

CORRESPONDENCE, containing important news, solicited from any part of the county. No communications inserted unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

FOUND.—A pocket-book, containing a small sum of money, was picked up on Bishop street, last Thursday. The owner can ascertain further particulars by calling on Mr. Forster, at the DEMOCRAT office.

Local Department.

Fishing rods for $2.00, at Green's. A good shoe at Lyon & Co's for $1.00. The finest trout flies in town at Green's. Lewin's working suits at $4.75 can't be beat. Big line of linen collars at Lyon & Co's, for 8 cents. A splendid button shoe at Lyon & Co's, for $1.25. The season for trout fishing commences to-day. Pants from $1.00 upward at the Philadelphia Branch. Big lot of children's suits at Lyon & Co's, from $2.00 up. A musical convention was held at Penn Hall last week. Three and four button kid gloves from 38 cents up, at Lyon & Co's. Fine stiff hats, the latest style, at Lewin's Philadelphia Branch. The finest stock of ladies' French kid button boots, at Lyon & Co's. Any kind of an old wigner repaired at H. K. Hicks' hardware store. For fine neckwear, go to Lewin's Philadelphia Branch, Bellefonte. The Spring term of Spring Mills Academy opens on Monday, April 12. The finest line of Hamburg, Nansook and Swiss embroidery, at Lyon & Co's. The evening service at the Episcopal church will hereafter commence at 7 1/2 o'clock. Call on F. Potts Green, and he will tell you how Days Kindy Pad was discovered. To-morrow brings only the second day of the month, but it brings the last quarter of the moon. If you are troubled with disease of the kidneys ask Daniel Derr about "Day's Kidney Pad." It always requires the superlative degree to express the fine quality of Harry Green's cigars. The Star Literary Society, of Spring Mills, will give their second public entertainment this evening. Mr. Wilson's new confectionery store in the Brokerhoff House block is a delightful little establishment. Mr. M. S. Graham, the Allegheny St. barber, has been making some improvements about his establishment. Baskets, leaders, hooks, bait boxes, rods, fly hooks, lines and all material for trout or bass fishing at Green's. Rev. Wm. Laurie preached in the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning and Rev. J. F. Delong in the evening. As is usual in the Episcopal church, a meeting was held on the evening of Easter Monday for the election of vestrymen. Fine cheyiot suits are sold at Lewin's Philadelphia Branch, for less than at any other store in Bellefonte. Give him a call. Gentlemen, lay in a supply of Harry Green's choice cigars to treat your friends with when they tender you a social or business call. Attend the usual public meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association, to be held in their rooms next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. If you need any fishing material call at Green's drug store. Being a practical fly fisher, Frank understands what material fishermen need. Mr. Thomas Reynolds has had the iron fence in front of his residence and also the ornamental work about the front stoop painted a lovely shade of green. The Oliver Plow Works manufacture from seventy-five to one hundred thousand plows per year. Mr. John Rishel is agent for the company in this vicinity. Miss Teresta Lanich and Mr. Willis Eisenhub, of Millheim, are each announced to conduct select schools in that place during the coming summer. Ladies, the prettiest decorated flower pots, yard and hanging vases, at the lowest prices, will be at H. K. Hick's hardware store in a few days. Call and see them. An auction sale of $5,000 worth of gold and silver watches and other valuable articles is now being held nightly at H. Y. Stitzer's Book Store. Miss Jennie Lukenbach and Master Joseph E. Chambers, two little folks attending the Millheim Primary School, were present each day during the school month ending March 23. Mr. and Mrs. George Bright, of Aaronsburg, are off on a visiting tour. They are now bringing their brightness upon Rev. J. A. Bright and the other inhabitants of Jersey Shore. Rev. E. W. Wanner, the new pastor of the Pleasant Gap M. E. church, preached his first sermon to his present congregation on Sunday. His auditors were much pleased with his remarks. We understand that Mr. John D. Foote, of Millheim, who was obliged to submit to the amputation of one of his limbs last week, is doing remarkably well. We trust he will speedily recover from the severe operation, and that it will result in prolonging his life many years.

