Local Department.

—Harry Green still continues to sell his famous five cent Florida cigars. They give entire satisfaction to every one who tries them.

—C. D. Kunkle, one of the most active and enterprising citizens of Potter township, gave the DEMOCRAT a pleasant call last Saturday.

—Hon. S. R. Peale, of Lock Haven, was an early visitor to Bellefonte on last Monday. Legal business often calls Mr. Peale to our town.

—A. J. Cruse and wife are visiting friends in Philadelphia, and will enjoy the pleasures of the sea shore before their return to Bellefonte.

—The friends of Dr. E. I. Kirk, formerly of this place, were glad to greet him upon our streets last week. The Doctor, we believe, is at present living in Philadelphia.

—Mr. William Reynolds, son of Thomas R. Reynolds, who has been living in the West for a few years past, returned to Bellefonte last week, and received a hearty welcome from his friends.

—John Uzzle, of Snow Shoe, was in the railroad wreck near Eagleville, last week, but escaped without serious injury. John, however, did not fancy the shaking up. He describes it in very emphatic language.

—Mr. Huston, of the Brokerhoff House, has recently started a company with unlimited capital. He has had some little difficulty in getting officers who will agree to serve but he has hopes that the enterprise will be in good working order in a few days.

—L. H. Everts, the well known historical publisher, of Philadelphia, has about perfected preparations for the publication of an elaborate illustrated history of Centre and Clinton counties. The work will be completed some time in 1882.

—At a recent meeting of the Centennial organization for the endowment of Washington and Lee College, of Virginia, held in Philadelphia, James Milliken, Esq., of Bellefonte, was among the gentlemen elected to membership in the organization.

—William C. Heinle, Esq., our active and efficient district attorney, took a little trip to Williamsport on last Saturday to visit his friend Scott. Mr. Heinle returned on Monday evening and reports that friend Scott made it very pleasant for him.

—In quality, style, finish and price the clothing offered to the public at the Philadelphia Branch is beyond rivalry in this section of the State. Remember the goods sold at this house are always just what they are represented to be and no one is ever deceived.

—Representative Murray called at the office of the DEMOCRAT on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. MURRAY has been a faithful representative of our people. Throughout his entire legislative career, his record has been upright and honorable, and he comes back to his constituents with an excellent reputation.

—Rev. James D. Wilson, D. D., of New York, passed through Bellefonte, on Tuesday, on his way to Birmingham Seminary, where he was to deliver an address yesterday morning at the commencement exercises of that institution. He was accompanied by his venerable father, Peter Wilson, of Spring Mills.

—Mr. A. L. Whiteman, of Philadelphia, well known to the people of Centre county, reached Bellefonte this week. Mr. Whiteman has been passing through a very serious spell of sickness, the effects of which are plainly visible, but is now in hope of soon regaining good health, a hope which we trust may be fully realized.

—Bellefonte Fencibles (Co. B, N. G. P.) have been cordially invited to go to Snow Shoe, Centre County's Mountain City, and spend the 4th of July. Mr. D. P. Peters, the new proprietor of the Mountain House, in a letter to Captain Mullen and Lieut. Potter and Hale, bids the soldier boys welcome to the hospitalities of his hotel, and holds out flattering inducements on the anniversary of the natal day of the Republic.

—A maiden lady on Spring street was asked the other day why she had never married. She tartly replied that she had not as yet seen the man for whom she would take the trouble of cooking three meals a day, for thirty-five or forty years.

—Theodore Gordon and his bride returned home from their wedding trip on Tuesday evening, and were greeted by a large number of friends. The Bellefonte Orchestra tendered the newly married couple a serenade at the residence of Mrs. Gordon on Curtin street, where they in future will reside.

—A horse attached to a light spring wagon, broke loose from a post in front of Lyon & Co.'s store yesterday and started up Allegheny street at an exceedingly good pace, but Williams, one of the clerks in the store, started after him, and showed such good speed that he overtook the animal in the diamond. It was a "go-as-you-please" race and Williams won it in fine style.

—The hospitable home of ex-Sheriff B. F. Shaffer, in Walker township, was the scene of a delightful social party of young folks on Monday evening. The party was given in honor of Miss Frantz, of Hughesville, Lycoming county, at present visiting Miss Maggie, the accomplished daughter of Sheriff Shaffer. There were thirty-five or forty persons present, including several from Bellefonte.

