I must away to wooded hills and vales, Where broad, slow streams flow cool and silently, And idle barges flap their misty sails; For me the summer sunset glows and pales, And green fields wait for me.

I long for shadowy forest, where the birds Twitter and chirp at noon from every tree, I long for blossomed leaves and lowing herds; And nature's voices say, in mystic words, "The green fields wait for thee."

I dream of uplands, where the primrose shines, And waves her yellow lamps above the lea; Of tangled corn, swung with trailing vines; Of open vistas, skirted with tall pines, Where green fields wait for me.

I think of long, sweet afternoons, when I May lie and listen to the distant sea, Or hear the breeze in the reeds that sigh, Or insect voices, chirping shrill and dry, In fields that wait for me.

Those dreams of summer come to bid me find The forest's shade, the wild bird's melody, While summer's rosy wreaths above me twine, While summer's fragrance lingers on the wind, And green fields wait for me.

—GEORGE ARNOLD.

Last Tuesday was the longest day of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Gray Meek, started on Monday morning to take part in the editorial excursion to Long Branch.

Robert Donk is at present doing a job of painting and paper hanging at the residence of Dr. Stewart at Pine Glen.

On Tuesday the "Mountain Echo" conveyed a party of young ladies and gentlemen to the cave to enjoy a picnic at that resort.

If you are a smoker and want to enjoy an agreeable cigar, call upon Harry Green. He will sell you as fine an article as can be bought in Bellefonte.

Harry Green is having a fine run on his extra five cent Florida cigars. We have tried them, and can truthfully pronounce them their first rate.

Picnics are now in order, and parties go to the woods, or to some popular resort, such as the Penns Valley cave, almost daily for the pleasures of a day in the open air.

An elegant feast was placed in the office of the Brockerhoff House last week. It was made by Wm. G. Osgood & Co., of Buffalo, N. Y., and is certainly a very fine piece of work.

A merry party of little folks repaired to the grounds near the Snow Shoe Intersection on last Saturday for a picnic, and spent a delightful day. The party was in honor of the birthday of Master John Furst.

Mr. Wm. I. Curtin, has always been noted for his gallantry, but lately he has made his past reputation pale its ineffectual light before the new laurels he is winning. He acts as the escort of many of the lady equestrians.

Go to the Philadelphia Branch, and get Lewin to show you some of his elegant suits. He has clothing in every variety of style and finish, and will give you such bargains as were never heard of in Bellefonte.

Lewin, of the Philadelphia Branch, still has a fine stock of clothing and gentlemen's furnishing goods on hand which he will sell at remarkably low prices. His goods are warranted and will satisfy every taste in quality, style and finish.

Mr. W. A. Sweeney and his charming wife, left Bellefonte on last Thursday to reside in Curwensville, in Clearfield county. Both Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney made many friends during their brief stay in Bellefonte, and will be very much missed.

Col. Shropshire, at present has his fine Kentucky cattle in College township at the farm of Samuel Gilliland, Esq. These cattle, we are informed, will be on exhibition at the College next week during commencement and will no doubt attract the attention of visitors.

Mr. Jas. K. Brown, the efficient and able engineer, in charge of the mines of "The Edgar Thompson Steel Company," in Ferguson township, was in town on Monday. Mr. Brown is always welcome to Bellefonte and has many friends who greet him with the liveliest enthusiasm.

We have been requested by Mr. Geo. W. Spangler, of Potter township, and a candidate for County Treasurer, to state that he is not related to Sheriff Spangler, though they were residents of the same township for many years. Mr. Spangler desires us to make this statement in order to correct any misapprehension that may exist as to that fact.

The Bellefonte Building and Loan Association have quite a number of valuable properties which will be sold at private sale on favorable terms. Persons desiring to purchase desirable homes should call upon General Beaver, president, or George L. Potter, secretary. Either of these gentlemen will be glad to give full information in regard to any of the properties held by the Association and which are for sale.

Hon. J. P. Gephart, one of Centre county's faithful representatives in the legislature, arrived in Bellefonte on last Friday. Mr. Gephart has made a record of which any man might be proud. His entire service in the House has been marked by a conscientious desire to benefit the whole people of the State. Other men have done more talking, but few of them have done more work. His services on committees established his reputation as one whose judgment could always be relied upon. Mr. Gephart will be in Bellefonte for some time and his gratified constituents will have many opportunities of meeting him.

The Logan Hose Company has accepted the invitation extended to the company to unite with the Undine boys in a picnic on the Fourth of July. The Logan boys also had an invitation to go to Huntingdon to spend the Fourth, but preferred to remain with their home friends.

