

UNITARIAN CHURCH HONORS MINISTER

German-town Congregation
Gives Rev. Roger S. Forbes
Illuminated Address

MARKS FIVE-YEAR SERVICE

The Rev. Roger S. Forbes, minister of the Unitarian Church of German-town, was the recipient last evening of an illuminated address from his parishioners, congratulating him upon the completion of the fifth year of his ministry among them.

The presentation was made at a reception in the parish house, in the presence of a large assemblage of the men and women of the congregation. With the illuminated address a photograph and a wallet were given to Mr. Forbes as mementoes of the occasion.

Former State Senator Owen B. Jenkins, president of the Board of Trustees of the church, presented the address. Mrs. Louis C. Madeira presented the photograph and the wallet. Mr. Forbes made a brief reply to the presentation speeches. The celebration ended with an informal reception.

The address itself was a work of art, in the form exemplified by medieval missals. The lettering, in Gothic, was executed by Edwin Fretwell, prominent architect. The illumination of each page was done by Nicola D'Acenzo, an artist noted for his mural decorations and work in stained glass.

The address follows:

To
The Reverend
Roger S. Forbes
and Parishioners of the Unitarian Church of German-town
On the completion of the Fifth Year of His Ministry
among them
November 21
1922

"Dear Mr. Forbes:

"The tie between a minister and his people is an intimate and delicate one, consecrated by the spirit of a common faith. Its realization must vary according to circumstances and individual abilities.

"On the completion of the fifth year of your ministry in German-town we, the members of your congregation, desire to testify how fully and generously you have fulfilled our ideal of the pastor and leader of a liberal church.

"For five years, during a most troubled period in the world's history, you have given us constant inspiration and help by your sincere and eloquent sermons. You have not only set forth the broad principles of a liberal faith, free

CONGREGATION'S TRIBUTE TO MINISTER

Dear Mr. Forbes:—The tie between a minister and his people is an intimate and delicate one, consecrated by the spirit of a common faith. Its realization must vary according to circumstances and individual abilities. On the completion of the fifth year of your ministry in German-town we, the members of your congregation, desire to testify how fully and generously you have fulfilled our ideal of the pastor and leader of a liberal church. For five years, during a most troubled period in the world's history, you have given us constant inspiration and help by your sincere and eloquent sermons. You have not only set forth the broad principles of a liberal faith, free deprecation of his own efforts and in praise of the manner in which his people had translated into deeds his own liberal religious aspirations. Under his leadership the pleasure it had had to him and to Mrs. Forbes to have had a part in the growth of the church, and their lively appreciation of the splendid spirit of the parishioners.

Mr. Forbes said he and his wife had come to Philadelphia feeling certain they would be homeless for their native New England, but that the five years of their residence here had passed swiftly and very happily.

Mr. Forbes is a son of the Rev. John Forbes, who was formerly minister of the Church of the Savior in Brooklyn. He is a member of an old New England family, and a graduate of Harvard of the class of 1900. He studied theology in the Harvard Divinity School. He came to German-town from the First Parish, of Dorchester, Boston.

During his five years in Philadelphia, he has won a wide reputation for his eloquence, and is an admitted leader of liberal religious thought. Under his leadership the German-town Church has grown steadily in attendance and influence.

The Unitarian Society of German-town was founded in 1825, and at one time the Rev. Samuel Longfellow, a brother of the poet, was its minister. Its present congregation includes some of the oldest and most distinguished families of German-town.

TWO BURNED CHILDREN RUSHED TO HOSPITALS

Speed Laws Broken by Car Taking Concetta di Marco to St. Agnes'

Two children suffering from burns are in hospitals today. Both will recover.

The life of one child, Concetta di Marco, five years old, was probably saved by the speed with which she was rushed to St. Agnes' Hospital from her home at 1235 W. 34th street.

A policeman and motorist, passing the house, heard the screams of the little girl and her mother, and ran to the rescue. She was rushed to the hospital in the automobile at top speed. Policeman Meane, of the Fifteenth street and Snyder avenue station, stood on the running board and waved pedestrians and traffic out of the way as the car sped down Broad street to the hospital.

