LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

From our regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 16, '80. Both the committees, Democratic and Republican, have now got down to hard work and are stretching the traces on their respective sides. Here, above every other place in the country, the Republican campaign committee ought to be jubilant and happy. But they don't seem to have an excess of good feeling. The Democratic concern has been in good shape all along. There is more talk about Pennsylvania than there has been for a long time. The eagerness for news is greater than it has ever been here at this stage of a campaign. The correspondence received at the Democratic headquarters indicates an determination to win. Old Dem ocrats often ask why is it Pennsylvania is now considered such a solid Republi. can State, and say that in their younger days they used to rely on old Pennsyl vania coming in with her good Demo. cratic majority as surely and certainly as we now look to Kentucky or Missouri. The fact is Pennsylvania on a general count up has supported the Democratic nominees for President oftener than any other northern State. She strikes her colors to none of them. A rather curious table has been prepared showing how many times the several States have voted for and against the Democratic candidates for President. Pennsylvania has voted 13 times for and 7 against ; New York, 12 times for and 8 against; New Jersey, 10 for and 10 against. Pennsylvania has voted for the Democratic nominees for President oftener than any State in the Union with but four exceptions, viz. North and South Carolina, Georgia and Virginia. She outranks Kentucky in her support of the Democratic candidates. Kentucky has voted 12 times for and 8 against the party. Up to the breaking out of the war Illinois was a steady Democratic State. She has cast her vote 10 times for the Democratic candidates for President, and 5 against them. Illinois got demoralized on the Douglass and Buchanan fight, and has been Republican ever since. James W. Sheehan, who was Douglass' right bower with the Chicago Times, which he then owned, in answer to some cool advice from a Pennsylvania editor, replied, "That every State in the Union had flickered in the fight but proud, glorious Illinois. That she had stood steady to the Democracy when Pennsylvania had got drunk on hard cider and went to sleep in coon skins." The table is interesting, and a hopeful one for the Pennsylvania Democrats to study, especially to those whose votes or active participation go no further k than the war.

The death of ex Gov. Bigler is much regretted here. Few men in this country have led such blameless lives as Gov. Bigler, and when his services are reckoned up, he will be classed with Benton, Buchanan and Lewis Cass, with more humility than the one, more honesty of word than the other, with the same great love of country as the third, and greater, kindlier hearted than all three put together. Peace to Lewis Cass, rest to Buchanan, honor to Benton, but all these doubled with love and gratitude to the memory of William Bigler. KEYSTONE.

Hancock in California.

GENERAL ROSECRANS AND THE CENTRAL LEGION OF CALIFORNIA.

The Hancock Legion, of which General Rosecrans is commander, at San Francisco, is rapidly augumenting in Francisco, is rapidly augumenting in reinforcements from all over the State, and the General is confident that it will soon number 10,000 active mem-bers. Following is a copy of the cir-cular which he has caused to be distributed throughout California, stating the objects of the organization—objects that commend themselves with pecu-liar force to citizens and soldiers alike. It will be remembered that Mr. Gar-field served at one time on Gen. Rosecrans' staff :

"HEADQUARTERS OF HANCOCK CENTRAL) LEGION, UNION HALL, SAN FRANCISCO, July 26, 1880.

