WIFE WINS DECREE IN DIVORCE DUEL

Daughter of Late Camden M. E. Pastor Charges Too Much Mother-in-Law

HUSBAND WAS ATHLETE

Mrs. Charlotte Gravatt Shrader, daughter of the late Rev. Holmes F. Gravatt, of Camden, yesterday was granted a divorce from E. Altemus Shrader, former Camden High School athlete, of 708 Linden street. The husband also asked a divorce on the grounds of desertion, the same as his wife. The question of alimony was left open.

Mrs. Shrader, who resides with her widowed mother at 500 Benson street, Camden, is librarian at Camden High School.

The couple separated a few days after their fashionable wedding in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, when the bride's father performed the ceremony, which was attended by virtually the entire congregation and scores of their friends. The separation threatened for a time to split the church congregation. Friends of the bride's father worked futilely to effect a reconciliation.

Fashionably dressed and sobbing several times on the stand, Mrs. Shrader testified she was unable to agree with her husband's mother, and because of the latter's conduct was compelled to leave. She said she asked her husband to provide a home for her and her mother. That her husband refused to do, Mrs. Shrader testified.

Shrader testified his wife left his home without cause. He said he never knew his wife had any trouble with his mother and that when Mrs. Shrader left she refused to give any reason for going. He also said he made several efforts to have her return.

Mrs. Ida B. Shrader, mother of Mr. Shrader, testified she never had any words or trouble with her son's wife and that she tried to induce Mrs. Shrader to remain.

MISS CONWAY CAGE STAR

Will Play for Daughters of Columbus in Game Tonight

Daughters of Columbus will play their second game of the season tonight, when the Steel Heddle Girls will be met in the preliminary battle to the Jasper-Croftville game at the Rose Garden.

The Columbus girls are better this year than they were last, when the team won the Eastern cage title, and this improvement is due to the acquisition of a new player for the forward berth. She is Miss Mary Conway, former star of the Ladies of Pinzon five.

Very few scrimmages are held on the floor that Miss Conway does not get into, and the unfortunate young lady opposed to her will know she has been in a game before the final whistle blows. In the opening game of the season it was Miss Conway who scored most of the field goals for the Columbia girls, and she can be counted upon to do her best this evening against the Steel Heddle five. The rest of the team will line up the same as last year, with Miss Ludlow at the other forward position, Miss Donohue at center and Miss May Adams and Mrs. Mabel Carraha as guards.

PHILA. BOY LEADS HARVARD

Joseph S. Clark, Jr., Chestnut Hill, is Awarded Scholarship

Qualities of character, leadership, scholarship and athletic ability are held to be more nearly combined in Joseph S. Clark, Jr., of Chestnut Hill, than in any other senior at Harvard College in the annual award of scholarships announced last night. To him goes the Francis H. Burr Scholarship, offered in memory of the student athlete of that name.

Clark, now in Europe on leave of absence, won his letter in baseball, was a sprinter on the track team, has been a Welfare secretary, prominent in other college activities and held a high scholarship record throughout his course.

AWARD FRANKLIN MEDALS

Dr. R. B. Moore and Dr. C. W. Colby Win Honors

Presentations of the Howard N. Potts medal to Dr. R. B. Moore, chief chemist, United States Bureau of Mines, for his recent paper on "Helium" and of the Edward Longstreth medal to Dr. C. W. Colby, as president of the Noisless Typewriter Company, marked the lecture last night at the Franklin Institute.

E. Newton Harvey, Ph. D., professor of physiology, Princeton University, in an address reviewed the general facts of animal luminescence, the physical nature of animal light, its relation to inorganic luminescences, and the chemical processes underlying its production. Special attention was given to the factors determining the intensity of luminescence and the possibility of making it continuous.

ARREST 2; RECOVER MOTOR

Suspects Believed to Have Been Connected With Theft

An emergency call to the Germantown police station last night led to two arrests, the recovery of a stolen motor-car and, police believe, the frustration of a hold up at Morris and Berkle streets. Patrolman O'Neill was sent to the corner and found an excited knot of men, women and children surrounding a small car. They said two men got out of the car and hung around the corner suspiciously. O'Neill went in the direction he was told the men had taken and found them at Manheim street and Wissahickon avenue. While waiting for the patrol one of the men threw away four new pipes and several packages of tobacco. Subsequently the car was identified as one stolen in the afternoon from A. R. Cunningham, tobacco salesman 37 North Second street. The prisoners gave the names Charles Laimbach, Dumannon avenue, and George Elze, Melrose Park. Police said Elze had been arrested before in connection with stolen motorcars. They were held for court.

"THE RIGHT WAY"

Different Kinds of Doctors

When your eyes give trouble, go to an oculist (eye physician). But be sure he is an "M. D."—a Doctor of Medicine—for that is the only kind of doctor whom you can safely intrust with the care of your eyes and the conservation of your vision.

We utter this caution because nowadays the title of "Doctor" is conferred upon and pre-empted by many outside of the regular medical profession. Ofttimes it is a perfectly proper designation: Doctor of Laws, Doctor of Science, etc., etc. Sometimes it has little or no meaning, and may be misleading. But "M. D." Doctor of Medicine, is the only kind of doctor for eye troubles or in fact any other bodily ailments.

JACOB REED'S SONS

ANNOUNCE THE OPENING OF THEIR NEW

OVERCOAT SALESROOM

occupying the second floor of their building

Our Clothing Department has outgrown its house—the business has nearly tripled in the last few years, and really required more room for expansion.

So we made an overcoat room of our second floor, filled it with the newest type of Overcoat Cabinets, and, in turn, filled them with the finest, handsomest and most comprehensive assortment of high-class Overcoats to be found in Philadelphia, and are today inviting every one to come and see them.

Everything that is worth while is here—the models are of the newest approved types of Slip-ons, single and double breasted styles and Chesterfields. Ulsters, half belts and with belt all around. Plain shoulders and Raglans.

They are made of Imported and Domestic Beavers, Shetlands, Chinchillas, Elysians, Irish and Scotch Cheviots in a wide variety of colors in rich tones of browns, tans, grays and Lovett. Many have plaid backs in original designs and colors. There are hard-faced fabrics for the man who wants something durable and serviceable, and also soft, fleecy, warmth-without-weight fabrics that lend themselves well to tailoring and that appeal to one's sense of luxury.
