CORRESPONDENCE, containing important news, solicit-ed from any part of the county. No communications inserted unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

Local Department.

-Be happy and smoke Harry Green's cigars.

-Trout can now sport in their nativ element unalarmed by anglers. -This is the last month of what has thus far been a lovely summer. -The Sheriff's Sales may be found on the fourth page of this week's DEMOCRAT. -Call at the Philadelphia Branch store and see how cheap a new suit can be bought.

--Only those can look as "fine as a fiddle" who buy their clothes at the Philadelphia Branch.

-The congregation at the Episcopal church, last Sunday evening, was unusually large.

-No more trout fishing, but clothes can be bought cheap at the Philadelphia Branch, all the same.

-Whortleberries have been sold as low as three cents per quart in some parts of the county this season.

-Dr. Tanner will end his fast and probably terminate his own earthly career about next Saturday at noon.

-"There's millions in it"-not millions of dollars, but millions of suits of clothes in the Philadelphia Branch store.

-Many Bellefonte young gentlemen of well-known good breeding use the wrong hand in raising their hats to ladies.

-The Temperance Union of Bellefonte will meet in the Young Men's Christian Association audience room this evening.

-The Williams Brothers, painters, have recently added a fresh coat of paint to the exterior of their establishment on High street.

-The Zion Cornet Band will give grand ice cream festival on Saturday evening, August 14. A pleasant time is expected.

-Several alterations and improvements of much importance have been in progress upon the public school building during the past two weeks.

-The meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association, last Sunday afternoon, though not largely attended, was very pleasant.

-The sermon delivered by Rev. John Hewitt, Rector of the Episcopal church, last Sunday morning, was very beautiful and impressive.

-Dark-the tail end of the Garfield delegation that went from Pleasant Gap to Valentines' Works on the evening of the Democratic meeting at the Gap.

-Many visitors have called at Mr. Chas Glenn's photograph gallery during the past week to obtain a view of the picture containing the ghostly apparition.

FOUND .- On Wednesday evening on the street in front of the post-office a package containing ladies' hose. Can be claimed by calling at the DEMOCRAT office.

-Mr. Chas. Acker, son of David Acker. Esq., of Aaronsburg, died on Monday, the --Remember the camp-meeting to be held by the Centre circuit of the Evangelical church, in Messrs. Aaron and Frank Weaver's grove, near Aaronsburg. It begins next Wednesday, August 11, and continues one week. Those who can do so should attend and aid in making the occa ion profitable.

-Snow Shoe promises to be a profitable place to invest in a hotel building. We are informed that parties in this place have applied for rooms at the Chinclala-moose House, Snow Shoe, and been refused because the rooms are all engaged. They have, consequently, been compelled to go elsewhere.

-The tides of the sea ebb and flow But the tidal wave of business prosperity which the grocery firm of S. A. Brew & Son receives is always at full flow and never ebbs. And so it will remain so long as this popular grocery firm continue to do business in their present excellent and honorable manner.

-The article entitled "On Lake Leman," published on the second page of the DEMO-CRAT, will be found exceedingly readable, entertaining and instructive. It was written for the DEMOCRAT by Ovid F. Johnson, Esq., of Harrisburg, whose pen has contributed similar articles to many of the best publications in this country.

-The work of "patching up" the Presbyterian church edifice is being pushed forward in an undaunted manner. A congregation that is brave enough to enter a building which is in imminent danger of falling upon their heads, should be very courageous and effective in their efforts against the Arch Enemy.

-We learn with regret that our friend, Mr. Joseph L. Neff, had the misfortune to lose about three hundred cords of wood by fire on his clearing near Mount Eagle, last Sunday. The people of the neighborhood turned out in force to aid in subduing the flames, or the loss would have been much greater.

-The Centre Hall Cornet Band will give a grand festival in Witmer's Grove. near that place, next Saturday. Why, that will be delightful. Nothing could be nicer than to sit at rustic tables beneath the trees, and be served with ice cream. lemonade and cake by the young ladies, while the cool evening wind is kissing you on the other cheek. Everybody ought to go.

