You can save money, by buying your boots and shoes at Loeb's.

The present frosty mornings are destructive to flower gardens.

The churches will soon commence their evening services at 7 o'clock.

Mr. William, son of ex-Governor Curtin, was in town over last Sunday.

Burchfield's Mountain City Band attended the picnic at Unionville last Saturday.

Miss Jennie Garrett, of this place, has been spending the summer with friends in Ohio.

Mr. J. Zeller returned on Monday morning last after a brief absence from home.

The Logan Fire company meets tonight and desires to have a full attendance present.

Attend the meetings of the Y. M. C. A. held each Friday evening and Sunday afternoon.

Job printing is executed in a truly artistic manner at the office of the CENTRE DEMOCRAT.

For bargains in hardware go to the first-class hardware store of Wilson, McFarlane & Co.

If Harry Green enters his cigars for exhibition at the fair they will certainly draw the premium.

Sam Dawson does not bake any longer for the people of Johnstown, having returned to this place.

Do not buy your clothing until you have seen Loeb's. They challenge comparison in prices and quality.

A temperance meeting was held in the Ironworkers' building at Valentines' Forges last Tuesday evening.

Mr. Lew Schaffer will teach a school at Nittany Hall this fall. He is a graduate of Lock Haven Normal School.

Mr. J. R. Fiddler, of Madisonburg, and Miss Sallie A. Meek, of this place, are attending the Normal School, at Lock Haven.

The solo sung by Miss Kate Curtin, at the commencement of services in the Episcopal church last Sunday evening, was well rendered.

The Centennial Temperance Club entertainment will positively take place on the evening of October 2, the second day of the fair.

Mr. George Wolf run his finger into a machine with which he was manufacturing tin-ware, last Monday, injuring it severely.

Don't forget to attend the entertainment of the Centennial Temperance Club Thursday evening, October 2. Admission 25 and 25 cents.

The most complete and largest assortment of carpets, matting and oil cloth, to be found in Central Pennsylvania, has been received at Loeb's.

A special examination of Centre county teachers to fill vacancies will be held in the Superintendent's office, this place, next Thursday morning, October 2.

The nights are now made beautiful with the radiance of the moon, which appears in the heavens early and goes on her brilliant way through all the night.

Among the many attractions in town during the coming fair will be the entertainment of the Centennial Temperance Club, on Thursday evening October 2.

Wringers repaired by Smith the tinner. Work guaranteed. Always go to a practical mechanic for good work, and in our friend Smith you will find the right man.

Miss Ella Cowdrick, of this place, seriously injured her arm the other day by bringing it in contact with the sharp edge of a cupboard door. The injured member is now recovering.

Mrs. Catherine Campbell, lately of Lock Haven, but a native and for a long time a resident of this place, died on Monday evening last in the 60th year of her age. She was well known to many people in this place.

Joseph Ross and family, of Pleasant Gap, started on Friday morning last to spend a week in visiting among friends in Jefferson county. They employ the old-fashioned method of traveling, going in a large wagon, and thus enjoying the fine September weather.

Come to the fair next week and have a good time, and while here visit the grocery store of S. A. Brew & Son. Next to the fair, it will be the most attractive place. "Special premiums," in the way of good bargains, are offered to all who will purchase at that store.

The Baptist congregation will have the benefit of excellent preaching next Sunday. Rev. J. A. Aldred, of Clearfield, who preached in the church last Sunday, will deliver another sermon next Sunday morning, and Rev. Dr. Calder, of State College, will preach for them in the evening.

Among the attractions at the fair will be a $150 go-as-you-please trotting race, on Thursday at half-past one o'clock. "Snow Flake" and "Kate Keller" have already been entered, and it is expected that all the valuable trotters in this part of the State will participate in the contest.

Workmen are now engaged in repainting the double dwelling house on Howard street, owned by Mr. E. C. Humes. The residence of Mr. Joseph A. Rankin, on the corner of Spring and Howard streets, is also undergoing improvements of the same nature.