The other child burned is eight-year-old Margaret, of 1223 North Lee street, Kensington. She is in St. Mary's Hospital. Her clothing caught fire as she attempted to light the gas with a piece of paper she had ignited at the gas range.

deprecation of his own efforts and in praise of the manner in which his people had translated into deeds his own liberal religious aspirations. Under his leadership the pleasure it had had to him and to Mrs. Forbes to have had a part in the growth of the church, and their lively appreciation of the splendid spirit of the parishioners.

Mr. Forbes said he and his wife had come to Philadelphia feeling certain they would be homeless for their native New England, but that the five years of their residence here had passed swiftly and very happily.

Mr. Forbes is a son of the Rev. John Forbes, who was formerly minister of the Church of the Savior in Brooklyn. He is a member of an old New England family, and a graduate of Harvard of the class of 1900. He studied theology in the Harvard Divinity School. He came to German-town from the First Parish, of Dorchester, Boston.

During his five years in Philadelphia, he has won a wide reputation for his eloquence, and is an admitted leader of liberal religious thought. Under his leadership the German-town Church has grown steadily in attendance and influence.

The Unitarian Society of German-town was founded in 1825, and at one time the Rev. Samuel Longfellow, a brother of the poet, was its minister. Its present congregation includes some of the oldest and most distinguished families of German-town.

TWO BURNED CHILDREN RUSHED TO HOSPITALS

Speed Laws Broken by Car Taking Concetta di Marco to St. Agnes'

Two children suffering from burns are in hospitals today. Both will recover.

The life of one child, Concetta di Marco, five years old, was probably saved by the speed with which she was rushed to St. Agnes' Hospital from her home at 1235 W. 34th street.

A policeman and motorist, passing the house, heard the screams of the little girl and her mother, and ran to the rescue. She was rushed to the hospital in the automobile at top speed. Policeman Meane, of the Fifteenth street and Snyder avenue station, stood on the running board and waved pedestrians and traffic out of the way as the car sped down Broad street to the hospital.

The other child burned is eight-year-old Margaret, of 1223 North Lee street, Kensington. She is in St. Mary's Hospital. Her clothing caught fire as she attempted to light the gas with a piece of paper she had ignited at the gas range.

"Tiresome and Faithful"

"During these years you have also been tireless and faithful as a friend and pastor, responding to every call of your congregation.

"We acknowledge with gratitude the debt of our church to you for increased life and usefulness.

"We subscribe our names to this address with the sincere wish for the happiness and welfare of yourself and your family, and with the hope that the bond between you and your German-town people may remain unbroken for many years to come."

The address was signed by the members of the Board of Trustees and of the congregation. All who were present at the reception appended their signatures to the document. The loose sheets of the address later will be put into a handsome hand-tooled and lettered binding in the form of a book.

The presentation was made briefly and informally. Mr. Jenkins, congratulating Mr. Forbes on the successful five years of his ministry, expressing the satisfaction the congregation felt in his continued presence among them, and their appreciation of his efforts.

Mr. Jenkins spoke of the difficulties of the ministry, and of the intimate tie, both social and religious, which had been formed between Mr. Forbes and the members of the Unitarian Society of German-town. He said tribute to Mrs. Forbes, who was present with her husband, for the great assistance she had given the minister in the material improvement of the church, and the delightful manner in which she had graced its social functions.

Mrs. Madeira, who followed Mr. Jenkins, repeated the familiar words which had been said in a previous address: "The tie between a minister and his people is an intimate and delicate one, consecrated by the spirit of a common faith. Its realization must vary according to circumstances and individual abilities."

She then presented the illuminated address, and a "postscript" to a whimsical and delightful address, which the congregation had another day of the occasion to offer. She handed Mr. Forbes the wallet.

Minister Praised Congregation

The minister was visibly affected by the speeches, the gift, and the spirit of the congregation. He spoke in deprecation of his own efforts and in praise of the manner in which his people had translated into deeds his own liberal religious aspirations. Under his leadership the pleasure it had had to him and to Mrs. Forbes to have had a part in the growth of the church, and their lively appreciation of the splendid spirit of the parishioners.

