Bellefonte, Pa., Feb. 1.

Local Department.

In the dim dawn of the new day,
And in the evening of the old,
What it will bring forth—what or how—
Who can know, or who understand?
Few will heed,
Few will heed.

See, the red sun before the dawn,
Though close behind the night lingers still,
Flapping their fatal wings,
Following, following over the hill,
No repose!
No repose!

We, too, went on in gladness,
Now it is twilight, sad shadows fall,
Who is the harvest? Why lift we our eyes?
What could we see here? But God seeth all.
Fast life dies,
Slow the good seed.

Though we may cast it with trembling hand,
Spirit half-broken, heart sick and faint,
His wings will scatter it over the land,
His rain will nourish and cleanse it from taint.
Sinner or saint,
Slow the good seed.

—JOHN HALIFAX, Gentleman.

—See the wants of the Bellefonte Car Works in our advertising columns.

—Harry Green finds a rapid sale for his extra five cent Florida cigars. Call and try them.

—You can get the best five cent cigar to be found in Bellefonte at Frank Green's drug store. Call for Harry's Florida brand.

—As a pleasant, safe and reliable remedy for all diseases of the pulmonary organs Green's Compound Syrup of Tar, Honey and Bloodroot has no equal.

—Gentlemen's furnishing goods of every variety and quality can be found in stock at the Philadelphia Branch, which are being sold remarkably cheap.

—Mrs. Frank Hillish and her children, of Canton, Ohio, have been spending some time with their relatives in Bellefonte, and are no doubt enjoying their visit.

—A very neat new head made a decided improvement in the appearance of Bellefonte Morning News on last Thursday morning. We think the new name: "Daily News," is also a praiseworthy change.

—Hon. William K. Alexander, of Millheim, started on Monday morning of last week on a journey to Texas. It is rumored that Mr. Alexander has some notion of looking for a business location in the far Southwest.

—Mr. Lewin, of the Philadelphia Branch Clothing house on Allegheny street, Bellefonte, defies competition. In quality, style and price, his clothing will be found superior to any in town. Call and be convinced.

—There was a delightful social gathering of young people at the residence of Mr. Frank Green, on Linn street, on Wednesday evening of last week, in honor of the birthday of the twin sisters, Misses Emma and Mary Green.

—Attorneys Fortney, Bower and McKee spent several days last week in Millheim taking testimony in the contested election case of Reifnyder vs. Musser. The contest is for the office of Justice of the Peace for Millheim borough.

—Mr. James Loder, of Howard township, fell from a wagon last week, and bruised himself considerably, in addition to somewhat severe internal injuries. Mr. Loder is an old gentleman, quite heavy, and not so active as in his younger days, and it is feared that the consequences of his fall may prove serious.

—Mr. Hiram Hoffer, of Phillipsburg, gave his many friends in Bellefonte, the pleasure of his society for a few days last week. Mr. Hoffer is such a pleasant, genial gentleman, that he always receives a hearty greeting from all his acquaintances. We are glad to hear that he is doing a prosperous business in his new home.

—We are sorry that Mr. Linn should have been obliged to speak in the cemetery on last Monday under somewhat embarrassing surroundings. We have never seen it otherwise, however, during the time occupied by orators in the cemetery on decoration day. The crowd scatters, many indulge in loud talk, in running around, and in other actions that are not proper and should not be permitted on these occasions. We say this more in sorrow than in anger, and trust that in future some measures will be taken to prevent these improper and indecorous displays.

—Mr. J. S. Fisher, of Rebersburg, gave the DEMOCRAT a call last week. Mr. Fisher is engaged in the manufacture of carriages, buggies, spring wagons and sleighs, and does an extensive business. He is a skillful and experienced workman himself and is therefore able to guarantee satisfaction to all persons who purchase the products of his shops.

—The popular grocery of S. A. Brew & Son continues to lead all others in the amount of business transacted. It is the best place to buy pure, sweet and fresh groceries. Though the establishment is well known, there may be a few persons in the county who have never patronized them. It will be to their advantage to do so on the next occasion they wish to buy.

—Maj. George D. Pifer, on his usual business trip through the country, put in an appearance at Bellefonte on last Saturday. The Major remains with the house with which he has so long been connected, Jones, Hoar & Co., of 514 Market street, Philadelphia, and reports business in a flourishing condition. The friends of the Major—and they are legion—were all pleased to meet him.

—People may sometimes be inclined to ask why the grocery store of Sechler & Co., is so popular. This is an easy matter to explain. This enterprising firm sells nothing but the best goods in their line to be found in the markets, and consequently every customer who comes to the store is not only fully satisfied, but pleased with his or her purchases. The best in the market, reasonable prices and fair dealing will make any firm popular.

