

SHERIFF IN SEARCH FOR CAPT. BROWNE

Seeks to Serve Summons in Application for Divorce Filed by Wife

ON LECTURE TOUR, REPORT

John R. Pechin, Sheriff of Chester County, has a summons issued by Judge Tolney upon Captain Herbert J. Browne, following the filing of an application for divorce by his wife, Mrs. Jean Kane Browne.

Mr. Pechin said that he is now on a lecture tour, talking on Mexico.

Following the application of Mrs. Browne, through her counsel, District Attorney Windle, of Chester County, to the court Tuesday as a Democratic candidate for the Legislature, Captain Browne was political campaign manager for his wife.

Application was filed with the prothonotary in the divorce case on November 10, 1921. They had an appointment in West Chester, but spent most of their time in the home of Mrs. Browne's first husband, George R. Foulke, of East Bradford, who was recently shot and killed by his son, she is a sister of Dr. Hayard Kane, formerly chairman of the Chester County Democratic Committee.

There is much speculation among the friends and acquaintances of Mrs. Browne as to the reasons for her sudden action against her husband, who is several years her junior. District Attorney Windle, Mrs. Browne's counsel, refused to discuss the reasons and none was filed with the application.

It is stated that Mrs. Browne's husband made a hard fight and gave her opponents much worry, her husband for a time served as her campaign manager and made many speeches.

It is stated that an episode which had weight toward the divorce application occurred in the last days of the campaign. Mrs. Browne had been assured of support of a large number of Republican voters, but it is said she lost many of those through a speech by her husband at a meeting in Honeybrook. In that speech, Mrs. Browne attacked the war record of Captain Whitaker. That lost Mrs. Browne hundreds of votes, especially in the northern precincts, where they were most needed by her. A family clash is said to have resulted.

HONOR FOR PARK GUARD

Monument Will Be Erected to Man Killed in World War

War Mothers and American Legion posts will participate tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the unveiling in Cobble Creek Park at Fifty-ninth street and Willow avenue, of a statue in memory of Joseph A. Murphy, Park guard, who died in France. The ceremony will be one of the features of Armistice Day in this city and every Park guard who can be relieved will be detailed under Captain Hayes H. Dugan for duty at the unveiling.

S. T. Stobersky, of the Park Commission, will preside and the other commissioners will be present. John F. Patterson will make the presentation speech after opening prayer by the Rev. Joseph Wolfe, who was chaplain of the 10th Infantry, in which Mr. Murphy was a private.

The statue will be unveiled by Miss Betty Trullinger as the Firemen's Band plays the national anthem. Mr. Stobersky will accept the memorial on behalf of the city. Major Thomas B. Martin, secretary of the Park Commission, will be master of ceremonies.

P. R. T. PLANS MORE TRANSIT ADDITIONS

Track Extensions in North for New "Feeders" of Frankford "L" to Cost $1,000,000

COUNCIL BACKS AUTOBUSES

Two more important additions will be made to the transit facilities to follow closely upon the placing into operation of the Frankford elevated.

The Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company is rapidly making arrangements for the extension of its tracks in the upper section of the city as "feeders" of the Frankford "L."

Mayor Moore, Richard Weiglin, president of City Council, Director Caven, of Public Works, and Assistant Director Atkinson, of City Transit, together with Thomas E. Milton, president of the P. R. T., inspected the streets through which the extensions in the north will be made. Mr. Milton explained that the extensions would include an outlying section of the city, the plan to extend the Frankford "L" to Ithaca street, Holmesburg, however, will probably be abandoned for the present. An ordinance was introduced in City Council yesterday by Councilman Horn providing for repeal of legislation calling for this extension.

In the Council resolution regarding motorbuses it was suggested that the buses could be operated to advantage on Roosevelt boulevard, in Broad street, in Roxborough, in Passyunk avenue and in Third street, south of Snyder avenue.

GHOSTS START A FIRE

Feature of Epworth League Party, but Firemen Did Not Know That

Some one mistook a bonfire which was part of the annual "Ghost Party," conducted by the Senior Epworth League of St. Stephen's Methodist Episcopal Church, Germantown avenue below Brimley street, last night, and turned in an alarm. Two fire companies and an insurance patrol responded.