Mr. Forbes said he and his wife had come to Philadelphia feeling certain they would be homeless for their native New England, but that the five years of their residence here had passed swiftly and very happily.

Mr. Forbes is a son of the Rev. John Forbes, who was formerly minister of the Church of the Savior in Brooklyn. He is a member of an old New England family, and a graduate of Harvard of the class of 1900. He studied theology in the Harvard Divinity School. He came to German-town from the First Parish, of Dorchester, Boston.

During his five years in Philadelphia, he has won a wide reputation for his eloquence, and is an admitted leader of liberal religious thought. Under his leadership the German-town Church has grown steadily in attendance and influence.

The Unitarian Society of German-town was founded in 1825, and at one time the Rev. Samuel Longfellow, a brother of the poet, was its minister. Its present congregation includes some of the oldest and most distinguished families of German-town.

TWO BURNED CHILDREN RUSHED TO HOSPITALS

Speed Laws Broken by Car Taking Concetta di Marco to St. Agnes'

Two children suffering from burns are in hospitals today. Both will recover.

The life of one child, Concetta di Marco, five years old, was probably saved by the speed with which she was rushed to St. Agnes' Hospital from her home at 1235 W. 34th street.

A policeman and motorist, passing the house, heard the screams of the little girl and her mother, and ran to the rescue. She was rushed to the hospital in the automobile at top speed. Policeman Meane, of the Fifteenth street and Snyder avenue station, stood on the running board and waved pedestrians and traffic out of the way as the car sped down Broad street to the hospital.

The other child burned is eight-year-old Margaret, of 1223 North Lee street, Kensington. She is in St. Mary's Hospital. Her clothing caught fire as she attempted to light the gas with a piece of paper she had ignited at the gas range.

Reported Missing

Emma Schmeidler, fifty-one years old, escaped from the Philadelphia Hospital.

Joseph O'Brien, seventeen years, 425 Aspen street, five feet ten inches, 135 pounds, light complexion and hair, wearing a blue suit, brown overcoat and light hat.

Stanley Danilo, thirty years, 221 York avenue, five feet seven inches, 175 pounds, dark complexion, brown hair, wearing a black suit, brown overcoat, white striped shirt, no collar, brown shoes and stockings.

May Selgel, eighteen years, 112 Christian street, five feet, 118 pounds, black eyes, bobbed hair, dark complexion, medium build, wearing black stockings, out with gray fur collar and cuffs, black face dress, black silk stockings and slippers.

Frank Villars, thirty-four years, 430 Titan street, five feet six inches, light complexion, black hair, wearing a pepper-and-salt overcoat and brown hat.

Allen Lobek, thirty-eight years, 207 Hamilton street, five feet four inches, 120 pounds, dark hair, eyes and complexion, wearing a black coat, brown shoes.

Fannie Milstein, nine years, 2721 South Eighth street, four feet three inches, black bobbed hair, wearing a pink sweater, rain coat, black shoes and stockings. She is dumb and unable to speak.

Nordral Pizze, seventy-five years, Norristown, gray hair and mustache, wearing black clothes and a soft hat.

AN APPREHENSION OF LINCOLN

An Australian ship, the "Marion," which is expected to arrive in Philadelphia on Monday, was the subject of a "phantom" apparition in the city. The apparition was seen by a number of people, and was described as a "ghostly" figure. The apparition was seen in the city of Philadelphia, and was described as a "ghostly" figure. The apparition was seen in the city of Philadelphia, and was described as a "ghostly" figure.

WANTED

A Fighting Chance

—by an experienced advertising executive who has the common sense to take instructions and the ability to direct others.

His work has included Merchandising, Copy, Layout, Plans, Sales Promotion, House Organ editing, Business Letters and Direct-Mail Advertising in all sorts of businesses. Write him Box A 925, Ledger Office.