—Mr. H. H. Benner, of this place has been appointed and commissioned a Notary Public. He will have his office with Squire John Rankin, on the second floor of Humes' Block, where he will always be pleased to meet his friends who need his services. In addition to the business of a Notary, he will also give attention to pension claims and hopes to receive a share of the patronage. We wish Harvey success in his new vocation and hope he will achieve it.

—Burglaries are coming to be quite a common occurrence in Howard borough. The store of Lucas & Bros., of that place was again broken into and ransacked one night last week, this being the fourth or fifth time, we believe, that this firm has been the recipient of these unwelcome visits. In this instance, however, the scamps had their pains for their trouble, failing to receive any booty; though the safe was pried open with tools taken from the division tool house on the railroad, and from B. F. Walter's blacksmith shop.

—The summer meeting of the State Board of Agriculture will be held at Williamsport, commencing June 7. The programme indicates an unusually interesting session. Among the stated essays we notice one by Professor Jordan, of the State College upon the "Economic use of Stock Foods," all of the sessions of the Board are open to the public, and all are invited to take part in the discussions. We have no doubt that as many of our farmers as can find time in this busy season to attend will find profit in doing so. Reduced rates of fare can be obtained by addressing Mr. D. H. Foreman, Williamsport.

—The Bellefonte Fencibles again repaired to the Fair Grounds on last Saturday afternoon for target practice. The following is the score:

200 YARD RANGE—OFF HAND.
Muller	0 3 3 2 2 8
VanPelt	0 2 3 2 15
Hale	0 3 3 4 10
Giesinger	0 3 3 2 8
Gross	2 3 3 2 10
Schroeder	0 3 3 4 12
Morrison	0 2 3 4 13
Demer	2 2 3 2 11
Gabriel	3 3 2 4 12
Powers	1 3 3 0 8
Green	0 3 0 2 5

100 YARD RANGE—OFF HAND.
Wetzel	3 2 4 0 12
Wetzel	4 2 3 0 15
Miller	3 2 3 3 13
Phillips	3 0 3 2 10

The shooting at 200 yards is fair for a first trial at that range. As usual, Van Pelt carried off the honors. At 100 yards Sweeney is making rapid improvement. From a blank to a score of 12 is a big stride.

—Two well known Linn street men, living in close proximity to each other decided to test the efficacy of Brown's Bohemian Beer the other night. They are not in the habit of drinking more than they can conveniently carry home and they were much astonished after they passed Howard street to find that the malt fumes from famed Bohemia had decidedly the best of them. The night was dark and their houses looked exactly alike. They held a convention on the street and passed a resolution to the effect that they could not pick out their respective houses. After considerable debate they resolved to tackle the first house and find out which of them lived there. With great difficulty they reached the door bell, and frantically sent a peal ringing through the house. A lady's head was immediately visible at a second story window. "Does Mr. Thompson live here?" asked an uncertain voice. "Yes sir," was the irascible response. "Are you Mrs. Thompson?" again ventured the Mezzo-Soprano. "I am," was the Damascus-like reply. "Then will you please come down and pick Mr. Thompson out, Mr. Johnson wants to go home." There is a decided coolness now noticeable between the two families. The names are fictitious but the facts as narrated are literally correct.

DECORATION DAY.

"Cover them over—yes, cover them over,
Parent and husband, and brother, and lover;
Cover in your heart these dead heroes of ours,
And cover them over with beautiful flowers."

Memorial Honors to the Nation's Dead.

Never since an annual memorial day was instituted in honor of the dead soldiers of the country was the day more appropriately and impressively observed in Bellefonte than on last Monday. Gregg Post, No. 95, Grand Army of the Republic, had taken timely action to make the ceremonies of the day successful, as well as interesting, to those who should take part in them, and the members of the Post are to be congratulated upon the perfection of their arrangements and the fitting manner in which they were carried out.

It may be said that the memorial honors really began on Sunday, by a sermon delivered to the Post by Rev. John Hewitt, of the Protestant Episcopal Church. Between fifty and sixty members of the Post marched to the church in a body, occupying a number of pews set apart for them. A large congregation was present, and the services throughout were of an impressively interesting character. In connection with the usual Sunday morning service of the church, the rector read for the lessons of the day the thirty-second chapter of Genesis and the sixth chapter of Ephesians, taking for his text the 1st, 2nd and part of the 7th verses of the chapter read from the Old Testament, in these words:

1. "And Jacob went on his way, and the angels of God met him."
2. "And when Jacob saw them, he said, This is God's host: and he called the name of that place Mahanaim."

