The Census Bill passed the Senate on Thursday last. It provides for the appointment by the President, by and with the advice and counsel of the Senate, of a Superintendent, and also the necessary clerks and copyists in his office. The census to be taken on or before the 1st of June, 1880. The fol-before the 1st of June, 1880. The following is a synopsis of the bill.

"The Secretary of the Interior is directed to appoint, on or before the first of April, 1880, one or more Supervisors of Census within each State and Territory, such persons to be residents of such State or Territory. The total number of Supervisors is not to exceed 150. The Supervisors are to apportion ten districts, designate to the superintendant suitable persons to employ as enumerators, such persons to be selected solely with reference to their fitness, and without reference to their political party affiliations. Each Supervisor is to receive $500 upon the completion of his duties. Enumerators are to receive two cents for each living inhabitant reported, two cents for each farm and fifteen cents for each establishment of productive industry enumerated and returned. The sub-district designated to each enumerator shall not exceed 4,000 inhabitants, according to the census of 1870, nor contain less than three thousand, which from the last preceding census shows the inhabitants thereof. The bill further provides for the punishment of enumerators and others for giving information to outside parties, neglect of duty, etc. It is made a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $100, to refuse to answer the questions of enumerators, and officers of corporations who refuse to answer them shall pay a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $1,000 and be imprisoned not exceeding one year. All census matter is to pass through the Post Office free. The lowing is a synopsis of the bill. $1,000 and be imprisoned not exceeding one year. All census matter is to pass through the Post Office free. The schedule of inquiries is the same as now provided by section 2,200 of the revised statutes, with various exceptions and additions. It further provides for the employment of experts and special agents to investigate, in their conomic relations, the manufacturing, railroad, fishing, mining and other industries fishing, mining and other industries of the country and the statistics of telegraph, express, transportation and insurance companies. The enumeration is to commence on the 1st day of June, 1880, and be completed before the 1st 1880, and be completed before the 1st day of July following. In cities having over 10,000 inhabitants the enumeration of population shall be taken within two weeks from the first of June. It limits the cost of the census at $3,000,000, exclusive of $250,000 for printing and other preliminary expenses. Any State taking a census of its population according to this bill in 1885-95, etc., shall have half of the expense thereof paid by the United States upon depositing a full and authentic copy with the Secretary of the Interior."

A View of Havana.

THE LOVELY PANORAMA THAT UNFOLDS AS THE TOURIST ENTERS THE HARBOR.

ice of the New York Times.] The startling panorama of the city of Havanna breaks upon the view like a theatrical transformation scene; but happy would be the manager who could put such a scene upon his stage. The city has been hidden by the castle. Rounding the castle, the queer old Spanish town is before you. The harbor is full of ships, the streets are full of life, and the sun is giving them his first reminder of what he intends to do at noon. This is fine soil for forts hereabouts. They flourish without water-Rounding the castle, the queer old Spanish town is before you. The harbor is full of ships, the streets are full of life, and the sun is giving them his first reminder of what he intends to do at noon. This is fine soil for forts hereabouts. They flourish without watering. Take a stone in your hand, blindfold yourself, turn around three times, throw the stone, and, five to one, you hit a fort. And if the same stone doesn't knock down two or three officers and a priest, Allah has been good to you. Just back of the Morro is another fort that looks very much like the high stone wall around a country jail, dotted at intervals with stone crosses and here and there a rusty bell. The use of this second fort is evident. Should the soldiers ever have to desert the Morro they would have something to run into, and, wearing very few clothes, they ought to be good runners. The castle and this second fort occupy nearly the whole of the hill opposite the city across the harbor. There is one little cottage, southward, that looked to me, coming out from among the icebergs, like a vision of heaven. looked to me, coming out from among the icebergs, like a vision of heaven. It was small and low, and thatched with tiles; two immense spreading trees, greener than the darkest ocean tint, fanned its roof and almost hid it from sight. Their foliage so darkened the place that the man who sat in front of the door and smoked his cigarette looked more dusky even than he was looked more dusky even than he was. A row of palm trees, tall and green, stood guard a few yards in front of the cottage. We watched the man, and as the sun came up higher and higher he moved further back into the shade, and while we watched him a flock of sheep goats, and a shepherd, with a crook, down the hill from behind the cottage in single file, the shepherd last. They frisked down to the water's edge and went in and bathed. Look at this picture, Mr. New Yorker, as you rull on your plater; shade, and green at this picture, Mr. New Yorker, as you pull on your ulster; shade, and green leaves, and bathing flocks; date, January 2. To the lett of this cottage, still on the hill opposite the city, are more small buildings, the homes of fishermen and boatmen, built of stone, roof-old with all the titles as indestructible. men and boatmen, built of stone, roofed with clay tiles, as indestructible, almost, as the rocks they stand on. Among these little buildings, painted blue in front and red on the side facing us, is a larger one. It was once the Havana Hospital, but is now used for cheap dwellings. Before the sun is high, the front windows, which are large and frequent, are all open, the shutters have disappeared, and the air has free course through the building. The harbor is full of ships; Spanish men-of-war, English, Spanish, French and German merchantmen. On a little schooner, tied up to the wharf, float the Stars and Stripes. Did it ever occur to schooner, tied up to the wharf, float the Stars and Stripes. Did it ever occur to you, Mr. Traveler in Foreign Waters, when you saw the Stars and Stripes fly-ing, to go over to the skipper and shake hands with him, and say: "How are you, old boy?" And when you saw some toreign flag at the masthead to want to say to that skipper, "What are you ding here, you old hulk?"

