Mr. Adam Hess, who was engag clouds in the horizon, and an atmosphere as | ed in loading was very badly injured. A full of mist as a lager soaked mein heer is full of fight. Bellefonte with its two thousand inhabitants, its fine churches, popular academy and efficient public schools, is not the least painfully burned. lowed to decide, I would reonounce it one, if The Boalsburg-Band. rot the most beautiful villege in Pennsylvania. God has done more than man for the beauty of the locality. Man could do no raised the money and got up a very fine set more than he has done, were he as much weddad to beauty as he seems to be, to wealth, of of new instruments, and employed Mr. Ro those aggrandising proportions which neith- botham, of Philadelphia, as their instructor er delight the eye or the soul. The locality We have not yet had the pleasure of hearing the village is among a collection of hills that give it a very picture que apperance, and as the village extends its limits, and the heights are occupied with more of those beau composed of the right kind of material, and heights are occupied with have been will doubtless become, in time, one of the crected on their brows within the last few first Bands in the State. Success attend years, the effect in appearance will add considerably to the attraction of Bellefonte. The country is rugged, and requires considerable labor to adorn artistically—but that labor soon repays the man who bestows it, not only by the comforts he gathers around him- chins of ten or twelve years of age, displayself, but by the abundance with which the ing their Heenan abilities to some extent on earth vields to the industry of man, As an agricultural region, no portion of Pennsylvania, is more prolific than that which composes the vallies of Centre county and the ger. Some gentlemen who were near by, afsurroundings of Bellefonte. Added to these ter considerable pulling, succeeded in sepaattractions, it cannot be far distant when Bellefonte must become one of the greatest manufacturing and business towns in the Union. There is certainly every attraction here to make investment profitable. The natural resources of the county, its mineral wealth, water power, healthy climate, will some day be taken advantage of, if not by those who now enjoy themselves in the em-brace of such cozy ease within its precints, by around these hills, to excite the envy and jealousy of those who disregarded the invitatice of that wealth to become its possessor Nor is Bellefonte the only village in this loregard to this lack of home enterprise. This whole region of country seems to contribute its wealth and production to enrich other lo-calities and bless and benefit other people. Why this is so, others must answer. It cer-tainly does not become me to make the explanation, however much I may regret the circumstances. If the man of capital is estisfied he is doing justice to those who assisted him in pilling up his fortune, by making his investments abroad instead of at home, the laboring man and mechanic must paeir time, until dame Fortune changes her favors as well as her favorits.

An apperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by explusion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and perscribed in their practice.

The experience of thomands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexion indicate its necessity in almost every conseivable case.

Innoxious in all meladies in which it has been Innoxious in all meladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely carative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In Debility, Nervous Affections, Emokration, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Diarrhoa, Dysente, y Individual Consumption, Serofulous Tuberculosis, Salt Likeum, Mismenstruation, Whites, Chlorovis, Liver Complaints, Chronic Headaches, Rheumatim, Internitent Fexers, Pimples on the Face, &c.

In cases of General Debility, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminu-

In cases of General Desirity, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which a description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborh ode, have suddenly re-appeared in the busy world as if just returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female Sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent a arrange, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercibe for which the physician has no name.

In Neavous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be substant, for, utlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overheating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter reportly, among others which exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspersia, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalyboate P. Ils has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendent Costinences.

In unchecked Diarrheea, even when advanced to Dysextery, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignary, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strongth, debilitating cough, and remittent heetis, which generally indicate Incidence Transfer Consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In Scrofflour Turrrelloss, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In intermittent fevens it must certainly be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid as quisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use. s use.
