

Thursday Morning, November 18, 1880.

CORRESPONDENCE, containing important news, solicited from any part of the county. No communications inserted unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

Local Department.

—Court begins next Monday.

—Clothing for men and boys at the Philadelphia Branch.

—Business has been very lively in the coal trade this week.

—More lovely than the brightest stars are Harry Green's choicest cigars.

—Men's and boys' clothing at reduced prices at the Philadelphia Branch.

—It has become an axiom that Harry Green's cigars excel all others.

—A large number of people in this place are afflicted with diphtheria.

—The new church at Logansville, Sugar Valley, will be dedicated next Sunday.

—A new iron fence has been placed around Mr. George Valentines' residence.

—Merchants will soon be stocking their stores with beautiful articles for Christmas gifts.

—A small sum of money will purchase a serviceable, genteel suit at the Philadelphia Branch.

—Delays are dangerous in diseases of the kidneys. Day's Kidney Pad is the sure cure.

—The Philadelphia Branch clothing store shows great enterprise and deserves to prosper.

—The pavement on the Spring street side of Mrs. Brockerhoff's residence is being repaired.

—Defy the cold weather of winter by procuring a warm, comfortable suit at the Philadelphia Branch.

—The window casements in Mr. E. C. Humes' handsome bank building are receiving an application of paint.

—The real estate advertised in the "Sheriff's Sales" will be disposed of at the Court House at one o'clock p. m., on Saturday next.

—On Tuesday morning last, a little girl named Minnie Fusser was bitten by a dog owned by Mr. Isaac Guggenheimer, how seriously we have not heard.

—If the result of your suit in court next week is not to your satisfaction, you can probably procure a suit that will please you at the Philadelphia Branch.

—All the members of the borough council seemed to be either ill or out of town last Monday night and consequently there was no meeting of that august body.

—The drama is to be represented in this place again quite soon in that ever-popular play—half tragedy, half comedy—"Uncle Tom's Cabin," with variations.

—We had another glimpse of Indian summer yesterday.—Daily News. Went you please impart to us the secret of her abiding place so that we can enjoy a glance at her, too.

—The exterior of the residence of Adam Hoy, Esq., on High street, has received several applications of fresh white paint during the past week. Messrs. Fasig & Son were the artists.

—It is a great pity that some of the Republicans who are at present boiling over with rage and indignation about the Morey letter had not thought of making "forgery in politics" odious in 1876.

—We hear that a large barn located in Ferguson township was destroyed by fire last week, with all its contents, involving a loss of four or five hundred dollars. We have not learned the name of the owner of the barn.

—Communion services of an exceedingly solemn and elevating character formed a part of the religious exercises in the Presbyterian church last Sunday, the presence and exertions of Rev. Dr. Erskine, who assisted Rev. Laurie, giving to them an unusual interest.

—One way of becoming wealthy is to get on the back of a mule—you soon find out that you are better off. A surer way is to purchase groceries of Sechler & Co. Every purchase saves you a few cents, which soon amounts to a large sum.

—That beautiful and exceedingly ornamental structure known as the Presbyterian "Wigwam" has been receiving repairs this week, such as new shingles on the roof and very tight-fitting blinds on the windows. Mr. John Waggoner was the contractor.

—The repairs on the Presbyterian church are not yet completed and workmen are still engaged at the main tower. As it is feared that more of the stones may fall at any moment it will be strengthened with solid masonry and rendered perfectly secure.

—The new barn now being erected on the farm of our townsman Mr. Samuel Van Tries, was raised by the contractor, Mr. J. S. Frederick, on Thursday the 4th instant, over one hundred people assembling to witness the event. The new barn is 98x46 feet. Commissioner Swab is the occupant of the farm.

—The dairy interest of the United States is a rapidly growing one and the annual production of butter and cheese amounts to $550,000,000. Is it any wonder, then, that farmers are becoming rich? They all can live on the best land affords, and what they cannot raise on their farms can be procured at S. A. Brew & Son's grocery store. Those who have not yet patronized Brew's store should do so immediately.

