Local Department.

Cigarettes—only five cents per pack—at Green's.
—Genuine Key West cigars at Green's drug store only five cents.
—Winter and spring underclothing at the Philadelphia Branch.
—The most effective, harmless and honest remedy we know of is Day's Kidney Pad.
—The Spring election occurs on February 15 and not on the 18th, as announced in last week's DEMOCRAT.
—A special meeting of Gregg Post will be held on Saturday evening next at 7 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.
—An infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Weaver, of this place, died last Monday night. We sympathize with the parents in their bereavement.

—Coasting is prohibited upon the streets of Altoona. The ordinary single sleds are not objected to, but what are known as "fire-fies" are held in abhorrence and caused the interdiction.
—A large party of young folks from this place went sleighing in the large double-seated "shoe fly" to Centre Hall, on Saturday afternoon. They took supper at the hotel in that place, returning early in the evening.

—The exceedingly heavy fog which filled the air around this place last Thursday morning seemed to be universal. In Chicago it was so thick that a lighted street lamp could not be seen across the street. Several railroad and steamship accidents were caused by it.
—Just think of it! Bees often have to travel three miles to collect honey and make ten trips each day, a total of sixty miles. The people of Centre county can buy the best of groceries by coming to Sechler & Co.'s store and can procure enough in one day to last an entire week.

—Christ's Reformed church at Madisonburg was dedicated on Sunday, the 9th instant. It cost $4500, and is entirely free from debt. We are glad that this is so, because many modern church dedications are mere burlesques, the congregations pretending to give to the Lord what they haven't paid for.
—The Watchman says it believes that the execution of George Smith and Mrs. Miller, of Williamsport, "will take place on the 6th of February." The 6th of February will occur on Sunday, and it is not customary to hang people on that day. The real date appointed by the Governor is next Thursday, the 3d prox.

—The English and American people are the tallest and heaviest in the world. Their average height is five feet and nine inches. This is largely due to the superior quality of meat they eat, and if they all had access to as fine a meat market as that of Sechler & Co. their average height would doubtless be increased to six feet.
—Mrs. Philip Fitzgerald, of Wassac, Duches county, New York, is over 107 years old and in good health. She probably has been purchasing at a store where first-class groceries are sold, such as can be procured of S. A. Brew & Son, in this place. When you buy always go to those stores that advertise pure articles.

—A "literary" item in the Ridgway Democrat of January 20 contains the gratifying intelligence that "George Elliot's health has improved." We are inexpressibly relieved to hear that news, as we have always had a tender feeling for George; but as that distinguished authoress departed this mundane sphere for realms unknown, about a month ago, we would like to know how the Democrat acquired its exclusive information.

—The people of Millheim are vying with one another in their subscriptions to the new Lutheran church buildings. The lot upon which the church edifice will be erected was the gift of Messrs. J. H. Reifsnnyder, J. W. Snook, John H. Mueser and B. O. Deininger. At the last meeting of the congregation an appropriate resolution of thanks was tendered these gentlemen. The building committee are Jonathan Harter, J. W. Snook and H. E. Duck.
—We were exceedingly sorry to hear of the evil tidings received last week by Mr. F. C. Richards, the popular jeweler of this place. Two of his brothers left their homes in Switzerland, some time ago, and proceeded to Lima, Peru, in the hope of bettering their fortunes. Not being satisfied with the business prospects at that place they went to Costa Rica. There one of them died of yellow fever, and all knowledge of the whereabouts of the other has been lost. We hope that he will soon receive news of the safety of his missing brother.

—The city of Altoona is terribly agitated upon the subject of coal. One individual is said to control the sale of this necessary commodity, and the coal is of such inferior quality that the poor victims who use it have to stay up all night to pick the clinkers from their grates. Such proceedings are "perfectly horrid" this cold weather, and we advise the city authorities to move their entire corporation down to Centre county and attach it as a suburb to Bellefonte. Brown or Alexander can sell them all the coal they want, and it is of superior quality, too.