Phillipsburg claims to have in its midst "the Mozart of the present century," in the person of Albert Kauth, a bright lad who, at the age of nine years, commenced to play on the violin, and has now become so proficient that he can perform the most difficult pieces placed before him. He plays entirely by note.

It is impossible to keep garments clean when the dust flies as it has during the past few days, but it is consoling to know that men and boys can own many changes of garments. This has been possible ever since J. Newman, Jr., the King Clothier, commenced his reign in this county. He has reduced the price of clothing to the reach of all.

On next Thursday a grand pageant in connection with the fair will take place. In the imposing line of procession will be the State College Cadets, Capt. Williams' Company B, of this place, Capt. Simler's Company E, of Phillipsburg, the Undine and Logan Fire companies, the thirteen bands of the county, two hundred young ladies on horseback, and every civil organization in the county.

King Cotywayo, the chief of England's Zululand enemies, is now on his way to London, a prisoner, and soon the people of that city will be looking on his kingly form. That is, if he makes a safe journey over the "briny deep," which, although probable, is uncertain. And it will be found that most things in this world are uncertain, a happy exception to the rule being that J. Newman, Jr., sells men's and boys' clothing at prices which defy competition.

Among the aged citizens of our county who have recently passed away is Mr. John Poorman, who died the early part of last week at the venerable age of ninety years. Mr. Poorman resided in Spring township many years ago, but has spent the last thirty years of his life in Boggs township, where his death occurred. Ever among the most respected citizens in the county and a life-long Democrat, he gained many friends by whom his loss will be deeply felt. He leaves a large and respectable connection. May his rest be peaceful.

Three barrels of hollow glass balls have been received by Mr. Theodore Dechner, of this place, for use in the coming test of skill at the fair. Every morning he and several other expert shots repair to the field near the planing mill with trap, balls and guns, and endeavor to break the glass balls as the trap throws them into the air. It is a sport which is not very destructive to the balls, for, although they are as large as a good-sized egg, they generally return to the earth intact. One glass ball has been known to last for half an hour. But then a week's practice may work great improvement.

The attraction to-day is on top of Nittany mountain. The harvest of '79 is almost all gathered in, fruit is preserved and stowed away for winter use, agricultural machinery is at rest, and to-day male and female representatives of the Patrons of Husbandry will hie themselves away to spend a few pleasant hours on Nittany's glorious height, from which they can look down on the broad valleys which spread beneath. We hope it may be the most profitable day they ever spent together, and that no cloud will rise to dim their enjoyment from the time they assemble in the morning until they wend their way homeward in the golden light of the setting sun.

We regret to learn of an unfortunate, though not serious, accident which occurred, on Sunday week, to our friend, Mr. Adam Vonsida, of Zion, when on his return home from a visit to Brush Valley. When he was in the vicinity of Tylerville, the neck-yoke, which was attached to the tongue of the vehicle, suddenly slipped off, permitting the tongue to fall to the ground. The horses started to run. Mr. Vonsida used his utmost endeavors to check the onward progress of the animals, but the tongue which was dragging on the ground broke off short, causing the vehicle to career, and tumbling the occupants out in a manner not at all compatible with perfect ease and safety. We are pleased to state that the wreck to the vehicle was the only serious result of the accident.

