Local Department.

This is the last month of autumn. Three inches of snow fell Wednesday night. Best muslins 6 cents per yard, at Lyon & Co's. Penn Bigony has been on a trip to Pittsburgh. A woman's warranted shoe 98 cents, at Lyon & Co's. Mr. Philip Teats and family have removed to Altoona. The residence of Mr. A. S. Valentine has been repainted. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thomas returned last night. Splendid cashmere, all wool, at 45 cents, at Lyon & Co's. Milesburg is anxious for a steam saw mill, and J. Miles Green, Esq., says he will build it. The editor of the Watchman, in his last issue, intimates that he once attended Sabbath-school. A new floor has lately been placed in the tailoring department of Montgomery & Co's store. Handsome—the plants and flowers in the drug store of J. Walter Zeigler, on Allegheny street. The pardon of Michael Cooney, of this place, has been recommended by the Board of Pardoners. The latest stock of ladies' hats, satins, ribbons, flowers and feathers, at bottom prices, at Lyon & Co's. The handsomest and biggest stock of all-wool new dress goods, at Lyon & Co's at less than city prices. The handsomest lot of beavers, chinchillas, and a great many other stylish overcoats, at Lyon & Co's. Joseph Smith, of Milesburg, owns a three-tailed pig; but Harry Green, of this place, sells the best cigars. The new Evangelical church near Greenville, in Sugar Valley, will be dedicated, on Sunday, November 16. The best stock of boots and shoes, which we warrant the very best and at the lowest prices, at Lyon & Co's. It required eight days to fill the Penitentiary reservoir at Huntington, the capacity for which is 960,000 gallons. With one of Harry Green's cigars in your mouth and an overcoat on your back, you will be well-protected from the cold. Bishop A. W. Wayman, D. D., of the A. M. E. church, is announced to preach this evening in St. Paul's chapel, this place. The Houtz heirs gave a grand banquet at the Arlington House, Houtzdale, last Friday night, in honor of their victory in the late ejection suit. The roof of Mr. W. W. McKinney's house, at Port Matilda, was seriously damaged by fire last Saturday afternoon. The loss was covered by insurance. Mr. Ed. Garman is off on a pleasure trip to Milton, Lewisburg, Coatesville and Philadelphia. He will take in all the handsome young ladies on his route. The Library Association at Phillipsburg possesses a library of over six hundred volumes, and expects soon to add a large number of new works to its present collection. The establishment kept by Cyrus Weaver is called the "Cuban Cigar Store," and is now ornamented with a sign painted on a yellow ground and bearing that inscription. Daniel G. Bush, Esq., believes in keeping his property in good condition. Among other improvements, a fresh coat of paint has been added to the exterior of his handsome residence. Corn husking must be one of the arts which has been brought to perfection with Mr. Jared B. Kreamer, a sound Democrat of Spring Bank. He lately husked 121 bushels in eleven hours. Both bones in the fore part of one of Master Elmer Mallory's arms were broken recently, the result of a fall from a hickory tree. Elmer is the son of Tobias Mallory, Esq., who resides in Spring township. Previous to the departure of Rev. J. G. Shoemaker, of Aaronburg, to his new home in Kansas, he was presented with a handsome gold-headed cane, a testimonial of regard from the children of his Sunday-school. Lawrence L. Brown has made a large reduction in the retail selling price of anthracite coal. Call and get his figures. He guarantees best quality coal, well screened, correctly weighed and delivered promptly. Mr. Jacob Dinges, a saddler, of Centre Hall, was compelled recently to have his left arm amputated. One of the bones in his arm had been injured and was continually growing worse, which made the operation necessary. Rev. John Hewitt, rector of the Episcopal church, will depart on his trip to the West on Monday next. The usual services will be held in the church on Sunday. The reverend gentleman will be absent about three weeks. We notice that Mr. James Milliken, has been tarrying in town for the past few days. He is a handsome and intelligent gentleman, and adds honor and position to any town in which he makes his residence.