—The young gentleman who indulged in astronomical investigations on Sunday evening, in front of Montgomery's store, and was unable to decide whether the dark spot under the moon was a tree or a cloud, and who actually ascended reservoir hill with several friends to settle the question, had better be careful. Such optical uncertainty is decidedly dangerous and serious results might ensue.

—Miss Jennie Dare and Miss Edith Harris made their appearance upon our streets on Tuesday evening in the role of equestrians. They rode well and wore habits of exceeding beauty and taste. It is a wonder more of our society ladies do not ride on horseback. It is not only a healthy recreation but it shows the fine form of a lady off to the very best advantage, and this fact should have great weight with the ladies. They are not unkindly appearing as fascinating as possible.

—Yesterday a daughter of Mr. Greene Irvin, of Linden Hall, took her departure from young maidenhood and joined the grand army of matrons. A large number of guests from Bellefonte were present. Abe Baum with his new wagon and four horses all gaily decked with flags took a large party out, while George L. Potter and wife, Harry and Austin Curtin and wives with many others drove out in private carriages. Last night a hop was given at the Bush House in honor of the happy couple, and was quite a brilliant affair. They go east to-day and will sail for Europe next week.

—To-day the Veteran Club, of Millfin county, composed of honorably discharged soldiers of the late war, holds its annual picnic at Soradoville, a point on the Lewistown and Sunbury railroad, some distance below Lewistown. The veterans of Centre county have a cordial invitation to be present with their comrades of Millfin and participate in the exercises and festivities of the day. Quite a number have accepted the invitation—some driving across the mountains and others going by railroad from Bellefonte. We hope they will enjoy themselves.

—The Lock Haven Daily Journal gives the following account of a scene between man and wife that occurred at the depot in that city on last Saturday: "The wife had taken her baby and come to this city, and the husband followed with the intention of taking the child from her. This he succeeded in doing, while she was away from the house of a relative, and went to the depot, intending to leave on the 11:20 train. Just before the train left, the frantic mother overtook him and begged for her baby. At first the man refused to give it up, but under the pressure of some bystanders he delivered it to her. The wife charged him with drunkenness."

—Our townsman, Mr. John W. Moore, has been awarded a patent for his "Amalgamator"—an invention for separating the precious metals from their ores. He has spent much time and thought upon his invention and thinks he has succeeded in perfecting a process for the purpose named that is far superior to any other now in use. Mr. Moore is one of the most accomplished practical chemists to be found in the State, and the years he has spent in patient, careful and ingenious experiments, leading to the results he has at last achieved, deserve a remunerative return and we trust he will receive it.

—The eclipse of the moon on last Saturday evening, was the cause of keeping a large crowd of people on our streets with an unusually late hour. In front of the Brokerhoff House there was great interest in the event shown by the large number of people who were congregated there. Judge D. M. Wagner occupied a commanding position on the steps of W. F. Reynolds & Co.'s banking house and his desire to see the eclipse in its entirety was so intense that the explosion of a cannon cracker immediately beneath him failed to distract his attention from the wonder that was being worked upon the face of beautiful Luna. The judge must be a veteran.

ACCIDENT ON THE B. E. V. RAILROAD.—On last Thursday afternoon the mail train west on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad, due at this place at 5:35 was thrown from the track a short distance east of Eagleville station. The word that an accident had occurred to the train soon reached Bellefonte by telegraph, and caused considerable excitement. The railroad officials are always exceedingly reticent when accidents occur but little that was definite or satisfactory in regard to the mishap could be ascertained. This increased the anxiety of every one. It was known that many persons belonging to our town and vicinity were on the train, and the rumors of a number killed and many seriously injured were not calculated to allay the aroused feelings of the community. Fortunately, however, the casualties were in a measure slight, and that all escaped so well seems almost miraculous. It is said the trouble was caused by a broken fish joint which permitted the ends of two rails to separate. The locomotive passed them safely and did not leave the rails. Unfortunately the balance of the train did not do so. The tender, baggage car and two passenger coaches were thrown from the track and badly wrecked. A large number of passengers were in the cars, and the scene, for the time-being, was one of intense excitement. Dr. G. F. Harris, the company physician, was immediately telegraphed for, and he was prompt in going to the help of those who might need his care. The injured, to the number of fifteen or twenty, were at once removed to the hotel at the station, where every thing was done for their relief and comfort that was possible under the circumstances. It was indeed fortunate that most of the injuries proved to be slight. From Dr. Harris we have the following list of those most seriously hurt:

—Miss Jennie Reynolds, of Bellefonte, severely cut on the forehead.
—Wm. G. Moore, of Womelsdorf, Berks county, rib broken.
—Abraham Feldman, of Houtzdale, severe bruise over left temple.
—Mrs. L. Bartholome, of Mill Hall, bruised on forehead.
—Prof. Jordan, of State College, bruised on face.
—Gustave Lyon, of Bellefonte, bruised on head and breast.
—Mrs. Wm. Potter, colored, of Bellefonte, head bruised.
—Two infants—Mrs. Bartholome's and Mrs. Heeman's—slightly bruised.

