

ELECTION VICTORY—AND FOOD REFRESH WOMEN WORKERS

Lone Patrolman Guards Headquarters as Fair Leaders Receive Returns, Greet Candidate—And Eat

Election night—with the women in the full swing of rejoicing and in the midst of eager groups awaiting the results.

Heads of their wards, leaders of their districts, and members of the State Committee, they thronged the headquarters of the Republican Women of Pennsylvania, at 1311 Locust street, last night.

Among those who were hostesses and guests at the reception held there were: The new Governor of the State, his wife and Gifford, Jr.; Senator and Mrs. Pepper, Mrs. J. Willis Martin, Mrs. George Horace Lorimer, Mrs. Joseph P. Mumford, Mrs. George H. Straybridge, Mrs. H. DeLancey Bowen, Mrs. J. Bertram Lippincott, Mrs. Walter King Sharpe, of Chambersburg; Mrs. Rudolph Blankenburg, Mrs. Samuel B. Scott, Mrs. George A. Dunlap, Mrs. Earl Wagner, Mrs. Clinton Rogers Woodruff, Mrs. Owen I. Roberts, Justice and Mrs. William I. Schaffer, Miss Mary Wayne, Mrs. Joseph Gazzam, Mrs. I. M. McAllister, Mrs. J. H. O'Hara, Miss Sarah D. Lewis, Mrs. Beale Dolson Atoms and Mrs. Ellis Groben.

On guard before the door of the headquarters stood a policeman.

In the entrance, in the room where the special wire which brought in the election returns from all parts of the State had been installed, and around the table where the hostesses were serving coffee, other and sandwiches, the women crowded.

Sympathy for McSparran

Well dressed, talking in low tones, the women questioned the various aspects of the campaign. Their victory was too sure to make their enthusiasm evident, except in small bursts of cheering and clapping of hands as Mrs. Blanton Rogers read the returns and sympathetic remarks of "Poor McSparran," as the score rolled up against him.

"The ward chairman in the Sixth District announced a perfect roll-out of the women poll watchers," said Mrs. Groben. "And when you consider that they stayed on duty all day without a cent of pay—that means real earnestness, don't you think?"

"I am glad," said Mrs. Groben, who is a member of the Republican State Committee, "that election is over, and I don't have to worry about tonight."

"Every registered woman in the Twelfth District," announced Mrs. Gazzam, leader of the women in the Eighth Ward, "and every registered woman in the ward except those who were ill came out and voted. Isn't that great?"

"My idea," she continued, "is that there should be more cooperation between the women and the men. We might mail our notices together. And perhaps the women could have registration cards. I think there should be some special registration stunts planned for next year, don't you?" and she hurried away to greet another enthusiast.

And Then Came the Governor

But it was not till the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Pinchot was announced that the enthusiasm became great.

"They are coming—they are coming—they will be here in a minute," said Mrs. Lorimer.

At last they came—small Gifford clinging tightly to his mother's skirt and looking down in embarrassed discomfort as the women crowded around him.

Cheerful greetings, waves of handkerchiefs, an outburst of congratulatory words, undistinguishable in the general hubbub.

"It's been a great victory," said Mrs. Pinchot, whose Mr. Pinchot stopped on the steps to express his appreciation to the women and his wish that he would have their continued support and help.

And with the last last wish expressed, the last sandwich eaten, and almost the last drop of coffee drained from the percolator and the elder pitcher quite empty, the women trooped home—tired, happy, victorious.

We are grown up and certainly well able to take care of ourselves.

"Also I am a strong believer in the Pinchot system. Nothing should be done to lower salaries, and the best of education is needed. A woman in the home can appreciate so well the vital needs of that same home. I hope, too, that men and women can co-operate in politics. Nothing can really be accomplished if the women have one platform and the men another. Individual forces can never do as much as those working together."

"Needless to say, I am 'dry.' And I am grateful to the people for having elected me, and shall do all that I possibly can to make them glad they did and to make them proud of me as their representative."

HALL CREDITS VICTORY TO TYPE OF CANDIDATES

"It was fine," Councilman Says, Gratified at G. O. P. Sweep

"It was fine," said Charles H. Hall, chairman of the Campaign Committee of the Republican City Committee, in discussing the sweep of the Republican Party candidates throughout the city and State.

