

THE HOME IN GOOD TASTE

By Harold Davidson Architects

Architecture and Comfort

In planning to build a house it is best to consider seriously how many you wish to house seriously your roof, how much entertaining you wish to do, what service you expect to have, and what furniture you will use, before you decide on the style of architecture you will adopt for your house.

Many people build their houses to conform to an ideal—Dutch Colonial, Georgian, Spanish or French—which may appeal to them, and then find that it does not suit their furniture or their own tastes.

The most successful house is the logical house—one with space for the things dear to the family who are to live in it. If the family care most for entertaining, dining, dancing, cards, even impromptu plays, the dining and reception rooms are most important, and should be so planned as to open into each other and so furnished as to be easily available for dancing or theatricals. If, on the other hand, music is the chief interest, the music room, with its piano, should dominate the house. If books are the family's joy, the library may take precedence.

Can Be Bought at Paint Store

Dear Madam—Would you please let me know how to remove the paper that is used in bathroom windows so they cannot be seen through. I would like to remove some and do not know how.

MRS. R. B.

There is a special preparation for this which can be bought at a paint store.

A Paint Stain on a Sweater

Dear Madam—I am a constant and silent reader of your most interesting column and I have noticed how you have aided so many people in so many different ways.

Please can you tell me how I can get a green paint stain out of a white wool sweater? It is very noticeable.

A. PROHIBER, 324 E. 12th St.

Turpentine will remove this. Soak the stain in the liquid until it softens up. Then sponge it off with a clean cloth.

Long Skirts Will Help You

Dear Madam—Is there anything I can do to straighten my legs as they are bowed-in? When walking on the street I feel very unbecomingly and other people are always noticing my legs.

M. D.

There is nothing you can do to correct this, unless you undergo a painful, long operation. The longest, during which you are in bed for a long time, and you may save you this embarrassment. No doubt you are more conscious of this than any one else.

Can You Tell?

Who Discovered Latent Heat

If you should place a lump of ice in a pan upon the stove in which there is a fire, and as it melts it gently to keep the water well mixed, you would find that so long as there is any of the ice left in the pan the water will remain at 32 degrees Centigrade, which is the melting point of ice. The heat produced by the fire must be going into the water all the time, or the ice would not melt. If, when the ice is melted completely you take the temperature of the water, you will find that it becomes hotter and hotter until it reaches 100 degrees Centigrade, when it will boil, and after that if you leave it there the water will become no hotter, but will gradually boil away. Even the last drop of water will be no hotter than 100 degrees.

The meaning of this was explained by Dr. B. in 1780 when he showed, through these and other experiments, that all of the heat applied to water in which there is ice is used in melting the ice, and that all of the heat applied to water after it reaches the boiling point is used in turning it into steam. The heat which is used in melting the ice is called latent heat. It is called latent because it is not understood until Davy proved that heat is motion. If we understand that heat is motion, we can understand that the motion which is sent into the ice from the fire is used in separating the particles of ice so as to turn the solid into water. The same is true when the ice is melted. All melted ice the energy of the heat is directed to turning the water into steam by making it boil. When the steam begins to rise all of the heat energy is employed in leaving apart the particles of water in remaining in the pan until the last drop has changed into steam.

is a one-floor, one-gallery store, brightly lighted and well ventilated with fresh washed air, and supplied with courteous, helpful salesforces. It is easy to do Christmas shopping here because there are no stairs to climb and the wide straight aisles are never too crowded for comfort. Full stocks of new low and moderately priced standard merchandise are to be had in twenty-seven sections, and the Central Aisle each day offers many wanted "specials."

Hundreds of Frocks for Thanksgiving Gayeties

Many a Third to Half Less

The frock that fits in with one's Thanksgiving plans is probably uppermost in many women's minds at present. Perhaps a new street frock is the solution. If so, there are many smart models of serge, tricotine or Poiret twill among which to choose. Perhaps a matinee is included in your plans. There are silk frocks galore, draped and paneled and embroidered, and fascinating velveteens with gay embroideries or contrasting silk bodices. If the holiday is to conclude with a really truly "function," one will be interested in the many charming evening gowns of chiffon, taffeta and lace.

Cloth Dresses, $5, $7.50, $9.75, $12, $15, $16.50 to $30.

Silk Dresses, $7.50, $9.75, $15, $16.50, $18.25 to $45.

A Third Less for Sports and Fur-Trimmed Coats

at $25 and $38.50

Smart polo coats, plaid-back, bolivia and fine-finish velour coats. Typical sports models, manfully tailored. Dressier coats, many of them with big fur collars, some with fur collars and cuffs, some with self-color silk embroideries. Blue, black, brown, tan and tweedy mixtures in the combined group and at one or another price.

Chinchilla Sport Coats, $16.75

Tan and chow shades; silk lined.

Fur-Collared Sport Coats, $42.50

Tweed and polo coats with raccoon, nutria or beaver collars. Silk lined.

Tweed Sport Coats $9.25, $10.75, $16.50 up to $37.50

Tan, brown, gray and rainbow fleckings. Diagonals and mixtures. Plaid back, half lined or lined throughout.

Exceptional Bolivia Coats $32.50

With collars of Manchurian wolf-dog or throw scarfs of self-material. Lined with silk and warmly interlined.

Beautiful Fur-Trimmed Coats $50, $55, $58.50, $65 to $135

The Little Salon of Coats is full of richly fur-trimmed models developed in the finer pile fabrics. Nutria, squirrel, beaver, taupe and platinum wolf collars and sometimes fur cuffs, according to the price. Brown, reindeer, Sorrento, navy, black and kit fox color. Peau de cygne, satin or silk crepe lined.

Smart Little $6 Hats Are Cause for Thanksgiving

Holiday throngs and holiday festivities! Crowded streets and shops and restaurants! That's the time when a chic little hat is worth much more than this small price.

Charming black satin turbans like the one pictured will stay snug and comfortable under a veil. And they are out of the way for theatre or dancing or with a big coat collar.

Other cleverly designed hats are trimmed with fluffs of fur, bright Paisley banding, glinting embroidery or clusters of flowers. It is real economy to have one.