Of course all the passengers were badly shaken up and many received slight contusions, but the above named are the only ones, as Dr. Harris informs us, who had visible injuries.

This accident should be a warning to the railroad company. Many complaints are heard against the present condition of the track of this road, and further failure neglect to keep it in proper repair so as to insure reasonable safety in the running of passenger trains will justly be regarded as culpable negligence.

DEATH OF E. W. HALE.—From the Phillipsburg Journal we take the following notice of the death of Elias W. Hale, who was a native of Bellefonte:
Mr. Elias W. Hale, who has been suffering from chronic ailments for some time past, died at his residence, in this place, on last Sunday morning, in the 99th year of his age. Mr. Hale has long been a resident of Phillipsburg and well known among its principal citizens, and his death will be universally regretted. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, the services at the house having been conducted by Rev. Dr. Clerc, while the ceremonies at the grave were under the direction of the John W. Geary Post, No. 90, G. A. R., of which he was Commander up to the time of his death. His remains were followed to the new cemetery, east of town, by a large concourse of people and consigned to the earth with feelings of sorrow. Mr. Hale leaves behind him a wife and four children and a large circle of friends to mourn his death, who have the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

E. W. Hale was born in Bellefonte, this county, July 4, 1842, and several years after removed with his parents to Philadelphia. In January, 1861, in company with his brother he came to Phillipsburg and engaged in the mercantile business. At the breaking out of the rebellion, he entered the United States Navy as a flag clerk, then only 19 years of age, and was soon after promoted mate. In 1862 he was taken prisoner and confined in the Libby prison at Richmond, Va., remaining there several months when he was transferred to the prison at Tuscaloosa, Ala., and shortly after released, having been exchanged for Confederate officers of higher rank. Mr. Hale, being in ill health, as a consequence of his confinement in prison, returned home, with an honorable discharge, immediately after his release. After a year or two, having regained his health to a considerable extent, he engaged in the insurance business, an occupation he successfully continued up to last fall. In 1878 he established the John W. Geary Post, No. 90, G. A. R., in this place, and was elected Commander, devoting considerable time and attention to the organization. He also established a post at Bellefonte, Clearfield, Curwensville and Reynoldsville, all of which are in successful operation.

—Mr. Leslie Gordon, formerly of this county, paid a short visit to his relatives and friends in Bellefonte last week. Mr. Gordon at present lives at Topeka, Kansas, and is connected with the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad. He was on his way to New York to employ a number of laborers for the railroad company, and expected to engage from 200 to 300 men. He gives a glowing account of the growth and prosperity of the West. Mr. Gordon received a warm greeting from his many old friends and acquaintances.

LOGAN CEMENT.—The retail price for LOGAN CEMENT on and after this date (May 9, 1881), will be two dollars per barrel and no charge for bags or barrels.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.—An Argument Court was held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week. Judge Orvis was on the bench assisted by Associate Judges Franck and Divin; and the following cases were disposed of in the court of Common Pleas:

W. H. Blair vs. Gentzel and Bitner. Rule on plaintiff to show cause why he should not appear and maintain or relinquish claim to the property levied upon under execution. June 9th, the Rule was discharged and the Sheriff directed to go on and sell property.

Griffith and Nidigh vs. Spigelmeyer and Whitmer. Rule on plaintiffs to show cause why judgment should not be opened. June 10th, the Rule was made absolute and judgment opened and defendants let into a defense.

In the matter of the petitions of the Overseers of the Poor of Unionville for a Rule on William Hurly and others to show cause why they should not support their father. June 11th, continued for the purpose of taking more testimony.

O. L. Shoonover vs. Breneman, Trucks & Co. Rule to show cause why sale should not be set aside. June 10th, Rule discharged, and June 22d appointed for acknowledgment of Sheriff's deed.

Overseers of the Poor of Spring township vs. Overseers of the Poor of Lewisburg, Union county. Appeal from order of removal. June 10th, case argued. Decision not filed.