7. * * * "and he divided the people that was with him * * * into two bands."

From these words Mr. Hewitt drew an instructive and deeply impressive lesson between the living and the dead hosts that went to battle for the preservation of the government. The angels of God met them and they were divided into two bands, that if one band fell the other might be preserved. We cannot attempt a further synopsis of this able and eloquent sermon at this time, expecting, through the kindness of Mr. Hewitt, to lay it before the readers of the DEMOCRAT in full next week. It is sufficient for the present to say that the discourse throughout was exceedingly appropriate and edifying.

On Monday morning, those good friends of the Post, the ladies, ever active and willing in good works, were promptly on hand, furnishing an abundant supply of fresh flowers and arranging them with their fair, deft hands into beautiful wreaths and bouquets. It would be a great pleasure to give the names of all the fair contributors but they are so numerous that a want of space compels us to omit them. The programme arranged by the Post fixed the hour for the assembling of the various organizations taking part in the ceremonies at four o'clock, P. M., and promptly at that hour all appeared in the square in front of the Court House. The line was formed under the direction of Adjutant Benner, and then turned over to the command of Post Commander George F. Harris, who acted as Chief Marshal. Wheeling into column the procession marched over the prescribed route in the following order:

Chief Marshal and Assistant,
Mountain City Band,
Company B, 5th Regiment, N. G. Pa.,
Gregg Post, No. 95, G. A. R.,
Logan Hose Company, No. 1,
Union Hose Company, No. 2.

The procession marched down Allegheny street to Howard; from Howard to Spring; from Spring to Bishop; from Bishop to Allegheny; from Allegheny to Howard and thence to the Union Cemetery. The organizations all presented a very creditable appearance. The excellent marching of Company B was especially remarked and many complimentary expressions were passed upon the company by the crowds on the pavements as the column marched along. The fire companies also deserve words of commendation. The Logan boys turned out between thirty-five and forty men and marched like veterans. The Undine boys paraded for the first time in their new uniform—blue shirts, with white trimmings—looking clean and fresh and of course received many complimentary remarks from their friends.

AT THE CEMETERY.
As the head of the column wheeled into the entrance of the cemetery the time was changed to a slow step—the band playing a dead march and the military company reversing arms. With slow, measured tread the column marched up the main avenue of the city of the dead and wheeling to the left proceeded to the burial lot of the Hale family, around which a hollow square was formed, preparatory to the exercises of the day.

The decoration exercises in the cemetery began with the beautiful ritual of the Grand Army of the Republic for the decoration of four special graves. The object of the assemblage was stated by the Post Commander and was followed by prayer by Rev. De Long. Comrades Keller, Irvin, Love and Rankin then, in the order named, decorated the four graves, each reciting the solemn and appropriate words of the ritual.

At the conclusion of this ceremony came the general decoration of the graves of all the soldiers, "lying so quiet by night and by day," in the cemetery. A magnificent floral cross that stood at the centre of one side of the square was stripped of its luxuriant wealth of "beautiful flowers" by the members of the Post, all carrying off bouquets to deck the graves of their dead comrades. When this had been accomplished, the assembly was sounded, and the organizations and visitors present gathered around the stand to hear the oration of Hon. J. Merrill Linn, of Union county, who had been announced as the orator of the day. Mr. Linn was introduced to his audience by Post Commander Harris, and at once proceeded to deliver his oration. It was read from notes and was an eloquent and a well written production. After a glowing tribute to the deeds and memory of the dead heroes of the war, illustrated by a touching reference to the soldiers of the American revolution, he proceeded to the real theme of discourse—that of Nationality—and was listened to with much interest.

At the conclusion of the oration the benediction was pronounced by Rev. De Long, and the various organization reformed and marched to the court house square where the column was dismissed.

The graves of the soldiers who lie in the Catholic and Friends cemeteries were visited in the morning and properly decorated by members of the Post detailed for that duty. The grave of every soldier lying in the cemeteries of Bellefonte, therefore, received its floral tribute to the memory of the dead patriot sleeping within its narrow bounds.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT THE COURT HOUSE.
In the evening of the same day a public memorial service was held in the Court House, by Gregg Post in honor of deceased comrades. They were four in number, as follows:

William P. Wilson, who served in company G, of the 51st Regt. P. V. Died, November 29, 1879.

James Sheridan, who served, first, in the 7th Regt. Penna. Reserve Corps; second, in the 190th Regt. P. V. Died August 2, 1881.

Harry C. Brooks, who served as Second Lieutenant of Company B, 11th Penna. Cavalry. Died, December 7, 1880.