A good boy's suit $3.25, at Lyon & Co's. The present moon will soon be no more. It has been up all night for some time, and will reach its last quarter tomorrow night, when it will retire for the present as a nightly visitor. A letter was received by the Council on Monday night, from G. W. Rogers, the former engineer at the water works, and also a paper numerously signed by citizens petitioning that Mr. Rogers be reinstated in his former position. These were referred to the Water Committee. Hurrah! 40,000 for Lindsey! 40,000 for Lindsey! yelled an individual yesterday morning. "What's the matter with you," said another; "Lindsey wasn't elected for anything." "Yes he was," said the first; "he was elected to stay at home, and sell 40,000 of his excellent cigars each day." A good child's suit at $1.90, at Lyon & Co's. A small colored boy standing on the corner of the Diamond, near the Centre County Bank, last Monday, carried two signs, each of which said that C. A. Lindsey's tobacco store, on Allegheny street, near Bishop, is the place to buy the best cigars. Those who have tried them say that it is true. Mr. J. G. Larimer, of Pleasant Gap, is aware that we fully appreciate the superior merits of cabbage in all its shapes and forms. Accordingly, last Tuesday, he left in our sanctum two magnificent heads of cabbage—so large and excellent—well, indeed we despair of finding a suitable comparison unless we say, as large as Mr. Larimer's own noble heart. Splendid cashmere a yard wide 25 cents, at Lyon & Co's. John B. Linn, Esq., is the author of a volume entitled "Annals of Buffalo Valley," a work covering 600 pages, and of great interest to the old inhabitants of Union, Centre, Lycoming, Northumberland, Snyder and Mifflin counties. Mr. Frank Chamberlin is now canvassing for the book. There are people in Clearfield who do not know a Concord grapevine from a weed, and when a lawyer at that place recently hired a man to clean up his premises for winter, that individual promptly clipped off his best grapevine and threw it away with the rest of the rubbish. A Clearfield lawyer's voice was full of ire and his eyes flashed with fire that day. The best line of hats and caps at Lyon & Co's. Services of an exceedingly interesting nature are at present being held in the Baptist church, of this place. They begin at 7 o'clock each evening. Elder Johnson, of New York State, who is conducting the services, is a pleasant talker. The aid of Christians of all and every denomination is desired for the remaining evenings of this week. Every one who will attend will be benefited. Then go, and you will receive a hearty welcome. We can record as one of the pleasant occurrences of Saturday afternoon last, a visit from Mr. Davis Sellers, of Fillmore. Mr. Sellers, we are quite sure, is one of the most pleasant gentlemen whom it has been our pleasure to meet. Aside from the fact that he is an earnest DEMOCRAT, as was his father, Balsler Sellers, Esq., before him, he is also a great reader. We hope that in future visits to town he will again call on us. The best line of shirts from 45 cents up, at Lyon & Co's. Rev. J. G. Shoemaker and family, of Aaronburg, and Mr. Isaac Kinney and family, of Hebersburg, departed on Tuesday morning of last week for Kansas. Uriah Spangler and Shem Spigelmyer, of Hebersburg, and P. B. Stover and Ambrose Vonada, of Haines township, accompanied the travelers on their long journey, merely to see the country, expecting to return soon. We learn that our enterprising citizen, D. G. Bush, Esq., is laying out twelve acres of ground, on the southern slope of Half Moon hill facing the planing mill dam, for the purpose of a vineyard. It is an elegant location for such an object. If such choice bushes as Daniel G. seems to be grew a little more numerous about Bellefonte, it might, as a town, soon be beautified with public buildings and made attractive by places of interest. A good hat 40 cents; a good cap 25 cents, at Lyon & Co's. The extensive saw mill of E. M. Sturdevant & Co., at Beaver Mills, in Rush township, which was entirely destroyed by fire a few months ago, at immense loss to its owners, is again rising, more magnificent than ever, from its ashes. It will be completed in two weeks. Six thousand dollars' worth of machinery is now being placed in the mill. This will soon again be operating like clock work, when we hope the busy wheels of industry will, in some measure, repay the owners for their recent loss. Mr. John S. Riddle and wife, who are residing in Clarion county, are at present visiting friends in Spring township, this county. Mr. Riddle is a brother of the late William Riddle, whose death occurred at Pleasant Gap a short time ago. Mr. R. now visits this county after an absence of about eleven years, and from the fact that Mr. J. G. Larimer, of Pleasant Gap, and several other equally hospitable people whom we might mention, are among the friends with whom he and his wife are visiting, we are sure that they will be most delightfully entertained while they remain within the bounds of this county.