Overseers of the Poor of Walker township vs. Overseers of the Poor of Bellefonte. June 11th, case argued. Decision not filed.

George Humack vs. J. A. Cooper. Rule to show cause why a Receiver should not be appointed. June 11th, injunction continued until June 22, 1881.

J. C. Harper et al. vs. John Hoy, Nos. 193 and 224 April term, 1881. June 9th, on motion of plaintiff's attorneys, Alexander & Bower, the Rule of reference in above stated cases are stricken off for reasons appearing on record.

Same vs. Same. June 9th, on motion of plaintiff's attorneys, a Rule was granted on defendant to enter a plea within thirty days after service or judgment will be entered in default.

ORPHANS' COURT.

In the matter of the petition for citation on Wm. F. Courter, guardian of the minor children of Christian Nestlerode, deceased, to file account. Citation awarded March 26, 1881. Answer filed April 25, 1881. June 11th, the respondent is directed to file his account as guardian thirty days before August term, 1881, and in default attachment to issue.

In the matter of the Rule on James W. Gussalis to pay costs for resigned issue to try the validity of the will of James Masden, deceased. Report of Adam Hoy, examiner, filed April 29, 1881. June 11th, alias Rule granted on James W. Gussalis and James Masden to pay bill of costs in the case or to show cause why an attachment should not issue.

In the matter of the estate of Annie Burns, deceased. Citation awarded, June 23, 1879, on John Cole, Administrator, &c., to file account or attachment to issue. October 27, 1879, attachment issued. June 11th, John Cole, administrator, being brought into court upon the above attachment, is adjudged guilty of contempt of court and committed to the jail of Centre county until he purges himself of the said contempt.

Estate of Jesse Cowher, deceased. June 9th, an alias citation granted on A. R. Barlow, executor, &c., to file account.
Estate of William Gentzel, deceased. June 9th, the power of the Auditor, E. M. Blanchard, enlarged and continued until the next term of court.
Estate of Scott Williams, deceased. June 9th, H. A. McKee, Esq., was appointed an Auditor to hear and determine the exceptions filed to the account of Mesh Williams and J. W. Stewart, executors, &c., of the said decedent, and to restate the account and make distribution of the balance to and among those legally entitled thereto.

—A temperance convention, called for the purpose of nominating anti-license candidates for Associate Judges, met at the Court House, in Bellefonte, on Thursday last week. On motion of Mr. Taylor, of Unionville, S. S. Lyon, Esq., of Bellefonte, was elected chairman, and Rev. J. A. Woodcock and D. M. Leib, secretaries. The convention was not largely attended, and it was not deemed advisable to make any nominations. The following resolutions, offered by D. S. Keller, Esq., were adopted:

Resolved, That an executive committee of nine be appointed by the chair in connection with the county member of the State Executive Committee.

Resolved, That when the convention adjourned it be to meet at the call of the executive committee, if a meeting be necessary.

After remarks by a number of the delegates the convention then adjourned.

—Success in building up a large and remunerative trade has not in the least tended to lessen the efforts of Sechler & Co. to cater to the wants of all persons who like to purchase fine groceries. Everything they offer for sale is of the best quality to be found in the market, and no one in search of the best and freshest goods ever fall in finding just what they want when they call upon this energetic and enterprising firm. They are constantly receiving large assortments of fresh goods which are sold at the lowest cash prices.

—Children and invalids, however sensitive their stomachs may be, can take Green's Compound Syrup of Tar, Honey and Bloodroot.

—Lewin, of the Philadelphia Branch, is still ahead of all competition in Clothing and Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods. You have only to call at the store on Allegheny street, and examine his stock and get his prices to be convinced of the truth of this assertion.

CENSUS RETURNS.—The first official count of population, according to the schedules returned by the Enumerators of 1880, has been made by the Census Bureau. This count is subject to revision and possible corrections should omissions or duplications of names be discovered in the lists of inhabitants returned. The following is the count made of the various districts of Centre county:

