THURSDAY, DEC., 6 1860.

Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving came, a bright shining day; one that was well calculated to call forth songs of praise and thanksgiving to the Great Giver of all our blessings. We are happy to say, that the day was pretty generally observed by our citizens. The places of business, with few exceptions, were closed, and our people seemed to say, by their actions, "we are thankful." And thus it should be, for we, as a nation, have much for which to thank God. We should be thankful that thus far, through the threatened storm of Secession, Disunion, civil war and bloodshed, our country has yet been spared, and may still be called the United States; that we are still in the enjoyment of Liberty, civil and religious. In it all, we cannot but see the same hand which guided our forefathers in their Revolutionary struggles—the same hand which has so long preserved our confederacy. We should be thankful for National Health. No dread pestilence has swept over our land, carrying off thousands of our fellow beings. We should be thankful for a plenteous harvest. And Oh! what a harvest we have had. The inhabitants of the world might feed upon our well-filled granaries to-day. While Europe watched with anxious eye the growth of her slowly ripening fields, and drought and weevil threatened her nacent shocks, our season has been, under the blessing of God, a complete success, ending in the gathering of an abundance of the necessaries of life.

The comparative peace which we have enjoyed within our borders is another cause for thankfulness. While other powers have been shaken and overthrown by the ravages of war, we have been enjoying peace, happiness, and prosperity. Indeed, for everything we enjoy, we ought to be thankful to God, and we are glad that our people so universally acknowledge the great source of their blessings by observing annually a day of thanksgiving and praise.

Religious services were held in the different Churches of our town. In the morning, Rev. James Linn, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, had Divine service, and a collection was taken up for the relief of the Syrian Christians. In the afternoon, Rev. George Fields preached in the Episcopal Church, and a collection was lifted for the benefit of the sufferers in Kansas. In the evening, Rev. Thos. Sherlock, of the M. E. Church, preached a thanksgiving sermon, which we think the best sermon of the kind to which we ever listened. The day passed of as quietly as the Sabbath.

Court Proceedings.

The first week of the November term of Court, was entirely occupied with the trial of civil cases. Below will be found the proceedings of the second week:

THE NEW JAIL.

The Grand Jury of the August term of Court decided favorably to the building of a new Jail, The Law, on this point, rendering it necessary that two successive Juries shol'd decide favorably to such improvements, the Grand Jury of the November term took up the Jail question, and, after visiting the "old fabric" and discussing the question at length, they decided against erecting a new building by a vote of eight for, and twelve against,

The principal objection urged against the bill was, the heavy debt which already rests upon the County, incurred by the building of the new Court House.

It is done on steel, in fine line and stipple, and is printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most choice ornament, suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor or office. Its subject is the celebrated scene of Sir John Falstaff receiving, in Justice Shallow's office, the recruits which have been gathered for his "ragged regiment."—It could not be furnished by the trade for less than five dollars.

The Art Journal is too well known to the whole country to need commendation. It is a magnificently illustrated magazine of Art, containing Essays, Stories, Poems, Gossip, &c., by the very best writers in America.
