

Philadelphia Boys Will Play With Penn State Against Penn Here on Saturday Afternoon

PENN STATE AT ZENITH, SAYS EX-PENN PLAYER

Bezek Has Varsity Primed for Contest With Red and Blue; Artelt, Former Germantown Academy Star, a Regular

DERN MAY PLAY

By JOSEPH T. LABRUM
PENN STATE has a team that will cause trouble from now on," said a prominent University of Pennsylvania former football star this morning in discussing the chances of the Red and Blue for victory over Hugg Bezek's hirelings.

"That defeat down at Washington," the former muleskin warrior continued, "has proved just the right impetus to that bunch of wildcats up there near to go. They have fight and spirit and know the game, and don't be surprised to see them show a different bit of attack against Penn than they did against the Middies, as sort of surprise attack that I understand they have been concealing just for Penn."

"Having seen them play against the Middies and having heard comments about their victory over Carnegie Tech last Saturday from those who attended the game, I feel certain that Bezek, lacking perhaps a Killinger, has almost as good a team as he had last year."

"This fellow Wentz, not even considered good enough to have his name listed as a varsity player until after the Syracuse game, is a wonder from all accounts. I am in about as good a quarterback as this season has produced among the newcomers, while the line with 'Tiny' McMath in there along with Bezek and Bezek is a strong one."

"Just because the Center County team lost to the Middies and the Red and Blue beat Pollock's crew is no reason for Penn to get cheaply over the game. I will prove as hard as any on the schedule and Miller and his mates have had a busy year. Bezek is a crafty coach, who knows his stuff, and I don't think he is in the material which in turn has the brains. Outside of that there isn't much to be desired."

"The game should resolve itself into a brilliant defensive spectacle, with the open game being used as the modus operandi for the scoring. Penn has a great defensive team and so has State."

"The Westerners will in all probability outweigh the Red and Blue both in the line and backfield, but the difference will not be so much as to give over the game to Penn and the season will be somewhat retrieved. It will put new spirit in the team and make it a fighting, smashing outfit for the Cornell game."

Philadelphia Boy at End
In the State line-up that will probably start on Saturday will be Ted Artelt, who starred at Germantown Academy two years ago. The former local scholastic star, who is a sophomore at Penn State, was a member of the team last year and showed such adaptability in the early drills that he had little trouble making a regular place.

Football Fans Quit Mired Automobiles

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 14.—One thousand automobiles, which brought spectators to the Iowa-Minnesota game Saturday, are still stranded in West Liberty, Cedar Rapids and Iowa City, and scores were stored in barns or left along roads out of here because of the rains which have made muck of the highways. More rain is forecast.

Many of the cars, which bore license tags from five States, were mired all night and women and children had to remain in them and go without food from Saturday noon until Sunday morning. Cars were mired along one road for fourteen miles. Farmers took horses to haul automobiles to shelter, charging $2 to $10.

can play a full game against State if I have a brace or something on it."

JACK DERN limped badly yesterday, being unable to bend his knee. Hot-towel applications and rubbing are expected to take down the swelling so that the center man can play Saturday. Dern himself expects to start the fray. Both Estrevaug and the pivot man will be kept out of scrimmage drills this week.

FRANK GRAF, who received a kick in the knee, and Tex Hamer a gash on the head, will both be able to get into Saturday's fray. They suffered no effects, that is, permanent ones, from their hurts. Graf, who played brilliantly against State, will give Papworth a keen battle during the week for the post. The latter, who injured his knee in the Alabama game, is in good shape and anxious to get his regular post back again.

The afternoon coaches plan a stiff scrimmage for the first varsity substitutes and Tom McNamara's junior varsity eleven. There is a strong possibility that many of the varsity players will also be injected into the fray.

COACH DR. JACK KOEHL and twenty-three members of the freshman team will leave here tonight for Birmingham to attend the funeral of Andy Lang. A delegation of students from the first-year class will leave on the same train. The final game of the season, scheduled with South High of Massachusetts, was canceled yesterday and the first-year team disbanded.

COCHRAN PLAYS CONTI

Hopps Also Opposes Homeans in Title Billiard Program

New York, Nov. 14.—Two matches are on the second day's program of the international 15.2 ballbilliard tournament. Walker Cochran, of San Francisco, meets Roger Cont, of San Francisco, this afternoon, and William Hoppe will play Edward Jacob Schaefer, Belgian champion, tonight. Jacob Schaefer, 18.2 ballbilliard champion, defeated Erich Hagener, champion of Germany, 600 to 328 in the first match last night. Hagener had 105 points in his second inning and Schaefer 140 in his. Schaefer was always in the lead after that.

Boots and Saddle

The Elks' Handicap and the Sonntag Hotel Handicap are the features offered today at Dade Park, Kentucky. The Sonntag Handicap is a two-year-old and the Sonntag Handicap is a two-year-old and up. Horses which seem best are:

The Illinois Jockey Club has prepared a racing bill to be introduced in the State Legislature providing for pari-mutuels at the new $1,500,000 track being constructed at Washington Park. It is expected to make the revival of racing a success, which it has every prospect of doing. Having plans cannot be built up and properly maintained without the pari-mutuel system. In evidence of that it is only necessary to refer to what has been accomplished in Kentucky and Maryland, and the large purses hung up for horse breeders.

