-John Anderson treats the patrons of his excellent saloon to trout lunches. On Monday evening and Tuesday morning the speckled beauties were dealt out with a liberal hand, and John had many customers to partake of them.

-It is said that A. O. Furst, Esq., and Mr. F. W. Crider, spent Monday last in angling for trout in Wallace Run. The day will doubtless be known in the annals of the future flabby inhabitants of that stream as the "Slaughter of the Innocents."

-A correspondent of the Morning News records the wedding of Miss Laura Stover, of Unionville, and Mr. Brinker, of Bonisburg. The exact date of the happy event is not mentioned, but it was doubtless attended by all the joy which accompanies the union of two loving hearts which beat as one.

-Mr. William Pealer, of Penn Hall, called at the DEMOCRAT office on Tuesday afternoon. He was on his way to the West and expects during his absence to visit portions of Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois, and will be away about six weeks. We hope he may have a pleasant journey and a safe return.

-Miss Kate Curtin assisted the choir in the Episcopal church, this place, on Sunday. The training of the past winter has rendered her voice more magnificent than ever. She will be a very valuable acquisition to the musical force of our town during the coming summer.

-The recent fires in the mountains have been very destructive. We learn that at Curtin's coal job, on Bullett's run, from 1500 to 1800 cords of wood were burned. On Wallace run Taylor Irvin had about 600 cords burned. James Lucas, we also understand, has lost from 200 to 300 cords.

-Lyon & Co. sell the best goods in Bellefonte.

-Next Sabbath is Whit Sunday, considered one of the most important days in the ecclesiastical year by those churches which see fit to observe the important events in the history of the early church. It commemorates the descent of the Holy Spirit upon the Apostles who were gathered at Jerusalem.

-For your lawns and summer dress goods, go to Lyon & Co's.

-It is worthy of mention—because we traverse it every day—that the pavement on the High street side of the Centre county Bank property on the corner of Spring street, has recently been repaired in a very neat and substantial manner. It would be well if the "rage" for improvements were sufficiently contagious to include the entire length of the pavement.

-The martins are a species of bird that seem to seek the most public place to build their nests. They have consequently returned again to their last-year's quarters under the awning before S. A. Brew & Son's grocery store. They well know that it is the most public place, as Brew's store is one of the best in town and is consequently patronized by the greatest number of people.

-"George Eliot," whose name, we believe, was Mrs. Marian Evans, was married last week to a Mr. Cross. She is considered the finest lady novelist in the world and bears the same relation to other lady novel writers that our friend Sechler's store bears to neighboring stores of the same kind. In everything that tends to make a first class grocery store Sechler takes and maintains the lead.

-The Soldiers' Club, of Ferguson township is making arrangements to visit all the cemeteries in the township on Decoration Day for the purpose of decorating the graves of the soldiers who gave their lives to their country. The Club will be accompanied by a band and glee club, and will honor the memory of dead comrades in a befitting manner. We trust the observance of the day will be general throughout the county.

-A revolution in band music has been inaugurated since the advent of Mr. Richard Willis to this place. He has assumed entire control and is putting the boys through a course of sprouts preparatory to great events in the future. All their spare time since his arrival has been employed in practice. Several "quicksteps" and a funeral march are included in his repertoire of music, the latter, we believe, to first greet our ears on Decoration Day.

-We see the familiar form of Prof. Herr Bumbrecht again upon our streets. Since severing his connection as classical instructor in the Academy at this place, the Professor has visited several European countries, but found no place more congenial to his fine tastes than our mountain town. He has not enjoyed the best of health during his absence. The Professor is an excellent linguist and a finished scholar, and everybody is glad to see him back again.

-In noting the tavern licenses granted at the April term of court, we omitted to notice that our friend Gottlieb Hagg's excellent hotel at Pleasant Gap was among the favored. Mr. Hagg's license was renewed, and he is prepared as heretofore to entertain his friends and the traveling public whenever they find it convenient to favor him with a call. Those who seek refreshment at his bar, may, at least, be assured that they will not be confronted by adulterated poison.

-The idea that the glass works at this place will be re-established has vanished; the gentlemen who were to erect an addition to the Bellefonte paper mill have gone to Lock Haven; but we may yet, according to Dame Rumor, soon have the car works in operation. But an institution of equal benefit to all these is Sechler's store. In the quality of the groceries kept it aids physically and in their price customers are financially benefited. The store should be largely patronized.