DEATH OF MR. RICHARD MILES.—The aged gentleman to whose memory this brief but sad announcement is dedicated expired at the boarding house kept by Mr. Proudfoot at Milesburg, between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock on Saturday morning, Richard Miles was a son of Mr. Even Miles, a former citizen of this county, whose memory still lingers in the recollections of some of our older citizens. He was one of several brothers, Mr. Joseph Miles, who resides on Bishop street, this borough, being the sole survivor. He had reached the advanced age of 85 years, 8 months and 11 days. He was born at Miles' Ironworks, near this borough, on the 10th of October, 1795, and here all of his days were passed. Several children survive him and are now occupying positions of prominence and distinction. Among them are Mrs. W. M. Holmes, who removed from this place to Birmingham, Pa., about a year ago. Another married daughter resides in Colorado. Captain Even Miles, of the regular army, who has gained some distinction as an Indian fighter, is a son; and also Mr. Richard Miles, of Harrisburg. Still another son fell while fighting bravely in the Rebellion. Messrs. Edmund and Eben Blanchard, of this place, are nephews of the deceased. He was also connected with the Valentines and several other prominent families of this place. He had been in feeble health for a long time and his death was momentarily expected.

The funeral, which took place on Monday at 2 o'clock p. m., was largely attended. Rev. W. O. Wright, of Milesburg, preached the funeral sermon. Rev. Laurie, of this place, and the Methodist clergyman, of Milesburg, were also present and assisted in the solemn ceremony.

THE JANUARY MEETING OF THE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The usual quarterly meeting of the agricultural society, on Monday evening, was called to order by the President, Dr. E. W. Hale. The committee on the debt due from the Society to the Thomas estate reported that it will not be pushed if the interest is paid annually. A committee, consisting of Messrs. Woodward, Blair and Garberick, was appointed to nominate officers for the ensuing year, and reported the full list of officers of the past year for re-election. W. F. Reeder, Esq., the Secretary and Treasurer, respectfully declined the honor of re-election as he had already served two years and was conscientiously opposed to a third term, and, at his suggestion, the name of A. A. Dale, Esq., was substituted. Thus amended, the report was adopted. The present officers of the Society are:

President.—Dr. E. W. Hale, of Bellefonte.
Vice Presidents.—John Rishel, of Bennec; George M. Beal, of Potter; John A. Daly, of Curtin; William H. Fry, of Ferguson.
Executive Committee.—Clement Dale, chairman, Bellefonte; Austin Curtin, of Boggus; A. V. Miller, of Spring; Wm. Thompson, Jr., of College; Dorsey Green, of Patton; Isaac Frain, of Marion.
Secretary and Treasurer.—A. A. Dale, of Bellefonte.
Librarian.—James F. Weaver, of Milesburg.

The retiring Secretary and Treasurer, W. F. Reeder, Esq., then offered his report with the request that it be audited. On motion, this customary formula was omitted and the report was adopted. It showed the usual receipts and expenditures, leaving a balance of two cents in the hands of the Treasurer. Some discussion followed, participated in by Mr. John A. Woodward and President E. W. Hale, in regard to the unusually excellent crop of clover raised by the former the past season, after which the Society adjourned.

—The Bush House was temporarily converted into a temple of justice last week. Judge Morrow, of Towanda, Pa., was sitting in Chambers to hear arguments on an equity case, and as the weather was severe and his honor in feeble health, he held court in his own room in the Bush House. Quite a distinguished array of counsel from both at home and abroad took part in the argument. Mr. Farist's speech is spoken of by those who heard it as an exceedingly able effort, being in fact the greatest effort of his life. Mr. Peale also made an exhaustive argument of great force and effect. The Senator succeeded in establishing a monument that fixed the location of the disputed boundary beyond caveat. Senator Allen and Judge Linn, the counsel for the respondents, also made powerful arguments. The case is Jno. P. Harris, J. H. Holt and E. C. Humes vs. E. R. Payne & Co., and its decision involves at least $22,000. It is a land case, and the belief is general that the appellants will win it.