Henry Eckenroth, who served, first, as a private in Company H, 7th Regt. P. M., second, as corporal in Company G, 148th Regt. P. V., and, third, as Second Lieutenant in the 124th Regt. U. S. Colored Infantry. Died, March 8, 1881.

At an early hour in the evening the Post, escorted by the Mountain City Band, marched to the Court House, and occupied the space within the bar. The formal ceremonies opened with the reading of the records of the deceased soldiers. The ritual of the G. A. R., in commemoration of deceased comrades, consisting of a responsive service by the Chaplain of the Post and a choir was then rendered, and impressed the audience with its solemnity and beauty. The choir consisted of four voices—the Misses Lyon and Messrs. Blanchard and Bradley. The music was exquisite and called forth unqualified commendation. The Lord's Prayer was repeated by the Post in unison, and John G. Love, Esq., was introduced as the orator of the evening. After an eloquent exordium showing the antiquity of the means used to commemorate great events and heroic deeds, Mr. Love proceeded to pay a tribute of respect to the recently deceased comrades they had assembled to honor. At the conclusion of the address, the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Laurie, of the Presbyterian church, and thus ended the exercises of the day.

A CARD OF THANKS.

The committee on floral decorations, G. A. R., deem it no more than just to say that they owe to the children of Bellefonte whatever success may have attended their decoration ceremonies. The ladies who comprised the committee worked the flowers into wreaths, crosses and bouquets, suffered nothing to be lost that would decorate and supplied graciously the benefit of their experience and culture; but the boys and girls gathered the fragrant treasures from the fields and gardens and generously made them a free gift.

We acknowledge gratefully the receipt of wreaths, crosses, bouquets prepared by friends at home.

Comrade William Jones deserves mention for the preparation of the Court House for the ceremony in the evening, but he had ladies to help, whose taste supplied the decorations upon the altar.

These acknowledgments being made to all our benefactors, we now think it proper that we should say to those children who expected to take part in the ceremonial at the cemetery that the threatening rain necessarily curtailed that feature in the services, viz: of receiving the flowers and handing them to the comrades upon the entry of the latter into the cemetery.

The ladies aid committee on decoration consisted of the following named ladies: Miss Sallie Benner, Mrs. D. M. Glenn, Mrs. J. G. Love, Mrs. John I. Curtin, Mrs. Amos Mullen, Mrs. E. T. Tuten, Mrs. W. S. Zeller, Miss Sallie Burnside, Mrs. John N. Lane, Mrs. R. C. Cheesman, Mrs. A. E. Smith, Mrs. Col. Dare, Mrs. D. H. Hastings.

R. C. IRVIN, H. A. WILLIAMS,
J. H. RANKIN, H. H. BENNER,
E. A. SMITH, Committee.

DECORATION DAY AT CURTIN'S WORKS.

The annual memorial to the dead soldiers was observed with appropriate ceremonies at Curtin's Works on last Saturday afternoon. The two burial places at the works contain the graves of nineteen soldiers of the late war, and each received its fitting floral tribute. The attendance of people was large—fully five hundred—and under the Marshalship of Captain Austin Curtin, a procession, headed by the Pleasant Gap Cornet Band and the Zimmerman Drum Corps, was formed and marched to the cemeteries. The Sunday-schools were out in full force, the children bearing the flowers used for decorating the graves. After the decoration had been completed the audience was called together and entertained in a most acceptable manner by Rev. Pennypacker, of the M. E. Church of Bellefonte. The address was an eloquent and touching tribute to the memories of those dead heroes in whose honor the assemblage had come together.

AT PLEASANT GAP.

Memorial day was duly and fittingly observed at Pleasant Gap. A number of soldiers slumber in the quiet burial grounds—Methodist and Lutheran—at that place, and the grave of each one of them received its meed of regard and honor on Monday morning. The assemblage came together at 10 o'clock. Under the Chief Marshal, John R. Tate, a procession headed by the Pleasant Gap Cornet Band, marched, first, to the cemetery at the Methodist church. The band played a solemn dirge and a fervent prayer was offered by the Rev. Warner. After the decoration of the graves at this cemetery, Clement Dale, Esq., of Bellefonte, was introduced as the orator of the occasion. He entertained those present with an able and appropriate address. The effort of Mr. Dale is spoken of in the very highest terms by those who were present. At the Lutheran cemetery a few interesting and reasonable remarks were made by Rev. Warner, and after the floral offerings were placed upon the graves the benediction was pronounced and the assemblage dispersed. In addition to the excellent music of the band, the choir present on the occasion rendered the memorial ode and a number of other selections in a very excellent and pleasing manner.