The early Tuesday morning train met with a mishap while at Milesburg before reaching this place. One passenger car broke down, which it was found necessary to leave behind, while the remaining car brought the passengers to this place and carried them back again. Fishing rods for $5.00 at Green's. The farmers did not become very enthusiastic over the opening of the curbstone market last week and but few attended. It will be continued, however, and all who desire to attend can have an opportunity to do so. Fishing rods for $2.50 at Green's. Clement Dale, John L. Potter and E. M. Blanchard, Esq's, compose a high commission appointed for the purpose of dividing Gregg township into two election districts. They meet to-morrow at Spring Mills, at 1 o'clock p. m., to attend to their duties. New Languedoc laces, at Lyon & Co's. We learn that Prof. Philippi, the well-known aeronaut of this place, who removed to Reading, has been engaged to travel with Adam Forepaugh's menagerie during the coming summer. He will make frequent ascensions in his large air ship "Republic." A fine lace shoe at Lyon & Co's, for $1.25. The Addisonians gathered in larger numbers than usual last Saturday evening, and listened to a variety of pleasant exercises. The Club journal, which its editors, Messrs. Orison and Orvis, called "The Gossip," was replete with wit, and was the source of much merriment. The Club will meet as usual on Saturday evening next. A good hat at Lyon & Co's, for 35 cents. Mr. Hiram Hoffer paid a final adieu to this place on Monday last by moving his family and furniture to Tyrone, his present place of business. We hope and confidently expect, however, that Hiram will often re-visit Bellefonte, where he has so many friends and is held in so much esteem. Just opened a big line of broche border ribbons, at Lyon & Co's. Now that the winds of March are over and it is the season for the soft showers of April to fall, it would be a wise movement for all the inhabitants of this county to fall into line and march to Sechler's grocery store. He and his efficient clerks will welcome all who call, and sell them for cash some of the best groceries ever brought to this place. A big line of flowers for belts and neck wear, at Lyon & Co's. Rev. J. Donahue, the new pastor of the M. E. church, brought with him sixty-one hundred weight of furniture. The difficulty now will be to find a place in which to put it. Rev. Yocum, the retiring pastor, had but twenty-one hundred weight, and it was sufficient to well fill the parsonage. His congregation are hunting him another house. We notice that John B. Linn, Esq., has removed his law office from the Brokerhoff House to Humes' building on Allegheny street, where he will occupy a room with Justice Rankin, on the second floor. W. A. Morrison, Esq., is about leaving his present office to enter the one occupied by John Potter, Esq., further up High Street. M. A. McKee, Esq., will occupy the office vacated by Mr. Morrison. Messrs. John Ludwig & Sons, who for a number of years past have successfully run the woolen factory at Houserville, in this county, have recently become the purchasers of a large and complete establishment of the same kind at Ebensburg, Cambria county. One of the sons has already gone to Ebensburg to take charge of the factory at that place, and he has the good wishes of the community in which he was raised for his success. The father and one of the other sons will still remain at the Houserville factory. The numerous customers of that old, reliable and popular merchant, Mr. David M. Wagner, will hereafter find him in the room formerly occupied by Mr. Hoffer, adjoining the one in which he has heretofore done business, in Reynolds' building, on Allegheny street. He invites the continued patronage of his friends, and will endeavor to treat them as well in his new place, as he flatters himself he has ever done at his old stand. Remember, one door below the old place. A social event of some importance occurred on Thursday night of last week at the residence of Mr. Harry Hicks, on Linn street. Sixty or seventy of our more socially inclined citizens thought to surprise Mr. H. and lady by calling upon them in a body and spending an hour or two in their company. The fact that the party for whom the surprise was intended learned of and made slight preparations for the event beforehand, however, did not diminish the enjoyment. Music, dancing and delightful intercourse made the hours pass swiftly. The gas house belonging to the Pennsylvania railroad company, at Altoona, was blown to pieces on Tuesday evening last, and its five occupants, three of whom were from Harrisburg, considerably injured. One of the employees noticed that gas was escaping and applied a match to the pipes, when the room was immediately filled with flames. The gas tanks in the building exploded, ripping up the floor and throwing the men in all directions. We believe, however, that the result was not fatal to any of them.