—A correspondent of the News relates a frightful accident resulting from the explosion of a kerosene lamp at Fowler Station on Tuesday night of last week. Mrs. McCready, of that place, had been absent from home during the day, and when she returned in the evening, her daughter, Maud, who had retired to bed, arose to light the lamp. It suddenly exploded, throwing its burning contents over the person of the girl and over the bed from which she had just arisen. Panic-stricken, she rushed from the house. Her flesh was terribly burned. She lingered until Friday, and then expired after much agony. The lamp was without a chimney and it is thought that the escaping gas caused the explosion.

—The clothing sold at the Philadelphia Branch gives general satisfaction.

POLITE PERSONALS.—Miss Bella Rankin, of Boalsburg, has been spending a few days of this week with her cousin, Miss Bella Rankin, of this place.
—The Daily News says that Mr. Jacob From and Miss Harpster, both of Centre Hall, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony in the Reformed church of that place on Sunday evening, Rev. Roder performing the ceremony.
—Mr. Simon Lyon and family, of this place, removed to Philipsburg the early part of this week.

—We notice that several members of the Young Men's Christian Association from this county will be present to participate in the exercises of the district convention, which will be held in Tyrone to-day and to-morrow. Prof. J. W. Weston, of State College, will tell of "The Difficulties we meet in the Work, and how to Overcome them." Mr. Chas. F. Cook will give his experience in "Work among the Boys" and Mr. W. F. Bair, of Philipsburg, will discuss the theme of "Gospel Temperance." Mr. James Hughes, of this place, will also be in attendance.

—Judge Samuel Linn, Senator R. P. Allen and Mr. Payne, all of Williamsport, Lycoming county, paid a visit to this place one day last week. They are a very distinguished and imposing trio of gentlemen.

—State Senator C. T. Alexander has been placed on the following standing committees: Federal Relations, Judiciary (general), Finance and Legislative, Congressional and Judicial Apportionment.
—We are pleased to learn that Mr. James Mitchell, of this place, who has been prostrated with illness during the past year, is now enjoying a period of convalescence, which we hope will be permanent.

—Miss Lizzie Forster, of this place, departed on Saturday to visit her friend, Miss Maggie Shaeffer, daughter of ex-Sheriff Shaeffer, of Nittany Hill.

—Mr. Samuel K. Faust, of Millheim, has done an immense business in selling sleighs this season. The last time we saw him he had already disposed of several dozen and only had four more on hand.

—Mr. Amos Harper, of Warrior's Mark, Huntingdon county, paid Bellefonte a visit last week. He owns a farm in some part of this county and it was business in connection with that which drew him hither. We were much pleased with the high opinion he entertains of the DEMOCRAT—especially the agricultural department—which he considers as valuable to its readers as any of the regular agricultural journals.

—Mr. George Hoppe, a former proprietor of the Bush House, is now officiating in the capacity of clerk at the Brokerhoff House. Mr. Hoppe is well and favorably known to the traveling public and will prove a valuable assistant.

—Messrs. Fred. Kurtz and Wm. Wolf, of Centre Hall, have recently been spending a short time at Washington, D. C.
—Judge Morrow and lady, of Towanda, Pa., Hon. Robt. P. Allen, of Williamsport, Hon. S. R. Peale and family, of Lock Haven, and Hon. Sam'l Linn, of Williamsport, spent several days in our midst last week. These legal luminaries were here endeavoring to unravel a difficult equity case. The decision has not been rendered as yet. A. O. Furst, Esq., of Bellefonte, was also concerned in the case.

—Mr. Joseph Lehman, of the firm of Strouse, Lehman & Co., at Philipsburg, was in town on Tuesday last. We believe he returned to his home yesterday.

—Mr. Timothy Akers, formerly of this place but now of Huntingdon, is spending a few days in town.

—Lawrence L. Brown reports business at his Pennsylvania Furnace branch as exceedingly brisk. He says he has bought an average 1,000 bushels of wheat a day since he opened.

—The sonorous voice of Mr. Steele Parsons is no longer heard calling for dilatory jurors and witnesses during the sessions of court. Mr. Christian Derr has been appointed to that position. The other two tip-staves are Mr. Martin Morrison and Mr. Samuel Foster.