The Fourth brigade, commanded by Gen. James A. Beaver, is composed of the Fifth, Tenth, Fourteenth and Eighteenth Regiments, Sheridan Cavalry, and Knapp's Battery, of Pittsburg. The field and staff officers of the Fifth regiment are as follows: Colonel Theodore Burchfield, Lieut. Col. D. H. Hastings, Maj. P. A. Wole-slagle, Surgeon G. F. Harris, Assistant Surgeon J. C. Blaisdell, Paymaster C. S. Marks, Quartermaster J. M. Nichols, Adjutant W. Sargent. Following is a list of the line officers, with the number of men present at the inspection and their location: Co. A, Ebensburg, Capt. A. W. Davis, 47 men; Co. B, Bellefonte, Capt. O. W. Vanvalin, 56 men; Co. C, Hollidaysburg, Capt. T. D. Wilkins, 56 men; Co. D, Altoona, Capt. W. B. Guthrie, 40 men; Co. E, Phillipsburg, Capt. Simler, 47 men; Co. G, Lewistown, Capt. Garrett, 47 men; Co. H, Wilmore, Capt. Morrell, 50 men; Co. I, Bedford, Capt. Stetler, 54 men.

DR. GEORGE LATIMER POTTER.—The Court House bell called together a vast concourse of people last Thursday evening to do honor to the memory of the late Dr. George Latimer Potter. They continued to come until the auditorium of the Court House was filled, and last of all Gregg Post, G. A. R., marched into the hall in a body and took seats arranged in the form of a parallelogram within the Bar. The "silent sentinels," in full uniform and leaning on their guns, were placed at the entrance to and at various prominent points within the hall. A reading desk surrounded with the stars and stripes, adorned with flowers, and surmounted by drawn swords and a large open Bible, graced the centre of the Bar. Mrs. Dr. Harris added a fresh bouquet to this collection just previous to the opening of the service. Of course these military surroundings evidenced that it was one of the "soldier dead" to whom honor this evening was devoted. The Misses Lyon aided by Mr. Frank Keller and Mr. John Lyon gathered about the organ and at intervals varied the services with tender, pathetic music, performed in an artistic manner. Prominent among the selections were "Cast thy burden on the Lord," and the "Great Deliverer," the latter being especially well rendered. This quartette sing together in admirable harmony.

The opening services were principally religious, and seemed strange to those uninitiated in Post exercises. They consisted of sundry questions asked by Dr. George Harris and responded to by Mr. Smith, of Valentines' Stores, regarding the object of the meeting, and concluded with a brief narration of the principal military events in the life of Dr. Potter. James Rankin, Esq., read a prayer, concluding with the petitions of the Lord's Prayer repeated in concert, and followed by Scriptural selections. This was soon concluded, and the attraction of the evening, an oration by Gen. James A. Beaver, ensued. He told many interesting things respecting the deceased, culled from his long and intimate acquaintance with him. He referred to the Doctor's distinguished ancestry, and showed that he was a soldier both by birth and by education. We are obliged, however, for want of space, to omit the General's exhaustive and entertaining address. The entire service was exceedingly appropriate, and conducted in a manner honorable to the brave subject to whom it was devoted.

PROTECT THE FEET.—Winter is coming on apace—the time when deep mud, cold snows, and disagreeable weather generally will prevail. To ward away its evils, to escape from contracting colds, nothing is more desirable than to have the feet warmly and closely clad in strong boots or shoes. John Powers & Son have long ministered to the wants of Centre county people in this respect, and it is unnecessary to enlarge upon the merits of the firm. At every fair they take the premium, and if doubts in this department are made, will doubtless do the same this year. Persons visiting the fair next week will have an excellent opportunity to stop at this well known establishment, in Bush's Arcade building, and inspect their present large and complete stock. Or, let Mr. Powers take your measure and he will make for you an excellent boot or shoe at the most reasonable price.

W. A. S. Taylor, Esq., of Norfolk, Va., whose family has been spending the summer at the Broeckerhoff House, arrived here last Friday. Mr. Taylor is a fine specimen of the Virginia gentleman and has already made many friends. He comes to accompany his family home, who express the greatest satisfaction with the treatment they have received at the Broeckerhoff. We wish them a safe journey home and trust that the blazing wrath of next summer's dog star will drive them this way again.