If the appointment announced in the Phillipsburg Journal was carried out, Rev. Richard C. Crittenden preached in the Presbyterian church of that place last Sunday night. Brew & Son, the grocers on Allegheny street, are among the most enterprising business men of Bellefonte. They take particular pains always to keep on hand a choice stock of all that is new in their line. Hams, dried fruits, coffee, tea, spices, &c., can be purchased there at all times. Their stock of confectionery is also very superior. When you want anything good to eat call at Brown's restaurant and saloon. You will also always find fresh beer and ale on draft, and a bar supplied with the choicest liquors. The boys are pleasant and obliging and will be certain to entertain you in the best possible manner. Do not forget the place, and be certain to give them a call. The "Centre Hall Coterie," an organization for literary purposes, under the leadership of Prof. H. F. Bitner, meets on Friday evenings, and opens its doors to the public at every fourth meeting. The last public session was held on Friday evening, March 19. The audience was large and enthusiastic, and the exercises of a high and interesting character. The ball given on Monday night by Messrs. Sourbeck and Smith was as jolly as such occurrences usually are. There was a large and lively crowd present, who tripped the light fantastic and "flirted" with one another until the dawn of Tuesday morning. Those who attended are anxious for another ball like the one of last Monday night, and more of it. Mr. J. Henry Keller, living on the farm at the top of Nittany Mountain, has exchanged his farm for the one formerly owned by Mr. Peter Hoffer, near Centre Hall. The former property is valued at $10,000 and the latter at $18,000. Mr. Hoffer will hereafter be the resident of Nittany's lofty peak and will receive all piteers who may go in that direction. Among the visitors to Bellefonte this week we noticed Dr. F. H. Vanvalzah, and Mr. John F. Heckman, both of Gregg township. The Doctor is a relative, and of him we can say nothing, but of the other gentleman we may speak without reserve. He is one of the most intelligent and prosperous of Gregg township farmers and it always does us good to meet him. Mrs. Florence Wallace Hamilton, wife of Dr. Hugh Hamilton, died at the residence of her husband in Harrisburg on Thursday last. She was a most estimable lady, much esteemed by her acquaintances, and devotedly cherished by her husband and little ones, as well as by a large circle of relations. Dr. Hamilton has many friends and acquaintances in this county, who most sincerely sympathize with him in his great bereavement. We notice that John B. Linn, Esq., has removed his law office from the Brokerhoff House to Humes' building on Allegheny street, where he will occupy a room with Justice Rankin, on the second floor. W. A. Morrison, Esq., is about leaving his present office to enter the one occupied by John Potter, Esq., further up High Street. M. A. McKee, Esq., will occupy the office vacated by Mr. Morrison. Messrs. John Ludwig & Sons, who for a number of years past have successfully run the woolen factory at Houserville, in this county, have recently become the purchasers of a large and complete establishment of the same kind at Ebensburg, Cambria county. One of the sons has already gone to Ebensburg to take charge of the factory at that place, and he has the good wishes of the community in which he was raised for his success. The father and one of the other sons will still remain at the Houserville factory. The numerous customers of that old, reliable and popular merchant, Mr. David M. Wagner, will hereafter find him in the room formerly occupied by Mr. Hoffer, adjoining the one in which he has heretofore done business, in Reynolds' building, on Allegheny street. He invites the continued patronage of his friends, and will endeavor to treat them as well in his new place, as he flatters himself he has ever done at his old stand. Remember, one door below the old place. A social event of some importance occurred on Thursday night of last week at the residence of Mr. Harry Hicks, on Linn street. Sixty or seventy of our more socially inclined citizens thought to surprise Mr. H. and lady by calling upon them in a body and spending an hour or two in their company. The fact that the party for whom the surprise was intended learned of and made slight preparations for the event beforehand, however, did not diminish the enjoyment. Music, dancing and delightful intercourse made the hours pass swiftly. The gas house belonging to the Pennsylvania railroad company, at Altoona, was blown to pieces on Tuesday evening last, and its five occupants, three of whom were from Harrisburg, considerably injured. One of the employees noticed that gas was escaping and applied a match to the pipes, when the room was immediately filled with flames. The gas tanks in the building exploded, ripping up the floor and throwing the men in all directions. We believe, however, that the result was not fatal to any of them.