Table showing population counts for various districts in Centre county, including Bellefonte borough, North ward, 1,344; South ward, 1,090; West ward, 860; Benezers township, including village of Central City, 2,028; Burnside township, 2,698; Fulton township, 1,417; Gregg township, including village of Spring Mills, 1,816; Haines township, including the villages of Aaronburg and Woodward, 1,795; Harris township, including the village of Stormstown, 942; Howard township, including village of Mount Eagle, 947; Huston township, including village of Julian, 852; Liberty township, including villages of Eagleville and Fowler's Mills, 1,284; Marion township, including village of Jacksonville, 674; Millersburg township, including the villages of Madisburg, Franksville and Kellersburg, 1,512; Millersburg borough, 643; Millheim borough, 577; Penn township, 764; Phillipsburg borough, 1,779; Potter township, including the villages of Centre Hill, Centre Hill and Potter's Mills, 2,275; Rush township, 1,691; Snow Shoe township, including village of Snow Shoe, 1,410; Spring township, including the villages of Colville, Harrisville and Pleasant Gap, 2,235; Taylor township, 718; Union township, 1,986; Unionville borough, 1,195; Walker township, including the villages of Hubersburg, Snyderstown and Zion, 1,467; Worth township, including village of Port Matilda, 809.

In the above table there is evidently an error in regard to Taylor township. The computation in the official table of the Census Bureau includes in that township the village of Stormstown, which is in Half Moon township. Deducting the population of Stormstown, returned at 101, the figures of Taylor should be 617, and adding 101 to Half Moon would make that township 664 instead of 563. A reference to the table published in the DEMOCRAT last July, soon after the enumerators had completed their work, will show that the figures for Half Moon were 664 and for Taylor, 615.

The following is the population of the unincorporated villages and towns of Centre county:

Table showing population of unincorporated villages and towns in Centre county, including Central City, 286; Pine Grove Mills, 273; Spring Mills, 278; Aaronburg, 271; Woodward, 264; Stormstown, 101; Burnside, 229; Mount Eagle, 150; Huston, 150; Liberty, 162; Fowler's Mills, 63; Jacksonville, 63; Marion, 177; Rebersburg, 177; Madisburg, 150; Franksville, 59; Centre Hill, 108; Potter's Mills, 180; Snow Shoe, 494; Spring, 293; Harrisville, 70; Pleasant Gap, 175; Hubersburg, 170; Snyderstown, 129; Zion, 65; Fort Matilda, 310.

STRAWBERRIES.—The last number of Food and Health, has the following interesting disquisition upon the subject of strawberries, which, as we are just in the midst of the strawberry season, is worth reading:

It is likely that this will be a famous year for strawberries. We shall soon have berries from the southern portion of Maryland, where great care is taken with the strawberry. Excellent berries will be coming from Delaware and all parts of Maryland, as well as Norfolk. The North Carolina crop is at its height, though this is not the best. Some more sunshine has been wanted to ripen that luscious, refreshing fruit, our best beloved strawberry.

Where it hangs on the tender bough, Drooping and low; Where it hides under the green leaf, Luscious and sweet; Where it lies in the long garden bed, Coolly red; There it grows under man's care, His dearest fare.

Who has not a good word to say for the strawberry, that fruit which brings with it the scent of spring, the desire of summer, the great big heartedness of an ever renewing bountiful nature? And when we put the poetry aside, is the strawberry at fault in giving us the true element of nutrition? Can the chemist find fault with it? What does Fresenius say it contains in chemical analysis? Water, 73; sugar, 73; acid, 14; nitrogenous matter, 1; pectinous matter, 1; salts, 1. We have only given the rough of it.

This is a delightful combination, just such as we require for real refreshing food, when the appetite demands something else than the stale winter things.

Our strawberry, coming to us so luscious and sweet, asks for appreciation. It wants to be told that it does its best for our delight and pleasure. There is by its side the fine white sugar bowl and the thick cream jug, or the milk basin; and surely an ambrosial meal can be made with this and the light water biscuit.

But, hold! Not for all is this rich dish; there is that little voice of warning which says: "Strawberries and cream! That is too rich; it will not agree." And so the poor dyspeptic has to push aside the cream and content himself with the pure aroma of the fruit, which ought to be enough, or add something that will make it quite digestible.

Well, a lemon is by his side; and, wondering to tell the juice of that lemon accord with the luscious strawberry and makes it digestible; or a glass of good red wine, fresh from the vintage, poured over the strawberry and sugar, and give it an additional aroma and make it more palatable still.

Let us be grateful to bounteous nature, which collects and combines so carefully her principles for our pleasure!

—If you want to buy a young, steady Horse, light two-seated Wagon, with top, at a bargain, inquire of A. Lukanbach, at Reynolds' Mill, Bellefonte, Pa.

PREJUDICE KILLS.—"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had poobed at for two years, before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Parents.—Telegram.
