THURSDAY, JULY 11th, 1861 LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Fourth.

Bright and lovely was the morning of the 4th of July 1861. At the morning of the 4th of July 1861. At the dawn of day the echoes of our mountains were awakened by the booming of cannon.—

Make the day of the women, all the men having escaped. An investigation was ordered en Saturday morning, but no After the first report of the cannon the bells light was thrown upon the subject. After the first report of the cannon the bells

Alexander, President, and several Vice Presidents, whose names we do not remember. A prayer was offered by Rev. Wm. Schriber, the Declaration read by Mr. C. G. Ryman, and an address delivered by Rev. Switzer .-The hour having arrived for dinner the companies formed and marched to table which was covered with every good thing which the Ladies of Milesburg could get up. Immedi ately after dinner, the Invincibles left for heme. The celebratian was continued during the afternoon.

The citizens and especially the ladies of Milesburg may rest assured that they will ever be remembered by the Invincibles for the hospitable manner in which they entertained them on this occasion.

MELTING IN THE COURT HOUSE.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon a meeting was held in the Court House. Maj. James Armor presided. A prayer was offered by Rev. James Linn, and the Declaration was Furst, Esq., was called upon and delivered burg. a most elequent and patriotic address. A portion of his remarks was addressed to the American Flag, and was of such a character from the audience rounds of applause, He turned to the President, a gray-haired veteran and addresssed him as "cor standard that in a short time he should behold that Flag, floating in triumph from the lakes to the gulf and from ocean to ocean. We would, most gladly, have laid this address before our readers, had we been able to re-

THE INVINCIBLES' SUPPER.

The Invincibles then marched to the resilence at Mr. James Ward, whose estimable lady in connection with Mrs. Philo Ward, and Mre. N. Hillibish, had prepared a little the nicest supper ever we helped to eat-The long table was spread in the lovely yard attached to the former gentleman's residence, and covered with every variety of niceties. -The Invincibles are decidedly a brave and determined set of fellows on an occasion of this kind, and their charge upon the table was admirably executed. Charge after charge was made with the determination to earry every thing before us; but the ladies STREL, both of Unionville. were prepared for us and were constantly throwing in reinforcements until the battle ended in the retreat of the Invincibles, who were satisfied that further efforts would be disasterous to themselves. The charge was led on by Capt. Cassidy, in person, who WM. RIDDLE, aged 64 years. struck the first blow and like Gen.
