Democratic County Committee.

The following persons have been named as members of the Democratic County Committee for 1881.

Table listing names of Democratic County Committee members for various townships including Bellefonte, Mifflinburg, and others.

Local Department.

Call at Green's drug store for your cigars. The Y. M. C. A., of Centre Hall, held a public meeting last Sunday afternoon. Call at the Philadelphia Branch and examine their bargains in men's and boys' clothing. March is so called because Winter is supposed to get up and march away during that month. We hear that sufficient money has been subscribed to pay off the debt on the M. E. church. Gentlemen of Centre county, do yourselves a favor by buying your clothing at the Philadelphia Branch. Attend the meeting of the Bellefonte Temperance Union in the Young Men's Christian Association room this evening. Mitchell is the man for United States Senator, and happy is the man who buys his clothing at the Philadelphia Branch. Rev. G. D. Knox, a minister from the western part of this State, will preach for the Baptist congregation next Sunday evening. There should be a large attendance to hear him. We are sorry to learn that our friend Mr. Michael Kerstetter, residing on Brockerhoff's farm, in Spring township, lost a very valuable horse by death on Tuesday morning. The African M. E. church is being repaired and its interior adorned with fresh paint. It will be greatly improved as a place of worship when the present work upon it is completed. Frequent services will be held in the Episcopal church of this place during Lent, which began yesterday. Two services were held yesterday—Ash Wednesday—and the Litany will be said on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. March came in neither roaring like a lion nor bleating like a lamb. We don't know what animal to compare it with, but guess that the monkey will suit. But when March comes in like any other animal than a lion or lamb it gives us no basis upon which to foretell how it will go. Thomas Carlyle, in speaking of America, once said, "The secret of happiness in America is that ye have a vast deal of land for a very few people." The eminent philosopher erred in neglecting to state that an important item in the happiness of Americans is that they have such fine grocery stores as that of S. A. Brew & Son. All the land in Centre county would fail to make a man happy if he did not have a first-class grocery store near by. The three planets, Saturn, Jupiter and Venus, illuminate the western heavens, and are most beautiful just after the sun has retired behind the horizon. We believe it is promised on the heavenly programme that these three planets shall continue to be visible until about the first of May, Venus growing more brilliant, while Saturn and Jupiter will gradually diminish their light. A Bishop street boy went to see his grandmother. After looking eagerly around the handsomely furnished room where she sat, he exclaimed, inquiringly, "Oh, grandma, where is the miserable table papa says you keep?" "Oh, we have a good table now, my dear," answered grandma; "we have commenced buying our groceries of Sechler & Co., and our cook is now able to prepare some of the nicest dinners you ever tasted. Last Sunday night was one of the times when the darkness was so intense that it could almost be felt. The street lamps were in their usual places, but they were not visible to mortal eye, and only served as obstructions to impede the progress of pedestrians—and their hard iron surface is by no means the most agreeable substance in the world to come in forcible contact with. We believe with Artemus Ward that this should not be thus, and are of opinion that it will not be healthy for the borough authorities to have too many "this thuses." In plain words, why were not the street lamps lit? Are the borough authorities in league with the evil powers to keep people away from church?

