The March of Empire.

The defeat of General Hancock, the Doylestown Democrat truthfully remarks, is the triumph of money, fraud and intimidation over patriotism and honest government. The nomination of Hancock on the 23d of June was accepted by men of all parties as the harbinger of the death of Garfield, who stood before the American people as the representative of jobbery and corruption. Had the election taken place immediately, Hancock would have been elected by a sweeping majority. At the prospect of being driven from their places, a yell of vengeance went up from one hundred and twenty thousand hirelings. From that time until the ballot-boxes were closed, all that money, fraud and intimidation could do were done to defeat that peerless soldier who saved Pennsylvania in 1863. The power of corporations was too much for the unbought ballots of the free being personally responsible Democracy. The white freemen of printing and expenses of the Congressional committee. I would be sorry for that, if it is so, for he worked hard the former black slaves of the South, were driven to the polls by their factory employers under the cry of "your ballot or your bread." The triumph of crime four years ago, when the Republicant leaders rabbed the respect of publican leaders robbed the people of the chance of the game worth the effort. Wallace is a good lawyer, and the chances are if he gets back to his office with any kind of health, that he them in the late campaign. If the open theft of the Presidency could go will take more pleasure in the practice of his profession where the gains with him will be large and certain, than he unpunished, they felt assured the less-turmoil of political life. Keystone. er offences of intimidation, and fraud at the ballot-box, would hardly be called in question. Whenever the power is arrayed against a free ballot. as is the case in this country to-day, it may well be said that Republican institutions are in danger. The moment Garfield begins to rule in the White House, from that moment the march of the Empire is begun. He had no hope of election until his cause was taken in hand by Grant, Conkling & Co., the champions of the third term movement. It is the well settled policy of these conspirators to re-seat Grant in the White House, from which nothing short of an earthquake can ever drive him. That Garfield is in this conspiracy there can be no doubt, for he declared himself, fifteen years ago, as glad "that we are gravitating toward a strong government." Thence we gradually gravitate to an Empire, and before we reach it the end of Republican government is come. This will be the outcome if the government shall again pass into the power of the Republicans. May God save the Republic!

In all the principal cities of the country the usual number of loafers. bummers, thieves, rounders and repeaters figured at the late election as deputy federal marshals to protect the purity of the ballot in the interest of the Republican party. Marshal Kern's RIGHT MEN LOSE THEIR LIVES BY THE CARElist of those worthies in Philadelphia was quite as large and almost as disgraceful as it was at the Congressional election two years ago. But why complain? Everything necessary for the success of "the party of great moral ideas," of course, must be right.

ONE of the interesting questions of ONE of the interesting questions of the day is, "Will Garfield abrogate the Treaty of Mentor?" The stalwarts anxiously desire an answer.

ecial Correspondence of DEMOCRAT.

We have settled down now to the ealization that we are beaten politically, out-generaled accidentally so to speak, and as on every such occasionthey have been frequent enough dear knows—we feel that we would certainly never do so any more. But there will still be plenty of Democrats, and plenty of men ambitious to lead, and ambitious for office. The party wont die. The leaders wont let it die. Ben Hill, of Georgia, has lately pronounced the Democratic party dead and good for nothing. Ben is not a good judge of that kind of thing. He is better at ooking after fatherless babies before they are born than anything else. So that girl testified who had one in Washington last winter. He wants to boss the Federal patronage in his State, an hastens to get in. Yes, let us have Barrabas. He joins in the cry, crucif the Democratic party, it is the only thing that has heart enough to take i the whole country. Crucify it. I wont die a natural death very soon that seems certain. When the elector ral bill was before the House an at tempt was made to fillibuster and gain a little time. Randall was willing but the Southern men would not stand u to the work. Lamar, of Mississipp and Gibson, of Louisiana, were off eve ry night with the friends of Have arranging for recognition, and whe Randall said that the South would not stand up to him hardly any one could see it in that light, and thought he was trying to excuse the general cowardic of the Democrats about that time Ben Hill now confesses and glories in it, and ranks himself as one of the leaders in it. We need not speculate on what Mahone will do in the Senate but look over to Ben Hill's corner you want to see a flopper. David Davi is not too heavy to try a handsprin either, if he does weigh 300 pounds Should he assist the Republicans in organizing the Senate he might ge back on the bench which is to be en larged by the elevation of a few favorites. Political wrecks are plenty al along our Atlantic and Gulf coast, from Quoddy's Head to the Rio Grande ome of them are not too much damag ed but that they may go into dry doc and get rid of their bilge water; other are smashed all to pieces with hardly bulk head left to tell who they were.

I am told Wallace looses $25,000 b

Burned to Death.

LESS USE OF COAL OIL. Bradford, Pa., Nov. 11.—A special dispatch to the Era says a terrible casualty happened late last evening near Brown's sawmill, at Bordell City, twelve miles from this place. A number of men were gathered at their boarding house and sitting around the fire engaged in conversation. Four of them had gone up stairs to bed. As the fire began to burn low in the stove below one of the men took up a curful of cil.

bucket nearly full of oil. An explosion instantly ensued, and the burning fluid was scattered all through the room, enveloping the clothes of the men. They ran out doors covered with a sheet of fire and writhed on the ground in their agony. Meanwhile the house their agony. Meanwhile the house burned rapidly to the ground, and in the embers were found the charred bodies of the four who had gone up stairs, whose names were Elliott, Brown Healey and Hyde. Of those who were down stairs George Dannock, Henry Monroe and Frank Welsh, and another, name unknown, are dead. The ninth victim is not expected to recover.

The Petroleum World predicts that the northern oil field will be exhausted in a few years.

Citizens of Clearfield county are mov ing for the further extension of the Bell's Gap Railroad.

Oil City is engaged in establishing new manufactures and hopes to be able to have something besides oil to depend upon in the future.

Miss Fannie Packer Skeer, a granddaughter of the late Asa Packer, was married at Mauch Chunk on Thursday to Mr. William R. Butler, of that place. At Pittston, on Friday, A. Catharine Miller, who is to be hanged with George Smith at Williamsport on the 6th of January for the murder of the former's husband, is almost craz ed with fear.

The members of the Oil Exchange at Oil City met on Thursday and passed resolutions to build a monument to the memory of Col. E. L. Drake, the discoverer of Petroleum.

Ed. Hall, Mike Walsh and Robert White, all of New York, were convicted at Reading, on Friday last, of conspi racy to forge the Reading Railroad wages certificates, and were sentenced to three years' imprisonment and $100

William P. King, aged 21, was found lying in an insensible condition in an alley near the stable in which he kept his pony, in Lancaster, one morning last week. It is supposed he was thrown from the wagon he was driving, as the team was subsequently recovered with out a driver. At last accounts the young man had not regained consciousness, and he is suffering with a concussion of the brain.