THE GIRL OF MANY BEARS

No wonder Lester de Beere is constantly worried for the future. He has more bears than there are trees in the forest. He has more bears than there are trees in the forest. He has more bears than there are trees in the forest.

PROFITS depend upon quick and frequent turnover. Turn over can be speeded up by direct-mail advertising.

DREKA FINE STATIONERS

Beautiful Photograph Frames

From the Tiny Miniature to the Large Boudoir Size

Moderately Priced

1121 CHESTNUT ST.

MEMORIAL FOUNTAIN FOR HORSES UNVEILED TODAY

B. P. C. A. Ceremony in Honor of Miss Sarah Cresson

A memorial fountain for horses to memory of Miss Sarah Cresson was unveiled at Front street and Erie avenue this afternoon at 2 o'clock. That is the third fountain to be erected by the Auxiliary to the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals from a fund bequeathed by Miss Cresson for the purpose.

Frank B. Rutherford, operative manager of the Pennsylvania S. P. C. A., presented the fountain to the city and the gift was received by John J. McKinley, Jr., member of Council for the district. A crack team from the Harbeson Dairies, Jack and Jill, had the honor of the first drink at the new stand.

Mrs. Thomas Sprout Gassner, newly elected president of the auxiliary; Mrs. Frank B. Rutherford, Miss Lillian G. Pontius, Mrs. Walter L. Lamond, Mrs. E. K. Mitchell and John F. Cogans represented the auxiliary at the ceremony.

The fountain is of the approved type, cut out of a massive block of granite, and has sanitary drinking cups.

Dinner for Major Hoopes

Troop A, 10th Cavalry, one of the crack cavalry outfits of the Pennsylvania National Guard, will give a testimonial dinner tonight to their former troop commander, Major Edward Hoopes, to the L'Aiglon Annex, Captain William B. Paul will be toastmaster. He succeeded Major Hoopes as commander of the troop. Members of the troop will present Major Hoopes with a saber.

GOOD TYPOGRAPHY for the Advertiser

The purpose of the advertiser is to gain the confidence of buyers. Our purpose is to set and arrange the reading matter and illustrations in an artistic and dignified manner that makes for that valuable confidence so much desired.

S. WILLENS & COMPANY
Ball, Walnut 3746 Keystone, Main 2742
900 Walnut St. Philadelphia

Expert Typographers

BLAMED IN MOTHER'S DEATH

Coroner's Jury Says Son's Fast Driving Caused Motor Accident

A Coroner's jury investigating the death of Mrs. Eliza J. LeKite, of 108 South Fifty-fourth street, found that she met her death near St. Georges Del., as the result of the fast driving of her son, Harry LeKite. The car LeKite was driving crashed into a tree on a sharp turn early Sunday morning.

Mrs. LeKite died a short time later in a Wilmington hospital. Young LeKite was driving the car at about forty-five miles an hour, according to the testimony of Deputy Coroner Nichols.

CLOTHING STOCK DAMAGED

Fire in Arch Street Building Causes $1000 Loss

Fire at 733 Arch street, shortly after 4 o'clock this morning, swept the second floor of Kornfeldt & Seiberg, clothing manufacturer.

Damage of $1000 done to stock from water and soot. The blaze was extinguished before it could spread to other parts of the building.

Leo Cohen, a furrier, lost considerable stock from the blaze overhead. Mr. Cohen said he thought the fire was the result of a defective electric wire.

TWO HURT IN AUTO WRECK

Doylstown Men Pinned Under Car That Capsize on Curve

An automobile driven by Charles MacIntyre, of Doylstown, skidded and overturned late last night when rounding a curve at Chalfont, Pa., injuring Norman Case and Charles Rutherford, both of Doylstown.

The men were pinned under the machine and received serious internal injuries and cuts and bruises of the face. MacIntyre was thrown clear of the car and escaped with bruise.

