as a Choice for Governor Harrisburg, Nov. 18.—(By A. P.)— From the official election returns it ap-pears that some of Pennsylvania's voters indulged in a bit of merriment in the elections ten days ago and otherwise disregarded traditions of politics. Returns recorded at the State Bureau of Elections reveal a surprising number of names, some of persons with no political ambitions and others entirely fictitions.
William G. Burke, candidate for Senate, was voted for on all the senatorial nominations. More than twenty names were written in for Governor. Andy Gump received four votes for Governor and eight for Senator. In a number of places names of picturesque local citizens were written in for various offices.

Senator Pepper, John S. Fisher and Howard Taft each received one vote In the senatorial column votes were cast for "Newberry," H. M. Daugherty and Singleton Bell.
