Nancy Wynne Speaks of Mr. and Mrs. Montgomerys' Race Meet Today-She Tells of Costumes Seen at a Debutante Tea Yesterday-Other Interesting News

MR. AND MRS, ROBERT LEAMrace meet this afternoon at their place at Villanova in honor of their daughter. Helen Hope. The meet begins at 2:45 and a tea will follow it.
There will be two events, and it sounds
as if the affair would be an interesting and unusual form of entertainment. No invitations have been sent out.
There will also be a meeting of the Limehouse Gun Club today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Truxtun Hare at Radnor, and the only event tonight will be the theatre party which Lucia Warden will give for her debutante cousin.

MARIE LOUISE ADAMS, the Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Aiken, made her debut yesterday afternoon at a tea which her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Borgner, of Overbrook, gave for her and for Ellen Brooks, daughter of Mrs. Carrell Jacobs, of West Chester. The receiving party included Mrs. Gardner, Cassatt. Mrs. Henry T. Montgomery, Cassatt. Mrs. Henry T. Montgomery, Cassatt. Mrs. Charles Quimbert Ackerman, of New York. Ellen Brooks' aunt, and about six or seven debutantes.

Brooks' aunt, and about six or seven debutantes.

Marie Louise looked very well in an eld-fashioned dress of white tulle embroidered in silver over white silk. The Iress was made with a long, full skirt and the bodice was trimmed with silver. Ellen Brookes wore a pretty dress of white velvet made on plain lines.

The mothers of the two girls, Mrs. Aiken and Mrs. Jacobs, were charming. Mrs. Aiken wore orchid crepe de chine combined with gold lace and Mrs. Jacobs rose color velvet. Marie Louise's grandmother, Mrs. Borgner, wore a dress of dark blue velvet trimmed with ermine.