As a feature of the party, in the course of which the members appear in ghostly white, dance around the fire and tell ghost stories, the bonfire was started in an old cemetery in the rear of the church. The blaze alarmed neighbors.

The Rev. Francis M. Gray, pastor of the church, explained matters satisfactorily to the firemen.

DRIVE FOR CIVIC CENTER

Judge Monaghan Heads Campaign of Catholic Society

Plans are being formulated for a campaign which will result in the erection of a Catholic civic center in this city. The project was launched at a meeting held recently at 157 North Fifteenth street, formerly the Benedict Service Club.

At the meeting Cardinal Dougherty told of the need of a large building in the center of the city where Catholics might gather and which would have the most hospitable accommodations for transients.

The proposed campaign will be conducted by a committee of laymen. Judge Monaghan will act as chairman.

5 SERVANTS FOR $22 MONTH SOLVE DOMESTIC PROBLEM

Mrs. James M. Baker, Missionary, Says You'll Have to Go 12,000 Miles to India for Them, However

Mrs. James M. Baker has five servants in her bungalow. Their wages lumped together come to $22 a month. But Mrs. Baker smilingly opines that most women in Philadelphia would probably not trade kitchen help with her even with her freedom from the servant problem thrown in.

Mrs. Baker's kitchen is 12,000 miles from Broad street. It is in Ongole, India. It is so hot in the summer that there that it's the last place in the house the mistress of the house wants to go, however domestic she may be in her inclinations.

"To speak accurately," Mrs. Baker amplified, "it isn't in the house at all. It's 200 feet away, just where it belongs. We haven't even a stove—just a makeshift sort of stone oven."

Twenty-seven years of work as a missionary in far-off India had given Mrs. Baker a nice sort of smile. She acted as general as a bride from Syracuse, N. Y., when she was nineteen. She came to Philadelphia yesterday to attend the missionary field day of the American Baptist Foreign and Home Mission Society at the First Baptist Church.

"I wouldn't know what in the world I'd do if I couldn't go back," she exclaimed.

With her husband Mrs. Baker holds enough positions in Ongole and its environs to keep the average American couple busy three lifetimes. Her contribution to the team work in running two schools, helping to run a hospital, delving into industrial conditions and acting as general mother to a town of about the size of Coatesville. She helped to establish the hospital, the famous John Clough institution that grows brick by brick in an arid docto-

TEXTILE CHEMISTS TO MEET

Will Discuss Plans Tonight for Winter Work of Organization

Philadelphia textile chemists and colorists will meet at the School of Industrial Arts tonight for the annual election of officers of the Philadelphia Section of the American Section of Chemists and Colorists and to discuss plans for the winter's work of the organization. The meeting will open at 8:15 o'clock.

Although only a year old, the Philadelphia section of the organization already has about 500 members and is rapidly becoming a powerful unit in this, the greatest textile center of the United States. At least five years' experience as a textile chemist or colorist is required to become eligible for membership.

MAY INVESTIGATE DEATHS

Two Epileptics Found Lifeless Within Three Days

Newark, N. J., Nov. 10.—Deaths of two patients at the village for epileptics at Skillman may result in a State investigation of the institution, it was announced yesterday.

The family of Frank Genevinsky, an inmate, was notified Sunday that Frank had accidentally strangled himself while asleep. Ernest Castamore, a city employe, after hearing of the Genevinsky case, reported to the authorities that his brother, Lawrence, had died at the institution last Friday, having been found with his body hanging out of bed.

29TH WARD BEAUTY CHOSEN

Miss Stella C. Eckler Wins Phonograph as Prize

Miss Stella C. Eckler, 2807 Poplar street, was awarded first prize in the Twenty-ninth Ward Business Men's and Taxpayers' Association beauty contest last night in the Fairmount Theatre. Twenty-sixth street and Girard avenue. Richard Weiglin, president of City Council, delivered an address.

The contest was one of the features of the business-with-pleasure carnival conducted by the association for the last seven weeks. Miss Eckler was awarded a $150 phonograph, with $150 worth of records.

Second prize, pearl necklace with diamond clasp, was awarded to Miss Mabel Miller, 822 North Twenty-sixth street. Miss Hazel E. Crouse, 1411 North Twenty-ninth street, and Miss May Novack, 1329 North Hollingswood street, received honorable mention.