EASTER SERVICES.—The services in the Episcopal church, this place, on Sunday last were even more interesting than usual. Several potted calla lilies adorned the chancel while three exquisite floral crosses were placed on the altar. The choir had numerous accessions, and was composed as follows: The Misses Morgan, Miss Constance Richards, Miss Mary Bradley, Miss Maggie Bayard, Miss Mary Gephart, Miss Carrie Vosburg, Mr. Charles Richards, Mr. Charles Smith, Mr. W. H. Wilkinson, Mr. R. H. Robb and Mr. Win. Montgomery—Miss Clare at the organ. During the morning service, the Rector expressed his thanks for a new robe he had received from several members of his congregation as an Easter offering. His sermon on the "Resurrection" was beautiful in sentiment, language and illustration. The evening service was entirely choral, except the "Lessons" and prayers, even including the "Amen" responses and the Apostles' Creed. The learned Rector includes a sweet, melodious voice and a perfect knowledge of music among his varied accomplishments, and sang his part of the service with fine effect. The auditorium of the church was crowded during the evening service. CONCERT AT MILESBURO.—The grand musical entertainment in the Milesburg Presbyterian church on Friday evening last was received with infinite relish by the large audience in attendance. To Mr. L. T. Eddy, of McCoy & Linn's works, who was the instigator and prime mover of the affair, as of all the other concerts given under the same auspices, much credit is due. But the perfection and spirit in which the fine anthems, glees, duos and solos were rendered reflects the highest credit upon him and all connected with this delightful little series of musical rehearsals. Believing that there is a mysterious perfection existing in the number three, the management announced that the third concert given last Friday night would be the concluding one of the season. The pleasing adage that the "third is always the charm" applies exactly to these concerts, and the audience were more delighted with the last than with any of those preceding it. ANOTHER GLASS BALL CONTEST.—The five gentlemen who decided to again try their skill at breaking glass balls chose the lovely afternoon of last Friday and, as usual, the Fair ground for the scene of their latest contest. As will be seen, fortune does not always favor the same person, and the fine score of Mr. W. H. Wilkinson at the contest on the preceding Saturday was excelled on this occasion by both Messrs. Harry Hale and Theodore Deschner. Indeed, Mr. Hale may be said to have performed his part perfectly as even Bogardus could not have presented a better "string" at the same distance. He can afford now, should he so desire, to retire on his laurels. Two rounds resulted in the following score: Hale, Harry.....111111111111-10 Malin, W. L.....91011101110-9 Deschner, Theo.....111111111111-10 Wilkinson, W. H.....01101111101-7 Foster.....011110109111-6 Hale, Harry.....111111111111-10 Malin, W. L.....11001111110-7 Deschner, Theo.....11011111111-7 Wilkinson, W. H.....11011110111-7 Foster.....11010010101-4 DEATH OF MR. JAMES SOMMERVILLE, SR.—A very large circle of relatives and friends, both in Snow Shoe and in this place, received with much sorrow the news of the decease of Mr. James Sommerville, which occurred at his home in the former place on Friday morning last. He died, we believe, of pneumonia. The funeral services over his remains were held in this place on Monday morning. A very large delegation of citizens from Snow Shoe and employes from the mines with which the deceased was connected were in attendance. Mr. Sommerville was 71 years of age. He was an eminently respectable and much esteemed gentleman, and father of Mrs. James Potter, of this place. ONLY A STRAW.—Nineteen Democratic voters of Worth township recently decided to express their preferences for a Democratic candidate for President. They included the following gentlemen as possible candidates for that office: Samuel J. Tilden, of New York; Thomas A. Hendricks, of Indiana; W. S. Hancock, of Pennsylvania; Thomas A. Bayard, of Delaware; A. G. Thurman, of Ohio; Horatio Seymour, of New York; Geo. B. McClellan, of New Jersey; Hugh J. Jewett, of New Jersey. Of these, General Hancock received 17 votes, Gen. McClellan 1 and Mr. Jewett 1. This shows a decided sentiment in that part of Centre county in favor of our gallant Pennsylvanian. TURNPIKE NEWS.—The stockholders of the Old Fort, Aaronsburg and Youngmanstown turnpike held their annual meeting on a recent date, electing the following officers: President—William Fitchthorn. Secretary—William Fitchthorn. John Stover, Adam Weaver, John Frederick and Samuel Smith. Mr. Samuel Simonon was continued collector of the eastern gate. Persons were observed yesterday sprinkling the streets in front of their residences. It seems early to commence this work. Anything that breaks about the South Bend Chilled Plow, with fair usage, I will replace free of charge. H. K. Hicks. March departed as quietly and as innocently as this year's lamb.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES.—Five hundred pupils have been in attendance at the Bellefonte Public Schools during the past winter. The schools will close in about four weeks. Miss Schrum's department of the schools is composed of bright little boys and girls. It is in the same apartment on the south side of the building occupied last year by Miss McGinley. Her pupils can repeat the Multiplication table with as much ease as if they had been studying it for fifty years. Her room seems to be altogether too much crowded for convenience, yet she succeeds in maintaining excellent discipline. Mental Arithmetic is now taught in the schools in the same manner as of yore. Miss Lizzie Campbell and Miss Bella Rankin each have classes in this branch, the latter a little more advanced than the former. The usual custom is for the teacher to read the question and assign it to any member of the class she chooses. After the pupil has repeated the question, the teacher will sometimes require the one to whom it is assigned to give the solution of it to a classmate. This course demands the constant attention of all the class. There are many bright pupils in both Miss Campbell's and Miss Rankin's School. Several years ago charts in reading exercises were not so much used as at present. They are printed in large type and hung in a conspicuous place. From them the pupils can read in concert the simple selections printed thereon, or, at the teacher's pleasure, a single pupil may be assigned the task of reading them. Mrs. Annie McAffery frequently makes use of this method in giving her young pupils drills in the art of reading. She is careful thus early to teach them the use of the "period," "comma" and other "points" used in reading. They show excellent progress. The pupils in Miss Molly Nesbitt's room are well advanced in the third reader, and have attained that age when children usually take pride in performing their duties well. Their manners and behavior are quite excellent. Under Miss N's careful supervision they are making great advance in their studies, and are receiving instructions which will prove invaluable. The school room over which Mr. Wetzel is the presiding genius contains many bright and studious young ladies and gentlemen. Thoroughness, not the number of branches taught, seems to be the principal aim of the instructor. The pupils give evidence that the past year has been one of great application. He has charge of many of the higher classes and shows much ability. Miss Rose Woods has a most charming school of girls and boys, who have the profoundest respect for their teacher. If a fault may be found with her scholars it is that they are inclined to too much studiousness, and she has difficulty in inducing them to take the necessary recreation during recess. Nothing could be more perfect than the manner in which her class in Mental Arithmetic recite. She sometimes reads aloud to them, but once, the most intricate problems, when any member of the class will rise, repeat the problem and give its solution in the minutest details. What may be said of the class in Mental Arithmetic is true of all the branches in her charge. One of the largest as well as the best schools in the building is that under the control of Miss Nannie McGinley. They are all exceeding bright boys and girls, and have progressed rapidly during the past year. These pupils are now engaged in fractions, one of the most puzzling portions of Written Arithmetic, in which, from present appearances, they will be quite proficient before the schools close. They maintain good order. Although all the branches receive due attention, the history of our country seems now to occupy much of the time of those under the care of Mr. J. M. Duncan. This by him is clothed with a beauty and interest unknown to many schools. He does not confine the scholars within the boundary of a single text book, but, draining deep from the wisdom of the best authors on the topic which may be under consideration, he gives his scholars the benefit of his researches. The note book supplants the text book in the hands of the scholar, who thus compiles for himself or herself a complete epitome of history. Blackboards and many-colored crayons are utilized to bring before the scholar the plots of great battles, the locations of cities, towns, rivers, mountains and railroads. Thus are the scholars carried, so far as the appliances at hand permit, into the very midst of the excitement of past events, and themselves become actors in the drama of two hundred years presented in colonial history and in the Revolution and Rebellion. A surveillance over all the schools is entrusted to the Principal, Mr. David Lieb, and to him their high standard is largely due. He often relieves the teachers and gives fresh impetus and interest to work by taking personal charge of some of the advanced classes. His pleasant presence and kind words are welcomed by all the teachers and scholars. The course of study is not as comprehensive as he would like, but it is the best that can be done with the present limited number of instructors and large number of scholars. All the schools show such wonderful progress and the department of the scholars is so exceptionally good, that the school board can not do better than to employ this same corps of teachers for another year should they consent to accept the positions.