"Lady Alice" is the appropriate name bestowed upon a pretty little boat recently placed upon the waters of Spring creek, for the pleasure of the younger members of the family of James L. Sommerville, Esq., and their numerous friends. It will doubtless be a means of great enjoyment to them, and we are glad to see that advantage is being taken of the many natural opportunities which, if aided slightly by art, the lovely location of our town offers for the healthful enjoyment and amusement of its youthful population.

Mr. Conrad Deibl, of Howard, had a serious fall on Wednesday of last week, which came near resulting seriously. He was helping trash in the barn belonging to the estate of the late James Heverly, and while on the mow above the barn floor, by some mischance, fell, striking the separator in his descent. Fortunately no bones were broken, but the bruises on his ribs are so severe as to cause him great discomfort, and prevent him from working for some time to come.

A full representation of the iron men of this county were present at the meeting at the Continental Hotel, Philadelphia, last Thursday. Among them were Robert and Abram Valentine, of Valentines' Works, the former being honored with the position of chairman; Frank McCoy, of McCoy & Linn's Works, and A. G. Curtin, Jr., of Curtin's Works.

Persons visiting our County Fair, will not have seen the sights until they visit Loeb's store, and inspect their immense stock, which is composed of all kinds of merchandise.

HER SUFFERINGS ENDED BY DEATH.—The final end of this life is not always looked forward to with dread and apprehension by those who are nearing its goal, but it is often hailed with joy as the close of a long period of suffering. Thus it was with Mrs. Catherine Schnell, who passed away from earth last Friday morning at half-past eleven o'clock. It is seldom that one is called on to endure more than she, and perhaps never since the time of Job has mere humanity endured it with more saintly resignation. It is said that she has suffered more or less for the last thirty years, and for the fourteen closing years of her life has been confined to her bed. During the past year her weakness had so increased that she could not even move, and to this has been added the affliction of blindness. But with the departure of physical health and sight, came to her a strong spiritual faith and trust, and with her hand tightly clasped in that of her Redeemer and her sightless eyes fixed on Him she passed triumphantly forth.

Mrs. Schnell, whose maiden name was Catherine Brew, was born in Springmouth, County Clare, Ireland, on the 16th of May, 1816. She was the daughter of Thaddeus and Mary Brew, and was one of a numerous and eminently respectable family. There were four other daughters and two sons. This large family emigrated from Ireland to this country in the year 1831, and arrived in Centre county, we believe, on the 7th of June, of that year. The family is shown to be one of considerable longevity from the fact that several of its original representatives are yet among the well-known and honored citizens of this borough. Among them are Mr. Austin Brew, the youngest son; Mrs. Hamilton, the oldest daughter, now living on Howard street; also Mrs. Nolan and Mrs. McClain, residents of this borough. Mrs. Kelley, the fifth sister, now resides in Iowa.

Miss Catherine Brew was married, in the year 1834, to Mr. Joseph Schnell, one of the overseers of the poor of this borough. A large family has grown up about them. But all of its members are so well known in this community that it is unnecessary to mention their names. Among them is Mr. T. M. Schnell, of Chicago, the first telegraph operator in this place. Mrs. Schnell was a life-long member of the Roman Catholic church, and the funeral services over her remains, which took place last Friday morning, were conducted with all the materialistic form and ceremony which that church holds so dear and which the earnest faith of deceased led her to believe was proper. The residence of deceased and the church were thronged by the numerous friends and relatives who desired to show this evidence of their earnest regard and esteem for her many virtues. An address appropriate to the occasion was delivered in English by the officiating priest, Father Powers, of Lock Haven, and a German priest, whose name we did not learn, assisted Father Kennedy in the service. At twelve o'clock the services closed and the body was carried to its last resting place.

DEATH OF JOHN KIDD SHOEMAKER.—The subject of this brief sketch was born at Muncy Creek, Lycoming county, on the 18th of April, 1812, his father's name being Samuel Shoemaker, who was married to Miss Rosina Kidd. John Kidd Shoemaker's life ended last Friday morning at eleven o'clock, at his residence on Spring street, after he had suffered in health for several years. Mr. Shoemaker was a printer by profession, commencing the pursuit of that business by apprenticing himself to Mr. Brandon, of Williamsport, and finishing his trade with Boyd Cummin, of the same place. In consequence of high character and integrity, he was several times called on to occupy other positions of responsibility not connected with his profession.