—For a very long time an effort has been put forth by our citizens to secure the presence of Rev. Dr. Vincent in this place to deliver one of his exceedingly entertaining lectures to a Bellefonte audience. When a former invitation was extended to the Doctor to visit Bellefonte he happened to be just starting on a European tour, and consequently could not come. It is with great pleasure, therefore, that we are at length permitted to announce that the Doctor will be in this place on Thursday, the 16th prox. Thus the desire of those who are proclaiming so loudly for a course of popular lectures will be in a measure satisfied, for if the experiment with Doctor Vincent is successful he will be followed by others equally eminent. Doctor Vincent is so widely known that it is unnecessary to refer to him at length. He is universally acknowledged to be the most eminent Sabbath-school worker in the world, and he is almost equally conspicuous as a platform lecturer, his most famous lecture being entitled "That Boy of Our's." To secure such a superior lecturer involves great expense, and the enterprise can only be made peculiarly successful by receiving a very generous support from our citizens. The price of admission will be fifty cents.

—We have thus far refrained from doing so, but we suppose our readers will expect us to observe, in unison with about all our other exchanges, that the beloved globe upon which we reside is now crossing the track of the November meteors. We were not in existence in the year of our Lord 1833, but the fame of the meteoric shower which occurred in November of that year has created in us an intense desire to see a repetition of the brilliant spectacle. The subject of meteors is one of the most mysterious and interesting upon which the heavenly science of astronomy treats. Yet exactly what a meteor may be is not very clearly defined in our mind. But, impelled by a strong desire, we stationed ourselves at our chamber window on the night of the 12th instant (the time specified for the most brilliant exhibition) and with uplifted eye scanned the dark blue sky, anxious to see a meteor dart athwart its broad expanse of starry blue. But the chill of night came on, the hour grew late and no meteors were visible. Recollecting that the year 1899 is, after all, the time appointed for a real repetition of the display of 1833, and that bad colds are more frequent than meteors in these "off years," we gave up the unsuccessful task of looking for meteors, and will not repeat the experiment until November 1899. Our stock in all the meteors that will appear in the intervening years has fallen far below par.

—The members of the Young Men's Christian Association, of this place, desire us to offer in their behalf another request to the benevolent people of our town for a fresh supply of magazines and papers with which to stock their reading room. Those who know of a periodical of an elevated moral tone which they consider suitable to place before the boys who frequent the reading room will confer a favor by sending a six months' subscription to the Association. There are also many people who have an accumulation of old magazines and papers stored away in their garrets, which are of little or no interest to them, but which would be devoured with avidity by the intellectually famished lads who may be found in the reading room. Send anything, from those publications containing philosophical or scientific disquisitions to the daily or weekly newspaper, or the child's paper or alphabet chart. A preponderance of primary literature is desirable, as those who come to the room are principally of a juvenile character. The reading room was of much benefit last year; it is the desire of the Association to make it even more successful during this winter.

—It is with infinite pleasure we learn that the large and commodious apartment in Bush's Arcade, formerly occupied by the Hancock Club, will continue to be devoted to a good and useful object. The Baptist congregation, of this place, have leased it for church purposes, and henceforth their services will be held in that room. The change from the old M. E. church to their present place of worship is necessitated by a desire to reduce expenses and pay a debt now resting heavily upon the congregation. Their efforts in this direction should be encouraged by all Christian people, and they have been peculiarly fortunate in their first step in securing a room which has been heretofore devoted to so commendable an object as the election of the soldier-statesman Hancock.

—This seems to be the time for annual reunions of those who have survived the horrors of war. We notice three distinct reunions of this kind that have been appointed. The first—that of the 49th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers—takes place to-day at Lewistown; the 53d Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, will meet next Thursday at Huntingdon, and the 131st Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, will assemble on Monday, the 13th proximo, at Sunbury. All will doubtless be pleasant gatherings.

—Bush's Hall will be the scene of another ball next Thursday—Thanksgiving eve—to be given by an organization called the "Social Four." Music will be furnished by Mr. Smith's orchestra. The occasion will doubtless be very pleasant, and it will repay those who love the mazy dance to attend.

