It was 'The Wise Fool,' but the details are correct.

C. J. H. D. writes: 'Being as I am a constant reader of your column in the EVENING PUBLIC LEDGER I would like you to print the following information: A biography of Glenn Hunter and Richard Barthelme as to age, weight, height and address, etc.'

Here is George Gibbs with his novel, THE HOUSE OF MOHUN. It tells about an average American family and the part played in its failures and successes by the younger generation.

Eric von Stroheim seems now to be definitely on the 'outs' with Universal. There have long been persistent reports that things have not been going smoothly—and now I see that Rupert Julian has been assigned to finish 'Merry-Go-Round,' which Von Stroheim started.

Red Head writes: 'Here's a chance to show whether you really can say what you like, or just what difference it makes when you say it to a local theatre. Well, I pay my two bits with the Republican war tax in it, picks a couple of soft, short seats and waits for Babe Daniels in 'Pink Toes.'

Working on a Republican paper you'll never dare print this, but when I saw the censor label on the feature I could have lain down and cried at the thought of the ignorance and stupidity of the manager of that theatre allowing the party responsible for those holier-than-thou censors to use his screens and drive away his Democratic patrons.

You're mixed in your eyes, O M. '30' is the 'line off' on the land wire. We 'sine off' with '73' in radio.

As a picture Griffith's next one will be very similar to 'The Bat,' the play, and nobody can say that D. W. Griffith had a 'small town soul.' Was it a small town soul that directed 'Judith of Bethulia,' 'The Avenging Conscience,' 'The Birth of a Nation,' 'Intolerance,' 'Broken Blossoms'?

How those pictures of the candidates you complain of. And I noticed they aroused more enthusiasm and applause than any other part of the bill. They were shown because the theatre managers knew they would be popular with the intelligent part of the audience.

Confidence

SILVER buyers have confidence in the name "Sterling." It is a guarantee of quality. In this city, where the consumer knows and can judge good ice cream, confidence so quickly and thoroughly won speaks volumes for the product. It is that confidence that makes folks walk a little further, if need be, to reach a SUPPLEE Dealer. It is that assurance which has led to the greatly increased demand for SUPPLEE ICE CREAM at social functions. SUPPLEE ICE CREAM is seldom equaled—never excelled. Yet you pay no more than you do for any other reputable ice cream.