-Messrs. Deininger & Bumiller have succeeded Messrs. Walter & Deininger in the publication of the Millheim Journal, Mr. Walter having retired, and Associate Editor R. A. Bumiller being promoted to the dignity of editor and publisher. It was not long ago that Mr. Bumiller learned his trade at the Republican office in this place. Since then he has gone to Millheim, married Editor Deininger's daughter and has now become one of the editors-in-chief of the Journal. As he is such a progressive young man, he will doubtless increase the power and usefulness of the Journal in that community.

-The able legal talent of this place has once again opened wide its arms and received into its honored and capacious folds, a bright, fresh and active disciple of Blackstone. Our young friend, Prof. S. D. Ray, has been for some time perusing the volumes required for admission to the bar—and they are very extensive—until he has acquired the necessary information. Last week a committee of five eminent legal gentlemen went to work at the Professor, and pumped him well, but the ready answers flowed from his lips like water from a duck's back. After eight nights of intense application the committee concluded that the Professor merited the honor of becoming one of their number, and he is now in the office of J. G. Love, Esq., waiting and watching for an opportunity to right all the wrongs and apply the healing balm of the law to all the grievances that may come to his attention. We believe the Professor is a graduate of State College and a former school teacher of this county. He is certainly able, conscientious and industrious, and is treading the first steps of a brilliant future.

PROF. PHILLIPPI'S PERILS.—The life of an aeronaut, who assiduously pursues the duties of his profession, is necessarily one of constant adventures and escapes. Prof. Phillippi, since his removal to Reading, and entering more fully the career of a balloonist, has come in for his share. Last week he made an ascension from the National Capital, of which the Lock Haven Journal of Tuesday morning gives the subjoined particulars:

"On descending towards the earth he found himself dragging through a clump of cedar trees, but managed to strike terra firma on the famous battle field of Bull Run. Taking in the position at a glance, he managed with the assistance of two colored men there to hold the balloons in a few moments, meanwhile endeavoring to reach the valve and permit the gas to escape. Just then the men, thinking the balloon would take them up, let go the rope, and up it shot into mid-air and sailed about an hour, finally descending at the village of Rockville, Va. After endeavoring to turn off the gas, the Professor found himself dragged with the balloon until the rope caught in the fork of a tree, and finally slipped out of his hand, cutting and bruising it very severely. The Professor arrived in Reading on Friday, and is to be congratulated upon his escape, while his balloon is perfectly uninjured. The Forepaugh engagement is broken, and Prof. Phillippi intends in future to make ascensions on his own account."

THE FIFTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY.—Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bible, of Philadelphia, formerly of Centre county, celebrated the fifty-fifth anniversary of their wedding on May 1st. The venerable couple were in the best of health and spirits. A grandson and daughter acted as groomsmen and bridesmaid, with two daughters as attendants. The occasion was a solemn one, and yet withal very pleasant and enjoyable. In addition to the many presents from their children and friends, fifty-five gold dollars were presented to them—a dollar representing every year of wedded life. Three-quarters of a century have passed over their silvered heads, years that have wrought many changes in their household. They now enter the last quarter of the century with good health and hearts made happy by a firm faith in God, and the love and honor of their children and grandchildren. Three generations look up and say, "God bless your dear white heads and pure hearts. May another quarter of a century add its blessings and years to those already gone." "B."

LAST SUNDAY'S FIRE.—A small dwelling house, situated near the bank of Spring creek, west of High street, took fire about half-past four o'clock last Sunday afternoon and, together with its contents, was burned to such an extent as to render it entirely worthless. Mr. Samuel Van Tries owned the house, with Mr. George Whippo as tenant. The exact origin of the fire is not known. The members of the Logan Hose Company worked with their usual vigor and effectiveness to subdue the flames. Mr. Whippo with his wife and children were enjoying a Sunday afternoon drive at the time of the fire and had been absent from home for over two hours. It was doubtless a disagreeable surprise to return and find no home to go to. We believe however that both parties were sufficiently insured to cover their loss.

