

MANY WOMEN EYE STATE CABINET JOB

Booms Start as Pinchot Considers Fair Sex for Important Post

MAY BE WELFARE HEAD

Clifford Pinchot, the Governor-elect, is going to have a tough time pleasing the women in Cabinet appointments. It was revealed today that during the campaign Mr. Pinchot in one of his speeches announced that women as well as men would be considered for posts in the Cabinet.

Naturally the announcement that a woman might have a Cabinet office for the first time in the history of the Commonwealth stirred up unusual interest, and friends of "possibilities" got busy immediately.

Mr. Pinchot was almost overwhelmed with suggestions of women for posts.

Certain prominent women leaders thereupon went to his rescue with statements to the effect that candidates for Cabinet office should be considered on the basis of merit and not of sex.

Now that the election is over and the long session for Cabinet gossip is in full swing, the talk has started up again.

Women Are "Electioneering"

Interestingly enough, some of the women leaders are especially concerned about men candidates or about retaining certain men members of the present Cabinet for women for posts.

It is reported that Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton, vice chairman of the Republican State Committee, would not mind seeing Dr. Blair Spencer appointed as Governor-elect. Dr. Spencer is Assistant Director of Public Welfare in Philadelphia under Barclay Warburton.

It is also reported that Dr. Blair is a brother of Miss Henrietta Baily Lyons, of Williamsport, an influential Pinchot worker and leader among the women in the primary campaign. Hence there is obviously an argument in this case.

Also it is reported in Pittsburgh that William Flinn, former Roosevelt leader of Pennsylvania, is booming his daughter, Mrs. Mary Flinn Lawrence, as successor to Dr. Blair.

Just to add zest to the situation those interested were reminded that both Miss Lyons and Mrs. Lawrence have been long friends of Grey Towers, the Pinchot country home. And, of course, Mrs. Warburton has also been there. Besides that, the Governor-elect is interested in Mrs. Warburton's views inasmuch as she declared for him as against Mr. Allen in the primary campaign and thus helped greatly in working up feminine sentiment in the city, the Governor-elect always makes it a point to confer with Mrs. Warburton.

In or Out for Finegan

Then again, Dr. Thomas E. Finegan is a subject for much discussion. Most women leaders favor his retention in the Pinchot Cabinet. It is understood that the education sub-committee of Mr. Pinchot's Citizens Committee is a State Finance, after examining the work of Dr. Finegan in the past, has drawn up a report which distinctly approves of his plans and policies.

On the other hand, it is conceded that powerful political influences which backed the retention of Dr. Finegan in the primary campaign, notably the Grundy element, has always been opposed to Dr. Finegan. It is more than likely, however, that the retention of Dr. Finegan will be largely guided by the report of his educational sub-committee.

Many women leaders have suggested that the first Cabinet office to be given to a woman should be that of Secretary of the Commonwealth for the reason, not always plainly stated, that the real work of carrying on the administration is largely technical and administrative experience is not a prime necessity. Here there is another rub, as friends of A. Nevitt Betts, campaign director for Mr. Pinchot, are urging him for that place.

43 DEMOCRATS IN STATE LEGISLATURE

Late unofficial election returns show that Democrats have made considerable gains in both the State House and the State Senate.

In the House there has been an increase from fourteen to forty Democratic members, with the possibility that the number may be still further increased. Democratic membership in the Senate has been increased from three to six.

These are the Democrats elected to the State Senate:—

Fourth District—Harvey Hoffmann, Stouffville.

Eighth District—Harry D. Kutz, Nazareth.

Tenth District—Asa K. De Witt, Plymouth.

Twelfth District—Charles W. South, Williamsport.

Thirteenth District—William E. Lantz, Scranton.

Fourteenth District—Harry I. Betts, Clearfield.

Following are the Democrats elected to the State House:—

Adams County—Grover C. Myers, Beaver, Edward J. Sedgwick, Berks, Orville C. Eschelman, Ralph E. Schoener, Wilson, Schuylkill, Berks, Charles M. Driggs, Columbia, Berks, Korns, Patrick McDermott, Carbon, William D. Hontz, Carbon, W. P. Marshall, Columbia, Berks, Harter, Cumberland, Miles P. Freeman, Elk, John M. Flynn, Erie, Joseph M. Schilling, Franklin, Charles D. Minshart, Fulton, Norris E. Hower, Juniata, Henry J. Lavery, Lackawanna.

ENGLISH VISITOR PRAISES DRY LAW

Agnes Slack, Here to Attend Temperance Convention, Says U. S. Sets World Example

BACKS UP SHIP LIQUOR BAN

Bootleggers may come and bootleggers may go—even as thieves.

But this is no reason for deprecating the prohibition law, contends Miss Agnes Slack, of Derbyshire, England, who would be as logical to suspend laws against theft for the simple reason that the law has been violated.