After finishing his trade Mr. Shoemaker worked for some time in Philadelphia, when he entered the State printing office at Harrisburg. There we believe he continued until 1840, except a short time he spent in publishing a paper in Muncy, when he came to this place and established the Democratic Whig. During the continuance of this journal, our townsman, John T. Johnston, Esq., learned his trade with Mr. Shoemaker, and in the year of 1851 entered into partnership with him. In 1853 Mr. Johnston retired, when Mr. Shoemaker again became sole manager, continuing until 1855. During Gov. Pollock's administration, Mr. Shoemaker was clerk in the School Department at Harrisburg. He also served as postmaster in this place under the administration of Zachary Taylor, entering on his duties in March, 1859. After this he went to Washington where he has ever since been in the employ of the Government printing office at Washington.

Mr. Shoemaker was happily married to Miss Margaret Harris. During part of his life he was a member of the Typographical Union. At all times he enjoyed the confidence of those about him. His funeral, which took place on Sunday last, was largely attended. Rev. John Hewitt, Rev. Laurie and Rev. Yocum officiated at the services, the former delivering appropriate remarks. The services throughout were impressive.

The Highland Queen and New Regulator cook stoves have all the latest and best improvements in this class of stoves and are giving universal satisfaction wherever used. Wilson, McFarlane & Co. are the sole agents for Centre county for the sale of these stoves.

BELLEFONTE ACADEMY.—The Academy now offers a special course in Drawing, under the superior instruction of Mrs. W. Robinson, as follows: Terms, 40 lessons for $8.00; hours, 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 p. m.

Also special course in penmanship, under the care of Prof. Chas. Bauer; Terms, 40 lessons for $6.00; hours, 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 p. m.

NEXT WEEK AT ERIE.—The Executive Committee of the Y. M. C. A. have chosen a very pleasant place to hold their State convention for this year. Erie, situated as it is on the borders of a broad and beautiful lake, must appear very lovely at this season of the year. The convention assemblies next Thursday afternoon, and it is expected that Bellefonte will be represented by several delegates. It is uncertain just now who will go from here, but it is quite probable that Mr. Chas. Cook, President of the Association, and Gen. James A. Beaver, Chairman of the State Executive Committee, will be among the number.

DEATH OF MISS SARAH HUSTON.—This lady who was well known to many of the people of Bellefonte, died in Williamsport last Thursday, at the age of ninety-two. She was born in Lycoming county and lived with the family of the late Judge Hale during their residence here, being a relative of the family. After their departure she lived for some time in the family of Gen. Sturdevant, of Wilkesbarre, also relatives. Lately she has been making her residence in Williamsport. She was the last surviving member of the once famous Huston family, of which Judge Charles Huston, her brother, was such a brilliant representative.

SPENDING THE NIGHT IN AN ICE HOUSE.—On Sunday night, or at an early hour on Monday morning last, a horse belonging to Mr. John B. Linn, and kept in the stable to the rear of his residence, broke loose from his manger and started on an expedition of exploration and adventure about the stable. He did not find it necessary to wander far before he discovered all he wished of the latter. A deep ice house is constructed under the stable, and the floor over it is old and too weak to sustain the weight of a horse. The animal reached this spot, when his further perambulations were suddenly cut short by an unexpected descent into the hitherto, by him, unexplored region of the ice house. Down he went, twelve or more feet, toward the centre of the earth, and the poor horse must have thought he was never going to stop, but at last he alighted on the soft saw dust and cool ice below. Here he was found at an early hour on Monday morning, seemingly uninjured, at perfect ease, and ready to devour all the hay and oats that were thrown down to him. How to rescue him from this position? was the question that puzzled the natives when we departed from the scene. But we suppose that with the aid of ropes he was again elevated in safety to the surface of Mother Earth.