The holders of the Bald Eagle Valley Railroad first mortgage bonds which mature on the first day of July, 1881, are notified that the said bonds will be paid on that date at the office of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, in Philadelphia. Holders of these bonds should heed this notice as the interest on these bonds will cease at that date.

John Kurtz was very much astonished to wake up the other morning and find the remains of a tooth pick in his mouth. After a little thought he remembered that he had been eating clam soup at Yeager & Downings' the night before and had borrowed a tooth pick from Lawrence Brown, and retired without removing it. This is what is known as "abstraction."

Israel Test, Esq., a prominent member of the Clearfield county bar spent last Friday in Bellefonte. "Father Test," as his army of friends delight to call him, is one of the institutions of Clearfield. He is a sterling Democrat, a sincere friend and a most estimable citizen. His ability as a lawyer and his zeal as an advocate of the principles of Democracy are proverbial.

Our friend, Van Pelt, was seen the other evening with a very nice baby carriage, containing a very nice baby. Van was attached to the rear portion of the carriage, and explained that both the carriage and the baby were his; that he paid a street tax and had a perfect right to wheel the arrangement around if he wanted to. All endeavors to interview him at this juncture were futile.

The Undine Fire Company have decided to hold a picnic on the Fourth of July and have invited the Logan Hose Company to join them in having a good time. There will be a parade, and it is to be hoped a pleasant time generally. With the exception of the explosive enthusiasm of the small boy, this will be the only celebration, so far as we know, of the one hundred and fifth anniversary of the birth of the nation, that will take place in Bellefonte.

Acting on the suggestion contained in last week's DEMOCRAT, several more of our fashionable ladies may daily be seen on our streets on horseback. Miss Kate Curtin, Miss Belle Hoover, Mrs. Lida Holliday, Miss Lizzie Stewart, Miss Minnie Brew and others have adopted this healthful and charming recreation as a pleasant means of whiling away the long summer evenings. Dressed in tasteful habits, and riding as well as if they were trained to the saddle, they offer a pleasing spectacle to their admirers.

The next annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Millers' State Association will be held in Pittsburgh during the time of the State Fair in September. The State Agricultural Society will allot a space of 50 feet by 170 feet with line shafting and motive power FREE for the display of machinery and mill supplies. This is the first time in this State that an opportunity has been afforded to millers to witness such a display of milling machinery in motion, and it is expected that there will be a large number of millers present from this and other States.

Down in our neighboring county of Clinton the boys and girls are in the habit of running in their bare feet so much that the feet attain almost the toughness of leather. The other day, when the wife of a farmer in the northern end of the county went out to call the people in from a clearing that her husband was burning, for the dinner that she had just prepared, she cried out to her daughter, who was picking up brush and throwing it on the burning piles, "Sal, there's a live coal under your foot." "Which foot, mother?" inquired the girl, without pausing in her work.

While Mr. Charles Whitmer, of Benner township, and a party of friends, were on a fishing excursion to the Allegheny mountains, near Somers' Improvement, on last Saturday, they were so unfortunate as to lose one of the horses of their team. The horse was found to be missing when the party returned to their wagon, and it is supposed that some malicious person untied the animal and thus permitted him to wander off. The other horse had torn loose but was shortly found. Mr. Whitmer has made considerable search for the lost animal but has not been successful thus far in finding him. Any one finding a stray horse will please notify Mr. Whitmer.

Treasurer Yearick has the finest cabinet of curiosities ever seen in Bellefonte. Among the many valuable relics of antiquity contained in this extraordinary collection, we might mention the finger of the Cardiff Giant; honey from Jerusalem; a splinter from the nose of the Sphinx of Egypt; stones from the discovered ruins of Troy; a lock of Sappho's hair; Lava, from the depths of Vesuvius; the autograph of an honest Republican; a photograph of Cal Harper's baby, and Aaron Williams' recollections of the West in short hand. The men who gathered these curiosities were a little short handed about the time our honored Treasurer had catalogued both the articles contained in this scientific aggregation and the fellows who had aggregated it. Geology, as a science, necessarily results in the close examination of rocks and stones. Mr. Yearick is now studying geology with a view to the further propagation of such knowledge as will enable a man to make his house or office his castle.