AT OTHER PLACES.

We learn that at Centre Hall, Madisonburg, Spring Mills, Rebersburg, Phillipsburg, and at other places in Centre county, the day was appropriately observed, but at this writing we do not have any of the particulars and of course cannot give details.

A REMARKABLE FEAT.—Mr. Chas. Peterson, aged 85 years, makes his home with Sheriff Spangler. He was a drummer boy under Napoleon I, and was with the army to Moscow. Many years ago he came to Mr. Spangler and became a hostler at his hotel. For a half dozen years he has done nothing but chores about the house, and seems to be as feeble as people at 85 usually get. But he still possesses the idea of being able to make rapid marches, as he calls them, and surprises the Sheriff and his family by sudden trips into the neighboring counties. Two weeks ago, on a morning, he arose at three o'clock, packed his knapsack with provisions for three days, and started on his tramp. He walked from Bellefonte to Millroy, from there to Lewistown. At Lewistown he took the train and went to Adamsburg, Snyder county; from thence he walked 15 miles to Troxleville; from thence across Jack's mountain, on the roughest road in America, and hauled up at Laurelton, Union county. At this place he rested a few hours and then boarded the train for Millheim. Here he resumed his march and arrived at Bellefonte on Sunday about 4 o'clock, having walked probably an hundred miles. Where is there another man at 85 who can do half as much? Mr. Peterson is an intelligent German, reads closely and is well posted both on the news of the day and that part of modern history relating to the campaign of his idolized Emperor. He carries with him a copy of the life of Napoleon, and knows the history and personal career of that wonderful personage literally by heart.

OF INTEREST TO PENSIONERS.—We have received for publication the following circular from the War Department at Washington, D. C.:

WAR DEPARTMENT, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON, May 16, 1881. There being now pending in this department great numbers of volunteer pension claims which cannot be satisfactorily verified for want of information which missing records of discontinued volunteer commands would afford, and it having transpired in many instances that officers of the late volunteer forces have still in their possession or under their control books and other records pertaining to their corps, divisions, brigades, regiments, and companies, their attention is called to the fact that all such books and records should be deposited with this office, and they are earnestly requested to cause the same to be forwarded without delay to the Adjutant General of the army, at Washington, District of Columbia.

No expense other than postage or proper express charges (when packages exceed four pounds, the limit for mail parcels), can be paid by the government.

In the interest of the great number of widows, orphans and disabled soldiers whose claims are involved, the newspapers of the country are requested to give the substance of this circular the greatest publicity. By order of the Secretary of War: R. C. DRUM, Adjutant General.

A. H. NICKERSON,
Assistant Adjutant General.

—The public sale of the property of the Bellefonte Building and Loan Association, advertised for the 25th of May, at the Court House, in the borough of Bellefonte, has been postponed to the 15th of June. Some of the properties to be sold are quite desirable, and bargains may be secured at this sale.

—Mr. Edward Nolan, conductor, and William Temple, engineer, and the train hands of Conductor Nolan's train gathered and brought to town a beautiful collection of mountain flowers for decoration purposes on last Monday. They are entitled to thanks for their kindness and forethought.

—Bavarian and Bohemian beers surpass any malt liquors ever before offered to the public. These sparkling drinks can be had on draft at Brown Bros., Butts House.

—Spring woollens now ready. Early orders solicited. Money saved. 19-4f MONTGOMERY & Co., Tailors.

—LOAN CEMENT.—The retail price for LOAN CEMENT on and after this date (May 9, 1881), will be two dollars per barrel and no charge for bags or barrels. H. K. HICKS.

Philadelphia Markets.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30, 1881.
FLOUR.—Prices of flour are well supported and a steady demand prevails from the home consumers with some inquiry from shippers. Sales at 2,000 barrels, including Minnesota extras, at $5.50; 6,000 for medium to fancy clear, and at $5.62-5 for straight; Pennsylvania extra, at $5.50; western do., at $5.25; 6,000 and patents at $5.50-5.75. Rye flour, steady with sales at $5.50 per barrel.
WHEAT.—There is not much demand for wheat, but prices are firm. The closing quotations were: No. 2, 1881, at $1.24; bid and (61.25) asked for No. 2, red, May; $1.22; bid and $1.22, asked for No. 2, red, June; $1.17; bid and $1.17, asked for No. 2, red, July; $1.13; bid and $1.13, asked for No. 2, red, August; 15,000 bushels June sold at $1.23; 20,000 bushels May at $1.24; 5,000 July at $1.17; 15,000 bushels May at $1.24.
SUGAR.—In sugar cloverlands there is nothing worthy of notice doing.