TRIAL LIST FOR APRIL COURT.—The following trials have been appointed for the April term of Court, commencing Monday April 26. FIRST WEEK. R. F. Crow, use of vs. Derby Coal Co. of Pa. William Wolf vs. William S. Long & Co. Bird Coal and Iron Co. vs. W. M. Holmes. Poole, Alex. & Bower vs. Smith & Co. H. E. Getzel, et al. vs. Anna Lowery. Hoffer & Kline vs. J. C. Zimmerman. J. H. Orndorfer vs. J. P. Zimmerman. Yocum & Hastings vs. J. C. Zimmerman. O. C. Harvey & Bro. vs. Liveright, Ling & Co. Fortney vs. J. C. Zimmerman. Hoffer & Kline vs. R. W. Snook & Co. J. S. Brabin vs. J. C. Brabin. Fort. Keller vs. Fort. Beaver & Gephart. I. Guggenheimer vs. Joseph Bitter's Ex'rs. Spangler vs. John Spangler. Lydia Miller vs. John Spangler. Linn vs. John Spangler. John Mills vs. J. L. Neff. Kelchline vs. John Campbell. Lyon & Co. vs. Yocum & Hastings. Fort. Keller vs. J. R. Williams, et al. Alexander & Bower vs. J. R. Williams, et al. James Rowen vs. Joseph Edging. Fort. Keller vs. Beaver & Gephart. William Beckwith, et al. vs. Joseph Hoffer & Co. H. Smoyer vs. John Cunny. Spangler vs. Alexander & Bower. SECOND WEEK. Jerry Tolan, et al. vs. Philip Teate. Hippie, Alex. & Bower vs. Yocum & Hastings. Jerry Tolan, et al. vs. M. Strouss & Co. Hippie, Alex. & Bower vs. Yocum & Hastings. C. T. Alexander, et al. vs. J. R. DeHann, et al. Spangler vs. Beaver & Gephart. J. C. Williams, use of vs. I. Mitchell, Ex'rs. E. A. E. Blanchard vs. Alexander & Bower. Abram Crain vs. H. M. Meek. Spangler vs. Alexander & Bower. W. O. Mulholland vs. R. Mulholland. Hinkle vs. Alexander & Bower. John Kern vs. Robert Sankay, Ex'rs. Fort. Keller vs. Alexander & Bower. D. Keller vs. S. H. Stover vs. Fort. Keller vs. Thomas Bower. Peter Rider vs. Alexander & Bower. John Hoy vs. John Geringer. Fort. Keller vs. Alexander & Bower. Meichor Bierley vs. Joseph Bierley. H. E. Tibbens vs. Alexander & Bower. D. G. Bush, et al. vs. Brooker & Sons. Yocum & Hastings vs. Alexander & Bower. John Hoy vs. Harper Bros. Fort. Keller vs. Alexander & Bower. John Hoy vs. John Geringer. Fort. Keller vs. Alexander & Bower. Daniel Derr vs. Charles McAffery. R. K. Schmitt vs. E. C. Carr, ad'rs. Farmer Mutual Ins. Co. vs. D. C. Geringer. Keller vs. Yocum & Hastings. Mary Ann Hoy vs. John Geringer. Fort. Keller vs. Alexander & Bower. J. E. Tibbens vs. Overseers of Snow Shoe Spangler vs. Beaver & Gephart. John Hoy vs. John Geringer. Fort. Keller vs. Alexander & Bower. William Edging vs. Joseph Edging. Fort. Keller vs. Alexander & Bower. Ira C. Leathers vs. D. E. Leathers. Fortney vs. Yocum & Hastings. T. M. Hall, et al. ad'rs. vs. E. C. Carr, ad'rs. Strizer & Magee vs. Hina. Valentine Rose vs. Hoy, Bower & Gephart. Jones, Mull & Co. vs. John S. Gray, et al. Beaver & Gephart vs. John Spangler. S. Baum vs. John Spangler. Alexander & Bower vs. Spangler, Alex. & Bower. Abram Baum vs. John Spangler. Alexander & Bower vs. Spangler, Alex. & Bower. Millburn, Wayne & Co. vs. Daniel McBride. Fort. Keller vs. Alexander & Bower. Ellis L. Orris vs. Jno. Neidhardt. Spangler vs. Fort. Keller vs. Alexander & Bower. FOR TROUT FISHERS.