ROBBERY AT HOWARD.—On Thursday evening last the store of Mr. John Deihl, of Howard, was robbed of about $125 in money, the occurrence taking place between the hours of 6 and 7 o'clock while the proprietor was at supper. The villain evidently secreted himself in a small room in the rear of the store, and as soon as Mr. Deihl departed he crept from his hiding place and went to the money drawer. From a pocket book lying in this drawer he took about $125 in money, leaving several notes and other valuables behind. The robber then departed by a side door. We believe that Mr. Deihl has no idea who perpetrated the crime.

—The truth of the following from the Lock Haven Journal is always demonstrated on such occasions as last Sunday. It is all a mistake, remarks that journal, to think that the female sex is less robust and less courageous than the male. Just look over almost any of our church congregations on a cold, ugly Sunday, when it requires nerve to brave the weather, and notice what a large preponderance of the congregation is composed of what is wrongfully called the "weaker sex." A man's tender constitution and careful regard for his health forbid his risking his life for the enjoyment of a church service!

—The fur caps sold at the Philadelphia Branch look very warm and comfortable.

PLEASANT GAP JOTTINGS.—The cave on the Speer farm is again creating a great sensation. Mr. Speer, Sr., recently undertook to ferret out the mysteries of the regions that lie beneath this yawning abyss. Bidding a tearful farewell to his wife and children, he hurried away, not knowing what untold dangers he might encounter before he should return—if indeed, he ever came back. Arriving at the mouth of the cave, he at once proceeded on his underground mission. After descending eleven feet he reached room No. 1. From there he shouted back to Billy Johnson, "If I never get back, Billy, take good care of the farm." He then proceeded to room No. 2, where he spent some time in collecting relics. From here he passed to room No. 3, where he became fairly entranced with the surrounding beauties, prominent among which were some old rails, stumps and stones—remnants of an ante-diluvian age—perhaps thrown there by previous tenants of the farm. Not being accustomed to underground atmosphere, he thought it best to go to the top again. Distance explored, 27 feet.

—Jo. Ross and John Griffith are the happiest men in this "neck-o'-woods." Mrs. Ross presented Jo. with a fine son, and Jo. has an idea it is the lost Charley Ross, and thinks he is entitled to the reward. Mrs. Griffith presented John with a fine daughter of which he is very proud.

—The singing class conducted by Mr. Philip Moyer, of Linden Hill, at the M. E. church, in this place, is one of the best ever organized here. Arrangements are now being made to hold a musical convention at the close of the term. No doubt it will be a grand success, for we have the material here to make it one of the best ever held in this county.

—Two new cases of scarlet fever have appeared in the family of Mr. John Shiffer, of Pleasant Gap. But they are now under the skillful care of Dr. Jacobs, of Centre Hall, and there is every prospect of their rapid recovery. SHIN BONE.

ITEMS FROM SPRING MILLS AND VICINITY.—The arrival of two daily trains together with the good sleighing make Spring Mills the scene of great activity. The farmers are taking advantage of the good sleighing to market their grain, and the grain dealers find their whole time occupied in receiving and shipping it. The completion of the L. & T. R. R. to Pennsylvania Furnace has cut off the trade of the west end of this valley, which heretofore has been divided between Bellefonte and this place, but the effect on the bustle and stir of the village is scarcely perceptible, as the shipments of ore and lumber are daily on the increase.

—On Saturday, the 22d instant, an arbitration was held at the office of Esquire Rishel at Farmer's Mills, to settle a difficulty between the Farmer's Mills Cornet Band and Samuel J. Homan. Mr. Homan's claim was ten dollars. After hearing a statement of the case, the arbitrators—Messrs. W. A. Krise, George Corman and Daniel Homan—decided that Mr. H. should receive half of his claim, and that each party should pay half of the costs.