CORNER-STONE LAYING.—A note from a Howard correspondent informs us that our friends of the Evangelical denomination in that vicinity have commenced the erection of a house of worship a short distance from the village, on the north side of Bald Eagle creek, and that the ceremony of laying the corner-stone will take place on next Sabbath, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Accompanying this note is a request for a copy of this issue of the DEMOCRAT to place in the stone. We take great pleasure in complying with the request, and wish our Evangelical friends God-speed in their good work.

-After the result of the vote in the Curtin-Yocum contest was announced in Bellefonte, the local celebrities who thought they had contributed to this (to them) happy result, immediately resolved upon the following ticket. The reader will observe that it embraces National, State and County politics:

For President—COMMERFORD, of Howard. For Vice President—MEEK, of Bellefonte. For Governor—BEAVER, of Bellefonte. For State Senator—JOHN N. LANE, of Bellefonte.

For the Legislature—D. H. HASTINGS, J. G. LOVE, of Bellefonte. For District Attorney—WILBUR F. REEDER, of Bellefonte.

It will be observed that the ticket is slightly mixed, but considering the circumstances this is no objection.

-A valued friend at Pine Grove Mills, sends us the following account of the proceedings of the Soldiers' Club of Ferguson township:

PINE GROVE MILLS, May 6, 1880. The fourth regular annual meeting of the Soldiers' Club of Ferguson township for the election of officers of the Club for the ensuing year was held in Academy Hall, at Pine Grove, on Saturday evening, May 1st. After roll call, the following officers were elected by ballot: President, George Eckel; Marshal, W. H. Fry; Secretary, W. D. Port; Treasurer, Charles Smith; Color Bearer, D. S. Erb; Color Guard, Nick Patterson and David Krebs, both one-armed soldiers.

The members of the Club extend a cordial invitation to all soldiers and citizens to meet with them at the various cemeteries in Ferguson township on Decoration Day, Saturday, May 29th, to participate with them in the ceremony of decorating the graves of deceased comrades.

-We advise all persons to order fall and winter clothing early. Our heavy weights will be on sale May 1st.

DEATH'S HARVEST.—For the particulars regarding the following mournful event we are indebted to the Centre Hall Reporter:

During the latter part of April, Mr. Michael Swartz, a tanner, from Clinton-dale, paid a visit to his nephew, Mr. J. Swartz, of Hubersburg. On the 27th, he accompanied his nephew a short distance from the house to assist in staking some fence. Feeling unwell, he returned to the house. A short time after, while conversing with Mrs. Swartz, he looked toward a neighboring graveyard and remarked that he "would like to be lying in it." Immediately he fell from his chair and expired. His death was caused by heart disease. He was a brother of George Swartz, deceased, of Millheim.

-Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Pennington, of Fillmore, died on Thursday, April 29. We have no particulars regarding her decease except those contained in her death notice in another column.

-Death entered the family of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Krom, of Lock Haven, one day last week and took away their little son, Robert. His remains were brought to this place on Friday and interred in the Howard street cemetery.

-The death of Mrs. Sarah Brooks, wife of Mr. James Brooks, of Boiling Springs, occurred last Friday of heart disease. She was walking in the garden, in apparently her usual health, when she suddenly fell to the ground. Reviving, however, she was able to drag herself to the porch of her residence, where she expired. On Saturday afternoon her remains were taken to Zion and interred in the cemetery at that place. The circumstances of Mrs. Brooks' death render it unusually sad. Only in her thirty-first year, having the highest respect of the community in which she resided, surrounded by several young children whom she hoped to rear to lives of usefulness, and being herself of a naturally bright and lively disposition, she will be universally mourned.

-Mrs. Owen Kelley, who resides in what is known as the "Ridges," of Boggs township, died of cancer last Friday. The terrible disease appeared in her face last fall, and had increased in severity, until it resulted as above. She was a most excellent lady and leaves a husband and several children to lament her death. At the time of her death she was about fifty years of age. Her funeral services took place on Sunday and her remains, we believe, were interred in the Roman Catholic cemetery at this place.

