

CORRESPONDENCE, containing important news, solicited from any part of the county. No communications inserted unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

Local Department.

—A summer coat for 25 cents, and straw hats cheap, at Valentines stores.

—The best men's and boys' clothing in Bellefonte is sold at the Philadelphia Branch.

—When you treat a friend to a cigar buy one of those elegant ones for sale at Green's drug store.

—A valuable cow belonging to Geo. W. Jackson, Esq., was run over and killed by the local freight on last Friday.

—Whenever you come to town call at the Philadelphia Branch. They always have bargains to offer in boys' and men's clothing.

—We have been requested to state that the members of the Presbyterian church, at Buffalo Run, and citizens of that neighborhood, will hold a festival for the benefit of the church and Sunday-school funds on next Saturday, July 23, to which all are cordially invited.

—Cruise, the popular tobaccoist, in the Bush House block, is making an extensive change in his store. He does not like to be bothered with questions as to what he is doing, but expects to have the handsomest cigar and tobacco store in Centre county when his repairs are completed.

—Chairman Taylor, of Unionville, has published a call for a county temperance convention to nominate candidates for associate judges to be voted for at the coming fall election. The convention will meet in the court house, at Bellefonte, on Tuesday, August 4.

—Prof. D. M. Wolf, County Superintendent, will hold examinations for teachers of Bellefonte borough, Saturday July 30. All applicants will present themselves on the morning of that day at the public school building. The public are invited to attend.

—Mr. W. H. Hacker, of Philadelphia, was in town last week looking after his Bishop street property. Mr. Hacker owns what is known as the Cumming's House and designs making extensive improvements upon it this summer. Mr. H. is an affable and pleasant gentleman and we hope will come to Bellefonte often.

—A furniture store will be opened in the new building on Bishop street erected by the Brown brothers. The firm will be A. J. Brown & Co., and will begin business with an extensive stock of new furniture about the first of August. The Brown brothers are active, energetic and obliging young men and their many friends in Bellefonte and vicinity will wish them great success in this new enterprise.

—People may sometimes be inclined to ask why the grocery store of Sechler & Co., is so popular. This is an easy matter to explain. This enterprising firm sells nothing but the best goods in their line to be found in the markets, and consequently every customer who comes to the store is not fully satisfied, but pleased with his or her purchases. The best in the market, reasonable prices and fair dealing will make any firm popular.

—A ragged little urchin called at the residence of a popular physician on Allegheny street, on last Monday, and rang the bell, a domestic came to the door, when the boy abruptly said, "Mother wants some medicine." The Dr. was not in and the boy was asked who his mother was. He indignantly replied, "you ought to know, we deal with you, we got a baby from your house last week."

—William, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McKeever, aged 9 months and 22 days, died suddenly at the Brockerhoff House on Saturday the 16th inst. It was a very sudden death, the little fellow being attacked with cholera infantum at about 4 o'clock in the morning and dying at 3 o'clock, P. M., of the same day. The funeral took place in the cemetery at 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, and was attended by the immediate friends of the family.

—The semi-annual inspection of Company B (Bellefonte Fencibles) took place in the Diamond on last Friday evening, at 7 o'clock. Major Sayre, of Washington, Pa., a member of General Beaver's staff, conducted the examination. The efficiency shown by the members of the company, as well as their neat and soldierly appearance, elicited warm praise from the inspecting officer. About thirty-five men were in line, the extreme heat deterring many from turning out. Captain Mullen bids fair to make the Fencibles one of the best companies in the 5th Regiment.

—The 27th annual meeting of the State Teachers' Association of Pennsylvania, will be held at Washington, Pa., on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the 26th, 27th and 28th days of the present month. Teachers desiring to attend can procure orders for tickets at excursion rates over the Pennsylvania railroad by addressing (with postage stamp inclosed,) J. P. Sichel, ticket Agent, Gettysburg, Pa. We have received a programme of the exercises for the meeting and judge from the number of leading educators of the State who will take part, that the sessions of each day will be highly entertaining and profitable to all who feel an interest in educational matters.