The Report on Robeson.

THE EX-SECRETARY'S CONDUCT AND ACT.
MERITING SEVERE CONDEMNATION AND

WASHINGTON, February 6.—The House committee on naval affairs this morning adopted the report prepared by Mr. Whitthorne on the Robeson investigation. The report has been very much modified since originally drawn up. It will be signed by the Democratic members. The Republican members dissent and will submit a minority report. Both reports will be submitted to the House and ordered printed and recommitted. Two resolutions are appended to the majority report, the first declaring that the acts and conduct of the late Secretary Robeson and the Chief of the Bureau since 1872, as shown in this report, and all others aiding and abetting therein in the unlawful disposal of public property and money, and in the method of making contracts, merit and should receive the severest condemnation and censure. Second. That the report and testimony, with the views of the minority, be certified by the Clerk of the House to the President, the Secretary of the Navy and the Attorney General. The minority will take the ground that the disposal of old material was sanctioned by precedent, was within the spirit of the law, and that the course WASHINGTON, February 6.—The House was sanctioned by precedent, was within the spirit of the law, and that the course pursued resulted in a very large saving to the government.

Bad for Senator Ingalls.

St. Louis, February 6 .- A Topeka (Kan.) dispatch says: A resolution was introduced in the House this afternoon introduced in the House this afternoon charging that bribery and corruption had been resorted to in the late Senatorial election; that even members of the House had offered money for votes, and calling for a committee of five to fully investigate the matter. In addition, charges of corruption in office were made against the recently-elected Senator. The resolution was finally adopted by a vote of 68 to 56.

To the cipher hunters the testimony produced before the Potter committee in New York on Wednesday must be extremely discomfitting. The cipher dispatches of Mr. Smith M. Weed, a prominent citizen of New York, have been conspicuously paraded in the Tribune's budget in the attempt to connect Mr. Tilden with certain negotiations to buy off the brigands of the South Carolina returning board. Mr. Weed testifies that when Mr. Tilden heard of these negotiations he immediately and peremptorily broke them off. Said the great and worthy standard bearer of To THE CIPHER HUNTERS the testimony negotiations he immediately and peremptorily broke them off. Said the great and worthy standard bearer of the Democratic party, "Never while I live would I become President under such circumstances," For such a man who had been chosen by a majority of a quarter of a million votes and had received a majority of the electors, the Presidency as a purchase from returning board knaves who held the votes of three States in their hands could have no attraction. Mr. Tilden declared that if the Presidency is to be sold he would have nothing to do with it, "he would not ransom it from felons," and this noble and manly declaration of the great Democratic leader will outweight volumes of detraction and calumny on the part of his enemies. The

The Death-rate of—Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late, that a Fever or Lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a Doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known. Sold by F. Potts Green, wholesale and retail. THE DEATH-RATE OF-Our country is

As This is the season when colds are most likely to be taken, a word of advice to our readers would be in season: First, then, keep your feet dry; wear flannel next your skin; do not sit or stand in draughts of air, and upon the first symptom of a cold or a cough call at Green's Drug Store, in Bush House Block, and procure a bottle of his "Compound Syrup of Tar, Honey and Bloodroot," which will give you almost instant relief. It is a pleasant and effectual preparation, containing the virtues of Tar combined with some of the best expectorants and anodynes, allaying all those distressing symptoms which if not promptly arrosted will too frequently result in that fatal disease, Consumption. Price, 60 cents a bottle, or six for $2.50,
