

MARY GETS FIRST GLIMPSE OF SNOW this season. Mary Pickford is shown above upon her arrival in Chicago on a business trip, concerning her latest picture

PRESIDENT HARDING'S THANKSGIVING TURKEY is shown above about to start its non-stop dash from Chicago to the White House in time to grace the presidential dinner table

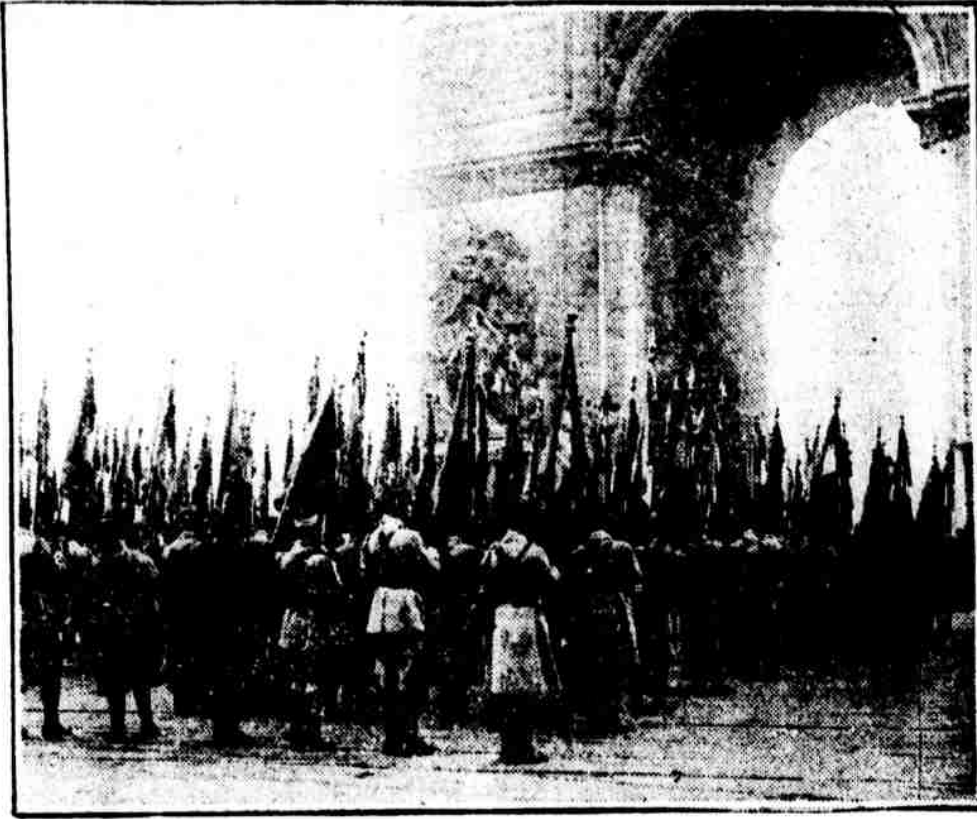

AT THE MARY TOURNOI AND BALL, given under the auspices of the Drill Association of the Mary Commandery of the Knights Templar of Pennsylvania. Miss Jeanette Mathers, Miss Margaret Robinson, Emilent Commander Sir Albert W. Jarman and Miss Mary Brede, pictured above, were among those present

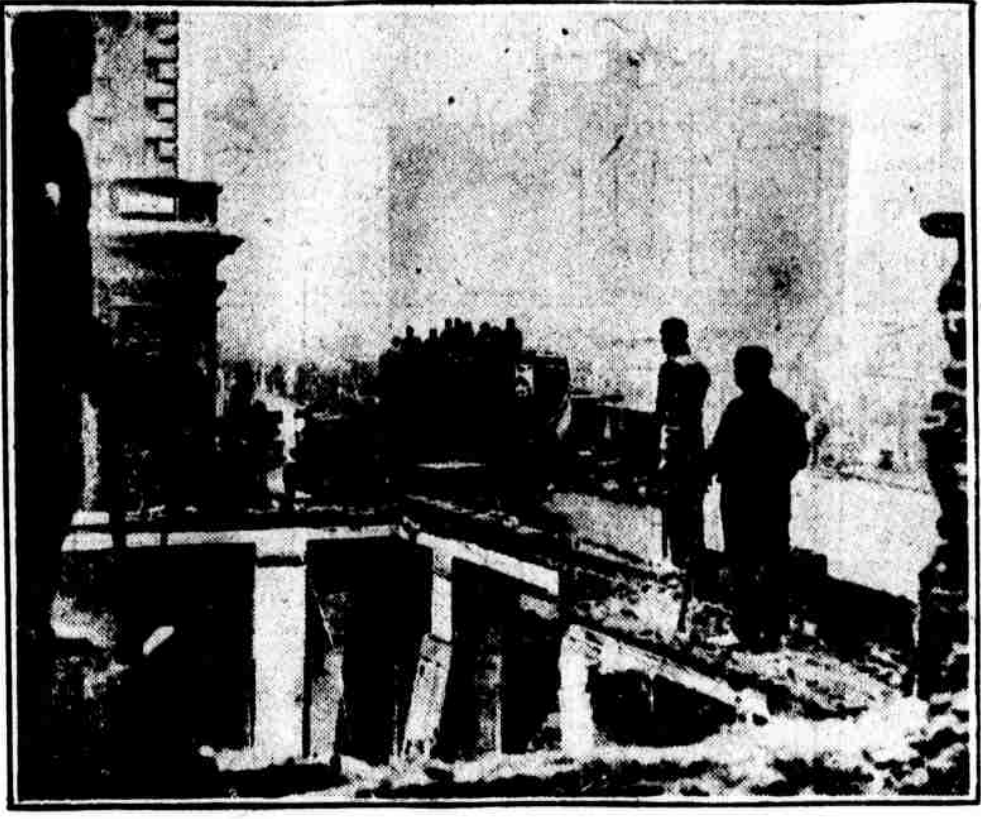

AT THE YACHT SHOW. General view of Agricultural Hall, London, during final preparations for Marine and Smallercrafts Exhibition, to be formally opened by the Duke of York