-One by one the old and well-known inhabitants of this borough depart and are no more. Another passed away on Friday morning last about 10 o'clock in the person of Miss Jane Caldwell, who resided with her sister, Mrs. Rothrock, near the junction of Logan and Pike streets. She was a member of a very old and respectable family of this place, the original survivors of which are her sister, Mrs. Rothrock, living in this place, and Samuel Caldwell, a brother, residing in Ohio. If Miss Caldwell had lived until next August she would have rounded her eightieth year. Born in Cumberland county, she came with her father's family to this place at an early age, and here has since made her home. For a long time, made feeble by the increasing infirmities of age, she has been waiting upon the threshold of eternity, ready to pass the gloomy portal of death and be at rest. The last messenger came, and amid the kind acts and words of relatives and friends she went to her reward. The funeral services took place on Sunday at 2 P. M. They were witnessed by a large attendance of friends and were characterized by due solemnity.

-Two deaths occurred in Half Moon Valley on Thursday, April 29, which occasioned much grief to acquaintances of the deceased. We refer to the deaths of Mrs. Sarah Mattern, wife of Mr. Samuel Mattern, and of Mr. George Mattern, a relative of the former. Mrs. Mattern was the daughter of Samuel Blake and Margaret A. Blake, of Altoona, and had many warm friends both in Altoona and in Half Moon Valley. She was forty-eight years of age. As the two died on the same day so they were together conveyed to the M. E. church at Stormstown, of which Mrs. M. was a member, and where the double funeral services were held. Rev. G. W. Bouse officiated, taking for his text Job 38:17: "Have the gates of death been opened unto thee? or hast thou seen the doors of the shadow of death?" After the services the largest funeral procession ever seen in Half Moon Valley followed the two bodies to the place of interment at Buffalo Run.

-Mr. Edward Garman was called away from home quite suddenly on Monday evening by a telegram containing the startling and sad intelligence of the death of his cousin, Mr. Edwin Kelley, who recently held a responsible position in the employ of the Texas Pacific railroad, at Marshall City, Texas. Mr. Edwin Kelley is a brother of the Miss Kelley, who was a guest of Mr. Daniel Garman's family last summer, and who attracted many friends by her charms of person and manner. He was the victim of quick consumption, and his death which occurred last Saturday, was a complete surprise to all his friends. His remains were immediately conveyed to Lewisburg, where the funeral took place yesterday.

-Monday last also brought its sudden death. During the afternoon of that day, Mr. Joseph Stover, who has resided for the past thirty years on a beautiful farm situated in Spring township about four miles from this place, went with his neighbors to quench a slight fire that had broken out some place in that vicinity. Overcome with the heat and exertion, he leaned against a neighboring fence, and his wife, who was anxious for the health of her husband, hastened to his assistance. She administered some reviving medicine, which she always kept with her, and, assisted by others, led Mr. Stover to the house. Dr. Hayes was immediately sent for, and started to his assistance, but arrived only to find that the vital spark had fled. Dr. Hayes pronounced it a stroke of apoplexy. The deceased was well known and greatly respected. He was an earnest Christian, a member of the Dunkard sect, and his familiar form, with the long hair flowing over his shoulders, was often seen upon our streets. He had reached his sixtieth year, and leaves a wife and four children. There were five children in all, but one is dead. Those surviving him have all reached the estate of men and women. His wife is a sister of our friend, Mr. Isaac "Lose." The funeral took place yesterday morning at 9 o'clock.

-Just as we go to press we hear of the death of Mrs. Burnette C. Griffith, wife of Mr. William Griffith, of Marion township. She died on Monday, leaving a husband and four small children. The funeral procession accompanying her remains arrived in this place yesterday at noon, and proceeded to the Friends' burial ground. She was 33 years, 1 month and 6 days old.

A NEW ERA IN AGRICULTURE.—NO LONGER NECESSARY TO "EAT THY BREAD BY THE SWEAT OF THY BROW" AND TO DIGEST IT BY WORKING AT THE PLOW.—The six thousand years since the expulsion from the Garden of Eden have been periods of hard work to man and beast. To none more than to the cultivator of the soil. Too often has he dug in the earth and sowed his seed only to find that his days were but labor and sorrow, and his reward but a sparse or entirely worthless crop. But under the guiding star of a new dispensation, which has left far in the past the days in which grain was ground between two stones; which has summoned to its aid that faithful trio of servants, literature, science and art; and which has made mind control matter, genius has been fired, and the immutable laws that regulate the earth, sea and sky have been employed to labor machinery devised for the saving of labor, until man has almost regained his first estate. No more need the perspiration flow ere the farmer has dug a rod of earth, but he can cultivate acres without the exudation of a thimbleful of moisture.

