

the door to investigation, and we can go down to New Orleans and ascertain how the vote was in fact, and then, after I got upon the Commission, to turn around and say that the Returning Board and its findings is conclusive upon us and we cannot investigate at all. I would not do it for a thousand years' tenure in the great office for which he is a candidate. (Applause.) I state to you that whatever the truth might be about the De Golyer pavement, whether he did take a fee against the interest of the Government when he was a Representative receiving a salary, or whatever the facts might be about the Credit Mobilier, whether it was a terrible fraud or not, I will not stop to speak of that until this greater question is settled. Whether as a representative of the people, as a juror sitting between myself and Wheeler and Tilden and Hayes, he was a true man or a false man. (Applause.) And if I have a case in your court and you are called upon as a juror, and no questions are asked you at all, and you have a bitter prejudice against me and a judgment against me, and there is no verdict at all except against me, would you go up and take your seat? Would not it come up to you? My oath would not allow me to do it, and I know that yours would not. Yet Garfield, after he had helped to make up the case down at New Orleans, comes to Washington, and without protest or apology or excuse he takes his seat and he votes day after day contrary to what he said in the House was the law. No, gentlemen, he will never be President of the United States. (A voice—"No, never.") He is a man of ability and the more ability such a man possesses the worse it is for the office. I don't want him, because when I have a President in Washington, whatever his politics may be, I want to feel that he is as much my President as yours, and as much yours as he is mine, and that as president he is free from these prejudices and passions which pervert the judgment and destroy opinion."

HOOD'S GREAT BOOK

OF THE WAR.

ADVANCE & RETREAT,

Personal Experiences in the United States and Confederate States Armies.

By GENERAL J. B. HOOD, Late Lieutenant-General, Confederate States Army, published for

The Hood Orphan Memorial Fund

GENERAL G. T. BEAUREGARD, NEW ORLEANS, 1880.

The entire proceeds arising from the sale of this work are devoted to the Hood Orphan Memorial Fund, which is invested in United States Registered Bonds for the nurture, care, support and education of the ten orphans deprived of their parents last summer at New Orleans, (the monthly incidents of which are hereinafter given) and the public sale of

THE BOOK IS AN ELEGANT OCTAVO, CONTAINING 300 PAGES, WITH A FINE PHOTOGRAPHIC ILLUSTRATION AND A FINE STEEL ENGRAVING, HANDSOMELY BOUND IN GILT, WITH FOUR LARGE MAPS OF BATTLE FIELDS, BOUND IN HANDBOUND GRAY ENGLISH COLORED, IN THREE DOLLARS, OR IN A FINE SEVEN DOLLAR, WITH MARBLE ENDS, THREE DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS.—HALF BOUND IN RED, LIBRARY STYLE, FOUR DOLLARS, OR IN SEVEN LEAVY TURKEY MOROCCO, FULL GILT SIZE AND ENDS, FIVE DOLLARS.

On receipt from any person remitting by mail or express, of the amount in a registered letter or by a postal order, bank draft, or check, a copy will be immediately sent free of postage, registered as second-class matter.

The notice is published in the best style of typography, on elegant paper, with illustrations, executed at highest prices of art.

The author, in writing this purpose, all alike under a worthy place in every library,—on every desk,—upon the book-shelf of every home in the country.

Agents wanted in every town and county in the United States, and a preference will be given to honorably discharged soldiers of the late war.

To the ladies, who feel a deep interest in the sympathy with the Hood Orphan Memorial Fund, the sale of this book among their circle of friends, will afford an excellent way of contributing substantially to the success of the cause.

For terms, send 3c. agents, &c., address with full particulars to

GEORGE T. BEAUREGARD, Publisher, 515 N. O. BROADWAY, NEW ORLEANS, LA.