BELLEFONTE BOARD OF TRADE.—A number of the prominent citizens of Bellefonte interested in the growth and prosperity of the town, met at the law office of Beaver & Gephart, on Monday evening, for the purpose of considering the propriety of organizing a Board of Trade. The meeting was organized by electing ex-Gov. A. G. Curtin, President, and E. M. Blanchard, Esq., Secretary.

Gen. James A. Beaver was called upon to state the object of the meeting, which he said was to organize an Association or Board of Trade for the purpose of giving information as to our resources and to promote the industrial and manufacturing interests of Bellefonte and Centre county.

D. G. Bush, Esq., moved that a committee of three persons be appointed to draft a Constitution and By-Laws for the organization. The motion was adopted and the Chair appointed the following gentlemen: Gen. James A. Beaver, Hon. C. T. Alexander and E. C. Humes, Esq. Mr. Bush then moved that the admission fee for membership of the Association be $10.00. Mr. A. Loeb moved to amend by making the admission fee $10.00, and the annual fee $5.00. On motion, however, this matter was referred to the committee. Mr. Loeb moved that the organization be called, "The Board of Trade of Bellefonte," which motion was adopted.

After a full interchange of opinion among those present it was deemed advisable to proceed at once with the work of procuring all the information possible relating to the resources of the county for the use of the organization and the public, and the chair appointed the following committees for that purpose:

Committee on Iron and Coal—Robert Valentine, Constans Curtin and Frank McCoy.

Committee on Glass—D. G. Bush, Adolph Loeb and A. G. Curtin, Jr.

Committee on Lumber—John Ardell, Jr., S. A. Brew and F. W. Crider.

Committee on Coal Freights—John Irwin, Jr., Edmund Blanchard and A. G. G. Curtin.

The meeting then adjourned to meet on Friday evening.

A SAD ACCIDENT—MISS MARY DOWNING BADLY BURNED.—On last Monday Miss Mary Downing, daughter of Mr. George Downing, of Bishop street, was making preparation for dinner she met with a distressing and painful accident. Thinking the fire was entirely out of the cooking stove, she, like so many have done before her, had recourse to the terrible oil can. She poured the fluid into the stove and was immediately a mass of flames. Her face, being over the aperture of the stove, received the full force of the flames, and her hair was completely burned from her head. With great presence of mind she seized a towel and wrapped it tightly around her head. Prompt measures were taken to subdue the flames from the stove and no serious damage resulted to the building. Miss Downing is suffering acute agony and has the kind sympathy of her large circle of friends.

A MAN KILLED BY RATTLESNAKES.—A lady in Houtzdale communicates the following remarkable story to her parents in this place: A Swede miner of that place, on Sunday last, went out upon the mountain to gather whortleberries. Net returning home in due time search was made for him, when he was found dead with innumerable rattlesnakes fastened to and feeding upon his body. The searching party had much difficulty in dislodging the snakes so as to recover the body, and then only succeeded after building a fire around them and the free use of firearms. The man in the search of berries had evidently invaded one of the haunts of these dangerous reptiles, who usually gather in mass in chosen localities, and fell a victim to their united assaults.

—The DEMOCRAT of a recent issue contained the true story of the late trouble in which Mr. John Uzzle, of Snow Shoe, was concerned. Our information came from thoroughly reliable sources and from gentlemen in whom we repose the utmost confidence. But it suited certain enemies of Mr. Uzzle in Snow Shoe and in Bellefonte, to misrepresent the actual occurrences and distort the facts through the columns of the Daily News. The animus of this most unfair attack upon Mr. Uzzle was disclosed when Judge Orvis was dragged into the discussion and an endeavor made to discredit his connection with the case. It has lately become common for a few attorneys at the Bellefonte bar, when they have a desperate case on hand, to first try it in the newspapers and they invariably wind up by abusing the judge. The DEMOCRAT, in order to get at the truth of the whole matter, has taken the trouble of making diligent and impartial inquiry at Snow Shoe, and is now prepared to vouch for the entire truth of its first statement. All the prominent citizens of Snow Shoe were seen and there is but one verdict, that Mr. Uzzle was compelled to resort to harsh measures to protect his property. It was also discovered that there is a lawless element who stood behind the real rioters and urged them on out of personal hostility to Mr. Uzzle.