Miss Slack, a world figure in the temperance question, arriving in Philadelphia today, is acting vice president of the National British Women's Christian Temperance Union. She comes to take a prominent part in the four-day world temperance convention which opens in this city tomorrow.

"We've had laws against thieves 4000 years now, have we? We've had distinguished visitors put the question humorously. This is her sixth trip to America since 1860. On her last trip two years ago, when she was the guest of the United States Government, she had a long chat with President Harding.

In that same class of distinction can be placed a visit with the Queen of Italy, a tea-a-tete with Princess Margaret of Connaught, a stay in India as a guest of the Viceroy and a ten-day visit at the home in Wales of the Lloyd Georges.

She showed today a telegram reading: "Miss Agnes Slack, M. S. Regina, White Star Line, wishing you every success in your work for temperance in America. Margaret Lloyd George."

Democrats Plan 'Jazz-Darndest' Time Town Ever Saw

Triumphant Democrats of Camden, who elected a Mayor on Tuesday for the first time in twenty-one years, will parade through the principal streets of that city tomorrow night in a blaze of red fire.

Mayor-elect Victor King will be in the long column, made up of delegations from every ward, town and borough in Camden County. The Democrats outside of the city of Camden are jubilant over the majority they gave Governor Edwards over Senator Frelinghuysen for United States Senator.

Both Republicans and Democrats are speculating as to the effect the election of King will have on city appointments and the control of city bodies. A general scramble for the offices is looked for.

Though the present city charter is somewhat antiquated and permits City Council to make the majority of the appointments, there are several important departments that will come under the supervision of the new Democratic Mayor.

The Board of Education, Playground Commission, Board of Assessors, Housing Commission, Park Commission, City Police Commission and the Board of Public Works will all come under the control of the Mayor. All the new appointments to these bodies will be made by Mayor-elect King, while the employees of the departments are selected by the boards themselves.

As the terms of the present members expire at different intervals of one year, Democrats will not have entire control of any of the boards for at least one year, as they are solidly Republican at present.

Rules Police Department Mayor-elect King will be the head of the police department, but he has no authority to dismiss any police officer or suspend for dereliction of duty. All new appointments will be made by the Mayor, who also has power to transfer men for "the good of the department."

The Police Committee of City Council acts upon all suspensions. While the new Mayor will be able to distribute considerable patronage among the Democrats, he has had to overthrow the powerful organization of former Senator David Baird, the Republicans still will control City Council. Baird's party has also had control in the appointments of all officials and employees of many city departments, including Board of Health, Street Commissioner, City Clerk, Electrical Board and Water Department, and other departments. The Mayor's appointments are subject to confirmation by Council.

Appointments to Board of Education, which consists of seven members, are made without confirmation by Council. Next February Mayor King will appoint three members to succeed Harry Sluagh, William P. DeLoach, and Dr. Clement T. Branch, whose terms will expire January 1, 1923, when the new Mayor will be inaugurated. Terms of two more men will expire in 1924 and the other two in 1925. This means the Democrats will have entire control of the board in 1925 and probably two years later even in the event of a Republican being elected the next year. The appointments of the secretary, the business manager, the medical assistants and the nurses are made by the board.

Subject to Confirmation Terms of three members of the Board of Assessors will expire during the regime of the new Mayor. They are William H. Davis, 1922; William D. Vanaman, 1924; and Walter B. Ellis, president of the board, 1925. The appointments by the Mayor to this board are subject to confirmation by Council.

Similar conditions prevail as to the Playground Commission, which at present includes Meyers Baker, Mr. George Burrell, Mrs. Louise P. Walsh, Charles M. Bowen and Charles Heitzner. The board controls the appointment of the office employees and the school teachers. The same conditions exist relative to the Park Commission. One member of that board is retired each year.

The Fire Department comes under the supervision of Council's Fire Committee, which controls appointments. Mayor-elect King is silent on the matter of appointments, but his present election platform favored a new City Charter, to be used as planning, water and Fire Departments under city supervision.

"BAD MAN" QUAILS BEFORE STATE TROOPER'S ORDER

Drops Weapon Pointed at Policeman's Head and Meekly Goes to Jail

Mrs. Antonio Zralo, of Elm, N. J., near Hammonton, swore out a warrant for her husband yesterday, charging him with assault and battery with intent to kill and carrying concealed deadly weapons. The warrant was given to a member of the State police to serve.

When Zralo heard of the warrant he told neighbors that five State policemen could not take him. To back up his argument he produced a loaded pistol and a blackjack. Then he sat on the front porch and waited for the State police. The neighbors looked to their feet, knowing that Zralo would make good his threat.