ANOTHER BOLD AND SUCCESSFUL ROBBERY.—On last Thursday night, the 18th instant, the store of Samuel Franck & Son, of Rebersburg, was robbed of about sixty dollars worth of its contents, consisting of goods of almost every description. As Judge Franck, the senior partner, approached the store on the following morning, he discovered that the door was unlocked. The first glance at the interior revealed the fact that chairs and boots were scattered over the floor in a miscellaneous manner, as if the robbers only carried away those boots that fitted them, rejecting the others. Three pairs of boots were taken. They also carried off a No. 1 double barrel revolving rifle, three wool hats, ten yards all-wool cassimere, some eggs, tobacco, hose, suspenders, church keys, &c. Almost every box and drawer in the establishment was opened, and from one money drawer two dollars were obtained. The robbers left none of their own possessions in exchange for these articles except a hickory club, burnt at one end, which suggests that they were tramps, although it might have belonged to other parties. False keys were used in unlocking the door. This is the fourth attempt made to rob this store within a year, which shows that the goods sold by the Judge are of an unusually excellent quality, and there is some one in all this world determined to obtain them at all hazards.

The Farmer's Friend and Grange Advocate, an organ of the Grange organization, contains an announcement of the coming fair to be held in this county. We copy from the issue of Sept. 20 as follows: "The county fair of Centre county, Pa., will be held at Bellefonte, on the 1st, 2d and 3d of October. We would especially call the attention of the members of the Order to this fair, as in the Society the Grange element is largely represented. In the large premium list we notice increased inducements to exhibitors, which we have no doubt will insure a very large and fine exhibit."

The Phillipsburg Journal speaks of a sad accident that occurred on Sunday of last week to George, a thirteen year old son of Mr. J. W. Weaver, residing in Taylor township. In carelessly putting a cartridge in a revolver, he used his knife to drive it into place, when the revolver was discharged, the bullet passing through the fleshy part of one of his legs, inflicting a severe wound. Under the care of Dr. Dunwiddle the lad is now recovering.

Brothers, sisters, cousins and aunts, do you want to buy a suit for father, brother, son, nephew, or any other persons. Remember that Loeb's have the largest stock in the county.

RESOLUTIONS WORTHILY BESTOWED.—At a meeting of the official members of the Bellefonte Methodist Episcopal Church, on Monday evening, September 22, 1879, the following minutes were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God, in the wisdom of His providence, to call from our midst our late brother, John D. Lieb;

And whereas, He has been an upright, consistent and worthy member of the M. E. Church of Bellefonte since March, A. D. 1848, at which time he was received into the Church under the pastorate of Rev. Thomson Mitchell;

And whereas, He was elected a member of the Board of Trustees of the Church in February, A. D. 1866, in which body he has continuously and faithfully served ever since his election until his decease, and was also elected a member of the Board of Stewards of the Church in January, A. D. 1871, in which capacity he served continuously, most earnestly and efficiently till the time of his death; therefore

Resolved, That in his death the M. E. Church of Bellefonte has lost one of its most upright, faithful and exemplary members.

That the Board of Trustees and the Board of Stewards have lost one of their most faithful, active and effective members, and one whose counsels, and bright and happy efforts contributed largely to the successful consummation of their several duties in the Church;

That we, as brethren, have lost a brother whose constant attendance upon public worship, whose happy and cheering companionship, whose uniform kindness and liberality to the Church and to the poor, and whose daily walk and conversation were commendable traits in his character, and leave an example worthy of imitation;

That we condole with the members of the family in their great bereavement, who by his death have lost a kind, affectionate and loving husband and father;

That a copy of these resolutions be furnished to the family of the deceased, and be entered upon the official records of the Church, and be published in the several papers of this place.