—On Friday last, while Geo. Wells, a young man in the employ of Mr. Riden, of Benner township, was on his way to a blacksmith shop, whither he was taking the knives of a reaping machine, he was thrown from a colt which was rearing and severely injured. He was considerably bruised by the fall and also cut with the knives he was carrying.

ALMOST A DISASTROUS FIRE—NARROW ESCAPE OF THE BELLEFONTE CAR WORKS FROM TOTAL DESTRUCTION.—Shortly after five o'clock on Tuesday afternoon an alarm of fire rang through our town. Persons rushing through the streets, showing the anxiety and excitement which the dread cry of fire always evokes, were for a short time puzzled to know from whence the alarm came, but the continuous ringing of the bell at the car shops and a dense cloud of smoke rising in that direction soon located the fire. It soon became known that the works, or some portion of them were in a blaze and every one rushed to the scene of danger to render assistance in the effort to subdue the devouring flames. It was ascertained that the roof of the machine shop, a brick structure about fifty-five by seventy feet in size, standing between the foundry and the planing mill, had taken fire from the cupola of the foundry. Unfortunately when the fire was first discovered, and an attempt was made to get a stream of water upon it from the force pump of the works, it was found that the pump was not in working order, and for a time indeed all the shops seemed to be in danger of destruction. Both the fire companies of the town were, however, promptly on the ground and the boys went to work with a will, bringing into service the suction fire engine belonging to the Undine company. This machine was stationed between the burning building and the planing mill. The suction hose was placed in the race beneath, and with strong arms at the brakes two streams of water were playing upon the fire which by this time had made considerable headway. A bucket brigade was also formed and did excellent work. By almost superhuman efforts the fire was confined to the roof and upper portions of the one building. After considerable delay the pump of the works was got into working order. This pump threw a powerful stream of water which finally aided much in completely overcoming the destructive element. Considering the threatening character of the danger the loss will be trifling, and we understand is fully covered by insurance. The machinery was not injured, except perhaps slightly by water, and the damaged building will be immediately repaired. The following card of thanks from superintendent Tiffin, for the prompt and efficient assistance given by the fire companies and citizens of Bellefonte, appeared in the Daily News of yesterday. We gladly transfer it to our columns:

CARD OF THANKS.
Bellefonte, July 19, 1881.
EDITOR DAILY NEWS:
Sir:—When property like the Bellefonte Car Works is in flames and threatened with entire destruction, the feeling of relief and the excitement of the occasion are too great, when by the extraordinary efforts of our neighbors it is saved, to thank them then and there for their kind, disinterested and almost superhuman exertions, wherefore I beg to ask you kindly to allow me through your valuable columns to render my best and heartiest thanks to all those, and especially the members of the Undine and Logan Fire Companies, who so willingly, heartily and nobly assisted to save the Car Works from total ruin. Yours, respectfully,
MILLER TIFFIN.