Frank O'Neill, the American jockey, best rider in France, has ridden 138 winners this year, with his nearest competitor, Bellhouse, having seventy-six. Guy Grenier, another American boy, is riding well there.

STARS OF HAMMONTON HIGH SCHOOL GRID TEAM

A. AIGNER, L. H. B. ANTHONY SACCO, R. E. WM. PETROCIA, L. E. SPENCER TURNER, Q. B. CAPPUCCIO, T. B.

HAMMONTON MAY PLAY LA GRANGE

Waite High Game Off, Jersey Eleven is Ready to Go to Chicago

HAS WON EIGHT STRAIGHT

Negotiations are now under way for a game between Hammonton High, the undefeated football team of this county, and the La Grange High School team of Chicago.

The Waite High School team, of Toledo, being unable to accommodate the Hammonton High team on November 18, the date set for the contest, the Eastern team is prepared to make the trip to Chicago to mix it up with the Mid-Westerners on their own turf.

Hammonton has waded through its schedule of eight games so far without suffering a defeat. There were no easy games in the list. Woodstown High, May's Landing High, Atlantic City High, La Salle Prep, Woodbury High, Hahnemann Medical and Pleasantville High, and the eleven defeated by Hammonton has never had as formidable an eleven as this year.

Coach Formerly of Penn Charter
Coach Heck, who leads the New Jersey warriors, is a former Penn Charter player. Philadelphia scholastic fans will remember him as the crushing fullback in the '14, '15 and '16 championship teams.

After graduating from the Quaker school he matriculated at Rutgers, playing in three years and that since. He went overseas with the A. E. F., and has coached Hammonton for the past two seasons.

Heck is fortunate in having an exceptionally heavy team for schoolboys, players with natural ability and able to absorb Heck's fine points of the game.

The Hammonton backfield averages 182 pounds. Quarterback Spencer Turner weighs but 135 pounds. Captain Harry Jacobs, halfback, weighs 102; Anthony Capuccio, fullback for the last three years, tips the scales at 218, and Arol Aigner weighs 183 pounds.

This back garden resembles a college eleven and even surpasses some of the teams representing the big universities. Although very heavy, it is hampered by the excessive weight. It has outside rival backfields when it comes to speed.

Moyer Lost to Speedboys
Another casualty has hit the West Philadelphia High school football squad. In the fourth period of the Northeast High game Saturday Bert Moyer, who has been an in and out regular, broke his leg when tackled after making a 10-yard gain.

He was carried off the field and then taken to the Misericordia Hospital. The injury prevents Moyer from further football playing this season. As he is only a sophomore, Moyer still has a chance of making good on the Speedboy eleven.

16 GAMES FOR DELAWARE

Peach State Basketball Five Plays Penn Here January 10
Newark, Del., Nov. 14.—University of Delaware basketball schedule just approved by the Athletic Council calls for eleven games at home and five away, with the opening home game December 21 with Philadelphia Dental College. Penn. Army and Navy are again on the Delaware schedule.

The complete schedule follows: December 21, Philadelphia Dental College at Newark; January 5, Brooklyn Polytechnic at Brooklyn; January 6, Army at West Point; January 10, Penn at Philadelphia; January 13, New York Angles at Newark; January 19, Gal-laudet at Newark; January 23, Penn Junior Varsity at Newark; February 9, Gettysburg at Newark; February 10, Muhlenberg at Newark; February 12, P. M. C. at Newark; February 14, Navy at Annapolis; February 16, Swarthmore at Swarthmore; February 17, Haverford at Newark; February 22, Lebanon Valley at Newark; February 24, Washington at Newark and March 1, Ursinus at Newark.

VISITATION STARTS TONIGHT

Uptown Basketball Team Will Play in Home of Jasper Five
The Visitation Catholic Club will enter the field of basketball tonight in the finest hall in the city used by any semi-pro team.

The Kensingtonians are not going far away from home, but will use the Rose Garden, the home of the Jasper Eastern League quintet at Kensington avenue and Ontario streets, and which accommodates about 2000 fans.

The opposing club for the opener will be Inscrution C. C. Visitation has one of the best of the independent line-ups with Stunindinger and Scrone at forwards; Joe Regan at center, and Blunhardt at point guard. Frankoid, High, and Gillen and McCauley, former St. Joseph Prep stars, at guards. There will be dancing after the game.

DELCO WINS SEVEN IN ROW

Darby Gridders Want Game Away for Coming Saturday
The Delco Club, of Darby, contenders for the Delaware County championship, ran up their biggest score so far in the season in downing St. Monica's on Saturday, 52 to 0. It marked the seventh successive victory for Delco.

Coming to the fact that Lincoln University will use Hilldale Park for its annual game this Saturday, Delco is without a home field and will have to travel. On Sunday the team travels to Lancaster and plays All-Lancaster.

