

The Subconscious Courtship

A modern woman's extraordinary scheme to keep suitors from interfering with her life is told in this fascinating novel

By BERTA RUCK

Author of "The Woman Mr. Wright," "The Arrogant Rover," etc. Copyright, 1922, Dodd, Mead & Co.

THIS BEGINS THE STORY
Major Carmichael, veteran of the World War, is introduced in a public place. He is a man of a certain type, a man who has seen a great deal of the world and has a certain amount of experience. He is a man who is not easily impressed and who is not easily won over. He is a man who is not easily won over.

"We Were Married Just 15 Minutes"
Her speech over the telephone had been business-like. No one given as to why she wanted to see him. Merely, "I have an address, please," and "at twelve o'clock." "I'll be there," she said. "I'll be there," she said. "I'll be there," she said.

But at the girl's very next words Major Carmichael, veteran of the World War, is introduced in a public place. He is a man of a certain type, a man who has seen a great deal of the world and has a certain amount of experience. He is a man who is not easily impressed and who is not easily won over. He is a man who is not easily won over.

"What do you mean by that?" she asked, her eyes fixed on the stranger. "What do you mean by that?" she asked, her eyes fixed on the stranger. "What do you mean by that?" she asked, her eyes fixed on the stranger.

"I don't like you!" she said, her eyes fixed on the stranger. "I don't like you!" she said, her eyes fixed on the stranger. "I don't like you!" she said, her eyes fixed on the stranger.

"I don't like you!" she said, her eyes fixed on the stranger. "I don't like you!" she said, her eyes fixed on the stranger. "I don't like you!" she said, her eyes fixed on the stranger.

"I don't like you!" she said, her eyes fixed on the stranger. "I don't like you!" she said, her eyes fixed on the stranger. "I don't like you!" she said, her eyes fixed on the stranger.

CONTINUED TOMORROW

THE GUMPS—Still Holding His Own

EVEN MORE PRECINCTS COUNTED DID NOT CHANGE THE RESULT—
ANDY STILL LEADS BY 45 VOTES—IN 63 PRECINCTS OUT OF A TOTAL OF 106—

WELL, I SUPPOSE THEY'LL GET ME— I'M JUST AN INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE WITH ADVANCED IDEAS— I'VE GOT NO SPOT IN THE AFFAIRS OF GOVERNMENT

YOU'VE GOT TO BE EITHER A DEMOCRAT OR A REPUBLICAN TO BE RIGHT OR WRONG— IF YOU HAVE A CROP FAILURE AND A BUSINESS DEPRESSION AND A REPUBLICAN PRESIDENT, THE NEXT ELECTION THEY SLIP YOU A DEMOCRAT—

IN A POLITICAL LANDSLIDE I'VE SEEN MANY A GUY ELECTED TO JUDGESHIP WHO KNEW AS MUCH ABOUT LAW AS A CHIMPANZEE— THEY VOTE FOR A SENTIMENT— NOT FOR A CONDITION—

SOMEBODY'S STENOG—The Old Crab

RAH-RAH! HARVARD!

PST! EASY BOYS! IT'S A LITTLE OF YOU TO BLOW IN BUT REMEMBER THE OLD CRAB'S A BEAR FOR GLOOM—

HARVARD? HARVARD?

WHAT? YOU DON'T MEAN YOU'RE THE FAMOUS LITTLE HALF-BACK TIGER SMITHERS— THE GREAT SMITHERS?

SMITHERS OF '92 BOYS— THAT'S ME— OR WHAT'S LEFT?

SICKENY BINGO BANGO BUN! TIE 'EM UP, TEAR 'EM UP, SOAK 'EM IN RUM! AH!— AH!— AH! HARVARD!

The Young Lady Across the Way

THE LITTLE SCORPIONS' CLUB

By FONTAINE FOX

SCHOOL DAYS

By DWIG

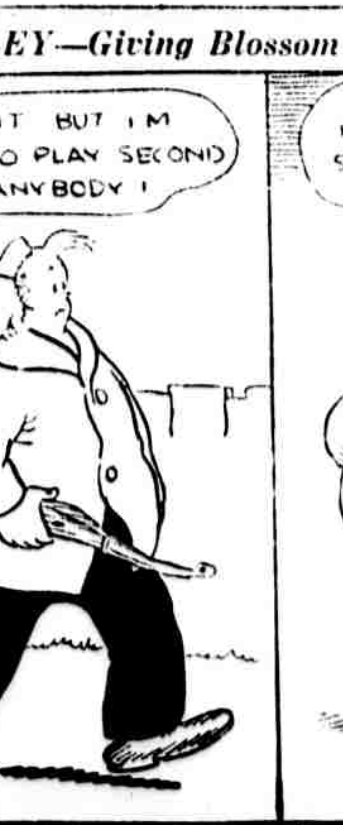

PETEY—She Gets Good Money at That

— BOSS SUM, I GOT ME A BROTHER DOWN IN MEMPHIS WHICH WORKS IN DE Y. M. C. A. BUILDING AND I WANNER WRITE HIM A LETTER BUT I'VE FORGOT WHAT LUMBER AND STREET IT'S ON—

— THAT'S ALL RIGHT JUST ADDRESS IT TO YOUR SUMMER CARE OF THE Y. M. C. A. MEMPHIS— THAT'LL REACH HIM

— SHE'S A BIRD THAT COOK— YESTERDAY SHE WANTED TO KNOW IF THE BROTHERS BIRD WAS BUILT BEFORE OR AFTER THE FATHER WAS THERE

— BOSS SUM, EXCUSE ME BUT— HOW DO YOU SPELL, Y. M. C. A. ?

GASOLINE ALLEY—Giving Blossom the Cold Shoulder

IT'S ALL RIGHT BUT I'M NOT GOING TO PLAY SECOND FIDDLE TO ANYBODY!

SHE'S WELCOME TO HERMAN, BUT SHE CAN'T STRING US BOTH ALONG— THAT'S ALL

I'M NOT SORE OR ANYTHING I'M JUST NOT INTERESTED

THERE SHE IS NOW, I'LL TREAT HER A BIT COOLLY

DIDN'T WE HAVE A FINE TIME AT YOUR PARTY THE OTHER NIGHT? THOUGH! HERMAN THOUGHT YOU WERE A PEACH! THAT WAS A GRAND NIGHT

By King