PERSONALS.—Major Wolf and family have removed from Snow Shoe to Phillipsburg.

—Judge John H. Orvis presided over the Huntingdon county court last week, in place of Judge Dean who was prevented by illness in his family from doing so.

—Messrs. Clint. Lindsay, of Houtzdale, and Harry Williams, of Phillipsburg, spent Sunday last in town.

—Rev. J. F. DeLong, of this place, was summoned away from town last week to attend the funeral of his father. He returned from his sad errand on Friday evening.

—Friends have been visiting at the residence of Mrs. John Lieb, in this place, during the past week. They departed on Tuesday evening.

—Rev. Keller, of Boalsburg, has taken charge of the Centre Hall Grammar school.

—Mr. Amos Mullen and lady now occupy the large stone residence near Valentines' forge recently vacated by Mr. George Valentine.

—Of the work accomplished by the eight pitchers in the League, Ward, of the Providence team, leads in having the best average of earned runs—that is, the smallest percentage of earned runs against his pitching.—Philadelphia Record.

Of course, the Ward to whom the Record alludes is Mr. Monte Ward, of this place.

—Lieutenant James A. Leyden, U. S. A., has been visiting in town for the past week. His present military location is in Nebraska with the Department of the Platte, and he is now at home on his first vacation.

—Miss Lizzie Campbell, who is teaching school in Snow Shoe, spent last Sunday at her home in this place.

—Mr. Charles Bauer, ex-Professor of Penmanship in the public schools of this place and in the Bellefonte Academy, and who has been spending the fall months in DuBois, Clearfield county, is in town, intending to remain for some time.

—Mr. George Potter was in town last week, visiting at the residence of his brother, Mr. James Potter.

—General James A. Brislin has written a new book, which J. B. Lippincott & Co. now have in press. It bears the economic title of "The Beef Bonanza, or How to Get Rich on the Plains."

—Mr. N. S. Sanders, of Howard township, who has heretofore been a Republican voter, having cast his vote at the late election for Hancock and the Democratic ticket, desires us to state the fact that he did so in accordance with his own judgment of the best public interest. He has nothing to regret in doing so, only that all his Republican friends could not take the same measure of public duty. If he can again have the privilege of voting for Gen. Hancock he will certainly embrace the opportunity with the highest pleasure.

—Mr. A. W. Hayes, of Washington, father of Mrs. J. W. Gephart, of this place, is visiting in town.

—Mr. William E. Wallace, son of Senator Wallace, whose marriage to Miss Hattie Yeakley was recorded in our last issue, arrived at his home in Clearfield with his wife on Tuesday evening, where a brilliant reception was tendered them at the residence of Senator Wallace. On their journey home they spent Monday night at the Logan House in Altoona, where many of their acquaintances called to see them.

—Mrs. Holliday, of this place, who has been visiting in Philadelphia for about three months, returned home on Tuesday.

DEATH'S RECORD.—Mrs. Kate B. Musser died at her home in Smith county, Kansas, on the 26th of October, aged 22 years. She was born at Pine Grove Mills in this county, and at the early age of twelve years became a member of the church. About one year ago she was married and removed with her husband to Kansas. She was much beloved and her death will be sincerely consoled.

—Mrs. Sarah E. Graham, wife of Mr. William H. Graham, of Port Matilda, died on Sunday, October 31, aged about 32 years. She had been ill for a few months of consumption, and at last became its victim.

—Mr. William Erhard, one of the prominent citizens of Spring Mills, this county, died quite suddenly of heart disease on Sunday last. On Friday he was enjoying his usual health, and the only premonition he had of the sad event was a slight indisposition on Saturday. He was a very respectable man and leaves a wife and children to mourn his loss.

—Miss May Chaney, the youngest daughter of Mr. Alexander Chaney, of the firm of Chaney & Thompson, at Port Matilda, died on Saturday, the 6th instant, of diphtheria. One week before her death she was a merry, light-hearted school girl; now she is a corpse. The sad event is a great grief to all her friends.

