- at Philipsburg. -Dr. Fowler, who lectures to-morrow night, is one of the most brilliant orators
- in the M. E. church. -Fifty tickets to Dr. Fowler's lecture were sold, on Monday evening, within
- twenty-five minutes. -The 6.30 A. M. train, on Monday morning, arrived in this place about an
- hour and a half behind time. -The cool weather will bring an increase of trade to our merchants who have
- advertised during the summer. -Chief Burgess Hastings is at present receiving a visit from his mother, Mrs.
- William Hastings, of Salona. -Al. Grow's paper, the Lock Haven Daily Journal, is three years old, and, we - are glad to know, is in good health. -Mr. C. A. Lindsey has concluded not to leave town; which sensible conclusion
- will cause many young ladies to rejoice. -Enoch Emory, formerly head waiter at the Bush House, is now occupying the
- same position at the City Hotel, Williams--For beautiful millinery goods the ladies should call at Miss McBride's. She
- has just received a large assortment of the latest styles at lowest prices. -Aaron Williams, Esq., left his dear behind him, and went this week on a
- hunting expedition after another deer. We hope he was successful. -Members of the Y. M. C. A., of this place, will please bear in mind that hereafter the Friday evening meetings will be-
- gin promptly at 7 o'clock. -A band of young men, who call themselves the "Social Eight," will give a ball to-morrow evening in Bush's Hall. We
- hope it will be a pleasant affair. -The books in the library of the Young Men's Christian Association, in this place, have recently been re-catalogued, and the
- reading room will soon be thrown open. -That there will be a large attendance at the lecture by Dr. Fowler, to-morrow night, at Humes' Hall, is certain. It will
- be the grandest literary event of the season. present.
- -Everybody who was in attendance at the Baptist church last Sunday evening considered the meeting, held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., a very pleasant and profitable one.
- -Thanksgiving will be here soon after the elections are over. We are much puzzled to know where our turkeys are to come from. Can't some kind friend enlighten us on that subject.
- -The rite of Communion will be celebrated in the Episcopal church next Sunday morning. A sermon preparatory to that event will be delivered at the Litany service on Friday evening.
- We learn that the wedding of Mr. Frank M'Coy, of M'Coy & Linn's Works, to Miss Allison, of Potter's Mills, will occur at the latter place to-day. It will doubtless be a pleasant affair.
- -Lawrence L. Brown has made a large reduction in the retail selling price of anthracite coal. Call and get his figures. He guarantees best quality coal, well screened, correctly weighed and delivered promptly.
- -Would you have perpect comfort this winter, and be clothed in well-fitting, warm garments. Then, whether you be a man or a boy, step into the clothing store of J. Newman, Jr., where you can get
- what you want. -The Reformed church, of this place have secured the ministerial services of Rev. J. F. DaLong, of Williamsport. The reverend gentleman is expected to be here and preach his initiatory sermon on the first Sunday in December.

- -A few gentlemen from Centre county are traveling through the southern counties of the State. "Dannar," one of their number, writes us a letter, which is published on our 4th page, and will, we think, be found readable.
- -Just now the weather is quite change able-one day warm and the next cold. But it is as necessary to be clothed in warm garments now as it is in mid-winter and J. Newman, Jr.'s Eagle Clothing Hall is the place to buy them.
- -Best calicoets 5 cents per yard, at Lyon & Co's.
- -Mr. George Homan, formerly of Aaronsburg, died at the home of his children in Ferguson township, on Friday, the 17th instant. He was one of the oldest citizens of this county. At the time of his death he is said to have been over ninety years of age.
- -Mr. Walter Graham, an esteemed citizen of Milroy, died one day last week from the effects of a cancer. He was the father of Mrs. J. B. Butts, of this place. He was an intelligent, pleasant and respectable gentleman, whose death will be very seriously felt.
- -The biggest lot of entire new clothing, at Lyon & Co's.
- -Rev. William Laurie, pastor of the Presbyterian church, was in attendance on the Synod of Harrisburg which met in Williamsport last week, continuing over Sunday. In his absence, no services were held in the Presbyterian church, this place, last Sabbath.