-Rev. J. Green Miles, formerly pastor of the Grace street Baptist church, Philadelphia, will preach in the Baptist church. this place, next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. He is well known by many of our older citizens as his youthful days were passed in Milesburg, this county. He is an able and eloquent divine, and should,

as he doubtless will be greeted by a large audience. -Hospitality is a desirable quality to have just now, as all the world seems to be "going visiting." Therefore, Sechler & Co's store, in the Bush House block, is the right kind of a place. Its proprietor invites all to come and see him, and to stay long enough to get one hundred cents worth of groceries or meat for a dollar. The place can not be found where callers will be treated with greater civility.

-"Don't put off until to-morrow what can be done to-day." Don't even wait until to-morrow to buy your groceries, but go to-day to Sechler & Co. for them. It is the best place for all to buy, but especially for young people who are just earning the science of housekeeping. The members of the firm are reliable men who keep none but the best goods and never impose upon those who are young and inexperienced.

BRIEF PERSONALS .- Miss Kate, daugh. er of ex-Governor Curtin, is again at

-Mr. Isaac Mitchell and family and Miss Lizzie Cobel are spending a short time at the sea shore.

-Miss Dartt, sister of our accomplished physician, Dr. R. L. Dartt, is at present visiting at the residence of her brother on Allegheny street.

-Miss Jennie Orvis, daughter of Judge Orvis, Bellefonte, is in the city visiting Mrs. Dr. Coleman .- Williamsport Breakfast Table.

-Miss Schroeder, of Reading, is at present in town visiting at the residence of her sister, the wife of our estimable citizen, Col. D. S. Keller.

-Mr. Evan Blanchard assisted in the music rendered by the Episcopal choir last Sunday evening.

-Mrs. J. H. Knowles, sister of Mrs. W. R. Teller, of this place, is again visiting in town. Last Sunday evening she rendered a lovely anthem as part of the musical programme given by the Episcopal church choir, displaying her fine contralto voice to excellent advantage.

-Mr. Berney McClain, who has so long and faithfully held a responsible position in the employ of S. A. Brew & Son, the popular grocers of this place, severed his connection with that establishment last Saturday night, and has now taken a position at the Milesburg depot. Berney is succeeded in the store by Mr. George Burnside

-Among the fair representatives of Philadelphia's population now in town is Miss Addie, daughter of Rev. Dr. Franklin, who is visiting her friend, Miss Bella Hoover.

-Mrs. Thos. R. Hayes, of Linn street, is entertaining her friend, Mrs. Dillen, of Philadelphia.

-Miss Barber, of Williamsport, is visiting at the residence of Mr. John Ardell in this place.

-Mr. J. M. Garbrick, of Zion, was in town on Saturday, not neglecting to call at the DEMOCRAT office.

-Mrs. Dayton, of Towanda, Bradford county, is a guest at the residence of Rev R. C. Crittenden, on Linn street.

-Why not lay aside that old suit and buy a new one from the Philadelphia Branch store ?

-Mrs. Mary Moran and Miss Laura Hemphill spent a few days of last week out of town, returning on Saturday evening. -Never treat a friend to a poor cigar, but see that they come from Harry Green's. -Miss Alice Nolan, formerly of this blace, and now of Petersburg, Huntingdon county, is visiting at the residence of her aunt, Miss Kate Dolan.

-Miss Reynolds, of Atglen, Chester county, and Miss Hannum, of Concord, Delaware county, have been visiting, during the past week, at the residence of their friend, Mrs. Harry K. Hicks, the wife of our enterprising hardware merchant.

-The Daily News says that Miss Annie Reid, a pleasant young lady from the Quaker City, is visiting Mrs. Dr. Adams, of Milesburg.

-Miss Nannie Harris, who is visiting her friend Miss Kate Weaver, of Clearfield, was the recipient of a very pleasant serenade, tendered by the Orpheus band of that place, on Monday of last week. -Mr. Hiram Hoffer, of Tyrone, has been in town since Monday.