—The Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad, says the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin, was opened on Monday, the 8th, and will be operated by the Pennsylvania railroad company as a part of the Tyrone division. The following are the several stations thereon, and their respective distances from Tyrone: Weston's Mills, 1.7 miles; Pennington, 5.1 miles; Warriorsmark, 7.4 miles; Furnace Road, 10.4 miles; Marenco, 12.3 miles; Hoeler, 15.0 miles; Pennsylvania Furnace, 16.9 miles. There will be two passenger trains each way daily.

—Attend the meetings in the Y. M. C. A. rooms held every evening during the remainder of this week at half-past seven o'clock.

—As will be seen by the notice published in this issue by Wilbur F. Reeder, Esq., Secretary of the Board of Trustees of the M. E. church, the old church property belonging to that denomination on upper High street will be offered for sale on Friday of next week at 2 o'clock p. m. We know that many of the members of the M. E. church will part with this old building with regret, not on account of its financial value, but because of the tender associations connected with it. Many of them love to resort there even yet, for it was there they were first brought to know the true God and there they best love to worship Him. But it is to be sold on Friday of next week; we hope it may not fall into unconsecrated hands.

—It has usually been considered necessary for people who go hunting any kind of game to take something along with them with which to kill the game. Most people who indulge in this kind of sport prefer guns, but Al. Garman and W. A. Sweeney think a club is sufficient. They got themselves up in blue shirts and flowing neckties and took the early morning train recently for Unionville for the purpose of hunting English hare—which Mr. Sweeney claims abound all over this section of the country—and after they had comfortably seated themselves in the car, and were eagerly discussing the prospects of carrying death and destruction to English hares, they discovered that they had forgotten their guns. They had a pleasant ride to Unionville and admired the country very much.

—An exceedingly pleasant matrimonial event occurred at the Episcopal church at 7½ o'clock last evening, it being the nuptial ceremony of Mr. E. Greenough, of Sunbury, and Miss Hewitt, sister of Rev. John Hewitt, the accomplished rector of the Episcopal church, this place. The Episcopal rectory has been filled with guests during this week who came to witness the ceremony. Mr. Greenough is a gentlemanly-looking young man, who doubtless merits the treasure he is securing. Miss Hewitt has resided with her brother in this place only a few months, during which she has won the unreserved esteem of her acquaintances. The young couple have our kindest wishes for their future welfare.

—They carry their nuptial rejoicings a little bit too far in our neighboring county of Mifflin. A report says that on Tuesday of last week a party arrayed in fantastic costumes attempted to accompany a Mr. Garver and bride to Lewistown, where the bridal party were to embark on their tour, but the escort was decidedly objectionable to the groom. An effort was made to get away from the party by fast driving, but it was only when one of the horses of the fantastic party fell and broke a leg that they stopped. One report says the fantastic company were fired upon. The injured horse was killed.

—The week of prayer has been observed by the Young Men's Christian Association, of this place, by meetings held every evening of this week, except Wednesday, in their pleasant audience room. They will be continued during the remainder of the week, beginning at 7½ o'clock and closing at 8½. Mr. Isaac Mitchell will lead the meeting this evening, Rev. John Hewitt on Friday evening and Rev. J. F. DeLong on Saturday evening. All are cordially invited to be present.

—On Monday of this week, Mr. W. R. Teller, the genial and obliging host of the Brockerhoff House, received from John Uzzle, of Snow Shoe, one of the finest specimens of venison seen in Bellefonte this fall. It was a very fat doe, and the venison dinner at the Brockerhoff on Tuesday was pronounced elegant by the many friends and guests of the house who had the pleasure of dining there on that day.

—Five portraits of governors chosen at the recent elections appeared in Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper last week. They are all handsome gentlemen, but not more so than hundreds of men who pass our office door every day on their way to Sechler's grocery story. Become handsome and prosperous by buying your groceries of Sechler.

—The clouds that wrap the setting sun
When autumn's softest glances are ending,
Where all bright hues together run
In sweet confusion blending:
Why as we watch their floating wreath,
Seem they the breath of life to breathe?
To Fancy's eye their motions prove
They mantle round the sun for love.