MacDonald & Campbell

The Most Desirable Overcoats for "The Game" and all Winter $30 to $98

The Army and Navy game is the social event of the season. You will not enjoy it if your overcoat is not perfect in style, comfortable and warm. Men who appreciate the best that can be obtained in an overcoat will, as usual, make selections here. Great big collared Great Coats, Ulsters, Town Ulsters, Full Back, Raglan and Natural shoulders, Belted Backs and Belted all-round, in soft, fleecy, warmth-without-undue-weight fabrics, with handsome plaid backs. All from the most noted American and British makers. Luxurious and serviceable beyond compare.

Note—Conservative and Dress Overcoats, $38 to $85

1334-1336 Chestnut Street

Be Your Own ROOFER

With a Brand "SHANOKOTE" and Some "SHANOKOTE" Asbestos Cement

Any one who really stops to think in the line of rubber roofs and make them as good as new.

"SHANOKOTE" is the genuine "Shanokote" asbestos roof coating and is free of acids, lime and other cheap substitutes.

"SHANOKOTE" is applied on like a paint and it covers the roof, like a rubber roof, with a solid sheet of asbestos film, holding the life of your roof and making them leak-proof for 10 to 15 years.

It will cover about 75 square feet of roof in 100 lbs. of "Shanokote" cost, $1.75 in 1-lb. cans. Headquarters for home, pure paint, shingles and rubber roofing.

THE SHANNON-ELLIS CO.
18 S. 7th St., Phila., Pa. Lombard and Market streets

NBT

A Definite Concrete Saving

of $5 to $12 and more on every Suit and Overcoat. That's just what our Super-Value Policy means to you.

And the higher the price the bigger the saving. We want you to prove it! Look Everywhere and Compare!

PERRY'S

Thousands and Thousands of the

HANDSOMEST OVERCOATS

You Have Ever Seen

Our Super-Value Prices Are

$28 $33 $38

$43 and up

Not an ordinary Overcoat in this whole wonderful collection. See for yourself the vast difference between the quality of our Overcoats, at their Super-Value Prices, and what other good stores offer for similar prices.

Regan Overcoatings in conservative models, full lined with Skinner's Satin—Our Super-Value Price $33.

Regan Overcoatings in Ulster Models, silk lined to the waist—$35.

Sumptuous Crombies, the world's finest—our Super-Value Prices are $53, $55, $58, $63, $66, $68, $72, $75, $78 and up to $85 for our magnificent Crombie Montags, made our way.

PERRY & CO.
16th & Chestnut
SUPER-VALUES
in Clothes for Men

Nowadays there is a well-marked tendency toward wearing better clothes—men are more exacting—more critical than heretofore, and are judging values more intelligently—all of which has naturally helped our business because we thrive on comparisons and delight in supplying clothing for particular men.

Most people travel along lines of least resistance—if you want good clothing why experiment and waste time in futile search? Thousands of the best-informed men in Philadelphia and vicinity have definitely satisfied themselves regarding the excellence, economy and satisfaction of Reed's clothing. You will also after we are given an opportunity to demonstrate our Merchandise and Methods.

Prices this season are quite attractive—$30 and upward for Suits, Top Coats and Overcoats, with notable examples of value at $40, $45 and $50.

JACOB REED'S SONS
1424-26 CHESTNUT ST.

The Linde Store Is Headquarters for Beautiful, Satisfying Gifts

It is one of the most encouraging signs of the times that thoughtful people are turning their attention more and more toward the home. Pleasing artistic furnishings inspire and hold this interest. We have never had such charming gift pieces, and never have prices been so reasonable. Our $150,000 a year location and expense saving keep Linde prices down and quality up. Don't begin your Christmas buying until you see what we can save you.

Gift Rugs for less than elsewhere

Royal Wilton Rugs, 9x12 ft.	$62.50 to $92.50
Standard Axminster Rugs, 9x12 ft.	$29.00 to $61.50
Extra Velvet Rugs, 9x12 ft.	$34.50 to $62.50
Fine Brussels Rugs, 9x12 ft.	$20.50 to $33.50
Genuine Inlaid Linoleums, sq. yd.	$1.20 to $1.80

Other Sizes in Proportion

HENRY LINDE
23d Street, Columbia and Ridge Avenues