

FRESH TRIBUTE PAID JOHN WANAMAKER BY C. A. WOLVERTON

World-Wide Sunday School News Calls Its Leader a "Prince of God"

WAS HEAD OF ORGANIZATION

John Wanamaker is spoken of as a "Prince of God" in the World-Wide Sunday School News, official organ of the World's Sunday School Association, which was received by church leaders yesterday. Mr. Wanamaker was president of the World's Sunday School Association. Five members of the association's Executive Committee died during the year 1922.

The News tells how Mr. Wanamaker was elected chairman of the Executive Committee in November, 1910, succeeding H. J. Heinz. He was elected president of the World's Association at the eighth world's convention in Tokio, Japan, October 14, 1920. Speaking of him as a "world-wide Sunday school builder," the News says:

"To attempt a eulogy of such a man as John Wanamaker would be like placing a single flower at the base of a great pyramid. His builded as few men build, for he was indeed a wise master builder. His life is his lasting memorial. For more than a generation the narrative of his early struggle and his triumph over difficulties has been held before countless young Americans as an object lesson and an incentive to the practice of the virtues he appraised most highly—application, concentration, enterprise, originality, ambition, honesty, self-confidence and dependability."

John Wanamaker laid the foundation for his memorial deeper and on more lasting rock than were built the massive piles which are the markers of his commercial genius. He was a believer in religion of the practical sort and in its everyday application. He was generous of his time and his resources in building organizations that promoted programs of character-building. Indeed, it might be said of him, as his business as a merchant was incidental, for so devoted was he to his church and Sunday school interests that to those who knew him well it seemed to be of first importance.

"Mr. Wanamaker was indeed a merchant prince, but he was more than that. He was a Prince of God, and, while his leadership of the World's Sunday School forces as president was of short duration, it was long enough to impart the spirit and vision of attempting big things for the Kingdom's sake."

'DRY' JOB DECLINED BY C. A. WOLVERTON

'Whoever is Director,' Says Prosecutor, 'Faces Man-Sized Task'

WAS INDORSED BY SENATORS

Charles A. Wolverton, prosecutor of Camden County, will not be the new State Prohibition Director of New Jersey.

Prosecutor Wolverton virtually admitted yesterday he had declined an offer of the position. Mr. Wolverton visited Federal Director Haynes in Washington recently and the proposition was discussed.

Mr. Wolverton would not state definitely that he was offered the position, but it is understood that he was tendered the job, but declined it. Mr. Wolverton had the unanimous indorsement of Senators Frelinghuysen and Edge and Representative F. F. Patterson, Jr. On the other hand, close friends urged him not to take the position.

"The man who takes the job faces a monumental task," said Mr. Wolverton.

ton. "Enforcing prohibition, in New Jersey is a man's job."

The Boards of Public Works and Police and Fire Commissioners, recently appointed, met their first setbacks at their respective meetings last night. The hitch in the Board of Public Works occurred when the Highway Department presented bills for $43,007. The bills were indorsed by the Republican members, but William Schmid and Calvin Sherwood, the Democrat members, refused to sign, asserting they knew nothing about the bills. The question was left unsettled.

The nomination by George Bender, Republican member of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners, of Walter Kelly to fill a vacancy in the police department was opposed by the Democratic members because Mayor-elect King had not been consulted. It was agreed to settle the matter next week.

NAPOLEON'S AUTOBIOGRAPHY

The sad story of the great conqueror's life, as dictated by himself at St. Helena, has come to life, and interesting excerpts are given in an article appearing in the Magazine Section of the Sunday Times. "Make it a Habit."—Adv.