The 8:30 train, on Monday night, did not reach this place until twenty minutes past eleven o'clock. The delay was occasioned by a wreck to a freight train on the main line. The Watchman was a little behind time last week. John Mason Duncan, an editor of the Republican, has already been succeeded by Spencer C. Ogden, who also performs his work well. The largest and best stock of good winter suits, at Lyon & Co's. The cheapest place to purchase good winter overcoats, as well as all other articles of men and boy's clothing, is at the famous store of J. Newman, Jr. All who have ever traded there can attest to this fact. Mr. J. B. Shireman, of York, Pa., was in town last week in quest of one thousand bushels of hand-picked apples. We believe that he was not successful in getting the amount required, and found it necessary to dispatch to other places for them. If you want an overcoat for $2.50, call at Lyon & Co's. Miss Flora Fox, step-daughter of our friend Mr. Teller, of the Brokerhoff House, left a few days ago for her home in the South. Her friends regret her departure, and can only be comforted with the assurance that she will return again. The Phillipsburgers will be entertained at Potter's Hall, on Friday and Saturday evenings, November 14 and 15, with grand concerts given by the Phillipsburg Cornet Band. The band intend to purchase new uniforms with the proceeds. Gingham 6 to 8 cents per yard, at Lyon & Co's. We understand that the Ladies' Foreign Missionary Society will meet tomorrow evening at the residence of Mrs. Harriet Linn, on Allegheny street, at which time a box of clothing, which the ladies have been preparing for some kind purpose, will be packed and sent to its destination. People are seen wending their way, with large baskets, from all parts of town, to a point just west of the Diamond, on Allegheny street. From this place they return with their baskets filled. An observer can easily see that the place to which they are all bound is S. A. Brew & Son's grocery store. Dr. Thomas Hayes and lady leave today for New York City, to remain away for one month. During the Doctor's absence his extensive practice will be in charge of Dr. Fairlamb. The Doctor's address, while absent, will be No. 26 West Sixteenth street, New York City. Both the Doctor and his lady are such valuable members of society, that their absence for such a long time will be regretted. A good winter suit $3.90, at Lyon & Co's. They say that J. Newman, Jr., will soon leave his present establishment, the Eagle Clothing Store, and engage in business with his brother-in-law, J. H. Bauland; therefore those who wish to take advantage of his extra bargains in the clothing line, will do well to call on him immediately. Mr. C. F. Richard has added to the attractions of his jewelry store by stationing a pretty sign before the entrance. On the sign rests a glass case which shows off his choicest goods to great advantage. In neatness, it corresponds with everything that forms a part of this famous little establishment. The largest stock of muslins, calicoes, flannels and dress goods, at Lyon & Co's. On Sunday night last, Charley, a little son of Mr. John Derstine, of this place, died, after an illness of two weeks. The little fellow was buried Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Derstine has suffered much during the past year by illness in his family, and has himself been confined to the house with rheumatism. He is entitled to sympathy. We understand that an entertainment is in course of preparation for Christmas evening which will be a fitting ending to the enjoyment of that holiday. It will be composed of home talent, and from what we have seen upon former occasions of their ability, we have no doubt that the coming entertainment will not be surpassed by any of its predecessors. The Loop church, situated in Potter township, which has recently been undergoing extensive repairs, amounting to about $1,500, was re-dedicated to the service of God on Sunday, the 26th of October. Revs. Groh, Tomlinson, Roeder, Fischer and Miller were present and assisted in the services. A debt of $300 still existed on the church, which was promptly raised. The congregation of the Loop church now have a pleasant, comfortable edifice in which to worship and are to be congratulated on their success. Best calicoes 5 1/2 cents per yard, at Lyon & Co's. One day last week, Miss Mary C. Morgan, whose father is an immensely wealthy gentleman residing at Irvington-on-the-Hudson, in New York State, was married to George S. Fullerton, of St. Louis, a relative of Mr. Hayes, the occupant of the White House. The bride is a niece of Dr. Hale, of this place, his sister being married to Mr. Morgan. The wedding was attended by many of the notables of the country.

