

WOMEN DEMAND CITY TICKET PLACE

Mrs. Harmon Jolts Organization by Insistence on Recognition of New Voters

WANTS COUNCIL JOB

Combine leaders in City Council and in the Republican City Committee are holding a council of war today to devise ways and means of meeting the latest ultimatum from Mrs. A. T. Harmon, vice chairman of the City Committee.

Mrs. Harmon, who started members of Council by suddenly and unexpectedly appearing on the floor of that body at yesterday's session, today set word to the leaders that they must slate a woman either for a seat in Council or for a place on the Board of County Commissioners in the majority election of next year.

"A woman should and must be in the ticket next year," said Mrs. Harmon, "and it should not be a mere honorary office or for an office for which there is no salary. Women are just as much entitled to office and to full pay for proper public service as are men. So far as I am concerned, I intend to see that the rights of women for which we suffragists battled for so many years are not overlooked."

Limousine Offer Refused Only a few days ago Mrs. Harmon shocked the leaders when she denounced the men in control of the City Committee for ignoring women in their plans for the parade at the inauguration of Governor-elect Pinchot, in Harrisburg, on January 14.

Not only that, but she went right ahead and arranged for a special train to take the women to the State capital. No other ladies or leaders received their opportunity than the delegates to Councilman Hall to telephone Mrs. Harmon and offer six limousines for use of the women in the parade.

But Mrs. Harmon replied that women who marched for suffrage could easily walk in honor of Mr. Pinchot's induction into the office of Governor.

Councilmen seemed to sense the fact that Mrs. Harmon had something "up her sleeve" when she appeared for the first time on the floor of Council and intently followed the proceedings. Councilman Hall and Gaffney had just finished eulogizing the make-up of the parade and were thinking in terms of an all-male Council to cooperate with an Organization Mayor to succeed Mayor Moore.

In fact, some thought, when Mr. Hall moved that Mr. Gaffney's statement on the subject of the parade be printed in the impish record of the Council, that the majority leader was thinking in the back of his mind of Mr. Gaffney becoming a candidate for Mayor.

While this pleasant dream of a male parade held the leaders in its thrall, Mrs. Harmon uttered the stunner.

"All bets are off," she said, summarized one of the "wags" members. And they were, for Mrs. Harmon was bringing the ultimatum that a woman be slated for a ticket on the Organization ticket next year.

Wesleyan Party Way After Mr. Gaffney and Councilman McLean and Walter and others had shaken hands with the woman leader, Richard Wesleyan, president of Council, it was clear that the spotlight was out in power and aimed Mrs. Harmon if she were going to "carry her train" in the ring next year.

When Mr. Wesleyan asked that question he supplied the opportunity Mrs. Harmon was waiting for and she began to formulate her plans more definitely.

"I can't see anything in it," continued Mrs. Harmon. "I feel that the organization leaders have got to get down to brass tacks and seriously consider the women as voters and taxpayers, not merely as an attractive ornament, no matter how attractive the view may be. It just happens that I am in a position, by reason of my official connection with the City Committee, to say these things today, perhaps more appropriately than other women, but this I do know, that what I am saying now is what most thinking women yearn for."

"This thing of putting off women from year to year has got to stop. First thing we know, we'll be way out side. I know they talk of the three women members from Philadelphia in the State Legislature. But, honestly, does that mean very much, all things considered, to the women of Philadelphia? Not a thing, really. Besides, Philadelphia women want representation right here in our Philadelphia government."

"If women are good enough for the State government, surely they are good enough for the city government. It seems that it is like running up against a brick wall to get recognition from the Philadelphia leaders. Why don't they wake up and discover that they have the women to think about as well as the men?"

Patting Means Nothing "And don't let them think the women don't vote. Just wait until the coming majority election and see if the women do not take the heaviest and most effective kind of interest."

"This thing of putting the women on the hand and telling them to be good and everything will be all right is all too true."

Mrs. Harmon would like to be a Councilwoman. But she will not be a candidate while Mr. Hall and Mr. McLean, the present members from her district, are candidates for reelection.

If Mr. Hall should be a candidate for Sheriff or for some other office, she said, then her train will hustle right into the ring. Or if George F. Holmes is not a candidate for reelection as County Commissioner, then said Mrs. Harmon, she or some other woman will be a candidate for that office.
