Sometimes the Brockerhoff House on nibus will scarcely contain the large number of guests who arrive and desire to take up their residence at that hotel.

-The musicale given by Mrs. John G. Love last week on Thursday and Friday evenings was only a repetition of that lady's many triumphs in this direction.

-By careful count, it took fifteen men, two boys, one horse and wagon and one dog to successfully liberate and kill a rat of business and was ready to return before caught in the Bush House Saturday morning last.

-The corner stone of "Miller's church," the new edifice erected by the Evangelical denomination of Sugar Valley, has been postponed, and will now take place on Sunday next.

It would be sweet to marry

-Joseph Holloway and Samuel Beaver, of Aaronsburg, are each erecting new buildings, while James P. Coburn and Emanuel Cronmiller, of the same place, are making additions and improvements to their present residences.

-The large posters and indeed all the job work executed at this office surpasses in excellence anything ever before thought of in this community. We record this as the verdict of those who have recently given us orders to fill.

-The sudden rain which fell on Sunday evening was very acceptable. After the storm a beautiful rainbow was visible ; or, it would perhaps be better to say a number of rainbows, as each person, it is said, sees a different bow.

-Judge Franck, of Rebersburg, an Associate Judge noted for his dignity on the to Bellefonte. We had a pleasant chat with him a few days since.

-Rev. Fields, who is now visiting, in company with his wife, at her maiden home, the residence of Mrs. Judge Hale, this place, preached two very acceptable and extremely edifying sermons in the Episcopal church last Sunday.

-Rebersburg has received an accession to its population in the person of Mr. Michael Hetzel, of Freeburg, Snyder county, who will use his best efforts to keep the natives of that burg constantly supplied with clothes of his own manufacture.

-Michael Shaffer, Esq., with his son James L. Shaffer, two of the staunchest Democrats and most pleasant men who ever honored Zion by their residence, favored us with a call on Friday morning last. We will be pleased to have them come again.

-The "Grinders," as the millers of gler, in this place. Pennsylvania are sometimes called, met in convention in the Logan House parlor, Altoona, on Tuesday week. Mr. Wm. P. Duncan, of the well-known firm of Duncan, Hale & Co., was elected president pro tem., presiding with great dignity.

-Friday last brought our friend Henry G. Cronister, Esq., of Martha Furnace, to town. He started from home about six o'clock in the morning, executed a variety the 10 o'clock mail train arrived at this place. But, then, Mr. C. always was a man of great energy.

-The State Agricultural Board, according to the Jersey Shore Herald, has is-sued its edict prohibiting County Agricultural Societies that receive the annual $100 State appropriations, from offering premiums for horse racing. There can be trials of speed, but no premiums can be offered

-It will be perceived by our marriage announcements that, our old friend, John W. Getz, of Lemont, has concluded that he has lived a life of single blessedness long enough, and so has married one of the fair daughters of Linden Hall.

-Tuesday was an unusually dull day in town. This may be owing to the absence of so many editors. Editor Tuten was visiting "way up in Vairmont," and P. Gray Meek and our own two senior luminaries were at Harrisburg. But still the town survives.

-A few days since the firm of S. A Brew & Son received two immense bunches of banannas In a day or two afterwards they were all gone. This is the way all the goods received at that store vanish. however. As soon as anything new is received people step in and buy, as they can always rely on S. A. Brew and Son selling the best and cheapest goods in the market.

-What color and what quality of dress goods to buy is a question which frequently troubles and perplexes the female mind. It is certain that they should always select that which best corresponds with their size and complexion. The same rules should apply in making up dresses. But the question, where to buy these goods need never trouble the fortunate ladies who live in Bellefonte, as J. H. Bauland's Bee Hive store is as good as any place in the country.

-Much dissatisfaction, irritation and feelings akin to those of dyspepsia are occasioned among gentlemen by the fact that they do not buy their clothes at the right place. If clothes do not fit, a sensitive man is troubled about it all day. It makes the ladies laugh at him, it takes away his appetite, and makes him feel altogether cross and dejected. But this can all be cured if every gentlemen will buy clothes of J. Newman, Jr. They will always fit well and look new.

-The latest story about the grasshoppers was related to us by a well known and prominent gentleman whose veracity is above suspicion. As he was driving with two ladies through the region where the grasshoppers grow thickest, the hungry hoppers attacked the raised parasols of the ladies and before the fair females had time to utter a scream the silk coverings had disappeared, leaving only the extended wires and handles to prove that they were originally intended for parasols.