- -Hurrah, boys! to-morrow night is All Hallow'een. See that you are supplied with corn and jack-o-lanterns. Pater familias, however, will do well to see that all his cabbage is taken in, that his stable door is well secured, and that the front gate cannot be lifted off its hinges.
- -Canton flannels, 6 cents per yard, at Lyon & Co's.
- -We would like to know what Belleonte clergyman it was who said that "notwithstanding the hard times, the wages of sin have not been cut down one iota." The Lock Haven Republican heard of the remark, and replies that "this is very true, but there is a great deal more work for the better. money than there used to be.'
- -The "Bellefonte Jubilee Singers" give a concert for the benefit of the Presbyterian church of Zion, at that place, on Monday evening, November 3.
- -Best muslins at 6½ cents per yard, at Lyon & Co's.
- -The Centennial Club, of this place, ecently changed their place of meeting from their former room in the Bush Arcade building to a third-story apartment in Humes' block, over the Bellefonte Library Association rooms. The subject of establishing a reading room is being discussed by them.
- -After a two weeks' sojourn among friends in the West, which was crowded with pleasant meetings and joyful greetings, our friends, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tests, returned home on Wednesday evening of last week. They were missed while away, and their friends are glad to see them home again.
- -The sad news comes to us of the death of George, a son of Mr. John Foote, of Millheim. About two weeks since he was in Mifflinburg, on a visit, and while climbing a hickory tree he fell from it, sustaining body was brought home, and interred in the Millheim cemetery.
- -The funeral of Mrs. Barnhart, widow of the late Jacob Barnhart, took place last Sunday afternoon at half-past one o'clock. She was a most excellent old lady, over -The usual monthly meeting of the eighty years of age, and for a very long Young Men's Christian Association takes time an honored member of the M. E. place next Sunday afternoon in their rooms church. The funeral services were held at at 4 o'clock. Everybody is invited to be the residence of the deseased in Spring township, and were largely attended.
 - -A splendid boy's suit at $3.25 at Lyon
 - -Some one in search of household goods entered the vacant parsonage of the Reformed church, this place, last Thursday or Friday night, and took part of the furniture remaining in the house, the property of the former pastor, Rev. H. King. The robber or robbers attempted to take a mattress, but were unable to force it through the window. In this position it attracted the attention of passers-by on the following morning.
 - -An immense stock of new goods at Lyon & Co's. -The Harrisburg Patriot, in a notice of - the late Brady celebration at Muncy, pays the following handsome tribute to our fellow townsman, Hon. John B. Linn, the orator of the occasion: "Hon. John B. Linn, ex-secretary of the commonwealth, was the orator of the day at the unveiling of the beautiful monument to Captain John Brady at Muncy last Wednesday. The town was ablaze with enthusiasm, and the ceremonies witnessed by a tremendous crowd. Mr. Linn's address, which has since been published, is prepared in that scholarly style which characterizes all of that gentleman's literary work,

- -Mr. Patrick Dooley, whose residence on upper High street was consumed by fire, a few months ago, is rebuilding.
- -Monte Ward, who has won for him self glory in the base ball line, made a "short but sweet" visit to this place last week, departing on Monday.
- -Dr. Mingle and Mr. George Ulrich, of Millheim, called at the DEMOCRAT office yesterday morning. They are pleasant gentleman, and we are always glad to meet them
- -A few of our merchants are rejoicing over largely increased trade, as a result of honest dealing and judicious advertising Prominent among them is the reliable grocery firm of S. A: Brew & Son.
- -A large funeral took place from one of the houses in Bush's Row, near the planing mill, last Sunday afternoon, at was fine. The relatives of the contracting planing mill, last Sunday afternoon, at three o'clock. Upon inquiry, we learn it party, including many from a distance, was that of Mrs. Row, a very estimable lady, whose son is employed at Valentines' Forges.
- -"Steadfast in Christ," is the subject approach of the wedding party, and soon for consideration next Friday evening at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. The lesson is found in Romans 8:38, 39, and Mr. James Montgomery, of Mann's Axe Works, is the leader
- Aleck Knoll made a wonderful escape from death. He tell from a 4-ton load of ore directly in front of the wagon. Most fortunately, a chain broke, stopping the wagon, and allowing friend K. to escape with a few bruises.