At the reduced rates the cost of anthracite coal is equal in economy with coke or any other fuel. Call and get figures. LAWRENCE L. BROWN. The Anniversary exercises of the Young Men's Christian Association, of this place, have been definitely appointed for Sunday evening, November 16, in the Presbyterian church. The Association is compelled to alternate between the Methodist and Presbyterian churches each year, as they are the only edifices capable of containing the large audiences who attend the service. It will consist, as usual, of a union service, with instructive speeches and fine music. Further and more definite announcements will be made next week. An entertainment, consisting of an amusing and instructive lecture on "Faces, signs of Character," will be given tomorrow evening in Humes' Hall. The lecturer is Allen A. Griffith, A. M., President of Fulton College, Ill. He is highly recommended by many gentlemen of our town, and receives eulogies from the press wherever he goes. The lecture will be interesting to children and adults. Admission only 25 cents. Dr. R. L. Dartt's new residence on Allegheny street is now receiving its interior coat of plaster. In about six weeks it will be completed. All the ladies say that it is a model of convenience and neatness. The single ladies, especially, all agree that it would be a pleasure to superintend domestic duties in just such an establishment, but they shake their heads and sigh when they remember that it is too late. The lecture, "Great Deeds of Great Men," by Dr. Fowler, D. D., L. L. D., last Friday evening, attracted a fine audience to Humes' Hall. It was considered by all a rich literary treat, and its manner of delivery was excellent, though many thought the Rev. Dr. drew it a little too fine in completely ignoring George Washington and other great men of our country, and making Abraham Lincoln the greatest of the great men the world ever produced. The Doctor was pleasantly introduced by Durbill Gray, Esq., and entertained his audience for two hours. They would gladly have listened to him for another hour. The following gentlemen took advantage of the entertainment at the Brokerhoff House and placed their names on its register last Monday: W. C. Kress, W. H. Moore, J. F. Larimer, W. B. Karskaddon, F. C. Hipple, S. R. Peale, H. F. Harvey, and N. George, of Lock Haven; Peter Herdic, H. C. McCormick and D. M. Peck, of Williamsport; W. P. Mahaffey, of Howard; Samuel Saylor, Beech Creek; J. C. Condo, Indianapolis; J. L. Cohn and M. J. Thornton, of Baltimore; G. A. Cook, of Philadelphia; George C. Webb, of New York; Harry P. Blackburn, of Philadelphia; and D. W. Holt, of Phillipsburg. It has been suggested that there should be attached to the machinery at the Water Works a gauge, that would indicate the number of feet of water in the reservoir. Such an arrangement would make a certainty of having a sufficient supply of water at all times, for the engineer would have but to look at the gauge, and could be informed as to the depth of water. Another plan is suggested: A ball so arranged as to be operated by a float upon the surface of the water of the reservoir, that when the water is up to the required height, it can not be seen from, say the Diamond, but when lower than such height that it can be seen. This last suggestion will not be quite so convenient for the engineer, but citizens can see how well he is performing his duty. Notwithstanding the late rise in prices and the fact that almost every merchantable commodity is bringing from 25 to 100 per cent more than it did three months ago, I have determined to make a large reduction in the retail price of anthracite coal. At the reduced figures it is equal in economy with coke or any other fuel, and is certainly superior and much more satisfactory to handle when used for family purposes. I buy the best quality of Wilkesbarre coal and guarantee that it will be carefully screened, correctly weighed and promptly delivered. LAWRENCE L. BROWN. The magnificent oysters placed before the numerous guests present at the recent elegant social event that occurred at Potter's Mills in this county, were furnished by Yeager & Downing, of the Opera House saloon, of this place. With commendable enterprise Messrs. Y. & D. had these oysters shipped directly to Spring Mills. The luscious bivalves were thus brought with as little loss of time as possible from the rich beds of the Chesapeake to grace the table at which they were eaten. The people of Bellefonte are fortunate in having such capable caterers as Harry Yeager and George Downing. It is but just to say that at their well conducted restaurant can always be found everything to tempt the palate. Their oysters are always fresh and of the best quality, and the neatness of their tables and the cleanliness of their table furniture are proverbial. If it was not that the readers of the DEMOCRAT never drink, we might venture to say that the beer and porter sold over the counter of their saloon is always as good, if not better, than any beer or porter to be found elsewhere. Miss Lide Thomas departs today for California.