Any team desiring the Saturday date with Delco should get in touch with J. A. Spahr, 530 Main street, or call Darby 440 between 7 and 8 P. M.

COLGATE TRACK CAPTAIN RESIGNS

Hamilton, N. Y., Nov. 14.—Arthur Bulber, of Malone, N. Y., holder of the State championship for the 220-yard hurdles, has resigned as captain of the Colgate track team following the protest made by fellow classmate that he violated a college rule by participating in a football game played in Utica Sunday, November 8, between the Y. M. C. A. and the Knights of Columbus.

PINE VAL. GOLFERS TALK NEW HOUSE

Local Club, in Meeting There Today, Discusses Many Angles of Building There

NEW HOLES GROW HERE

By SANDY McNIBLICK
MEETING of great import to the Pine Valley Golf Club is on the card today at that place.

Influential Philadelphians who are members of Pine Valley are planning improvements and great things are expected to result from the meeting.

The golf course there is one of the best in the world. The housing at this club in the pines is strictly for golf and what goes with it.

The downstairs part is mostly where a snack of food is enjoyed and the upstairs section is all locker stretchers. Additions are proposed so that there will be a cozy dining room and living room downstairs and something more in the nature of a regular country clubhouse upstairs.

It is proposed to bring the house out more toward the eighteenth green, with a balcony opening in the center of the clubhouse. Pine Valley is with us for keeps and the complete plans of those interested in remodeling its housing are getting a lot of interest today.

Philmont Improves
Almost everything grows with age, especially if it's anything connected with golf, and this applies in particular to the strictly local Philmont Country Club here, which is stepping out.

Twelve holes of its new eighteen-hole layout have been not only plotted, but planted, and the new season is set for the time when they will be highly playable, 'tis said.

The greens are said to be playable right now, and this is surely the right season of the year to set records for the new layout.

Strangely enough, there has not been a yodel so far about the new traps. Bring on the new golf year and this will likely be thunderous.

At least a trio of nationally known golfers is on the nominating ballot for the new officers of the Metropolitan Golf Association. Here's the trio: Oswald Kirkby, Grant Penneck and A. E. Kramer. Others are D. H. McAlpin and W. H. Conroy. For the coming year the following officers have been nominated: President, Findlay S. Douglas; vice president, C. J. Bentley; secretary, W. C. Connor; treasurer, M. C. Waters.

The United States Golf Association is about to issue a circular letter which is bound to popularize the association in many circles. The big hope among those who are getting to be able for tournaments are putting to be for the fact that the money given for exhibition matches could be much reduced, if the practice grows, it is feared the press will begin to devote too much of the time away from the club in tournaments and matches.

SAYWARD SCHOOL WINS
Captures Opening Game From Barrington Seminary, 4 to 2
Miss Sayward's School, playing its first field hockey game of the season, defeated Barrington Seminary yesterday afternoon at Overbrook in an extra-period game, 4 to 2.

PHILMONT IMPROVES

With the close of the Girls Field Hockey League the standings show two teams tied for the lead and, by a curious twist of fate, the rival elevens both represent the Philadelphia Cricket Club.

The final game was played yesterday between the "Yellows" and the "Reds," both of the Cricket Club, and as a result of the 3-to-2 victory of the Yellows the race ended in a deadlock.

A meeting will now be held to determine the date of the play-off and one game will be played to decide the title. Last year the Philadelphia Cricket Club won the championship. This year the pennant winners were divided into two teams and now both teams have finished in front.

The Yellows owe their success to the wonderful playing of their forward line in the opening half of the game when the team obtained a 0 to 0 lead that was easy enough to win.

Miss Gertrude Hoar was one of the individual stars with three of the nine goals to her credit and deserves all the credit possible for her fine work in the crucial game of the race.

Another star who showed up well for the winners was Miss Emma Norris, stationed at right wing. Her dashes down the field were spectacular as well as proficient. In fact, the addition of Miss Norris and Miss Lucy Cheston, captain of the team, to the line-up made the eleven an entirely different aggregation from the team that defeated Merion recently.

The Reds put up a great fight in the closing half and held the victors 3-to-2 score, but the early lead was much for them to overcome. A victory for the Reds would have ended the with the pennant in their possession but now a real fight will be waged before the title is awarded.

Plans are now being pushed toward the selection of an All-Philadelphia team, and several of the players on the two cricket club elevens undoubtedly will be numbered among those present when the final selection is made. Practices are now being held on the field at St. Martins, and a speedy team will be picked against the invaders.

Tom Gibbons Scores Quick K. O.
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 14.—Tom Gibbons made short work of George Smeets here in a scheduled first round bout, knocking him out in less than thirty seconds of actual fighting before the beginning of the bout. The result was caused by the fact that Gibbons, by Jack Malone and Austin Katter, had been plunked into his work with a vim.

GIRLS END HOCKEY SCHEDULE IN TIE

"Yellows" and "Reds," Both of Cricket Club, Finish Season in Deadlock