MORE THAN FIFTY NATIONS WERE REPRESENTED at League of Nations exhibition at St. Albans, England. The Marchioness of Salisbury is shown above at the Esthonian stall

IMPRESSIVE SIGHT during Armistice Day celebrations in France. Flags, representing the regiments that fought in the Great War, are pictured above, passing through the Arch de Triomphe, during exercises commemorating signing of the armistice four years ago

THE GREAT SILENCE. All London halted in its rush of life on Armistice Day at 11 o'clock observing two minutes of silence. House wreckers near Piccadilly Circus are pictured above, bareheaded, paying tribute to those who died

FIRE DESTROYS HAITIAN "NAVAL VESSEL." A view of the auxiliary vessel, Independence, of the Haitian navy, on fire at U. S. Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba

GEORGE M. COHAN, noted playwright and actor, sails for Europe

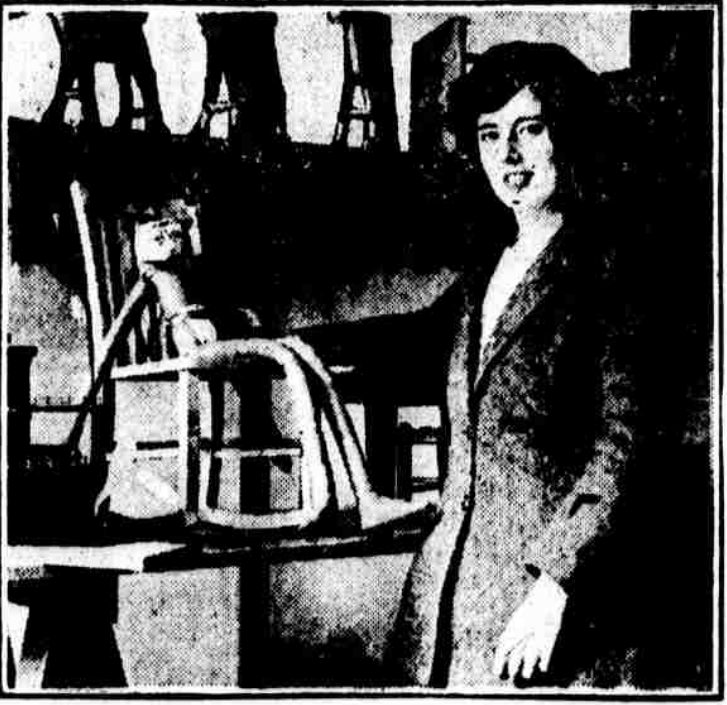

PROF. JOSEPH H. WILLIS, U. of P., to aid Fact-Finding Commission

HSUAN TUNG, China's deposed boy emperor, to wed girl he never saw

ALL THE ANIMALS WERE THERE IF NOAH WASN'T, when Noah's Ark Shop opened its doors today at the Emergency Aid. The shop is a clearing house for toys and other useful articles made by patients of hospitals and institutions in the city. Miss Rebecca Thomson is pictured on the left unpacking some toys. Miss Margaret Berwind is shown in the center holding two wooden steeds. On the right Miss Susan B. Stewart is arranging a doll. All are members of volunteer committee

MR. AND MRS. HARRINGTON MANN, recent arrivals from Europe. Mr. Mann is a noted London artist

DR. GLEN LEVIN SWIGERT, of U. S. Bureau of Education

THIS YOUNGSTER IS PUTTING IN HIS ORDER for Christmas early. Old Santa may be seen now on the various central city street corners, surrounded by admiring kiddies

AT HIS DESK. Councilman Raymond J. Gans photographed in his office at City Hall yesterday

CAN YOU RECALL THIS BIT OF OLD PHILADELPHIA?

THIS ANCIENT HOSTELRY WOULD HAVE HELPED to handle the Army-Navy crowd. A picture of the old Lafayette Hotel as it appeared at Broad and Sansom streets in 1895. The site is now occupied by the Land Title Building. Send us your old Philadelphia photographs

LOVELIEST STOWAWAY. We've had youngest, oldest, homeliest, etc. Here's the loveliest, Miss Jeanne Bonar, of Russia

INDIAN PRINCESS TO SING LEADING ROLE in Indian opera, "Nitnia." Princess Atalie Unkalant, Cherokee soprano, is shown above posing for her portrait in Remington Schuyler's studio

JUNIOR WEEK AT U. OF P. opened yesterday when the third year men assembled in the Quadrangle for the dedication of the Junior Balcony. They are pictured above after the dedicatory exercises marching in a body, canes and all, to have the class picture "took."

JUDGE'S DAUGHTER A HORSE TRAINER. Mrs. Dorothy Pollack, daughter of the Hon. Justice Piggott, of Allahabad, India, starts training school for gentlemen's daughters, guaranteeing in addition to train horses for ladies. Mrs. Pollack, an ardent horsewoman since childhood, is pictured above with some of her mounts.