"As President of this Legion, I beg to call your attention and that of the members of the club over which you preside to the objects and conditions of our membership and the reasons why we our membership and the reasons why we respectfully and earnestly invite you to unite with us. It may be done without detriment, and, we think, with advan-tage to every legitimate end and aim of your club and party. We are organiz-ing without regard to party, creed, col-or or race, for the purpose of procuring or or race, for the purpose of procuring the election of Hancock and English. Our legion combines all soldiers who are willing to join in securing this as the beginning of a new departure and better future for our common country, We invite to join us all voters of all parties who are willing to promote this nd. We ask of them no renunciation political convictions, aspirations, club or party. We ask no reasons why they are willing to work for the elec-tion of Hancock and English. All we require to become members is that they sign a pledge to do so at the coming F sidential election and to abide by the constitution and by laws of the legion, which pledge must be filed at these headquarters. We have nothing to do with party organizations, nomina-tions, jobs and schemes. But we con-sider the following to be unanswerable reasons why you ought to join us. The party in power stands in the way of all reforms and must be moved out of the way before anything effective can be done. Common sense and common prudence alike demand, therefore, that all should combine to elect Hancock and English, which will remove the in-superable obstacles in the way of all and double the chances of advocating reasonable and legitimate measures of progress and regionate matches of progress and reform, by putting in place of the intolerant and corrupt mi-nority, a majority of the Nation strong enough to do whatever is reasonable and fit to be done, and by breadth of sympathy predisposed to give a fair and full hearing to each advocate of progress and reform with whom it has been associated in the coming contest. If we are correct in these views, every patriotic advocate of reform, either in labor or currency, has all chances in labor or currency, has all chances in favor of doing good and nothing which deserves respect to lose by joining us. The Republican party is unquestionably a decided minority of the people, held together by the "cohesive power of public plunder and ruling a majority, whose union will end its reign and great-tr enlarge the country" chance of a ly enlarge the country's chances of a better future. It will also end those appeals to the passions which have in-calculably injured the interests of both colored men and white people of the North and been the means of whip-ping into and keeping in its ranks timid and careful souls of the North and West by bugbear cries, to the great damage of the interests of the whole country. For these reasons we beg you to give our views careful and can-did consideration, and such action there on as your judgment commands. I am faithfully yours, W. S. ROSECRANS, "President and Commander."

General Hancock's conduct very care-fully, and I have found that when he and comes out with a smaller list of casualties than any of them. Bold he is, but not rash. Why, gentlemen, do you know what his record was at West Point ?" And Mr. Lincoln went to his book shelf and, taking down an army register, showed the position in which Hancock had graduated, and that, furthermore, in a class that was one of the most distinguished that ever graduated at the military academy. Continuing to speak of him in the highest terms, he further said :

further said: "I tell you, gentlemen, that if his life and strength are spared, I believe that General Hancock is destined to be one of the most distinguished men of the age. Why, when I go down in the morning to open my mail—and I arise at 4 o'clock—I declare that I do it in fear and trembling lest I may hear that Hancock has been killed or wounded."

Put Only Safe Men on Guard.

rom the Brooklyn Eagle. Mr. Garfield said, among other things, the other night: "And the Republic rises on the step-ping stones of its dead heroes and great struggles to a higher and purer and better National life. Hence, we must better stand guard over our past as soldiers ; we must stand guard over our past as patriots ; we must stand guard over our country as the coming heritage and blessing of us all."

Well, it seems to us that the man when, it seems to us that the man who stood guard at Gettysburg can be trusted to do all this quite as well as any politician to whom office holding is second nature, whose integrity is clouded and who is followed by the men who stole the Presidency four years ago, and the men who did the stealing in the Credit Mobilier at an earlier day. It will look better to have Gen. Hancock than the counsel of De Golyer standing guard over our dead heroes.

GENERAL NEWS.

Houtzdale is to have a $6,000 school house.

The State Sunday-school Convention will be held in Lancaster on the 12th, 13th and 14th of October.

During the month of July there were 282 deaths from yellow fever and 1,017 deaths from all diseases in Havana, out $1.000 of an officially estimated population of 195,437.

Richard and Lewis James, both colored, were arrested Friday at Marion, S. C., as accomplices in the murder of D. M. Harrel, a respectable white citi-zen, at that place some days ago.

Five boys while playing in a field near Mahanoy City found a number of old coins, mostly English, with dates that run back 200 years. It is surmised that they belonged to a peddler who may muchered thore a few years acto was murdered there a few years ago.

Stephen Richardson, colored, who killed his mother in law and attempted to kill his wife and father-in-law, in Wilmington, N. C., on the night of July 19 last, was Friday convicted of murder in the Criminal Court and sentenced to be hanged on the 3d day of September.

Charles Albrecht, a saddler, living at Charles Albrecht, a saddler, living at College Point, L. I., while walking on the track on Thursday evening was struck by the 7:35 train from Flushing for Whitestone, when near the latter station, and sustained injuries which will probably prove fatal.

The Hagerstown Division of the Shen. andoah Valley Railroad, running from Hagerstown, Md., to Shepherdstown, W. Va., was completed at 11.30 A. M., Friday. The first train which passed over the track contained a large excursion party through from Harrisburg, Pa., to Charlestown, W. Va.