—The season for catching these speckled beauties commences to-day and continues until August 1, after which the fisher may be fined $10 for each fish caught. It is made illegal to catch speckled trout save only by rod, hook and line, at any time, or to place any set lines or snares across any stream inhabited by them under penalty of $25. No person shall kill, sell, or have in possession after being killed, salmon or speckled trout, save only from the 1st of April to the 1st of August, under penalty of $10 for each fish. BARGAINS AT POWERS & SON'S.—If you want what is called a cheap ladies' shoe you can get them at Powers & Son's. The best ladies' shoe in Bellefonte for 30 cents at Powers & Son's. The best ladies' button shoe for $1.15 at Powers & Son's. A fine ladies' dress shoe for $1.10 at Powers & Son's. These are all the best quality of Indian goat or sheep skin, and part shoddy. The question is often asked: Why can the Philadelphia Branch sell cheaper than other stores? We will cheerfully answer: First, they are manufacturers; second, they buy their goods by call; third, they charge a very small advance on first cost. Go there and convince yourself. If you desire to be economical, buy your clothing and furnishing goods from Lewin at the Philadelphia Branch. You can surely save 25 per cent by purchasing of him. The Philadelphia Branch is the place. MONDAY, JANUARY 5, 1880.—Our stock of woollens for the spring and summer season of 1880 just received. Leave your order now. Respectfully, MONTGOMERY & CO., Tailors. BELLEFONTE, March 5, 1880. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bellefonte Library Association will be held at their rooms on Monday, April 5, 1880, at 7 1/2 p. m., for the purpose of electing a Board of Managers for the ensuing year and for any other business that may come before them. JACOB V. THOMAS, Sec. MARRIAGES. FAUST-KROUSE.—At the residence of Mrs. John Bower, Stonerstown, Bedford County, Pa., on March 25, by Rev. J. David Miller, Mr. Henry H. Faust, of Bellefonte, to Mrs. Pauline I. Krouse, of Saxton, Pa. RAMSEY-SCHULTZ.—At Oak Hall, by Rev. Robert Hamill, D. D., on Thursday, the 18th of March, Mr. Charles C. Ramsey, of Siglerville, Mills county, and Miss Elizabeth A. Schultz, of Union township, and Miss Elizabeth A. Schultz, of Union township. CALHOUN-SHIRK.—At the house of the bride's mother in Union township, on the 18th of March, by Rev. J. R. Shaver, Mr. Harrison Calhoun, of Unionville, and Miss Clara E. Shirk, of Union township. KRAMER-SHIRK.—March 19th, at the residence of R. L. Shirk, in Milesburg, by the Rev. W. A. Ridge, Mr. Wm. Cookman Kramer and Miss Lisa May Shirk, all of Milesburg. GUNSLER-SMITH.—On the 10th of March, by Rev. W. H. Grob, Mr. Robert I. Gunsliter and Miss Clara E. Smith, both of Realsburg. DEATHS. HESS.—On the 14th of March, near Woodport, Mrs. Margaret Beboeca, wife of Henry Hess, deceased aged 80 years, 7 months and 6 days. TRESHER.—On March the 17th, near Centre Hall, of paralysis, Mr. James I. Tresher, aged 42 years, 6 months and 1 day.