

The New Dean's Common Sense on Little Sins and Big Virtues

THE other day a dean of women was appointed for a great Middle West university. She was chosen from another mammoth university of the East. Of course, she was a fine scholar, a prime requisite. But a rather unusual and significant thing was that she was an unusually broad-minded and liberal human being.

In a Quandary Dear Cynthia—You have often helped me in your advice again. Last week while at a dance I met a fellow who seems very much attracted to me. He saw me often after that and now I find that I am in love with him. The length of my letter makes it impossible for me to have same, and I with an apology sent my lady friend a letter stating reasons and regret for not being in a position to hold it.

Dear Cynthia—I am come to seek your advice for the first time. My trouble is this: I had intended having a masked party at my home and had all planned out for it, but unforeseen circumstances had which made it impossible for me to have same, and I with an apology sent my lady friend a letter stating reasons and regret for not being in a position to hold it.

The Reckless Age

Alma Foster, a member of the gay younger set, decides to become engaged to Charley Tame, not because she loves him, but because she seems so well suited to each other.

The Woman's Exchange

To Mrs. Marion E. S. The name of the correspondent who asked about dressmaking was not sent me, as her query was answered in the column. I believe she wanted something less expensive than what you would want to offer, anyhow.

Working Outside of School

Dear Madam—I am a young girl going to school, and I would like to earn some money during my spare time. I would like to get some work in my home.

WHAT'S WHAT

Dear Madam—Has any one an old stuffed or padded machine, similar to the ones that were used in the parade? I would certainly like to get in touch with the owner of one.

LOVE NOTES

Love, like the calendar, must have its seasons. A change of heart, like a change of underwear, will do much to accustom one's feelings.

Stools

Stools should be in every home. A stool has its place beside the comfortable armchair or davenport, or fire-place.

Antoinette Donnelly's Advice on Beauty

BEATRICE—Why an operation? You have to operate on yourself with will power to cure you of self-consciousness. If you will try to plant this idea in your mind—that it is a form of vanity and selfishness because your mind is on yourself all the time—perhaps that will help you transfer your thoughts to the other person with whom you happen to be thrown.

C. K.—There are good powders on the market which do not stick. But even these have to be renewed after a few hours. Creams or skin food formulas for both of which I possess, and which you may have for a stamped addressed envelope. I think you should use cream every night anyway.

ETHEL P.—At twenty-six one should not show wrinkles. I think you can eliminate your worries by a few minutes of massage nightly with a good cream. The length of my letter makes it impossible for me to have same, and I with an apology sent my lady friend a letter stating reasons and regret for not being in a position to hold it.

FRECKLE FACE—The easiest way to beat the freckles is to prevent them. They are the bane of my life because I do not seem to be able to get a formula that will evict them with a few applications. However, I have the best there is to be had, so if you will give me your name, I will forward it to you gladly.

JEAN H.—Five feet two and you weigh 128 pounds at twenty? Oh, you could count on a good round ten pounds too much. That is allowing you a few extra without the actual excess. Yes, you can reduce. That is, if you can go on a diet and do a little more exercising. Send along the stamped addressed envelope for reducing booklet.

Things You'll Love to Make

Whether Old Newspapers Can Be Used Again for Printing During the war the German Government tried to conserve the available supply of paper by perfecting a process whereby the impressions left by the ink in printing a newspaper or magazine could be removed by a chemical process which bleached the ink out of the paper and made it white again.

Gray Monkey Fur One of Autumn's Offerings

As yet no MONKEY WRENCH has been suffered in the new winter clothes. Instead of being wrenched from the familiar fringing felt we behold, indeed, a firmer riveting of the attachment.

The only difference is that now we seem to have more varieties from which to choose. For, like that Paris novelty of shaven lamb, monkey fur is infected in various tints. Should you fancy purple or pink or green monkey, you can get it that way. And, in addition to these sunset effects, there is also the gray or natural colored monkey.

Another family moved in. The same procedure was gone through with again; the furnace got out of order, the water pipes froze or burst or leaked something dreadful, the wires got out of order and all the time the air kept on merrily creeping through the cracks in the window frames.

Recently in making thirty-five ensembles cloth curtains I saved much time by using a warm iron for creating the hems. To do this lay the curtain lengthwise on the board, turn the hem—in this case two inches—with the left hand, holding it in place with a foot.

Cheap Materials and Stinky Work Cost More Money and Trouble in the End

The Man Who Tried to Cheat in Building His House Found This Out to His Great Sorrow

ONCE upon a time a man built a house, which he rented out to a certain amount of time it has to be expended later on, if not in the beginning, and it costs more if the expense comes later than if it had been freely given at the start.

He used cheap materials for his house, and he bought the least expensive furnace that he could find. But the house looked fine when it was finished.

Another family moved in. The same procedure was gone through with again; the furnace got out of order, the water pipes froze or burst or leaked something dreadful, the wires got out of order and all the time the air kept on merrily creeping through the cracks in the window frames.