"The victory is surely gratifying and Mr. Pinchot gained the respect and confidence of the local organization after he announced that, if elected Governor, he would not be the tool of any clique or set within the party."

"I am sorry to hear of the results in other parts of the country, where, on the face of the returns, Democrats have been successful over their Republican rivals."

Mr. Hall expressed pleasure at the news that Henry Cabot Lodge was likely to "pull through" in Massachusetts.

"It would be a calamity if he were defeated," said Mr. Hall. He expressed pleasure also over the Republican victory in the Ohio senatorial fight.

"I am glad to hear that Simon D. Ross won," said Mr. Hall, "because I understand he is a great friend of the President."

"AS IN A MIRROR"

A great many people disagree with the Darwinian theory, but even these are some who see that there is a wealth of humor combined with a satirical view of human nature in the unusual series of cartoons by C. D. Hatchler, appearing regularly in the Public Ledger. "Make It a Habit—Read."

Come See the Value of the Essex Coach

It May Save You Hundreds of Dollars

Experienced buyers demand more in a motor car than accessories.

In many moderate priced closed cars however, such things as dome lights, cigar lighters, clocks, etc., are featured as against the more important quality of performance, reliability and reduced maintenance expense.

Come, make a close examination of the Essex Coach. That will show its real utility and chassis quality.

Then you will appreciate what is most important when service is considered.

And you will know that the chassis that carries a closed body is always the most important part of the car.

You want more than the fittings in the body. They are nice to have but don't sacrifice car quality to get them. Don't accept a less able chassis, just because the body has an accessory you like when its cost is taken out of the motor, or other essential mechanical parts.

The Essex Coach provides every closed car comfort. It is reliable, and convenient. It has all the details that count most for utility. Thousands are in service. And yet it is mounted on an Essex chassis that is better in every way than earlier models that established famous records.

A closed car offers advantages you will like. But don't let the extra over-weight the construction of the body or the character of the chassis.

Come see this Essex Coach. It is more than important if you are considering your first closed car.

ASSEMBLY WOMEN TICKLED BY RESULT

Philadelphia's first women Assemblymen are "tickled to death" with their victories yesterday.

"I will take up the work which comes my way and do it to the best of my ability," Mrs. Martin G. Spieser, one of the first women elected to the State House of Representatives, declared with an air of sincerity when questioned concerning her plans.

She spent a busy morning at her home, 521 Tusher street, receiving congratulations.

"If you would ask me what I was going to do when I moved into a new home," she said, "I would tell you quickly. But the 'Hopes' I have been elected to is going to have many tenants and there will often be conflicting views."

"Of course, it goes without saying that I am going to be a loyal member of the Republican party and stand solidly for what I believe to be the best interests of the citizens of the State."

Mrs. Spieser received 15,510 votes. Lois C. Hyatt, one of her Democratic opponents in the district, polled 4054 votes.

"I heard of my election last night," said Mrs. Lily Pitts, 6413 Locust street. "Naturally, I was very pleased. And my friends have all been so nice. Since before 6 o'clock this morning the phone has been ringing and it is indeed gratifying to find that every one is so interested."

"I have nothing really definite in my mind—my plans are more general—but I certainly know I am glad that women are getting on so well in politics. I am for women's rights and those that they should have every opportunity that a man has. We have fought, and fought hard, but are winning out."

As Mrs. Pitts rocked back and forth in a comfortable chair, daintily in a black and white silk house dress and her black hair waving about her face, she was removed from the once general conception of the "suffragist."

"I believe in a great many of the things in which Mr. Pinchot believes. Home rule, naturally. I do not see that it is necessary for people in Harburg or any other place to tell us in Philadelphia what we should do."

Message of Voters Is Clean-Cut, Says Reed

Senator Reed, after reading returns which indicated his election as United States Senator issued the following statement soon after midnight:

"Pennsylvania stands loyal to the Republican National Administration. That is the clean-cut message from the voters of the State. Such a vote is not only an endorsement of what has been done, but it lends us with new force to keep our faith in future action. We will keep faith. We are pledged to Pennsylvania."
