WHO'S WHO IN THE STORY
CHERRY MOHUN, up-to-date girl, rich and charming, at once irritated and attracted by...

He turned off the switch, holding her hands. "Now answer me!" "Cave-man stuff," she muttered

IF THE girl of today is properly considered in relation to her antecedents by the intelligent recorder of social history...

Over more than others spoke with the voice of authority. "Magnificent!" Her companion had said...

"Come on, Bruce," she cried. "I've got to go." "I'll go with you," he said. "I'll be glad to hear you say that."

It is doubtful whether Cherry Mohun for indeed any other girl of her class ever gave a thought to the subject of the "cave-man" in her life...

She was a girl of the "cave-man" type, a girl of the "cave-man" type, a girl of the "cave-man" type...

"I've got to go," she said. "I'll go with you," he said. "I'll be glad to hear you say that."

THE MOVIE FAN'S LETTERBOX

By HENRY M. NEELY

Miss Wingate—Eric Von Stroheim did not have any part in "The Four Horsemen." What part could he have taken? You see, the beast was mechanical; they didn't need an actor for it.

ONE STAR WISHES ANOTHER "BON VOYAGE"

When Lillian Gish sailed recently for Italy, where she is to film F. Marion Crawford's "The White Sister," Mary Pickford, who is visiting in New York, went down to see her off. Sister Dorothy was also on hand at the steamer dock.

for two years she won't see any pictures of Rudy when he gets down to brass tacks and acts. As you say, Hen, he is just about getting to the point where Arliss started—and I wonder if a flapper can understand that.

"I shall become an ardent admirer of Rudy when he gets down to brass tacks and acts. As you say, Hen, he is just about getting to the point where Arliss started—and I wonder if a flapper can understand that."

Joseph Dagerston writes: "There is not a person in the motion picture or theatrical game living who can take Valentino's place in the hearts of the fans. They paid Valentino $12500 per week. It seems to be an enormous sum to an outsider, but to any one associated with the profession it is simply laughable. There is no limit to Valentino's worth just now."

"I have my own pet ten best this year and Rudy's name is not among them! Once again I am showing my ignorance, eh? But my list so far includes Norma Talmadge, Richard Dix, Holmes, George R. Liss, Doug Fairbanks, Lon Chaney and others. But then, what do I know about acting?"