The fertile brain of man, under the enlightened supervision of Christianity, has produced machinery by which the farmer and worker in mines and mills can accomplish a hundred times his former work with but little application of brain and brawn. If a similar progress continues, the time will be when the agricultural prince can sit in his grape arbor and see his machinery passing to and fro over his fields, only using his force of mind to control all their movements as they cultivate his crops and gather in his harvests. Some beautiful specimens of modern agricultural and mill machinery are now on exhibition in the warehouses of Gordon & Landis, on the western side of McCafferty's building. They have been selected by the two competent gentlemen who compose the firm from the very best known in the world. Among them is the famous stationary engine manufactured by Mr. Landis, a member of the firm. Another is that exceptionally elegant and useful machine known as the "Adriance Reaper," which, though including many different parts, is so easily managed and exquisitely balanced that the horses which may be hitched to its tongue do not feel the weight of more than a pound. By actual trial, the reaper can be made ready for work and again prepared for storage in the shed in ten minutes. Two men can do the same in a correspondingly shorter time. Similar to the reaper is the "Adriance Mower," manufactured by the same firm at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., which even a child can manage. We believe this firm are the exclusive agents for the "Paxton Force-feed Grain and Fertilizing Drill," which does the work of sowing, drilling and fertilizing at the same time, and saves an immense amount of work. The "Harrisburg Corn Planter" is a marvel of ingenuity. It will sow the required number of grains of corn and feed the plaster with the same movement. The "Champion Hay Rake," with teeth and compass almost sufficient to rake an acre at a single sweep, can be operated by a child. By a happy stroke of fortune which never falls in the same place twice, they have closed a contract by which they can supply customers with superior windmills at one-third the actual value. The firm deal in all kinds of machinery as well as agricultural implements, but we have not space to mention the many different machines for which they are agents. They will send price lists to all persons, on application. But a call on the gentlemen who compose the firm will be found of great value to all interested, as they are both practical engineers and machinists, Mr. Landis, especially, having the advantage of thirty years' experience in the business.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE DENTAL ASSOCIATION.—The Pennsylvania State Dental Examining Board will hold its annual meeting for the examination of applicants, at Bellefonte, during the sessions of the State Dental Society, which convenes Tuesday, July 27, 1880. Applicants will be required to show specimens of work in both operative and mechanical departments.—Prof. C. N. FIERCK, Chairman.

WANDERED AWAY FROM HOME.—The Morning News says that an eighteen-year-old son of Mr. John Darby, of Howard, recently left his home while laboring under a temporary aberration of mind, and his father would like to learn the whereabouts of his wandering boy. He was last seen at Tyrone. He is five feet high, has red hair, and at the time of his departure wore a light hat with a cord band. Persons able to give any information about the lad will confer a favor by addressing a postal card to Mr. John Darby, Centre county, Pa.

May Miracles.

Mrs. M. F. Butts, in May Wide Awake.

If I had a bit of the rainbow, If I had a dash of snow, If I had the rarest fragrance That blossoms ever know, If I had an emerald jewel; And all were put together— It would not be an apple bough Blooming in May weather.

If I had a flake of the sunset From a tropic zone, If I had a sapphire richer Than man has ever known, If I had a strain of music Tuned to the May weather— It would not be a bird and his mate Singing sweet together.

A BRILLIANT MUSICAL EVENT.—The choral society and orchestra, of this place, with the high musical powers of which our people are well acquainted, propose to give a concert in the Court House next Tuesday evening. We learn that the choral society is composed of about twenty of the best singers in this place, and thorough practice has increased the proficiency of both the choral society and the orchestra. The selections for the coming concert are chosen from the best efforts of the most famous musical composers. If the success which attended former efforts be a safe guide upon which to base predictions, we bespeak for the concert on Tuesday night both financial and artistic success. The proceeds of this entertainment are destined for the purchase of new music, and the low price of admission places this musical treat within the means of all. As a foretaste of the rich musical feast in store for those who shall attend, we append the following:

"The Coal Oil Express," a small vehicle on wheels, and driven by Mr. Baney, made its appearance on the street on Tuesday. The horse is also neatly caparisoned with a covering bearing an inscription emblematic of the business. This attractive little equipage, we suppose, is designed for use in vending coal oil, and attracts considerable attention.