—The railroad machine shops, of Altoona, are now illuminated with the Brush patent electric lights, the first trial of which took place on Monday night with a successful result. The light is intensely white and causes colors to appear the same as in daytime. It is claimed to be much cheaper and more satisfactory than gas.

—The Daily News deplores the scarcity of "change" in Bellefonte. It is too late to complain now. We advocated a change throughout the campaign, and if that and other newspapers had joined us in doing the same we would now have all the half dollars and quarters we need.

—The trustees of the M. E. Church in Bellefonte will expose their old church building situated on High street to public sale on Friday, Nov. 26, 1880, at 2 o'clock p. m. on the premises. For further particulars inquire of WILBUR F. REEDER, Sec'y of Board.

—Another boy was killed on the railroad at Altoona on Monday night. His name was William Lumus and he was fifteen years of age.

THE HUNTERS.—Judge Orvis, Prothonotary Harper, Treasurer Yearick, and Clerk Beck, are looking after all sorts of wild animals up in the mountains. Van Pelt, and McKeever, of the Brockerhoff House, are following Mac's magnificent dog through Clearfield county, in the vain hope that they will find a pheasant or two. Bill Galbraith, Isaac Haupt and others leave for the mountains on Friday with a pack of six hounds, and are determined to kill at least one deer or die in the attempt. Bill Galbraith thinks the nicest way to catch them is to put salt on their tails.

FINE CATTLE.—Probably as fine a lot of beef cattle as ever came to Bellefonte was yesterday unloaded at our depot by Mr. William Lyon, the enterprising butcher of Bishop street. Mr. Lyon purchased these cattle in Pittsburg; they are choice Kentucky stock, and will make splendid beef—roasts and steaks rich enough and juicy enough to tempt the appetites of any beef eaters in the land. Mr. Lyon seems determined that his customers shall be served with the best the market affords.

—It is to be hoped that every member of the Bellefonte Fencibles, (Co. B, 5th Reg., N. G., Pa.) will respond to the order of Captain Mullen, and report at the Armory next Saturday. This will be the first appearance of the Fencibles upon the streets of Bellefonte in daytime, and a laudable desire to make as good a showing as possible should spur every member of the Fencibles to unusual effort and sacrifice. It is likewise the first official inspection of the company, and the high rank accorded this new organization while in camp at Braddock, in September last, should be more than maintained under the practiced eyes of the inspecting officers. The Colonel of the regiment to which the Fencibles is attached will be here and a very pleasant time may be expected if the men of the company only respond to the order of Captain Mullen.

—The following order has been issued to the officers and men of Company B, Fifth Regiment:

Special Order, No. 3:
I. The officers and men of this command will report at the armory on Saturday, Nov. 20, at 3 o'clock p. m., sharp, for inspection.
II. They will report in full uniform with knapsacks, haversacks, canteens, tin cups and overcoats.
Colonel Burchfield will be present and inspect the company. By order of CAPTAIN AMOS MULLEN.
J. H. CRISMAN, Clerk.

Forney's "Progress" for the Future.

With this number, Saturday, November 13th, 1880, Progress will begin its third volume. Hereafter it will be an Independent Democratic paper, retaining all its eclectic features, discussing society, finance, the drama, railroads, and foreign affairs. Its price has been reduced to $2.50 per annum, or 5 cents a number.

As I have placed all my means in the reorganized enterprise, and propose to devote all my time to it, I have no hesitation in asking my personal and political friends to give me the benefit of their prompt and active co-operation. When we recollect that over 76,000 votes were cast for General Hancock in the city of Philadelphia alone, on the 2d of November, and in Pennsylvania 400,000, and in the country at large about five million of votes, there ought to be a ready and liberal response to the scheme of an Independent Democratic weekly paper of the highest class in Philadelphia.

The hour of Democratic defeat, procured by open purchase of the suffrage, and by deliberate intimidation of the dependent citizen, should also be the hour of Democratic education and preparation for the great work of organization and action, in the present and the future.

JOHN W. FORNEY,
Editor and Proprietor of Progress,
702 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.
Terms for Progress: $2.50 per year.