Down the road five minutes later strode a State trooper. The trooper walked to within one foot of the muzzle of the gun and, looking his man in the eye, said:

"Drop that gun before I want three or 'll just put you in the nose."

"One, two, three—the pistol dropped to the floor.

"So you are going to kill five troopers, eh?" the policeman sneered. "Drop that gun before I knock you over with a tap on the wrist!"

The blackjack dropped.

"Now follow me," the trooper said, and an hour later he led the meek bad man into the County Jail at Camden.

Benavente, Spanish Author, Wins This Year's Award in Literature

Stockholm, Nov. 10.—The Nobel prize for outstanding achievement in literature for the present year has been awarded to the Spanish dramatist Jacinto Benavente.

The prize amounts to 500,000 francs (worth $100,000 at the old rate of exchange).

The chemistry prize for 1921 is awarded to Prof. Dr. Albert Einstein, of Germany, identified with the theory of relativity, and that for 1922 to Prof. Niels Bohr, Copenhagen.

The physics prize for 1921 was awarded to Frederick Soddy, professor of inorganic and physical chemistry, University of Oxford, and in 1900-02 demonstrator in chemistry at McGill University, Montreal, and later 1922 to Francis William Aston, research fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge.

Jacinto Benavente is Spain's leading dramatist. He is best known in America as the author of "The Flower," which had a long run in New York. He also has won renown in Spain as a politician, actor and director.

Benavente has written a number of plays, including "The Bonds of Interest," and "His Widow's Husband."

WEDDING BELLS HOLD UP FRANKFORD "L" PARADE

Magistrate Performs Ceremony on Gayly Decorated Float

Frankford's industrial parade, staged last night as part of the week's celebration of the opening of the Frankford "L," was held up at Frankford and Margaret streets while Miss Florence Snyder and Glenn Green, standing on a large float of a furniture company, were married by Magistrate Costello.

When the ceremony was performed and the first kiss given and received the float was filled with applause and congratulations from the crowds lining the sidewalks. A redoubt was presented to the newly married couple by the furniture store. Then the parade moved on.

Many attractive floats showing Frankford as a center of industry were in the line, and ten bands, distributed at various intervals, added a lively touch which helped to make the parade a big success.

Prize winners were Edwin W. Gehrung, Inc., Edward Taddel, U. S. Marine, Philadelphia, George Frankford, Lancaster, John Blingworth Steel Company, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, Minerva Yarn Company, Seaman Jewelry Company and the Milne Hat Company.

Lancaster Man Uses Revolver, Daughter Sees Tragedy

Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 10.—(By A. P.)—After a quarrel today Wilson C. Lopez, sixty-six, of this city, shot and killed his wife, Sarah, then ended his own life.

As an only daughter, came down stairs just as the first shot was fired. She saw her mother fall and dashed out to a neighbor for help. When she returned, she found her father lying on the floor with a revolver clutched in his hand. Both deaths resulted from bullet wounds through the head.

Neighbors saw the family program and, although party disagreements, said they could assign no cause for the tragedy. Neighbors heard the couple quarreling loudly at special session next spring inevitable.

"BAD MAN" GOES TO JAIL

William Henion, Camden, Had Imbibed Too Much Moonshine

William Henion, fifty years old, Royden street, Camden, who imbibed moonshine and then posed as a "bad man," was sent to jail for twenty days this morning by Acting Recorder Switzer.

"The trouble with him is that he thinks he's a hard customer and that he can whip anybody in town," said Patrolman Sparks, who was summoned to Henion's home by the neighbors.

"Well, I haven't a big head as you may," shouted Henion.

AT FAIR MEETING

Six Others of Ways and Means Committee Prevented From Attending Yesterday

GIVE REASON FOR ABSENCE

Three of the nine members of the Ways and Means Committee of the Sequel-Centennial Association attended the meeting yesterday afternoon in the Bellevue-Stratford.

The six other members, as well as Colonel D'Olier, who as president of the association is an ex-officio member of the committee, sent to Edward Robins, the secretary, the reasons which prevented them from attending.

Colonel D'Olier was in New York in the interests of his firm. Judge Bonnell was also in New York, conferring with Matthew Brush in reference to the Sequel-Centennial. John P. Connelly and J. S. Holton were out of the city on business.

Mrs. Rudolph Blankenburg attributed the small attendance to the change of the meeting day from Wednesday to Thursday.

"I was all prepared to attend the meeting Wednesday afternoon when I learned it had been changed," she said. "I had arranged to address the Sequel-Centennial Women's Club at their twenty-fifth anniversary celebration, and, of course, couldn't change my plans. It is the first Sequel-Centennial meeting I ever missed."

George F. Holmes, president of the Board of County Commissioners, was attending a meeting of Council when the meeting was being held. Ellis A. Gimbel was unable to be present because of the death of Jacob Gimbel.