FOUR BUILDINGS BURNED LAST THURSDAY.—The strong wind which prevailed on Thursday last added to the consternation with which the cry of fire was heard about one o'clock on that day, and caused the gallant firemen and brave citizens to hasten with greater speed to the rescue of the unfortunate ones. Most unfortunately, it was discovered that the flames had originated in the roof of a house owned by Thos. R. Reynolds, Esq., situated on Logan street, east of Allegheny, one of those many eminences for which Bellefonte is peculiar, but which, because of their height, render them unpleasant situations in the event of a fire. The firemen, both companies being promptly on the ground, put forth most valiant efforts to save the house of Charles Garner, the one adjoining Mr. Reynolds', but the attempt was useless. They had a strong wind and poor hose to contend with. In this effort Thos. Newell and John Schrock distinguished themselves for bravery, remaining in the burning house until forced from it by the flames. But the flames spread on, taking in their onward course an old church building, venerable for age, and in which, in former years, the colored people of this borough have often assembled for worship. The last house burned was a small one owned by Mr. Win Montgomery, and occupied by Mrs. Holly. Across the street the flames tried vainly to go, but with the small streams which the hose would throw, with buckets of water which were deluged on the roof, in the midst of intense heat, the firemen fought back the fire. A number of firemen received painful burns as a result of their bravery. The house owned by Mr. Reynolds was occupied by two families, that of Mr. Samuel Garrett, who works at Valentine's ore mines, and a family named Bennett. Mr. Reynolds was insured with Joseph A. Rankin & Son. The occupants of the house lost all their furniture. The loss to Charles Garner, who had just moved into his house, was extremely unfortunate. He determined to have a house of his own, and had worked hard and denied himself and family many comforts during the summer to complete his little home. He had no insurance, and loses his house, his clothes and about seventy dollars' worth of furniture. Since the fire, however, he has raised about two hundred dollars, which liberal citizens have contributed, and which will go far towards repairing his loss. The house owned by Mr. Win Montgomery was insured. A white house on the eastern side of the street, owned by Mr. John P. Harris, was injured by the fire, but is insured with Joseph A. Rankin & Son. The fire was one of the most serious which has occurred in Bellefonte for a long time. A SENSIBLE SPEECH.—The meeting in the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, last Sunday afternoon, was attended by the usual number of persons. Among the many remarks made, we consider those by Gen. James A. Beaver as eminently practical and sensible. He spoke of the many children in this place who have no comfortable homes to which they can go, and that, although there are a large number of wealthy, Christian people in the town, no place has been provided to which these children can resort. As a consequence, they will seek for comfort and enjoyment in the billiard and drinking saloons. He said that the Association had endeavored to provide a place for the boys, but as the Christian people have refused to give the requisite aid, it will be necessary this winter to exclude these homeless boys from the reading room, as those who really will read and enjoy the privileges of the room cannot be interrupted by the presence and noise occasioned by the aforesaid boys. He also said that the Association was compelled to send to Harrisburg and borrow a magic lantern with which to give such children an entertainment. President Charles Cook followed, and said, among other things, that the Association has received, during the past year, the vast sum of fifty dollars from the Christian community of Bellefonte. With various other remarks of a similar nature, the meeting closed. With Sunday next commences the week of prayer to be observed by Young Men's Christian Associations throughout the civilized world. At the World's Conference, which met in Geneva, Switzerland, August 20, 1878, the second Sunday in November and the week following was appointed for this event. The International Convention at Baltimore last May also adopted this time. Services, to which everyone is invited, will be held by the Association in this place, next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and every day throughout the week, at quarter-past seven o'clock. Regular topics are assigned for each evening, for which suitable leaders from each denomination in town will be chosen. Remember, everyone is invited to attend. The list of subjects appointed for that occasion are as follows: Sunday, November 9.—"Agreement in Prayer Encouraged." Daniel: 17-23; Matthew XVIII: 19, 20. Monday, November 10.—"A Moral Young Man Weighed and Found Wanting." Mark x: 17-22. Tuesday, Nov 11.—"The Son of a Godly Father who went Astray." 2 Chronicles XXXI: 33; XXXIII: 1-33. Wednesday, November 12.—"A Man Prospered Beyond Precedent but Unsatisfied." Ecclesiastes 11: 11; John 15: 14. Thursday, November 13.—"The Secret of a Young Man's Success in Business." Genesis XXXIX: 1-6, 22, 23. Friday, November 14.—"A Highly-favored Man and his Terrible End." Matthew X: 1-4; Luke XIII: 3-6, 47, 48; Matthew XXVII: 3-5; Acts I: 16, 20. Saturday, Nov. 15.—"Opposite Choices of Two Young Men." Hebrews XI: 24-26; Genesis XIII: 10-13.

