

MRS. ROSIER LEAVES FOR INDEFINITE REST

Mother Says Woman Freed of Double Murder Has Gone Away With Friends

REJECTS $2500 STAGE OFFER

Mrs. Catherine Rosier, acquitted Friday of the murder of her husband, Oscar Rosier, advertising man, and Miss Mildred Geraldine Heckitt, his stenographer, has left her home for an indefinite rest.

Mrs. Rosier, her mother, said today at the Rosier home, 25 Kent road, Stonehurst, that her daughter had gone away with friends yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Rosier is caring for Richard, Mrs. Rosier's year-old son, and Oscar, Jr., the older son by the first wife. Mrs. Rosier refused to say where her daughter had gone. Neighbors said they believed she would spend the winter in Florida.

Mrs. Rosier has received a $2500 a week offer to go into vaudeville, and has refused it, according to John R. K. Scott, her attorney.

Now that all the charges against Mrs. Rosier have been dropped, the next move of her counsel will be to try to get her portion of the estate of Oscar Rosier.

To Fight for Estate

Every effort will be made by the attorneys to deprive Arthur Rosier of an share of the Rosier estate.

On his deathbed in the Jefferson Hospital Oscar Rosier made a will in the notebook of I. Bib Tolins, his partner. The attorneys contend that this will is not legal on the face of it, in view of the fact that he excluded his wife and baby and left everything to his brother, Arthur, and his son by his first wife, Junior.

The attorneys have already filed a caveat protesting against the probate of the will on the grounds that it is not legal, and a decision is expected from the Register of Wills of Delaware County by the end of the month.

Should the deathbed will be declared invalid it would be the same as if Oscar Rosier had died intestate. Mrs. Rosier would be given her dower right and the remainder be divided among the children. Should Mr. Scott lose his fight to have the will knocked out, Mrs. Rosier will get her legal share anyway, while the other will go to Arthur and Junior, leaving nothing for Baby Richard.

Approximate Value $60,000

The estate is valued at approximately $60,000, of which almost $27,000 is tied up in litigation. There is some argument over the insurance policies of the dead man, which provide double indemnity for accidental death. The insurance companies insist that the death was not accidental while Mr. Scott contends, inasmuch as Mrs. Rosier was adjudged insane at the time of the shooting, it was accidental.

GAS COACHES FOR P. R. R.

Railroad to Compete With P. R. T. Lines to Bustleton

The Pennsylvania Railroad has purchased from the J. G. Brill Company three gasoline-driven passenger cars at a cost of $16,000 each. These cars are to be delivered within the next two months.

One of the cars will be used on the Bustleton branch, from Holmesburg Junction to Bustleton. With the introduction of a new trolley line to this section of the city there will be competition between the street railway and the steam railroad.

8 FIREMEN HURT IN BAKERY BLAZE

Caught in Cellar When Back Draft Blew Flame Sheet Upon Them

BOY HURT GIVING ALARM

Eight firemen were injured yesterday at a fire that destroyed the bakery of Max Meth, at 1106 South Eighth street. The blaze started in the basement.

A back draft blew out a plate-glass window on the first floor and all the windows on the second floor, flung three men through the store window and enveloped the other five in a sheet of flame.

The injured, all of Engine Company 32, are: Acting Lieutenant Harold Cuneff, burns and cuts.

William Magran, hoseman, burns and cuts.

Joseph Kelly, hoseman, burns and cuts.

James Casey, hoseman, burns and cuts.

William Gaynor, hoseman, burns and cuts.

Elmer Weir, hoseman, cuts and bruises.

Eugene Dick, hoseman, broken nose and lacerations.

Frank Kerr, hoseman, cuts and burns.

Lieutenant Cuneff, with Magran, Kelly, Casey and Dick, were in the cellar when the fire had gained considerable headway, when they were caught by a sheet of flame that leaped at them with the force of the back draft. The draft drove them against the wall of the cellar. Burning timbers on the floor above were loosened and fell upon them, inflicting bruises. With difficulty the men gained the street. They got first aid from Dr. H. H. Freund, police surgeon, and then were taken to the Pennsylvania Hospital.

The draft that caught the men in the cellar blew out the plate-glass window of the store and with it Hosemen Gaynor, Kerr and Weir. They, too, were taken to the Pennsylvania Hospital, after receiving first-aid treatment from Dr. Freund.

Herman Guritsky, seventeen years old, 1108 North Sloan street, cut his leg severely last night when he broke in a plate glass window to get at a fire in the tailor shop of Isadore Frantz, at 1103 North Fortieth street. Cuneff, who says occupants of the house, Guritsky, tried in a fire alarm and then broke the window. He was taken to the Presbyterian Hospital suffering from loss of blood.

Lobert Manning, five years old, of 2035 West Stella street, was severely burned while playing around a bonfire near his home early yesterday afternoon. He was taken to Northwestern General Hospital.