NINETY SCHOOLS ARE ANTIQUATED

Superintendent Broome Declares $36,000,000 Needed to Replace Buildings $80,000,000 PRESENT NEED

Replacement of ninety antiquated school buildings at a cost of $36,000,000 would be necessary to catch up to present school needs in Philadelphia, Superintendent of Schools Broome estimates.

Speaking at a meeting of the Chestnut Hill Public School Association last night, Dr. Broome outlined the $15,000,000 building program advocated by the board and the program was heartily approved by members of the association.

He also outlined plans for a new elementary school at Germantown and Southampton avenues, Chestnut Hill, which will replace the old J. G. Gilbert School, on Highland avenue west of Germantown avenue. Bids for this and two other schools, he said, were opened yesterday.

"If we could spend $50,000,000 and replace ninety of our antiquated buildings overnight," said Dr. Broome, "we would just catch up to present needs. It is a slow process, but the money will all be spent for the best, from the standpoint of future generations."

Bids were opened yesterday by the Board of Education for the erection of three elementary school buildings. Cramp & Co. bid $444,207 for a school at Germantown avenue and Southampton street, Chestnut Hill. Next lowest bidder was Ketchum & McQuade with $460,000.

Cramp & Co.'s bid for the school at 24th street and Oregon avenue was $428,552, while Monaghan & Loose, Inc., bid $437,418.

The lowest bidder for the school at 19th street and Oregon avenue was McCloskey & Co., Inc., with $406,609. The Work Company was second.

DEMOCRATS TO CELEBRATE

Parade Tonight at Gloucester in Honor of Mayor-Elect McNally

Democrats of Gloucester are preparing for a big parade tonight in which several thousand supporters of that party will participate.

The procession, which will be an old-fashioned torchlight affair, with red fire on the side, will be reviewed by Mayor-elect McNally. Of equal importance with the parade plans was the announcement by the Mayor-elect that he would attend the dinner to be given by prominent men of the community to study Gump, Congressman-elect, whose campaign attracted national attention.

Numerous politicians, regardless of party affiliations, have also received invitations to the Gump dinner, the date of which has not been set.

The Mayor-elect has announced that his cabinet would consist of Dr. C. B. Rider and the Rev. W. L. Zimmerman, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

KNIGHTS HOLD BANQUET

San Salvador Council Closes Silver Jubilee Celebration

The silver jubilee of San Salvador Council No. 283, Knights of Columbus, came to a climax last night at a monster banquet held in Scottish Rite Hall. More than 1000 persons attended the festivities.

The list of speakers included James

A. Flaherty, supreme knight, E. of C.; Mayor Moore, Ralph A. Dugan, grand knight of San Salvador Council; the Rev. Charles Leo O'Brien, S. J.; P. A. Kennedy, State deputy of Pennsylvania, E. of C.; Charles H. Grakow, exalted ruler of Philadelphia Lodge of Elks; Judge William M. Lewis, John V. Loughney and M. J. McEnery. P. H. Kelly was toastmaster.

Silent tribute was paid to Judge Joseph P. Rogers, who died last week.

WHY PAY AS MUCH AS $400

for any Player-Piano, if you can buy a new, high-grade and guaranteed instrument for less, on easy weekly or monthly payments, with several dozen music rolls, a bench and cabinet thrown in?

A well-made Player-Piano, if carefully handled, will last from 25 to 35 years and be a constant source of pleasure and entertainment to its owners.

The Cunningham Player-Piano is manufactured with the celebrated REO-STYLE patents owned and controlled exclusively by us, in our modern, well-equipped factory. So perfect in construction is this instrument that a child can play with all the expression of the master composer himself.

Every Player-Piano we manufacture has a double valve action and metal tubing. Do not let anybody talk you into buying an instrument with a single valve action, as it has not the power or endurance—if it had, why should we spend twice as much money in developing a double valve action?

The very fact that for over a quarter of a century we have been offering $10,000.00 for a better piano than the MATCHLESS CUNNINGHAM should be sufficient proof of its quality!

All our instruments are priced from 20 to 30 per cent. lower than any dealer anywhere (whether large or small) can afford to sell. Terms arranged to suit the purchaser.