THE LATEST FRESHET.—We hope the flood which agitated the bosom of Spring creek last Monday morning may be the concluding one for this season at least. The pretty stream, with its tributary, Logan branch, rose very rapidly last Sunday night, caused by a violent rain storm which began about 4 o'clock on the afternoon of that day and continued with unabated fury for fourteen hours. At 4 o'clock on Monday morning it had attained a height seldom known before. The immense body of snow along the banks of the two streams was transformed into water, and descended like an avalanche into the roaring flood. Considerable damage was wrought by the destructive waters. The dam above the car works was in imminent danger of bursting its banks, in which case the destruction would have been increased to an almost limitless extent. The smaller dams at Mann's Axe Works and at Valentines' Ironworks gave way, and sent their contents down to swell the mighty flood. A trestle which supports Valentines' railroad across Spring creek was only prevented from floating off by being secured on one end. An immense cake of ice struck one of the piers of the High street bridge, considerably endangering the safety of the structure. Further down the creek the bridge leading to the Bush House stables was carried away. The bridge on Lamb street was greatly damaged as were also several other similar structures further down the stream. The dam at Linn & McCoy's Ironworks was damaged to a considerable extent. All along the course of the creek cellars were flooded, causing much destruction and inconvenience. The waters subsided almost as soon as they had risen. It is not a comforting thought that sufficient snow remains to again swell the creek with a raging torrent if we should be visited soon by the same amount of rain. PERSONALS.—Senator C. T. Alexander bestowed his agreeable presence on Bellefonte during last Sunday. Miss Jennie Dare has returned home from Philadelphia, and will again enliven the society of Bellefonte with her presence. Rev. Mr. Nesbitt, of Lock Haven, preached two splendid sermons for the Presbyterian congregation, of this place, on Sunday last. The audience present at the morning service was one of the largest that ever assembled in the church. Rev. Wm. Laurie filled Rev. Nesbitt's pulpit at Lock Haven, and as his sermons are always elaborate, well prepared efforts, we have no doubt that those who heard him were highly edified. One of the rare events of last week was a call from Mr. Chas. Eckenroth, one of Pleasant Gap's old citizens. We hope he will repeat it frequently in the future. Mr. John Rankin, Jr., is now acting as messenger for the First National Bank. Mr. William Schroyer is recovering from his recent attack of illness. Mr. and Mrs. James Rankin paid a visit to friends in Muncy during the latter part of last week. Dr. Thomas R. Hayes will lead the regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Everybody is invited to be present. Mrs. J. D. Kurtz, of Milton, is visiting at the residence of Major Forster. Mr. E. A. Robbins, the author of the "Robbins' System" of piano-forte instruction, with his daughter and niece, are occupying apartments at the Bush House. Mrs. Sechler, the wife of Mr. Hamilton Sechler, has been very ill during the past week. We are pleased to learn that she is now recovering. Miss Lala Klinger, one of the accomplished compositors of the Watchman office, who has suffered quite a long period of illness, is now recovering. Mr. William Larimer, who is one of the salesmen in the employ of the Singer sewing machine agency at this place, drew a prize offered to the man who would sell the largest number of machines during the month of February. He sold ten machines, which is considered very good for the shortest month in the year. Mr. A. C. Mingle, long the popular and obliging clerk at the Bee Hive store, has decided upon making an important change. He has purchased an interest in the shoe establishment of Louis Doll and on next Monday morning will be found in that widely known store ready to wait upon the numerous customers who frequent it. "Cap," as he is familiarly known, is one of the best clerks who ever stood behind the counter, and in his new vocation will doubtless increase his enviable reputation. We wish him all the luck that a prosperous and well conducted business can bring him. Both American and English audiences are best pleased when they see something that will make them laugh, and if the pleasant glances and glad smiles of the family who have just partaken of a dinner compounded of groceries bought at Sechler & Co's store could be seen on the faces of the actors on the stage the drama of "A Happy Family" would satisfy the most critical audience. A private exhibition can be had in every family that will patronize Sechler & Co's grocery. Company B, National Guard, will start to Washington this afternoon. Everybody should be out to see them off, as they will look more like real soldiers than ever before. If you want a first-class cigar, call at Green's drug store for it.