Miss Agnes Reid McClung, a lady of considerable prominence in Virginia, died at Augusta Seminary, Staunton, of which school she was the principal, on Tuesday night of last week. She was a niece of the late Dr. Archibald Alexan-der, of Princeton, and a cousin of Dr. Henry Alexander, of Union Theologi-cal Seminary cal Seminary.

An Appalling Railroad Disaster.

NINETEEN KILLED AND FIFTY-FIVE IN-JURED BY AN ACCIDENT ON THE WEST JERSEY AND ATLANTIC RAILROAD LAST WEDNESDAY.

The sensation of last week was the fearful accident, on Wednesday, at May's Landing, on the West Jersey and Atlantic Railroad. Thirteen hun-dred persons went on the excursion of the St. Ann's Literary Society, of Phil-adelphia, to Atlantic City, N. J., that morning. At 6 w. the train stated morning. At 6 P. M., the train started to return. It was in two sections, the latter, consisting of eight cars, only two minutes behind the first section, which consisted of sixteen cars. While which consisted of sixteen cars. While on the bridge over the Egg Harbor River, seventeen miles this side of At-lantic City, the section in the lead stopped to switch on a side track to make way for the 5-10 down express. It had hardly come to a stand, the rear coach resting upon the bridge over the Great Egg Harbor River, a small but swift stream, before the rear train came thundering upon it through the open thundering upon it through the open switch. The locomotive telescoped the rear car, which was full of men, women and children. The roof was lifted and the sides of the car for a considerable space were forced out. Strange to say few of the passengers were injured in the collision, but a more horrible fate remained for many of them. One of the cylinder heads of the engine was blown out and the entire car was stantly filled with scalding steam. was in-ln such a wreck escape was, of course, slow. Many were unable to extricate them selves at all, and a number in doing so plunged into the creek, which fortunately was low.

Fifteen persons were killed, four have since died, swelling the number of deaths to nineteen, and fifty five were more or less injured. It is said the rear section of the train should have been at least five minutes distant from the first section, and as the distance was only two minutes, the conductor and engineer of the second section have been arrested for manslaughter.

discovered in Calabria by O. Von Geb hardt and A. Harnack. A set of re-productions of the miniatures has just been published at Leipsic, and a rection of the text is promised. The MS. contains St. Matthew and St. Mark. The discoverers would fix as early a date as the end of the fifth century or beginning of the sixth for both the miniatures and the text—a claim which is not likely to pass unchallenged.

Elias Polk, the colored carriage driver of President Polk, still lives at Nash ville, aged 75 years. As far back as 1818, when he was 13 years old, Elias held General Jackson's stirrup on the occa-sion of Old Hickory's visit to Mr. Polk at the latter's mansion in Tennesse Elias had been "a Democrat from con-viction" since 1834, having imbibed his partisanship from listening to the priv-ate conversations of Calhoun and Polk. "And," says Flias, "many a narrow es-cape from the fury of the ignorant nig-gabs have I had for voting and speaking my sentiments or feeder" my sentiments so freely.

Milo A. Boynton, of Grand Haven, Milo A. Boynton, of Grand Haven, Mich., who was arrested in New York last week, for attempting to pass one $500 and one $1,000 South Carolina State bond at the office of James Walsh, a banker of No. 19 Wall street, was held at the Toombs in $1,500 on Wed-nesday. Chas. Kerrison. of No. 113 East Fourteenth street, identified the $500 bond as his property. It was stol $500 bond as his property. It was stol-en, he said, from the Bank of Camden, Soon after President Lincoln issued the emancipation proclamation a num-ber of friends from Baltimore called on him to extend their congratulations. While in his presence the visitors gave their opinions as to who was the ablest general in the army. A number of names were mentioned, but President Lincoln remarked that they had not struck the right man, and said it was General Hancock. The countenances of his visitors expressed their surprise, and one of them ventured to say that he feared Hancock was too rash. "Yes," said Mr. Lincoln, ('so some of the older generals have said to me, and I have said to them that I have watched $112,500 worth of securities were stolen from the bank by some members of an Ohio regiment of Sherman's army, then on its march to the sea. Mayor John F. Wheaton, of Savannah, Ga., said that he received some time ago a letter from Boynton, stating that he had the bonds and asking how they could be disposed of. He wrote back that the bonds were stolen. The prisoner said he got the bonds from a Michigan widow, who said they were worth 40 cents on the dollar. She said that her brother, who was a surgeon in the army, gave them to her