-A saying which certainly deserves a place among the "beatitudes" is, "Blessed are masters when they have good servants, for they will not lose anything." At least, Mr. Auman, of Farmer's Mills, has cause to think so, as the Centre Hall Reporter says that on Sunday week, while he and his family were at church, an apprentice, to whom he was giving instructions in the miller's trade, took $20 and a wedding suit from the house and departed. On the proper authorities being informed of the arrested and is now confined at Fort Span-

-The common school report of Superintendent H. Meyer for the year ending June 1, 1879, is among the articles on our fourth page. He says it is the opinion of a majority of the teachers that the annual institutes should be held in some other town than Bellefonte, as the people do not see fit to support them very "liberally, financially nor morally, by their presence. We hope that this will not remain the opinion of the teachers, as their presence is enjoyable, their institutes elevating and we feel sure that our community will appreciate their presence and encourage them by all means in their power if they will ontinue holding their institutes here.

The camping-out party,-compo Wesley Gephart, Harry Orbison, James Montgomery, and a half-dozen others, embarked on the Snow Shoe train Tuesday morning. They could not well help look ing like a thoroughly wilted party, clothed all to wear thin clothes, and to avoid as as they were in dark blue shirts, and carrying so much baggage. They were particular to lay in a sufficient quantity of provisions, and it quite certain that twentyfive dollars' worth in connection with the game they will capture should prevent absolute starvation. Just at this moment they are catching an innumerable (?) quantity of fish, perspiring away superabundant flesh and doubtless heartily en-

A CANCER REMOVED, AND EX-SHERIFF CONLEY REJOICING .- It has for some time been a subject of regret to the friends of our respected ex-Sheriff, Richard Conley, that he was afflicted with that terrible and dangerous source of discomfort, a rapidly growing cancer, which appeared on the side of his neck, about half way between the angle of the jaw and that prominence in the neck known as Adam's Apple. It had attained a circumference of seventeen inches, and even now, much decreased in size since its successful removal, is over leven inches in circumference.

Dr. C. W. P. Fisher, of Boalsburg, was ummoned to the aid of Mr. Cenley. He explained to the ex-Sheriff that, situated as the cancer was, danger of hemorrhage existed. But Mr. C. determined to risk the consequences, and Dr. Fisher went to work with his plaster and poultices. For two weeks they were continued, the plaster being removed occasionally to give a few hours of refreshing sleep. One week ago to-day Mr. Conley was overjoyed, when n a fit of coughing, the uncomfortable obect fell to the floor.

This will of course be glad news to the riends of the ex-Sheriff, and also to the ublic, as it promises a cure for their riends who may be similarly afflicted. We hope it may prove a permanent cure. The repulsive object is now on exhibi ion at the drug store of F. P. Green

THE WEDDING .- We make it an invariable rule to go to press at an early hour and therefore are unable to give an extended account of the wedding about which our fashionable community have been for some time past on the tip-toe of expectation, and which took place yesterday at 3.30 P. M., in the Presbyterian church Miss H. M. Pearson, the beautiful bride, is a sister of Rev. Mrs. Hewitt, of this place, and comes from Baltimore, Md. The gentleman whom she will wed is Rev. D Marquis, D. D., formerly pastor of Westminister Presbyterian church, Baltimore, and now of St. Louis, Mo. There were neither bridesmaids nor groomsmen Prof. Ambrose Stradling performed a wedding march composed expressly for the occasion, and Rev. William Laurie, of this place, performed the ceremony. The happy couple departed on the afternoon train with the congratulations of their friends A reception was tendered them on the previous evening, at the residence of Rev. John Hewitt, which was an enjoyable affair -The severe storm of Friday afternoon was greater than the ordinary sewers for conveying away the water would accom modate. It rushed from our high hills, washing before it the surplus dirt in the street, and throughout the remainder of the vening the crossings at the foot of these hills were almost impassable. It also created some destruction among the dense foliage in our Court House vard, tearing away several branches. On the premises fact, however, the fleeing lad was promptly of Mr. John Leib it blew over a valuable grape arbor. We also hear that it unroofed a portion of Mr. Eby's barn, at Zion, and took part of the roof from the Old Fort Hotel, in Penn's Valley. The house of Mr. Proudfoot at Milesburg, was struck by lightning, without doing serious injury. The storm was quite severe at Pleasant Gap, making the usual havoc among the branches of the trees. For a short time the wind blew fiercely and the rain fell in torrents.