The three members who attended, the chairman, Ernest E. Tice, Julius Mastbaum and Thomas Robins, held an informal discussion for two hours, transacted routine business and then adjourned to the next meeting day of the committee is in doubt, as Mr. Tice plans to go to Atlantic City on business next week.

On November 21 the Board of Directors will hold its monthly meeting.

FEW ASSESSMENT KICKS

Owners in 18th, 19th and 31st Wards Apparently Seem Satisfied

Nineteenth and Thirty-first Wards appeared in the Real Estate Assessors' office in City Hall today to protest against assessments placed on their properties for 1923. The number of appeals received indicated that residents of the section, the Lower Kensington district, are generally satisfied.

The new Frankford "L" touches a number of the properties in these wards, but notwithstanding this fact assessments were not materially increased.

W. J. Burton and John J. McQuade are the assessors sitting today, the only day on which appeals may be taken for the Eighteenth Ward, while Fred Schwartz and Patrick Donohoe are assessors for the Nineteenth and Forty-fifth Wards will be at the Assessors' office to hear appeals.

MARY SMITH LOCKWOOD, FOUNDER OF D. A. R., DEAD

Last Survivor of Group That Formed Organization in 1890

Plymouth, Mass., Nov. 10.—(By A. P.)—Mrs. Mary Smith Lockwood, founder of the Daughters of the American Revolution, died yesterday at the Josiah Hospital, where she had been a patient since September. She was 91 years old.

Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood, "Little Mother to the Daughters of the American Revolution," was the last survivor of the first members of the American patriots who organized that body more than thirty years ago; she was also an active figure in the Women's Republican organization and a noted worker for the cause.

Mary Lockwood was born at Chautauque, N. Y., in 1831, a daughter of the famous Smith family, founders of the Franklin College, who were patriots. Her great-grandfather was a Revolutionary soldier; her grandfather lost his life in the battle of Black Rock in which her father also died for his country. Her husband, Henry Lockwood, was a soldier in the Civil War.

It was in her home in Washington in 1880 that a group of eighteen women met to discuss the needs of the American Revolution that now numbers 172,000 women.

TENSE VAN MESSERLE ON PENN CAMPUS

Enthusiasm Prevails as Students Plan for Big Football Game Tomorrow

"BEAT PITTI" IS SLOGAN

An atmosphere of enthusiasm spread over the University of Pennsylvania campus today, heralding Penn's football game with University of Pittsburgh on Franklin Field tomorrow, one of the most important games on the Penn schedule.

Dawn today revealed the sidewalks, walls of buildings, fences, the whole landscape about the University adorned with signs painted in huge letters, "Beat Pitti."

If inspiration from the students is what is needed to make the team win, as some seem to think, since the untimely defeat of last week at the hands of Alabama, the Pitt game has already been added to Penn's victory column.

The sophomore class, assembled in Weighman Hall at 1:10 o'clock this afternoon, gave vent to its sentiments about the approaching battle in an assembly which was addressed by Acting Provost Pennington and Captain "Pos" Miller, of the varsity.

The big rally will come tonight, when the student body will gather in the "Quad" at 6:45 o'clock, when preparations for "skinning the Panther" will be made.

Speakers will be "Vince" Steenson, Penn's greatest quarterback; "Jack" Minda, all-American captain of the 1912 team, and other former stars of the gridiron.

A red light parade will follow the meeting in the Quad and procession will cover the entire campus. Led by Head Cheer Leader Clark, the students will visit the various student and fraternity houses and snuff will be added to the parade by the University Band.

"We beat the Navy, now beat Pitt!" "Let's put Pittsburgh in a pit!" "We'll pin the Panthers!" These and many other signs adorn the sidewalks and walls along the streets leading from the West Philadelphia station to the University campus. They are painted about the sidewalks around City Hall and at the prominent offices of the University of Pennsylvania campus.

In front of the Houston Club, a huge gallow is painted on the sidewalk and the words "Beat Pitti" are written on it. "Pitt" hangs suspended from the beam, just as the Navy gung hung in efigy two weeks ago.

"Let's go, Pitt!" buttons will not be worn this year, however. The student government body decided that these were a jinx, and therefore, they are banned.

CRIES "LET'S GO" TO DEATH

Slayer, About to Be Hanged, Displays Nerve to Last

Frederick, Md., Nov. 10.—(By A. P.)—While a vast throng clamored outside the walls and beat upon the doors for admission to the jail yard, William A. Stultz was hanged here this morning for the murder of Policeman John H. Adams. Stultz maintained iron nerve to the last. As the shroud was placed around him in his cell he said: "Let's go."

He carried a basin of water to the gallows in which he washed his face and hands, declaring this would purge him of his sins. He then launched into a tirade of local authorities and blamed them for causing his crime.