LENT.—THE ASHES OF SORROW EXCHANGED FOR THE ROBES OF REJOICING.—The following remarks concerning the season upon which we have just entered are copied from the Altoona Tribune: The penitential season of Lent began on Wednesday of this week. To many it is a season of fasting and prayer, while to all, especially the gayer world, it is a time for much needed rest from social demands, such as parties, balls, entertainments, etc. It concludes with Saturday, the 16th of April, at which time the white robes of Easter rejoicing are brought forth. The setting apart of forty days as a season of fasting and special devotion has its origin in similar seasons mentioned both in the Old Testament and the New. Moses was on Mount Sinai with the Almighty for forty days and nights. Elijah fasted forty days and nights as he went to Mount Horeb. When Jonah proclaimed to the Ninevites that their city would be destroyed if they did not repent, their term of grace was fixed at forty days, during which time they "proclaimed a fast and put on sackcloth, from the greatest to the least." When Jesus Christ went into the wilderness to be tempted by the devil, his term of exile was forty days and nights, during which time he fasted. By the people of the Old Testament fasting was observed as an accompaniment to prayer and other acts of devotion. There are intimations in the New Testament that fasting, if devoutly practiced, would be acceptable to God. In the early church there seems to have been as great diversity of opinion about the duty of fasting as among modern Christians. In the first century fasting was joined with prayer in connection with the rite of baptism. In the second century it became customary to fast before Easter, not in such protracted measure as the Lenten fast, but rather with a series of solemn services. These were principally on Fridays, to commemorate the day of the crucifixion. At Alexandria Wednesdays and Fridays were observed as fast days, commemorative of the betrayal of our Lord on Wednesday and his crucifixion on Friday. As regular days of fasting became more and more fixed institutions the custom increased of preparing by feasting on the days preceding the fast. There is high authority for this in the account of Elijah and his fast. Before entering on his forty days of abstinence he ate a substantial repast and "went in the strength of that meat forty days and forty nights upon Horeb, the Mount of God." In the times of the early fathers, Chrysostom, Augustine and others, this feasting was so greatly in excess as to cause the outspoken condemnation of these Godly men. But human nature is much the same in all generations. As fasting became more of a prescribed duty preliminary feasting grew in favor. In countries where the Lenten fast is made the most of the carnivals which precede it are most eminently flavored with jollity and the consumption of creature comforts. The season of Lent in its forty-day continuance gradually became a fixed custom, both in the Eastern and the Western churches. For a long time fasting was voluntary. By the Council of Orleans in 541 it was made obligatory. The Eighth Council of Trent in the next century forbade the use of meat during the fast before Easter, and decreed that those who ate it during that time should go without it for the rest of the year. Various councils from time to time took action as to the details of fasting. In the English Church Lent was commanded by Ercombert, seventh King of Kent, in the eighth century. The Protestant Episcopal church of this country has closely followed the practices of the Church of England as to Lent. In all the churches which observe Lent the Ash Wednesday services are partially solemn and penitential. There is a general abstinence from worldly business if not from food. In all the churches where fasting prevails the rules of abstinence from food are now so modified that no privation need be undergone so great as to be dangerous to health. The sick, the feeble and the hard working are exempted from fasting as it would be injurious to the physical system. To the truly devout who accept the duty of fasting as a help to spiritual life and to communion with God it would seem that there must be advantage in it. The world suffers from gluttony and overfeeding far more than from eating too little. Among the officers recently elected to preside over the affairs of the borough of Philipsburg were three gentlemen—W. T. Bain, S. F. Lytle and L. C. Jones—who were chosen to fill the somewhat novel position of church trustees. When their names were published in last week's DEMOCRAT we did not understand the duties of this honorable position. Our ignorance on the subject was, doubtless, shared by others, for in its recent issue the Philipsburg Journal feels called upon to offer the following explanation: Long years ago before church denominations had an existence in this ancient "burg," a property was set aside by the founder of the village, and a building erected denominated the "Union Church," whose doors were always open to ministers of the gospel for preaching and public worship. This property is under the control of the borough authorities, and the voters elect annually three trustees, whose duty it is to supervise the same. Expenses for repairs and incidentals are paid out of the borough tax assessment. Tuesday last was what is commonly known as "Shrove Tuesday," and was the proper time to eat doughnuts—a very welcome occasion for the children, who would rejoice to have it universally observed.

LINES ABOUT LENT.—The following pretty poem, appropriate to Lent, is from the pen of Mrs. Marcella V. Hardenbergh, of Brooklyn, and appears in a neat little volume recently issued by her under the title "From Heart to Heart." The poem is entitled "A CRYING SIN." It is the solemn Lenten time, When from the world apart, We Christians should review our life, And try our inmost heart. Before Jehovah's searching sight, All guilty we must be, But yet I think our crying sin Is lack of charity. Proud Pharisees, we thank the Lord, We not as others seem, Our glass can magnify the "mote," But quite overlook the "beam." Is our own garb so undefiled, Our heart so white within, That we can draw our robes aside, And spurn the child of sin? Can we stand up with spotless hands, Pass sentence on another, Unpitying lift the murderous stone And slay an erring brother? If Christ such mercy showed to us, As we to others show, How swift would be our punishment, How sure would be our woe! Lord, in the holy Lenten time, Teach us our guilt to see; Oh send, most needed of all gifts, The grace of charity. IN MEMORIAM.—At Linden Hall, Centre county, Pa., January 17, 1881, Lucy Ross, aged 53 years and 6 months, wife of John L. Ross. WHEREAS, It has pleased the Great Master in His all-wise providence to enter our Grange circle by death for the second time, removing from our midst another of our charter members—our beloved Sister Lucy Ross—after a sojourn of seven years with us. Resolved, That in the death of Sister Ross, Victor Grange has lost a worthy member, her husband and son a kind and affectionate wife and mother, the church a devoted Christian, yet we truly believe that their loss is her infinite gain. Resolved, That we sympathize with the bereaved husband and son and commend them to God, who is too wise to err and too good to do wrong. Resolved, That the foregoing resolutions be recorded on the minutes of Victor Grange No. 159 P. of H., and published in the Farmer's Friend and the several county papers, and a copy be presented to the husband and son of the deceased, and our charter be draped in mourning for sixty days. MRS. G. W. CAMPBELL, } Com. MRS. J. R. DALE, } MRS. E. R. LOAL, }