A GRAND MATRIMONIAL EVENT AT POTTER'S MILLS.—The Allison mansion, at Potter's Mills, was, on Thursday last, the scene of one of the most brilliant events which has ever taken place in this county. It was the wedding ceremony between Mr. Frank McCoy, the handsome and popular young gentleman who so successfully manages the well known iron works of M' Coy & Linn, to Miss Ella E. Allison, a lady of high social standing and wealth. Early on Thursday morning, invited friends in large numbers departed from this place to the scene of the wedding. Guests were also present from New York, Lewistown and Lancaster. At 2 o'clock P. M. the ceremony took place, Rev. Robinson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, at Potter's Mills, officiating. Messrs. William McEwen, of Philadelphia, John T. Potter and John L. Kurtz, of this place, and William M. Allison, of Potter's Mills, a brother of the bride, acted as ushers. The attire of the bride was extremely elegant, of what has been described to us as blue peacock silk, made in the latest and most elaborate style of the dressmaker's art. After the ceremony the assembled guests, over one hundred in number, responded to an invitation to sit down to one of those elegant collations of which one has the pleasure of partaking only once in half a century. Epergnes of flowers adorned the table, rich and elegant cakes prepared with the highest skill that Lancaster bakeries could employ tempted the appetite, creams in the preparation of which our friend Codars gave unusual care were served in inexhaustible quantities, and all went merrily as a marriage bell. This repast being ended, the guests fully admired the costly presents, which had been received in large numbers. Among these we would particularly mention a silver set, an ice pitcher and tray, a bronze clock and mantle ornaments, a small table the surface of which was beautifully painted by the lady donor, several cases of solid silverware, numerous pieces of Rogers' statuary and a large list of other articles. The wedding tour, on which the happy couple immediately started, will include a brief visit to Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis and other western cities. A most delightful collection of cake was sent to us, which we partook of with many kind wishes for the future happiness and prosperity of the bride and groom. THE JAIL RELIEVED OF TWO ISMATES.—Early last Sunday morning, two men succeeded in effecting their escape from confinement in that huge stone building gracing the top of High street hill, and which, in appearance, would defy the ingress or egress of any one. Harry Ringold, one of the participants in this Genesis, (though no relation of the celebrated actor of that name), was placed in duration vile some time since on suspicion of being connected in the robbery of silverware from the residence of D. G. Bush, Esq. The other hero in this affair is one Baumgardner, of Altoona, who after working for a few days at stone cutting on Mr. George Valentine's elegant new residence, achieved a temporary notoriety a few weeks ago, by trying to play the role of "Bully of Bellefonte," and, as a consequence, was transported up the hill into the regal presence of the Sheriff, where like many other ambitious actors, he has had opportunity to discover that he had mistaken his part. But he at length achieved his first success in this part of the country by his escape last Sunday morning. While the jail was undergoing repairs, during last summer, he or his companion secured an augur, which they have kept secreted ever since. They managed to bore a hole in the floor of their cell sufficiently large to admit them into the basement below. From thence they made their way through the mansion portion of the jail into the yard, and thence over the wall. It is said they stopped at a house in the rear of the jail for matches. This was about 3 o'clock A. M. On discovering that the birds had flown, a search was instituted, but thus far without success. "THE RIGHTS AND DUTIES OF COUNTY AND TOWNSHIP OFFICERS."—This is the title of a book about to be issued by W. R. Bierly, Esq., of Williamsport, and is a revision of his "Rights and Duties of Township officers," with numerous valuable additions relating to county offices. The favor with which his former publication was received insures that the coming volume will be almost indispensable to those who administer the affairs of the county or township. We quote with pleasure the following testimonials: "A book of this kind is badly needed by the local officers of the State, and we believe Mr. Bierly's compilation will be found of great service. Members of the bar commend it heartily."—Wellsboro Agitator. "A VALUABLE PUBLICATION.—We are indebted to the author for a copy of the above described publication, and take pleasure in recommending it to the large class interested in the information contained therein. As Mr. Bierly is a good lawyer and an investigating and laborious worker, we have no doubt but that the book will meet with a large sale. Hundreds of copies should be purchased in this County, as it will be found to be of great value to lawyers and township officers."—Washington, Pa., Review & Examiner. Miss Lizzie Coble, who has for a long time made her residence with the family of Dr. Hale, of this place, during which time she has won many close friends, departed last Tuesday morning for Pottsville, where she will hereafter reside. Her absence will be much felt, especially in the Methodist church and by her Sunday-school class at Valentine's Forge.