ANOTHER TRIBUTE.—The following tribute to Mr. Lieb was given at a recent meeting of Bellefonte Encampment No. 72, Independent Order of Odd Fellows:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Almighty Father, in the inscrutable dispensation of His providence, suddenly to remove from our midst our well beloved and faithful brother, P. C. Patriarch, John D. Lieb, Bellefonte Encampment, No. 72, I. O. O. F., imposes the duty upon the undersigned to prepare proper testimonials of respect, to be placed upon record, of the high appreciation of the Brethren of the noble life of this worthy and exemplary Brother; therefore

Resolved, That in the death of Brother Lieb, the Encampment mourns the loss of one of its most faithful, beloved, and useful members, one ever vigilant in the performance of duty to this body, and to the charities to which it is dedicated;

Resolved, That while we sympathize most deeply in the affliction of his beloved and cherished family, the reflection is a source of consolation to them, as it is to us, that Brother Lieb's Christian character was such as to afford ample assurance that all is well with him—that he only laid aside the mortal trials of this life, to assume the happy immortality prepared for the faithful in the better life;

Resolved, That as a further testimonial of our respect, this Encampment be draped in mourning for the space of thirty days;

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, and that they be published in the several papers of this place.

Committee.

On Monday a painful accident occurred to a little son of Mr. William Bartley, who farms for Major William Reynolds. While in company with his little sister, and handling a piece of scythe used for cutting off corn, the instrument came in contact with the back of his hand, severing three tendons and inflicting an uncomfortable wound. Dr. E. I. Kirk bandaged up the injured member with his usual skill, and the wounds are now rapidly healing.

We regret to find it necessary to record this week the death of Mrs. John Hurd, which occurred in Phillipsburg last Saturday. Mrs. Hurd was a sister of our townsman, Capt. John H. Morrison, and a most estimable lady. Her remains were brought to this place for interment. The funeral services took place from the residence of Mr. Morrison on Monday afternoon last at half-past one o'clock. They were attended by many friends and conducted with the usual solemnity.

Now is the time to examine your old stove pipe and have your stoves set. For prompt, reliable and satisfactory work be sure to secure the services of E. A. Smith, the Tin-Smith.

MARRIAGES.

MITCHELL—BROWN.—In Wilmington, Delaware, September 7, Mr. W. E. Mitchell, formerly clerk in the Lock Haven National Bank, to Miss Ada Brown, of Wilmington. The following tribute of regard was paid him by his brother, Ira C. Mitchell, enclosed with a flower:

A little leaf, a fragrant flower,
From Nature's kind and bounteous store;
Is all the wealth my love can shower,
About my brother's bridal door.

Had fortune doomed me with her gold,
No jewel wrought had been too dear
To symbolize, and part unfold,
The love I in my bosom bear.

KAUFFMAN—MICHILAY.—On the 16th instant, at the Reformed parsonage, Jacksonville, by Rev. George F. Hartzell, Mr. William H. Kauffman and Miss Mary A. Michilay, both of Porter township, Clinton county, Pa.

BELL—MCLELLAN.—By Rev. A. M. Crighton, on the 17th inst., Mr. Harry F. Bell, of Tyrone, and Miss Alice Mclellan, of Phillipsburg.

SIMLER—LEWIS.—At Onondaga, Clearfield county, Pa., on the 17th inst., by Rev. J. A. Woodcock, Mr. George Simler, of Phillipsburg, and Miss Nettie Lewis, of Houtsville.

DEATHS.

HARPER.—On the 1st of August, at Woodward, Mrs. Elizabeth Harper, wife of Thomas Harper, aged 71 years, 9 months and 10 days. Deceased was for fifty years a consistent member of the Reformed church.

LUPOLE.—At his residence in Half Moon Valley, on Tuesday, September 16th, 1879, Joshua Lupole, aged 38 years.

GONDER.—At Phillipsburg, on Thursday, September 18th, 1879, John Gonder, aged 42 years.
