Happy Faces Everywhere Hunting Things to Make Others Glad--and Wanamaker's the Heart of It All

From the Writings of The Founder

Some Day Not So Far Distant My Little Pencil

will have written its last piece and be laid aside.

With simple, heartfelt gratitude to the many who have written me encouraging letters, and others who have personally sought me with thankful words, I write these heartfelt lines to say that what at first seemed a task became a pleasure, because I felt in my own soul almost everything wrote, and desired, as I put it down in words, to be helpful to those fellow-pilgrims on the way with me.

Much that I have said came out of my experience and observation; and much that I quoted was said by people that I had personally known in this country and across the sea. I refer to Henry Drummond, Professor Blackie, Charles H. Spurgeon, Newman Hall, Lord Shaftesbury, Martin Tupper, President Grant, President Garfield, President Harrison. President McKinley, James G. Blaine, President Taft, George H. Stuart, A. T. Stewart, Horace Greeley, D. L. Moody. Rishop Simpson, Albert Barnes, John Chambers, Judge George B. Orlady, Theodore Roosevelt, Anthony J. Drexel, Jay Cooke, John H. Converse, Henry Ward Beecher, John B. Gough, Sir George Williams, J. Russell Miller, George F. Pentecost, Horace B. Claffin, Marshall Field, John V. Farwell

I have read and searched and listened to wise men and made the best use I could in the little scraps I have written of everything that I thought might be useful to others, struggling like myself to make the best of life.

The only wish I have is that I could have done all my

Wanamaker Furniture'

Such is the feeling of people whose gifts have about them a quality of genuineness and lasting worth. The number of people of that kind is large, and growing larger.
All seem to be delighted with Wanamaker Christmas furniture displays, which are to be unequaled in that can make a collection of the kind interesting and satisfying to everybody looking for better things.

Everything in the Wansmaker furniture stock is a worthy home gift, but the se-lections on the fifth floor, especially those in the Chestnut street section, are of such a superb character that nobody looking for a gift of distinction can fail to see them without being at a disadvantage. A Glorious Choice of Small Oriental Rugs

Woven into the warp and woof of every Oriental rug there is something that imparts to it a gift quality of a unique kind, something sentimental, something almost romantic.
