

The American Wife Who Works Keeps Romance From Growing Gray

By MAY CHRISTIE
CONTRARY to old-fashioned ideas, I take my hat off to the married woman who, having a husband with a small income, helps shoulder the financial burden, and an outside job.

By MAY CHRISTIE
I have observed since my arrival in this country that many married women avoid both those painful issues by literally putting their shoulder to the wheel, and working after marriage.

"This Is What One Woman Thinks" Read What This Woman Says About the Married Woman's Working—She Has Tried It

To the Editor of Women's Page:
Should the married woman work? This held my attention not only because it was a question that I have been in my mind a long time, but also because it is a question that I have been in my mind a long time.

My husband's income was not sufficient to support our family. I had to go to work. I had to go to work. I had to go to work.

Adventures With a Purse
LET'S check off on our fingers how many of us had our hair bobbed, and then let's check off how many of us are wearing a hat.

Just before the holidays the impulse of hospitality is so strong that many of us are invited to give a party.

Please Tell Me What to Do By CYNTHIA

Letters to Cynthia's column must be written on one side of the paper only, and must be signed with the writer's name and address.

Says "Gould" Is All Wrong
Dear Cynthia—I am a girl nineteen years of age and I am considered popular by both sexes.

He Paid Her Fare
Dear Cynthia—There has been something on my mind for a few days about a mistake on my part.

Says He Broke With Her
Dear Cynthia—I am a young girl, eighteen years old. I am engaged to a young man whom I love very much.

About a Present
Dear Cynthia—Will you please print this in your paper? Thank you.

THE HOME IN GOOD TASTE By Harold Donaldson Eberlein
The hall in the made-over house is more difficult to treat, as it is generally long and narrow.

Self Revelation
ON THE way home Alene felt hot and cold by turns.

False Alarms
Just because a woman wears a bird of paradise is no reason to suppose that she is an angel.

WHAT A BIT OF DECORATION DOES

The Reckless Age By HAZEL DEYO BATCHELOR

Alene Foster is a spoiled member of the younger set who thinks men are made for her amusement.

now, it was the most natural thing in the world that she should be glad that Alene no longer had the chance to lord it over her.