- -We have understood that some trouble existed recently in the public schools of Milesburg, because of difference in opinion between the teachers and directors in regard to salaries. Of the extent of the difficulty and what measures have been employed to remedy it we are not informed.
- -We regret to dearn that our townsman C. M. Bower, Esq., of the well-known law firm of Alexander & Bower, has been confined to hishouse with a severe attack of that painful nerve disease called neuralgia. We sympathise with our neighbor in his sufferings and trust he will soon be
- -Mrs. W. M. Holmes, of this place, is at present entertaining her soldier brother. Capt. Evan Miles, who with his wife is visiting her. After a long experience in fighting the Indians, Capt. M. has been given a ten months' leave of absence, and will favor his relatives in the East with a visit all around.
- -Charles T. Huston, Esq., a prominent Democrat, who has been largely engaged in journalistic work, is now employed on the editorial department of the Williamsport Daily Banner. He is an able and experienced writer, and the Banner will doubtless prosper under his manage-
- -If we mistake not, J. Spencer Ogden wrote a number of locals for the last issue of the Republican. In this, as in everything else, he shows himself to be a very intelligent young gentleman, and we take pleasure in recommending him to the approving smiles of all young ladies who would like a beau with plenty of brains.
- -Parents, before purchasing school books for their children just commencing school, should call at John C. Miller & Co.'s. They have the new series of books introduced throughout the county, and exserious injuries. It was hoped he would change for the old books used, or sell at inrecover, but a few days ago he died. His troduction rates-and have also all the school books used in the county, besides slates, school satchels, scholars' companion. crayons, pens, ink and all the supplies children need.
 - -The sermon of Rev. John Hewitt, of the Protestant Episcopal church, last Sunday, was on the topic of "Self-Responsibility." It was a grand theme discussed in an able manner. But where all the discourses delivered by the reverend gentleman are so superior, it is difficult to say which is his most able effort.
 - -Our talented young legal friend, George R. Rarrett., Esq., returned from Philadelphia on Monday evening. He expects to make his home in that city after the first of January next, and lately went there for the purpose of arranging for his contemplated change. We are glad to have George back in time to take a hand in the politics of the county before the election. He will fill several appointments to speak at Democratic meetings between this and next Tuesday.
 - -Gen. James Burns died at his residence in Lewistown, Pa., on Sunday evening last, of paralysis. He had been afflicted for some years. Gen. Burns was a man of remarkable energy and perseverence, and worked his way up from an humble position in life until he became a wellknown character throughout the State. He was at one time Canal Commissioner and for many years occupied a prominent place in politics. He possessed kindly im-pulses and had many warm friends.
- -Notwithstanding the late rise in prices and the fact that almost every merchantable commodity is bringing from 25 to 100 per cent. more than it did three months ago, I have determined to make a large reduction in the retail price of anthracite and was delivered with pleasing effect. It is historical in character, recounting the incidents in the career of Captain Brady, and makes most interesting reading."

- A CHIME FROM THE WEDDING BELLS. At an early hour on Thursday evening last a large and eager audience flowed in through the entrances to the Presbyterian church, and were ushered by young genlemen, chiefly remarkable for their white kids, to seats in the auditorium. Their mission was to witness the wedding ceremony between J. Wesley Gephart, Esq., and Miss Ella Hayes, all of this place. The floral decorations surrounding the altar arrested the eye after it had lingered sufficiently long on the aforesaid young gentlemen. These decorations were very pretty, chiefly white flowers peeping through a wealth of green leaves and vines, which whether by design or accident, very appropriately suggested innocency and youth. Further to the right the tops of the instruments and the heads of a very good looking occupied the front seats. The lively strains from the orchestra softening into more measured march music, announced the the procession was seen at the left entrance Durbin Grey and J. L. Spangler, Esqs., took the lead. Messrs. James Montgom ery and Ellis L. Orvis were the second in order. Then came the bride and groom, followed by Messrs. John Miller and J. -On Saturday last, at Howard, Mr. Irvin Hagerman. The bridal party were met by Rev. William Laurie, who repeated the Presbyterian wedding service in the usual form. Nothing could have been more exquisitely modest and neat than the bride's attire. It was a traveling costume made of a fashionable combination of green and old gold, her bonnet crowned with oldgold plumes. The groom's moustache was cultivated to an excessive degree, and bids fair to be the crowning effort of his life. As the wedding march resumed its gentle swell, the party wended their way out of the church. They left on the evening
 - train for New York City. Many rich presents were received by the happy pair. We learn that among them were two complete silver services, one from the groom's brother attorneys, and one from the bride's father.