James H. Young, of Philadelphia, formerly an enterprising merchant of Bellefonte, was in town last week. "Uncle Jimmie," as he is familiarly known to his host of friends, was gladly greeted, as he seldom honors his old tramping ground with his presence. Mr. Young represents the well known notion house of Zeigler & Swearingin, of Philadelphia, and as a matter of course enjoys the benefit of a large trade. On this visit to his old home he also was endeavoring to establish agencies for "The Boyd Grave Vault Co." This company has just been started, and its object is to make burglar proof coffins. Mr. Young in explaining the matter to Dave Wagner, said, that the top of the coffin was made of boiler iron, and assured the judge that if he was buried in one the devil would never find him. So important a consideration could not be overlooked and the result was a prompt sale. Mr. M. Montgomery has accepted the agency for this company and is now ready to receive orders. Mr. Young only remained in Bellefonte one day, but his brief visit was very satisfactory.

The following is from the Osceola Reville: Last Friday, while the waters were at their highest, Mr. David Miller and wife, who live on Trout Run, near Ellis' mill, about two miles from Osceola, attempted to descend upon a raft to their home from a point on the run where they had gone to look after a garden. Mrs. Miller was on the rear end of the raft, while her husband was directing its course. A tree had fallen across the stream resting just high enough above the water to allow the raft to pass under, but not the occupants. As they approached the tree at a rapid rate, Miller directed his wife to jump up on it and on the raft again on the other side; but in the attempt to do so, her foot was caught in a hole on the raft and held tight, and the whole weight of the raft on the angry waters was hurled against it in this position, breaking both bones below the knee. Dr. Reed reduced the fracture, and she is now as comfortable as it is possible for her to be under the circumstances.

Prothonotary Harper recently had the picture of his son and heir, taken by John W. Moore. After a few days Cal called for his boy's pictures and was handed an envelope containing four of the little cards which were supposed to bear the counterfeited presentment of one of the future Presidents of the United States. Mr. Moore asked Cal whether he thought they were good photographs. The young father critically replied that they were as natural as life. He took them home and his wife promptly informed him that the pictures represented somebody else's baby. Mr. Moore had made a slight mistake and gave our County Clerk the picture of another man's son and heir. Mr. Harper, on a pleasant evening, can now be seen sitting on his front porch with his baby before him, carefully studying the little fellow's features. He intends to know him the next time he sees him.

The enterprising firm of Wm. P. Duncan & Co., of Bellefonte, have received the contract for making all the machinery that will be required for the Philipsburg Water Works, now in course of construction. Besides this contract they are also making two large hoisting engines for the Messrs. Valentines & Co., to be used at their ore banks, and also the machinery for a circular saw mill for Messrs. Hoover, Hughes & Co. These popular shops seem at the present time to have a rush of work. They are making all kinds of machinery on orders that will require months to fill. This is an encouraging sign of the times, and every one will be pleased at the prosperity of this popular home industry.

Capt. W. W. Potter, the efficient and obliging agent of the Pennsylvania railroad company at Bellefonte, accompanied by Mrs. Potter, started on a trip to the West on last Thursday. Their first destination was Chicago and from that city they will go to Wisconsin. Captain Potter has not been in good health for some time, and it is hoped this trip will do much to improve his condition. His friends—everybody is his friend—will be glad to see him return with health completely restored.

Sad news from home was received by Miss Maggie Snowden, the accomplished music teacher, on Tuesday evening. A telegram from Freeport, Allegheny county, brought the sorrowful intelligence that her brother, Maj. R. C. Snowden, had been instantly killed in a wreck on the Allegheny Valley railroad. Miss Snowden started to her home in Freeport yesterday morning, bearing with her in this grievous affliction the heartfelt sympathy of her many friends in Bellefonte.

People who indulge in the innocent amusement of playing billiards and pool, should call at the Conrad House billiard parlor. Mr. J. S. Graff of Curwensville, is the proprietor, and his brother, T. H. Graff is the manager. "Fritz," as he is known to his familiars, has two good billiard tables and a pool table, and a very pleasant room. Call and see him.