—The Y. M. C. A., of Centre Hall, held a Gospel meeting in the church at Farmer's Mills on Sunday evening. Mr. D. P. Luse conducted the services. Revs. J. K. Miller and P. Fisher and Messrs. Derstine, Fisher, Shannon and others took prominent parts in the exercises. *

A YOUNG CENTRE COUNTY MAN INJURED AT ALTOONA.—The Altoona Sun reports that Wesley Nevel, a young man, aged 22 years, from the vicinity of Potter's Bank, this county, was quite seriously injured while employed at the works of the Altoona gas company, crushing coke, about 3 o'clock last Saturday afternoon. The accident occurred in the following somewhat peculiar manner: "He was working into the crushing machine and reached up to change the position of the hopper, at the same time placing his left foot for support upon the frame beneath the hopper and in close proximity to a couple of revolving cog wheels. Before he could realize his danger his boot leg was seized by the grinding wheels and drawn between them, tearing the boot leg and crushing, tearing and cutting Mr. Nevel's leg from a couple of inches below the knee almost to the hip in a positively horrible manner, though the bones are uninjured. Mr. Nevel with great presence of mind and nerve at once understood his danger and took a firm hold of the large cog wheel, succeeding in stopping it before assistance arrived, when he called for help and showed those who came where to shut off steam, when he succeeded in extricating himself. While the wounds are decidedly ugly and painful they are not necessarily dangerous, and he was able to walk to his boarding place with the family of Mr. Kunsman, some distance below the works, without the assistance which was freely offered by his fellow-employees. He is being well taken care of at his boarding house, and Dr. Fay is in attendance."

—The express train west on Tuesday morning was delayed for an hour or more at this place by the breaking of a flange on one of the driving wheels of the locomotive.

—It is reported that two bold individuals from this county are about engaging in the newspaper business at Petersburg, Huntingdon county.

—Men and boys should go to the Philadelphia Branch to buy their clothing of all descriptions.

THE UNCERTAINTIES OF TERRESTRIAL NAVIGATION.—SENATOR S. R. PEALE DUMPED IN A FEENCS CORNER.—HOB. S. R. Peale, of Lock Haven, was in town all last week in connection with the argument of an important equity case before Judge Morrow, of Towanda, Pa. The Senator drove his fine sorrel trotter over from home, and on Monday morning, after having religiously rested over Sunday, left the Brokerhoff House with the avowed intention of driving to Lock Haven in two hours. The Senator's "get-up" was unexceptionable. He had fine robes, a gold mounted whip, two comfortable overcoats and an elegant pair of seal skin driving gloves. Just before he ensconced himself in his sleigh "Majah" Špiller, the redoubtable porter of the Brokerhoff House, was seen emerging from the hotel bearing a large stone jug with a capacity of about five gallons. (We mean the jug, not Spiller.) This was carefully deposited beneath the robes while Senator Peale waived an affectionate farewell to his friends and swiftly glided from sight. In about half an hour the Senator's horse and sleigh—minus robes, whip, jug, and the Senator himself—returned. The horse was caught near Dr. E. W. Hale's residence and taken to A. Baum's stables, where several severe cuts upon his limbs were dressed. Shortly after, Mr. Peale put in an appearance, and it was learned that his horse had overturned the sleigh about three miles from town, and leaving his owner in a convenient fence corner, had retraced his steps to Bellefonte. Mr. Peale happily escaped unhurt, but he lost the jug. Every effort to recover that interesting relic has thus far failed. When Mr. Teller, of the Brokerhoff House, was questioned as to its contents he declined to say anything. Upon being pressed he finally acknowledged that the jug was full, but would give no further information. We are informed that an effort will be made to mislead the public by intimating that the jug was filled with hot water to prevent the cold from reaching the ex-Senatorial feet. This story will, of course, not wash.

THE ACCOUNT OF CENTRE COUNTY WITH THE STATE TREASURER.—The following from the last annual report of Hon. Samuel Butler, State Treasurer, shows the financial relation Centre county bears to the treasury of the Commonwealth. It will be readily seen that the latter is not profited much by the relation. The amounts paid into the treasury were:

Table with columns listing various taxes and payments such as State College Turnpike Company, Tax on Stock, and other financial details.

The county received from the treasury for general expenses:

Table listing various expenses such as E. G. Garrison, Liberty, and other financial details.

