown has arranged an extensive program. The merry-makers will assemble at the Boys' club at 7:30 o'clock and a parade will start about 8 o'clock.

Another parade will start from Seventh and Erie streets in Toga, under the auspices of the Toga Business Men's club.

William Irvin Shewell Shoots Himself in Home—Overstudy Blamed

William Irvin Shewell, twenty-six years old, 1732 Spruce street, a senior student of the Medical School of the University of Pennsylvania, and a member of the Phi Alpha Fraternity, shot and killed himself yesterday morning in his bedroom, after he asked his mother, Mrs. Laura Ward Shewell, and his sister, Miss Rebecca, who were preparing to go to church, to wait for him.

FARMERS GIVE THANKS FOR BOUNTIFUL HARVEST

After Four Seasons of Failure, New England, N. D., Crops Grow

New England, N. D., Oct. 30.—(By A. P.)—The wheels of time turned backward 300 years here yesterday, when an aged village forget the knotty pace of the modern world and knelt, as did their Puritan fathers, to give thanks for a bountiful harvest.