Miles township had quite a large representation of her good citizens in Bellefonte on Tuesday. At an auditor's hearing, before H. A. McKee, Esq., we noticed 'Squire Gramly, 'Squire Cornman, Samuel K. Faust, Michael Rishel and John Schell. We also noticed on our streets the same day, Judge Franck, John Hosterman and Simon M. Spangler.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.—It will be a matter of sincere gratification to the citizens of Centre county, especially those in any way interested in the speedy development of our mineral deposits, iron and coal—to learn that the Board of Commissioners of the State Geological Survey has at last ordered a thorough survey of our county to be made. On Saturday last the DEMOCRAT had a pleasant call from Mr. W. G. Platt, the gentleman who has been placed in charge of the work. Mr. Platt will commence his examinations immediately and from him we learned many interesting facts in relation to the proposed work. His district comprises not only Centre county but also so much of Huntingdon county as lies north of the Juniata river between Tussey mountain and Bald Eagle mountain. It is on this latter region that the work of exploration will begin, continuing thence northeastward to the Susquehanna river. Our hematite iron ore deposits will, as we are informed, first receive attention. They will be classified and arranged geologically as well as geographically; their ores will be analyzed by the State Chemist; their form of deposit thoroughly studied; and their value in a mining sense thus brought clearly to view. Mr. Platt should receive from those of our citizens who are interested in his work, as much assistance and information as they may be able to render. Ever since the present State Survey has been organized, we have been anxiously looking forward to the time that Centre county should receive its share of attention; and now that the work is in hand it is of the utmost importance that no opportunity be neglected in having our mineral resources thoroughly investigated and elucidated. Mr. Platt's headquarters are at the Bush House, in Bellefonte, where for the present he can be seen on Saturday of each week. He is a pleasant, affable gentleman, and will be pleased to meet any of our citizens who feel an interest in the prosecution of the proposed survey.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT.—The exercises of commencement week, 1881, at the State College, will begin on next Sunday and be continued on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. These exercises promise to be more than usually interesting, and should attract a large number of visitors to the College. The following is the programme for the week:

- Sunday, June 26.—3 P. M., Baccalaureate Sermon, by Rev. W. L. Wallace. 8 P. M., Anniversary Address of Young Men's Christian Association, by Prof. I. Thornton Osmond. Monday, June 27.—8 P. M., Public Entertainment of Crosson Literary Society. Tuesday, June 28.—3 P. M., Reunion of Washington Literary Society. 8 P. M., Alumni Reunion. Wednesday, June 29.—9 A. M., Artillery Salute. 10 A. M., Annual Meeting of Board of Trustees. 12 M., Alumni Dinner. 2 P. M., Meeting of Delegates and Alumni to elect Trustees. 8 P. M., Junior contest for the Oratorical Prize. Thursday, June 30.—10 A. M., Graduation Exercises.

A NEW HISTORY OF CENTRE AND CLINTON COUNTIES.—The proposed history of Centre and Clinton counties is now fairly in course of preparation. Mr. John Blair Linn, the recognized historian par excellence of this section, has been engaged by the publisher to undertake the authorship of the work and has been provided with a company of skillful writers to assist him. Than Mr. Linn no person is more competent to produce a satisfactory history of this region and that his efforts will be conscientiously directed to that end, no one can doubt. Centre and Clinton have never had a written history that has met the requirements of the people and for that reason they are ready to receive with encouraging support a project that promises, as does the work in question, to give them a volume of enduring and more than ordinary value.

Company B had its usual rifle practice at the Fair grounds on last Saturday afternoon, and shot at a 200 yards range. This is the greatest distance the boys have shot and there was much interest felt in the result. As the appended score shows, the shooting was exceedingly creditable. It was the settled purpose of several of the crack shots to get away with Van Pelt who had so far been the champion. Van, however, girded up his loins and showed a bold front to the enemy. As usual the representative from the State of Conkling garnered in the honors, making 21 out of a possible 30. But there is trouble in store for the New York knickerbocker. Lieut. Hale made the discovery after the shooting that he had been using the wrong sight on his gun. While shooting at a 100 yard range he focused on the 200 yard sight, and when shooting at 200 yards had leveled his optic on the 300 yard sight. This is said by a high military authority at West Point, to make a great difference in the course of the projectile which leaves the barrel of the gun and marches to the target. There's fun ahead. The following is the official score:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Score. Includes entries for Hale (30/44), Miller (23/33), Omer (24/30), Morrison (23/30), Miller (22/24), Powers (23/34), Mark (23/43), McNeill (23/30), Van Pelt (23/34).

Associate Judge.

HOWARD, Pa., June 21, 1881.