WRECK OF A PASSENGER TRAIN .- The xpress train due at this place at 6:46 A.M met with an accident at a place called Harvey's Crossing, near Curtin, on Tuesday morning, which delayed the further progress of the passengers over two hours. The train consisted of an engine and two -Rev. James P. Hughes, President of passenger coaches. Owing to the spreading the Temperance Union of Bellefonte, in of the rails, the coaches were thrown from the track down a ten-foot embankment to the meadow beneath. The engine, forfrom that place the previous day. The that organization, did not say that "council tunately, did not leave the road bed. In their descent the cars careened to one side, throwing their frightened occupants vio lently across to the lower side of the cars, tin where for a while all was "confusion worse confounded." As may be imagined, very few of the twenty-five passengers escaped without injury, but none were burt seriously. Among the more unfortunate were Miss Kate Devlin, daughter of Mr. Joseph Devlin, of this place, and Sheriff Barker, of Lock Haven. The latter had his shoulder badly wrenched, and the former was so unfortunate as to receive a cut on her forehead, through contact with the side of the car. The passengers were assisted to the house of Mr. Henry L. Harvey, who resides near the scene of the wreck, where they received every necessary attention and refreshment. Many thanks are due Mr. Harvey for his kindness to the unfortunate travellers. At about nine o'clock a fresh train arrived from Tyrone which conveyed the passengers on their journey. It required the most active efforts during the remainder of Tuesday to lay new rails and elevate the prostrate cars to the track, which was at last successfully accomplished.

A TREMENDOUS BOILER EXPLOSION. One of the most terrific boiler explosions that ever occurred in this county was that at Seiler & Billmyer's tannery, located at Fowler's Station, below Millheim, on Thursday morning last, the particulars of which are about as follows :

At 6 o'clock in the morning Mr. Michael Lamy, the engineer, began, as usual, firing up for the day. When about sixty pounds of steam had been put into the boiler it burst with great force, destroying the mill and throwing the pieces in all directions. So great was the force that one portion of the engine weighing over two tons was carried a distance of two hundred yards. The explosion resulted in the death of the engineer and the serious injury of two other employes. When the body of Mr. Abram Burns, the edger, was recovered from the ruins no visible marks of injury were apparent upon it, but he complained of great pain and died in about three hours after, from internal injuries. The engineer, Mr. Michael Lamy, of Millheim, suffered the misfortune of a broken leg and other injuries of an exceedingly painful nature. The sawyer, Wm. Billmyer, of Lewisburg, received numerous painful scalds, cuts and bruises, but his injuries are not considered dangerous. The boiler was an old affair which had been long in use. It is thought the explosion was caused by a collection of gas in the boiler.

Mr. Burns, the victim of the accident, was a native of Hartleton, Union county, who came to Penn's Valley about three years ago. He was 44 years of age and leaves a wife and a twelve-year-old son. His remains were taken to Hartleton for interment.

HANCOCK AND ENGLISH CLUB OF HUS-TON TOWNSHIP .- The Democracy of Huston township assembled last Saturday night for the purpose of organizing a Hancock and English Club. A large number of voters responded to the call and thirty signed the roll amid much enthusiasm. A temporary organization was made by electing Daniel Irwin, President, and Jno J. Keech, Secretary. The audience had the pleasure of listening to two speeches. the first by George R. Barrett, Esq., eloquently eulogizing the Democratic nominees; the second by Gen. Wm. H. Blair, who urged the claims of Hancock and English with his usual ability and strong logic. The next meeting of the Club will be held on Saturday, August 14, when permanent officers will be elected and more names added to the roll.

JOHN J. KEECH, Secretary pro tem.

