

Independent Elevens Set for Big Saturday Grid Contests

MILLVILLE AWAITS RIVERSIDE CLASH

Leading Football Teams of South Jersey Battle for Championship Nov. 18

PLAY GLOUCESTER NEXT

Millville's victory over Woodbury last Saturday eliminated the strongest contender for the South Jersey title in this section of the State, and Coach Archer is now preparing the men for the Riverside contest, which is to be played in this contest on November 18.

Tomorrow Millville, which has not been scored on in two years, and which is the present New Jersey State champion, will play the Gloucester champion, a collection of football stars from various parts of Gloucester and Camden Counties. It is not expected that Millville will experience any difficulty in participating using only, and Archer is anticipating using all his men in this game. It is a tuning-up contest for Riverside.

The Riverside game is looked upon as the toughest on the schedule. The Green team was defeated by the Phillips last year, who expect to repeat. Confidence in a Millville victory is based upon the showing against the Wildwood A. A. of Frankford, which won from Riverside at Riverside, 19 to 6.

Compared With Wildwood

Millville beat Wildwood 12 to 0, and while the figures are not very decisive, Millville's superiority was more plainly evidenced from the fact that Wildwood made a couple of first downs and the ball was in its territory the greater part of the game. Millville, on the other hand, believe the Riverside aggregation is in for another evening.

Blue Serge, sturdy fullback, who was injured in the second game of the season, is back in the fray and his presence adds much strength to the backfield. He got in last Saturday's game long enough to score a touchdown and will be used a while against Gloucester. Coach Archer, who is willing to defend his Saturday, showed streaks of his old-time form.

Virgil Johnson, Millville manager, wired the Orange A. C. following the latter's victory over Recreation, or Plainfield, 22 to 3, on Election Day, that Millville claims the New Jersey championship and is willing to defend it against all logical opponents. It will be a great tussle should the two eleven meet.

Millville's victories have resulted in a hard offensive and satisfying team play. The team is defensively stronger than it is offensively. Not only eleven has been able to pierce the giant line, and the few first downs which have been made against Millville have been the result of forward passes.

Has Speedy Backfield

The backfield is light but speedy. Miller and Carter being exceptionally quick. The latter is a track man with ability to do the century in 10 1-5. Carter carries the ball from his position at the end of the line.

These men, with Hogan, Smith, Hawks, Gley and Mills, compose a collection of backfield men who are playing great football for Millville. The offensive strength is in the two slim-limbed backs, Captain Riley and Bing Lane, all weighing more than 185 pounds. Moss and Haines, the other two line-men, are a trifle lighter, but are speedy boys.

Millville has developed some great football teams and some well-known athletes, but there has never been an eleven that has gone for two years without having been scored upon. Back in 1906 the city was represented by a wonderful football eleven. Senator F. M. Reeves, then a prominent athlete, was a member. In 1911 there was another star team in Millville, but it did not play as many games nor did it create as enviable a record as the present State champs.