EDITORS CENTRE DEMOCRAT: Gentlemen.—The Democratic electors of the Bald Eagle Valley desire to present for the consideration of the Democracy of the county, at the approaching primary election, the name of Elder NATHAN J. MITCHELL, as a candidate for the office of Associate Judge. Without the slightest disparagement of any of the excellent gentlemen who have well and faithfully served the people in this capacity, nor of any of those who are already announced as aspirants for the honor, we hold that Mr. Mitchell is pre-eminently fitted to fill the position with that dignity and ability which should always characterize a judicial officer, and that he is fairly entitled to this distinction at the hands of his party. For nearly fifty years the name of Nathan J. Mitchell has stood as a synonym for unimpeachable integrity, and perfect uprightness of character, not only in this county, but throughout a large portion of the State. His long and active experience as a surveyor has given him an intimate knowledge of the lands of the county possessed by probably no other man within its borders, and which would be of great service to the courts and litigants in the many intricate land cases requiring adjudication. He is an educated man; unusually well-read upon matters of general interest; and his chief mental characteristics are those most desirable in a judicial officer—cautious inquiry and careful investigation before deciding, and unwavering firmness after a conclusion has been reached. Added to these qualities his Democracy is of the Jeffersonian sort—firm, simple, unquestioned, patriotic. Believing as he does, that particularly for a judicial position, "the office should seek the man, and not the man the office;" and furthermore, thinking the role of office-seeker inconsistent with his profession as minister of the gospel, Mr. Mitchell declines to enter the lists upon his own responsibility and ask for the nomination, though earnestly urged to do so; but authorizes the statement that he will gratefully accept the honors and emoluments, and faithfully perform the duties of the position, if chosen. While we admit, and are glad to recognize the high character, as men and Democrats, of all those whose names are spoken of in connection with this office, we submit that no county in the State can furnish any better material—and but few so good—of which to make an Associate Judge, than we present in the name and character of N. J. Mitchell, and we respectfully but earnestly ask of the Centre county Democracy his nomination at the coming convention.

BALD EAGLE VALLEY DEMOCRATS.

MARRIAGES.

PETERS-IRVIN.—In Union township, on Thursday, June 16, 1881, Mr. Daniels Peters and Miss Allena Irvin. GREEN-CONDON.—On the 5th instant, by Rev. W. M. Landis, Mr. Arthur J. Green, of Sugar Valley, and Miss Margery Condit, of Hutersburg.

DEATHS.

HENDERSON.—In Bellefonte, June 8, 1881, Nettie Smith, wife of William J. Henderson, aged 24 years, 19 months and 19 days. FLETCHER.—In Howard township, on the 15th inst., Miss Hannah Fletcher, aged about 77 years. DESHLER.—In Aaronsburg, May 31, 1881, of consumption, Miss M. Emma, daughter of Dr. Edwin J. and Maria J. Deshler, aged 22 years, 5 months and 18 days.

This estimable young lady was the last of three daughters who have preceded their sorrowing parents into the spirit world. She was the child of tender solicitude and careful Christian nurture. In early infancy she was engrained into Christ in the Sacrament of Holy Baptism, and in her sixteenth year confirmed a member of the Reformed Church, under the pastorate of Rev. C. H. Reiter. In this full communion she steadfastly continued to the end, making constant and faithful use of the means of grace. Scarcely one year ago she was regularly graduated from the Moravian Female Seminary, at Bethlehem Pa. This institution, whilst not belonging to the church of which she was a devoted member, had yet certain attractions and advantages which led her and her parents to select it in preference to all others. What more especially led them to decide in favor of this school was an extended familiarity with its good reputation in the past, its continued excellent management, its scrupulous regard for the health and moral tone of its inmates, and its unsurpassed facilities for imparting a first class musical education. Besides its being located in close proximity to a number of relatives and personal friends of the family, would naturally be an additional inducement for making choice of the Bethlehem institution. The many tokens of esteem and mementoes of affection which she brought back from her "Alma Mater," together with letters attesting her exemplary virtues as a student, and one lately of condolence to the bereaved family from Principal Wolfe, all speak of her as a favorite among her many friends and her instructors. She was endowed with excellent musical talents, and nothing was left undone that could contribute to their thorough cultivation. But by reason of her falling health and vitality, those exquisite touches on the keys of the instrument that gave so much pleasure to eager hearts at home, had gradually to be discontinued, and have now ceased forever. She bore her sufferings and frequent disappointments in the sweet hope of returning health with commendable Christian patience and resignation. She was, at the same time, a greater sufferer than any one could suppose, yet in her darkest hours she murmured not. Her hands were never idle as long as sufficient strength remained, and the fruits of her selfless endeavors were largely devoted to the advantage and pleasure of others. Being of a sincere and earnest nature, the latter days of her life brought with them of course their struggles and trials, and on her part the seeking of a reconciled God in Christ; but they brought with them also final triumph, assurance and peace. Thanks be to God who hath given her the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. Her remains were consigned with appropriate services to their long repose in the God's-Acre adjoining the Reformed Church at Aaronsburg, on Friday, the 3d of June. Here they rest in the hope of a blessed resurrection, while those left behind are endeavoring to become reconciled to a loss most keenly felt, yet resignedly prayed—

"Come to us, Saviour! In our lone dejection, Speak calmly to our wild and helpless grief, Bring us the hopes and thoughts of resurrection, Bring us the comfort of a true belief. "Come! with that human voice that breaks in weeping, Come! with that awful tenderest Divine, Come! tell us that they are not dead but sleeping, But gone before to Thee, for they are Thine."