HANCOCK AND ENGLISH AT MILESBURG -The Democrats of Milesburg and Boggs township organized a Hancock & English campaign club at Milesburg on Saturday night which starts out as the banner cam paign club of Centre county, 174 names being enrolled during the evening. At a quarter of eight the special train from Bellefonte, consisting of four cars and a caboose, pulled up at the Pennsylvania depot and unloaded between three hundred and fifty and four hundred Democrats, consisting of the Bellefonte club and delegations from Pleasant Gap and other places in the vicinity of Bellefonte. The Democrats of Milesburg and Boggs to the number of about 125 were there to receive them. The procession was formed under the command of Col. James F. Weaver and his efficient marshals, Emanuel Noll, Esq., and Dr. W. C. Groves. After marchtown the procession halted in front of the BOOK NOTICES. - Spiritual Songs for the Sunday-school.-Very many of the compil-ations of Sunday-school songs, which, under all sorts of fanciful titles, have swarmed upon the Sunday-schools with swarmed upon the Sunday-schools with each returning spring, have been saily deficient in those qualities which would make them useful in properly molding and rightly educating the taste, or justify the title of "Spiritual Songs." The trend has been toward that which is merely superficial and ephemeral in music, and a feeble, unhealthy sentimentalism in words. Hence, rhyming platitudes and weakly, monotonous variations of common chords have been far more numerous than genuine lyrics and melodies that would live. Under these circumstances it was a barrow thought ese circumstances, it was a happy thought extend the series of Dr. Robinson's these circumstances, it was a happy thought to extend the series of Dr. Robinson's well-known and every way admirable manual of Sacred Songs, so that there should be not only "Spiritual Songs for the Church and Choir" and "Spiritual Songs for Social Worship," but "Spiritual Songs for the Sunday-school" as well; thus blending these three phases of church wor-ship in one, by the common intermingling ship in one, by the common intermingling their hymns of praise. We regard piritual Sougs for the Sunday-school' Spiritual Songs for the Sunday-school" a richly meriting its title. It most happily meets the present need of a manual of song for the Sunday-school that shall occupy the middle ground between that on the one hand which is too severely classical for general use, and that on the which only caters to a puerile taste. the The cultivated musician or poet will find satis-faction in its pages, while those who do not quite appreciate the higher forms of song will greatly enjoy the ample provision made for their needs. As one opens the book he is at once attracted by the large, handsome type in which every hymn is completely printed as a poem below the music, instead of being crowded between the staves; the size and peculiar form of the page leaving abundant room not only for this desider-atum, but also, in nearly forty instances, giving place for a choice second hymn to the same tune. All names of author the same tune. All names of authors appear only in the index, and this, with the "making up" of the matter, avoids the huddled appearance so common in other works, and leaves the page clear, bright and delightfully readable. Scribner & Co., 743 Broadway, New York.

THE BELLEFONTE HANCOCK AND ENG. LISH CLUB .- The meeting of the Hancock and English Club of Bellefonte on Weding through the principal streets of the nesday evening of last week was well attended and proved that the Hancock enclub room which had been gaily decorated. thusiasm was still booming. The Club now numbers over two hundred members and bids fair to do splendid work through out the campaign. After the transaction of business appertaining to the organization and arranging for the Milesburg meeting of last Saturday evening, G. R. Barrett, Esq., was called upon to address the Club. He responded in words addressed.

-Mr. Jacob Shearer, who resides near Centre Hall, recently lost a valuable horse by death. The animal attempted to leap through the stable door, and in doing so brought his head in violent contact with the woodwork above. Instant death was the result.

-The picnic held in the grove near the Milesburg depot, last Saturday, in which all the Sunday-schools of Milesburg joined. was a well conducted and enjoyable affair. The attendance was very large. The Pleasant Gap band was present and rendered delightful music.

-So many people have recently been passing in and out of S. & A. Loeb's store that the step at the entrance became entirely worn out. On Monday last, however, it was replaced by a substantial new step and now this old firm is prepared for a million, more customers.

-The Daily News says that a young man named Tomlinson, employed at Hoyt & Co.'s tannery, in Philipsburg, fell through a hatchway in the dry house on Thursday, from the fifth floor to the first. He lived but a very few moments after the accident, his neck having been broken. -It is the custom in many of the Southern banks to have a little placard set up asking the customers to subscribe to the new book, just out, by the late Gen'l J. B. Hood, published for "The Hood Orphan Memorial Fund," by Gen'l G. T. Beauregard. Many ladies in the South have become book peddlers and they smile sweetly on their admirers, who purchase a copy of the book for themselves, and induce their friends to do the same. -So extensive have been the repairs made upon the residence of Mr. James Mitchell, on Spring street, that old friends of the family visiting the place find difficulty in recognizing it in the handsome dwelling now occupying the spot. They are only saved from being misled by the large collection of plants and flowers always cultivated on the premises. The work is now sufficiently advanced to indicate how pretty the residence will be when completed. It is being performed by Mr. Samuel Gault, and gives entire satisfaction to all concerned.

-Judge Wagner, having with infinite difficulty discovered who his party candidate for President is, has become an enthu. siastic Garfield man. His enthusiasmy however, is subject to climatic changes and usually attains its highest altitude as the sun sinks in the west and the lengthening shadows tell of the fast approaching night. It is said on the highest authority (a reliable contraband) that he spent two hours at least Thursday evening in endeavoring to reach Milesburg to take part in the organization of a Garfield Club. The legend runs that he was driving one of Abe Baum's horses, and that, go in which direction he would, the horse each time promptly deposited him in front of the Brockerhoff House, where he was at last compelled to send the horse to the stable and forego his trip, acknowledging that the equine had more good sense than the average Garfield man.
