Failing to make headway against Democratic policy on these two important points, our Republican friends are attempting to organize an opposition to the apportionment. Lesson 9:

Christ Healing the Sick. LUKE 5: 12-26

GOLDEN TEXT: "The power of the Lord was present to heal them."—Luke 5:17.

Central Truth: Jesus proved his power to deal with sin and its effects.

The effect of the preaching of Jesus in the synagogue at Nazareth was to stir up the jealous fury of the Jews, who "were filled with wrath," because Nothing ever so aroused the spite of prejudice of the Jews as any intimation that the Gentiles were to have any share in the blessings of Messiah's kingdom. They had an intense hatred of out siders, arrogating to themselves the title of "the chosen people," and claim-ing that all the blessings of the covetrated the fact that "he came unto his wn, and his own received him not."

After this incident occur the miracles

the highest and the lowest.

2. Men are more afraid of physical than of moral disease. They will not grudge any cost for a skillful physician, or for expensive remedies, but how little they value the "balm of Gilead," or the "Great Physician there."

3. The best way to show our gratitude for God's mercies is to cultivate a spirit

This was the spirit of Curist's admo-nition to the leper who was cured of his disease. The Lord did not want any noisy demonstrations, but quiet and grateful obedience, which would have honored him more.

4. We should observe a proper pro-portion between our seasons of active working and our seasons of prayerful meditation.

It is a good rule in husbandry not to allow the top of the tree to grow too large for its roots. Our divine Lord felt the need of retirement and communion the need of retirement and communion with God. "A life all action would be as bad for the soul itself as a life all prayer would be profitless for others."

5. Physical sins lead to paralysis of the body, and spiritual transgressions lead to paralysis of the soul.

But the latter is a far more fatal disease than the former.

ease than the former.

6. By counsel and prayer carry your helpless friends to Jesus.

Christ's power to heal the diseases of the body is a proof of his authority to heal the disorders of the soul. 7. The Pharisees and the doctors of the law "sat by" Jesus while he taught the people. It is one thing to sit by as critics and another thing to sit under as learners. It is little that doctors and learner men should be willing that Christ should preach before them, while they are unwilling that he should preach to them.