> -We are doubtless now passing through the hottest wave which has been felt this summer. From the South and from the North the reports which come to us all alike speak of unprecedented heat. The winds which blow over us seem fired as if they had passed through a furnace. But we must endure it as best we can. While we write locals, we are compelled to keep a fan moving with one hand while our perspiring other hand feebly propels the lead pencil. It would seem like one of Job's advisers for us to tell any one to keep cool ; Knowles and Mr. MacNeal, was a valuable ber of fiduciary positions, and also out it may not be out of place to c unse

THE HOWARD IRON WORKS BURNED-1,600 POUNDS OF MOLTEN METAL UPSET MEN BADLY INJURED .- Many of the improvements and additions to the Howard Iron Works, of which we spoke a few weeks since, as being then in progress, have been completed, and a few days since fires were lighted in the old furnace stack and the new cupola. All was operating with great success, and work was being executed with wonderful dispatch, when on Tuesday afternoon last all was brought to a sudden and disastrous termination by reason of the burning of the buildings connected with the furnace and foundry. It seems that by some unaccountable a cident a ladle containing about sixteen hundred pounds of melted iron, which the skill next Friday evening. foundrymen were about to pour into a mould, for the purpose of making some of the large castings for the new mill, was upset, and the liquid iron coming in immediate contact with the sides of the wood. en building, set them on fire instantly The entire foundry building was in flames in a moment, and the fire communicating to the bridge and wheel house attached to the furnace, all the buildings were in a few moments reduced to ashes. When the metal left the ladle it instantly spread over the floor of the building, and in its swift course, seriously burned two of the employ. Mr. Butler is most severely injured.

He has two painful burns on his right side, and both of his feet are sadly injured, particularly the left foot, the shoe of which was filled with melted iron. Mr. Mc-Cartney, the foundryman, also received ome severe barns. Both men are suffering such, but under the care of Dr. L. R. Henszl will receive every attention which of the works, and citizens of the place who happened to be near, the coal houses, with their contents, were saved, or the loss would have been much more serious.

It is believed that the new iron cylinders, which were recently put in, are uninjured. If this proves to be the case, the work of rebuilding will proceed at once We understand that the buildings had an insurance on them of one thousand dollars. which, if the machinery proves to be unnjured, will probably cover all the loss, xcept that incident to the delay.

Mr. Lauth was absent from home at th time of the fire. Mr. John N. Lauth was uite ill for a short time, from the effects of over-exertion, but is about again, actively superintending.

MUSICAL .- On Sunday evening last the music loving portion of the Episcopal congregation were delighted and surprised at the rich musical treat given them. The music on the organ at both the morning and evening service was skillfully rendered by Mr. MacNeal, of Camden, N. J., who was a guest of Mr. W. H. Wilkinson. He plays with skill and ease, bringing out the full, rich tones of the organ to their greatest extent and power. At the morning service the choir was unusually full and the music particularly enchanting. Mrs. John H. Knowles, of Richmond, Va., and at present alguest of her sister, Mrs. Teller wife of the genial proprietor of the Brockerhoff House, was a valuable addition to the choir. The opening anthem was well sustained in its principal part by Miss Kate Curtin. The Cantate Domino and power and expression seldom before heard in Bellefonte. The music concluded with that familiar hymn containing the line, "A mortal man ashamed of Thee." This was exquisite manner. Mrs. K's. voice is pure, rich and distinct in its lowest accent. She sings with wonderful expression and pathos. Many considered it the finest voice they had ever heard. She is the principal singer in Memorial church, Richmond. The assistance of these two artists, Mrs.

FESTIVAL AT FILLMORE .- On Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and ev-AND SET FIRE TO THE BUILDINGS-Two ning next the people of Fillmore will step to the front and invite everybody to a featival to be given in aid of the Methodist Sunday-school, of that place. The ladies will serve the most delicious refreshments to all who will honor them with their presence. There will also be fine musi in attendance to enliven the occasion That it will be a success is certain, as the young ladies of that place can make better ice-cream and Fill more dishes with it and do it faster than the maidens of any other place. Any one of them, it is said, can at the same time Fill more fellows with her charms than a score of ordinary females. Give them an opportunity to try their

-The Renovo Record tells of a most dangerous event which occurred to Miss De Hass, daughter of Mr. Joseph De Hass, of Liberty township, on Sunday, the 6th instant. THE GRANDEST FESTIVAL OF THE SEAon.-The word "festival" suggests not only an abundance of ice cream, lemonade and cake, and the usual variety of good things to tempt and delight the palate, but to a greater degree it means a large amount of fun, gayety and festivity. A pleasant chairman of a committee of three appointed by the Governor, to revise the Statutes of that State. He was art or nature can devise, chief among which reigns supreme ten or a dozen of that last and greatest creation, beautiful maidens, all assuming their most winning smile and enticing manner, may be mentioned as among the component parts of a festival. The people of Buffalo Run more than any other community in this country understand the virtue of such a combination, and the mere announcement that they have concluded to give one in the Presbyterian church, of that place, for the benefit of the Union Sunday-school is sufficient to attract people from all the surrounding country. As it is for the benefit of the Union Sundag-school, of course everybody will lend their hearty co-operation to make it a success.