BELLEFONTE AS A SUMMER RESORT—A LARGE NUMBER OF PEOPLE AT THE BUSH HOUSE.—It has been a common expression on our streets lately "where do all the strangers come from." And true it is that Bellefonte has seldom if ever had so many summer visitors. A great many are scattered throughout town as the guests of private families, but the Bush House perfectly swarms with these "birds of passage." The Bush House is well calculated for the entertainment and comfort of people, who drag themselves away from the heat and dust of the cities in order to take a good rest and enjoy home comforts. Its wide and spacious halls, its elegantly furnished rooms, its superb location and its competent management make it one of the most desirable summer hotels in this section of Pennsylvania, which is noted for its fine hotels. On last Sunday, to give our readers an idea of what this immense Caravan is doing, seventy three people sat in its large and completely equipped dining room to partake of an elegant dinner. The scene was fascinating and reminded one of the great hotels at a popular watering place. Mr. Teller, the affable proprietor, may well felicitate himself upon the reward he is receiving in his endeavor to keep a first-class hotel. The following are the more prominent of the recent arrivals at the Bush House: Daniel Swartz and family, Geo. B. Cadwell and family, M. E. Randall, W. Geofrey, E. Briory of Philadelphia. These gentlemen are compiling a history of Centre county, and are here in connection with this important work. Mrs. M. E. Dunham, Allegheny; Mrs. Dr. Calvin, Meadville, Pa.; Mrs. J. Houtz, Lewis-ton, Pa.; J. M. Bunnell and wife, Bellefonte; Joe Thompson and family, C. L. Anderson and E. A. Maxwell and family, of Philadelphia; John McCloskey of Kane, Pa.; Mrs. F. W. Redford, Richmond, Va.

VALENTINES IRON WORKS, PA.
F. P. GREEN—Dear Sir: I have used your Green's Liver Pills in my family for several years and consider them the Best Pills any family can use. I believe they have saved me hundreds of dollars in doctors' bills.

—Ground was broken yesterday for the fine improvement that will be made to the northwest corner of High and Spring streets by the Centre County Banking Company. The building that gives way to the new banking house to be erected on that corner is one of the old landmarks of Bellefonte and was for a long time the residence of the late Rev. James Linn, for so many years the pastor of the Presbyterian congregation of our town. The new building will be an imposing and handsome three-story brick structure, with a front of forty-six feet on High street and sixty-one feet on Spring street. The ground story will contain elegant and commodious rooms on the corner for the bank, and two large and finely arranged store rooms. The upper stories will be divided into convenient rooms, that can be used for offices, etc. Jesse Stewart has the contract for the foundation masonry and will commence work immediately. We understand it is the intention of the banking company to have the building erected as speedily as possible. Mr. George Tate is the architect, and his drafts present to the eye an exceedingly beautiful and well proportioned structure.

—The organization of a Board of Trade by the citizens of Bellefonte for the purpose of promoting the business growth and prosperity of our town and county was an eminently appropriate and praiseworthy movement. There are many reasons why this endeavor to aid in the upbuilding of our business, industrial and manufacturing interests should receive the earnest attention and encouragement of our citizens. The natural resources of Centre county are so varied, so valuable and so extensive that their proper development is a matter that must come home to the personal concern and probable advantage of every man within its limits. What will benefit the community must in a measure benefit each individual member of the community; and it is only by an organization such as it is proposed this Board of Trade shall be that results at all commensurate with the means that a good Providence has placed within our reach can be attained. The object is a laudable one and all branches of trade and industry should be represented in its membership and councils. Properly conducted the organization will give concert of action in all judicious efforts to add to our material prosperity, by giving the public a knowledge of our hidden wealth of iron and coal, of our hills of limestone, of our vast forests of timber, and of our magnificent stretches of valley land that yield such rich rewards to the tillers of soil. We say success to the Board of Trade and the objects which it is designed to promote.

COL. W. G. MITCHELL.—The day before the President was shot, he received a letter from Gen. Hancock asking as a personal favor that his aid, Col. Mitchell be appointed to an Assistant Adjutant Generalship, then vacant. The request was immediately complied with and the General notified in the following complimentary and deserved words to Colonel Mitchell. "While your staff, General, loses an ornament, the Army gains an Assistant Adjutant General of whom it may well be proud." General Mitchell is a native of Lewistown, in this State and a brother of our friend Joseph E. Mitchell, of this county. The brilliant record he has made in the service is one of which we as Pennsylvanians all take a just pride.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Brown have again been called upon to mourn over the loss of a cherished child. Their infant was attacked with cholera infantum on Tuesday and died yesterday morning. The remains were conveyed to Huntingdon yesterday afternoon to be deposited by the side of the little one who preceded it. Mr. and Mrs. Brown have the sympathy of many friends in their sad bereavement.

