

BABIES, NOT VOTES, AROUSE FRANKFORD

Prize Parade Tonight of More Interest Than Fate of Candidates

HARD TASK FOR JUDGES

More than a thousand proud parents in Frankford tonight will be more interested in the possible selection of their own babies as prize winners than in the election of the entire State ticket.

A baby parade, in connection with Frankford's "V" celebration, begins at 7:30 o'clock this evening at Kensington and Adams avenues. It will end at Harrison street.

Ten prizes have been offered for the best-decorated vehicles, and it is whispered a number of big surprises have been worked out for that feature of the parade.

U. S. NEEDS TYPISTS

Painters Also Can Get Federal Jobs Here If They Want

An appeal for stenographers, typists and painters for service in Philadelphia has been made by Stewart Wilson, secretary of the Third United States Civil Service District.

To meet the demand for stenographers and typists a special civil service examination will be held in the Postoffice Building December 12. The need for painters is so urgent that temporary appointments without examination will be made. They are needed for work at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. The pay for this work ranges from $5.04 to $5.84 a day.

SONG WRITER ARRESTED

Harry Pease's Wife Fears She Can't Collect Alimony She Asks

New York, Nov. 7.—Harry Pease, vaudeville actor and composer of the songs, "Peggy O'Neill" and "Ten Little Fingers" was arrested yesterday on a civil order of Supreme Court Justice Morschauer in Westchester County in a suit of his wife, Mrs. Louise Pease, of Mount Vernon, who is asking a separation following the dismissal of a suit for divorce on the ground of insufficient evidence. She wants $100 a week alimony and got the arrest order on the ground that she might not be able to collect such alimony as is allowed. She alleged that his income last year was more than $13,000.

Missing

Philadelphia police have been asked to aid in the search for Mrs. Lena Cooper, of 1535 South Fairhill street, who has been missing from her home since September 27. Mrs. Cooper is the mother of three children. The youngest is thirteen months old, and is seriously ill. Her mother, Mrs. Pauline Stoll, is in a hospital. Mrs. Cooper is about five feet four inches tall and weighs 145 pounds, and wore a black coat suit, black velvet hat with white plumes, black shoes and stockings. She has dark bobbed hair.

PHILA. ARTIST GETS HONOR

Miss Elizabeth Darcum Wins Acceptance in Paris Salon

The honor of acceptance in the Paris Salon, at the autumn exhibition, has been won by a young Philadelphia painter and former student at the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts, Elizabeth C. Darcum, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Francis X. Darcum, 1710 Walnut street.

Make Radio From Matchsticks

An ingenious radio receiving set with a matchstick as its antenna was the subject of much discussion at the radio show held yesterday by pupils of the Thomas Junior High School, Ninth street and Oregon avenue. More than 100 miniature sets were displayed by boys of the school radio club. William K. Thomas, instructor, supervised the show.

BOY KILLED BY TRUCK

Freeland, Pa., Nov. 7.—Stanley Laskasky, five years old was killed yesterday. He fell under an autotruck owned and driven by Stephen Hess. The boy and others mounted the car as Hess drove away from the Laskasky home and he fell beneath the wheels as his mother yelled at him to get off the machine.