Morrison, Bellefonte; Daniel Irvin, Huston; W. F. Reynolds, Bellefonte; A. C. Mingle, Bellefonte; James Turner, Howard; Edward Lucas, Unionville; William T. Bailey, Benner. PUBLIC SALES.—Messrs. D. Sharer and C. Deckert, administrators of the late John L. Rockey, of Spring township, offer a large number of the personal effects belonging to the deceased at public sale, on Friday, March 11. Among the articles enumerated in the attractive sale bills already printed are several head of young cattle, good milk cows, wagons, reapers, harness, cultivators, interest in separator and horse power, &c. These articles are in good condition. It is one of the best opportunities of the season. Mr. Emanuel Ettinger offers for sale at the residence of John Bitner, Sr., in Potter township, on Wednesday, March 9, a large amount of personal property, among which we notice one horse, four cows, wagons, cultivators, reapers, &c. The sale will begin at 1 o'clock P. M., when and where terms will be made known. On Thursday, March 10, a sale will also take place at the residence of D. M. Weaver, one mile northwest of Pine Grove Mills, along the White Hall road. Three splendid cows, six head of young cattle, one combined champion reaper and mower, one sulky cultivator, one gum spring grain drill, sixty feet of belting—3 inches wide, &c., are upon the bills which advertise the sale. Sale to begin at one o'clock. A sale of valuable real estate will take place from the store of J. C. Sample, at Pine Grove Mills, on Saturday, March 12, at one o'clock P. M. The land described for sale is located about one mile east of Pine Grove Mills, and is bounded by the lands of John Brett, David and Reed Barr, William Bloom, Mr. Archey and Tussy Mountain. It contains forty-three acres, a good house and an apple orchard. Possession given on April 1. A sale which will attract the attention of those desiring to purchase farm stock and implements is the one to take place at the residence of Mr. George Koon, on the farm of Robert Kendal, in Benner township, one mile east of Pleasant Gap, on Thursday, March 17. It will begin at 10 o'clock A. M. Among the stock and implements for sale are three colts, one Excelsior reaper, a Centre Hall corn planter, plows, harrows, cultivators, &c. NOT ONLY EARTHQUAKES, BUT VOLCANOS.—Under the title, "Are we Near a Vesuvius?" the Daily News says: "It is alleged that there is a spot on the mountain down in the narrows below Lewis-town, where a warm current of air is constantly ascending out of the bowels of the earth—so warm that no matter how cold your feet may be they can be warmed in a few moments. The Gazette says: It is said to be known to only one person residing down there, and he keeps it a secret under the belief that valuable minerals cause the exhalation. As volcanic action is beginning to show itself in several parts of the United States, notably as near as Virginia, may not the late supposed earthquake which woke up the Mifflintowners, Lewisburgers and others, have originated in a shake of Shade mountain? If so, and should it some day burst forth with Vesuvian fury, fill up the narrows, dam the Juniata and convert all our valleys into a vast lake, which they undoubtedly were in the dim past of thousands of years ago, who can contemplate the result without a shudder? Get your arks ready!" SHERWYNNESS AND ABILITY.—Hop Bitters so freely advertised in all the papers, secular and religious, are having a large sale, and are supplanting all other medicines. There is no denying the virtues of the Hop plant, and the proprietors of these Bitters have shown great shrewdness and ability in compounding a Bitters, whose virtues are so palpable to every one's observation.—Examiner and Chronicle. There will be some grand clothing worn at the Inauguration Ball to-night, but none of the gentlemen will look neater than he who bought his garments at the Philadelphia Branch.

IMPORTANT TO TOWNSHIP AUDITORS.—The township auditors, under act of Legislature of June 3, 1879, shall in 1881, and thereafter, meet on the second Monday of March in each year, (except to audit the accounts of school directors, which shall be the first Monday in June,) and oftener if necessary, and shall audit, settle and adjust the accounts of supervisors and treasurers, and of such other township officers as shall, by law, be referred to them. —Spring woollens now ready.