—The proprietor of one of our big up-town hotels had his faith in human nature considerably shaken last week. The particular phase of human nature that is now quoted below par by the victimized Boniface was condensed into a woman with a baby. With a plausible tale and under exceptional circumstances this consignement of human nature succeeded in living in elegant style at the hotel for a week without interviewing the book-keeper and squaring up the little score. The crushed hotel man is now looking with a sad visage at an account which consists of "Meals to room," "Six days, $2.50 per day," &c. In the meantime, the woman and future President of the United States have disappeared.

A TOUCHING AND BEAUTIFUL LETTER FROM MRS. FUREY.—Dr. J. M. Buck, of Altoona, recently received a letter from Mrs. William P. Furey, of San Antonio, Texas, from which the following beautiful extracts, makes the following beautiful extracts. We transfer them to the columns of the DEMOCRAT, knowing that the lady's many friends in this community will be deeply affected by their plaintive sadness and tender pathos:

I should or rather would have written to you and other friends several days ago had I not received such intelligence as to lead me to believe that I should be on my journey back ere this. I have been very miserable in body, as well as mind, since the tragical end of my journey here, but now I am somewhat restored—as far, as I think, as Mexico southern cookery will allow and from which my tortured nerves and stomach constantly rebel—and I think I can endure the greater part of the trip. — is kind and generous, and I am more grateful to him than I can express, as I did not ask and had no right to expect to be sent for. I only desired until I could find something to do for myself. I tried to make it plain to him that the expenses of the journey home, our prolonged stay at an expensive hotel and funeral expenses that I am certain were as limited as his friends would have approved of, absorbed our entire means. Finding I was insufficiently supplied, I concluded to try myself and get a pass to Houston, as I had the pleasure of meeting the superintendent, Mr. Converse, on our way down. I did so, and this morning since I have been writing this letter Grace came in with a kind little note inclosing the desired pass. I have met with much kindness here and a number of persons are anxious to have me remain and have used their influence to get me suitable employment; but there is actually nothing here that I can do without a small capital, at least I have left nothing untried so as to save my friends at the north the trouble and expense of sending for me, and for some reasons I would like to stay.

—Even from the tomb the voice of nature cries— As it is out of the question, I will start back with mingled sadness and pleasure. The questions constantly arise, "What have I to go back to? Where am I to go?" I cannot and will not eat the bread of dependence much longer. God only knows what a trial the past two months have been to me! The care, the anxiety, the mortification, the wounded pride, the sorrow and desolation. I must end it soon and become self-supporting or my health will give way. If I only could go right to work when I get back! And what would I have been through all this without you and the Ward family? May God bless you "exceedingly, abundantly, beyond all I can ask or think" for your disinterested kindness to me and the beloved dead who loved you more than you did him if possible. I know not how to express myself in staid and proper terms; I only know that this last and unexpected kindness of yours and Mr. W.'s almost breaks my heart, and a lifelong devotion will not be sufficient to repay. Try and feel all I would say through the subtle and mysterious agency that draws together and unites true and congenial spirits, and believe that I am grateful, most deeply grateful. I have trespassed so long upon your valuable time that I will not say anything about the closing scenes of our dear Will's troubled and suffering life. I prefer to tell it to you when we meet. The bright sun is shining on his grave and the "balmy air" is blowing over his tomb, but he is not there, and I feel sure it is well with him. Hoping to see you very soon I am most sincerely, etc.

WEDDING AT PHILIPSBURG.—A very pleasant affair, says the Philipsburg Journal, occurred on Wednesday afternoon of last week at the residence of Dr. G. F. Hoop, the occasion being the marriage of his daughter Ella, to A. E. Lingenfelter, express messenger on the B. & E. V. railroad, formerly of that place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. M. Creighton, of the M. E. church, in the presence of the relatives and a few intimate friends of the contracting parties. A sumptuous repast was served after the ceremony was performed, to which all did full justice. The wedding presents were numerous and costly, being tokens of the high esteem in which the newly wedded pair are held by their many friends. The happy couple left on the 4.30 train for a short tour, expecting to visit in Harrisburg, Philadelphia and other places. They will make Tyrone their future home. May prosperity and happiness be their constant guests through life.
