

SIMPLE BUT IMPRESSIVE SERVICES MARKED THE FUNERAL OF JOHN WANAMAKER at Bethany Church, of which he was founder. Above is a view of the chancel showing the casket containing remains of the great merchant, philanthropist and man of national affairs, lying in state, surrounded by garden of flowers.

AMONG THE MANY DISTINGUISHED PERSONS seen at the funeral of John Wanamaker yesterday were Justice von Moschzisker, shown on the left, and Mayor Moore, who was accompanied by Richard Weglein, president of the City Council

A SILENT LINE OF MEN AND WOMEN FROM ALL WALKS OF LIFE stood in the rain outside of Bethany Presbyterian Church, yesterday, waiting to pay last tribute to Mr. Wanamaker, while inside the congregation, crowded to the walls and doors

AMONG THOSE PAYING FINAL TRIBUTE to the memory of John Wanamaker were Commissioner Grover Whelan, Mayor Hylan, Preston B. Lynn, general manager of the New York store, and Captain John Wanamaker. All came over from New York to attend the services.

TWO TREES FROM THE GEORGE WASHINGTON ANCESTRAL HOME at Sulgrave, England, were planted at Mount Vernon by the committee of the Sulgrave Institution of New York on Tuesday morning. One was planted in memory of George Washington, the other in memory of Martha Washington.

CHRISTMAS LIQUOR ARRIVES IN CAPITAL. But it is perfectly legal, as all these cases of wines and liquors are for use of one of the foreign embassies in Washington.

WHILE THE SNOW LASTED the above young lady did not neglect the opportunity to do a bit of coasting.

MANY ARE ENJOYING THE DELIGHTS OF WINTER SPORTS in Switzerland, the Mecca of all outdoor lovers at this time of year. Above are pictured fair devotees of Jack Frost having a glorious time on the toboggans at Wengen.

CHRISTMAS IN JAPAN. These happy Japanese kiddies are eagerly awaiting the appearance of Santa Claus at a Sunday school gathering in old Nippon, with about the same eagerness as our American youngsters.

MISS NINA PAYNE, American dancer, scoring great success in Paris wearing her original onion costume.

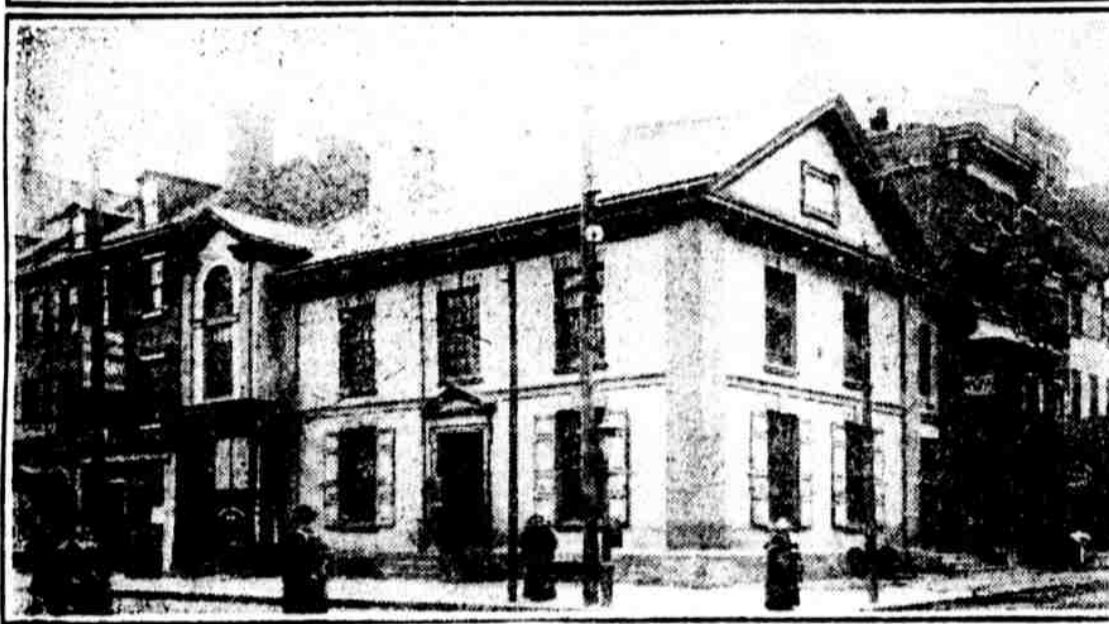

W. C. BRIDGE-MANN, British Home Secretary, received poison candy through mail

SAMUEL GOMPERS, Labor's head, has a bad pituitary boss shoes in Florida.

CAN YOU RECALL THIS BIT OF OLD PHILADELPHIA?

MANY AN ANCIENT VOLUME OF FORGOTTEN LORE slaked thirst for knowledge of frequenter of the old Apprentices' Library, at Fifth and Arch, pictured above as it appeared in 1891. Formerly used as an old French meeting house. Contributed by the Newell Studios. Send us your old-Philadelphia photographs

DWIGHT F. DAVIS, nominated President of U. S. Lawn Tennis Association

MR. AND MRS. HOWARD K. TRAVERS arrive in U. S. on honeymoon. Mr. Travers is American Vice Consul of Naples, Italy

THEODORE T. BILBO, former Mississippi Governor, evades subpoenas in Russell suit

THEODORE T. BILBO, former Mississippi Governor, evades subpoenas in Russell suit

MR. AND MRS. E. E. VOSS, of Philadelphia, were among the arrivals from abroad on the S. S. President Polk reaching New York Wednesday

A PIECE OF STRING BROKE. The camera caught one of the incidents of Christmas shopping

FREDERICK N. ZIHLMAN, Maryland Congressman chairman of House Labor Committee

SIR AUCKLAND GEDDES, British Ambassador, attended Surgical Pavilion dedication at U. of P. yesterday. Shown above at left of University officials

MRS. FRANK O. LOWDEN, wife of former Illinois Governor, visiting in capital

"FLIRTATION DOLL" LATEST PARISIAN FAD. Press a little button and the eyes wink and ogle outrageously

MISS HELEN BROGAN, one of the fair packers of the Rotary Club Christmas packages

PHRA SANPA-KITCHI, appointed Siamese Minister to Rome

EPISCOPAL ACADEMY DRAMATICS. William H. S. Wells and J. R. Toop to appear in "Ready Money" Thursday evening at Bellevue-Stratford

NEWCOMBE CARLTON, President of Western Union, returns from abroad