- To linger upon the high character of the bride and groom, or to speak of the steem in which they are held, would be alike superfluous, in the presence of those who knew them so well. They are well mated; may happiness forever attend
- THE THOMAS-SANDERSON WEDDING .-We did not have the pleasure of witnessing the wedding ceremony between that pleasant, whole-souled young gentleman, Richard Thomas, of this place, and his beautiful and accomplished bride, Miss Emma Sanderson, of Millhall, which took place just at dusk last Thursday evening, but we earn that it was fully as pleasant an event as was expected. It requires no stretch of imagination to picture the brilliant scene which the assembly from this place and Lock Haven must have formed as they gathered in the handsome parlors. Rev L. L. Haughawout, of the Presbyterian hurch, Milihall, performed the ceremony, Miss Emma being the third sister of that family at whose wedding the reverend gentleman has had the pleasure of officiating. The presents given are described as numer ous, costly and elegant. They aggregated about one hundred separate gifts, with but ne duplicate in the collection. The happy uple went on a wedding tour to Philadelphia, New York and Boston, expecting to return early next month to take up their abode at the Bush House, where pleasant spartments are prepared for them. they live long and be happy.
- -A woman's warranted shoe, 98 cents,
- OUTTE SMART .- There must be at least ne person in Altoons who understands The King's English tolerably well if the following report from the Tribune of a onversation which took place near the depot in that city last Monday be correct :
- "Did you make the train ?" queried the the car shops."
 "I mean did you catch the train," with a
- slightly embarrassed manner.
 "Of course not; it's not infectious," was the 'cute reply
 "Well, you darned fool, did you arrive
- at the depot in time?"
 "No, you infernal idiot, I arrived in a
- 'Great heaven!" shouted the questioner, 'did you board the cars?''
 "Jumpin' Jerusalem!'' howled the smart
- man once more, "you know I don't keep a boarding house!" And the questioner turned and walked slowly away, doubtless thinking it time to master a language which afforded less scope for play on words.
- -At the reduced rates the cost of anthracite coal is equal in economy with coke or any other fuel. Call and get figures. LAWRENCE L. BROWN.
- Mr. John C. Miller, last week, was n Huntingdon, attending a reception given by his brother, on the return home of the latter with his bride, an Iowa lady. We hope that John C. and all the parties concerned, enjoyed the affair immensely-so much so, in fact, that John will soon be persuaded to assume the role which his brother bore on that occasion.
- -Discussions about the location of the next State fair have already commenced, with the chances in favor of Pittsburg. Altoons, however, will hotly contest the privilege of having it within her borders.
- -Black silks, 58 cents per yard, at

- How to Tell Any One's Age .- The following table will enable any one to tell the age of any person younger than 30 years, and affords a very amusing game until the trick is found out. To tell the person's age, ask him or her to tell you which columns of the table contain the
- course. Then add together the numbers at the top of the columns, and you will have the person's age. 10 11 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 24 25 26 27
- -Fancy alpacas, at 7 cents per yard, at Lyon & Co's.
- THE LECTURE "WHY I BECAME A CATHOLIC."-We did not hear the lecture by Mr. Cleaves, in the Court House, last Tuesday evening, but we are assured that there was a goodly audience present of all shades of faith. The gentleman spoke over two hours, covering a vast field of theology and history. For the benefit of those who may consider the subject important, we will publish next week a brief synopsis of his remarks, which he has promised to prepare. It may afford food for thought.
- -The family of Mr. John Harris rereived an unpleasant sensation one evening xious questioner.
 "No," said "smarty," "it was made in play, upset a kerosene lamp, and the oil last week. One of the children, while at igniting, blazed up in a truly frightful manner. The flames were at length suppressed after injuring the furniture and entirely ruining one of Mrs. Harris's best silk gowns.