For the CENTRE DEMOCRAT.
Sunday School Excursion to Snow Shoe.

The members of St. John's Episcopal Sunday school and congregation spent the day at Snow Shoe on Thursday last, July 14th. The day was "a day of cloudless beauty," "a perfect day." The air was cool, the sky clear, the sun bright, and the breezes balmy; and all things conspired to bring out an unusual amount of aesthetic slang, the only kind ever used on such excursions, from the female members of the party. On all sides the girls were saying, "perfectly lovely!" "sublimely superb!" "impressively exquisite!" "astonishingly sweet!" &c., &c. At half past seven o'clock the train moved up to the depot where the superintendent (of the Sunday school, not of the railroad) and librarian were distributing tickets. Everybody was happy and in a hurry. "Old men and maidens, young men and children," "high and low, rich and poor, one with another," right recklessly hustled each other as they pressed towards the platform, and pushed into the cars, and rushed into seats, and underscored the expressions of satisfaction written upon their faces by the emphatic manner of their sitting down. At eight o'clock all were ready, the bell of the engine rang, the brakes were opened and four passenger cars of the Pennsylvania railroad rolled away to the mountains filled with a jolly, frolic, fleshy freight of men, women and children.

In the way of Sunday school picnics, this was "a new departure." It was undertaken in faith. Faith in the general manager of the Snow Shoe mines, faith in the men who managed the train, and faith in the landlord of the Mountain House. No life preservers of any sort, no baskets, no buckets, no boxes, no ice cream freezers bothered anybody. Low belts, even prayer books and lesson leaves were left at home. Care and anxiety were conspicuously absent. And under these conditions there was nothing to do but to enjoy the ride, enjoy the scenery, enjoy ourselves, and keep the children inside the cars, in doing all which we succeeded admirably well. We steamed along at a rapid rate, took no notice of Milesburg, in fact, forgot that there is such a place. On nearing the foot of the mountain all mouths seemed to open wider and superstitiously to suck in the exhilarating air, believing that life and health for another year depended on it. When our engine began to struggle up the mountain side, backward and forward over the steep graded switches, it sent forth irregular puffing sounds, which reminded Warren of the noise from the organ bellows when he pumps too hard. In his mind he was just then arranging a rustic button-hole bouquet, from the tiger lilies and daisies and other small flowers that bedecked the banks of a babbling brook near by. But he quickly dropped his "gingham umbrella," threw his cigar out the window, and began to hum a hymn. The summit of the mountain was soon reached. The scene from this point is indeed surpassingly grand. The series of mountain tops that stretch towards the south and west as far as the eye can reach look like so many mighty giants in marching order. The deep valleys that open up before them, are like vessels of classic mould which nature has provided to catch the crystal dew that distils from their tops. The government of that region is a monarchy. Tranquility is the queen, and she reigns in rich regalence. "The planets beaming on their heavenly way," give her the kiss of peace as they pass her throne, and all the denizens of the universe are knighted dolts who do not render admiring obeisance at her feet. The different members of the party enjoyed it each in their own way. The artists caught colors from the sky, and using their eyes for palettes, and the poetry of their natures for brushes, they painted upon the canvass of their memories the picturesque figure of each distant peak as it stood decked in its robes of morning splendor. They made easels out of imagination and rested them upon the rocky beds of the ravine beneath their feet. The young men and maidens disposed to be sentimental looked out upon the ethereal sweetness that basked in golden light, and watched it steal kisses from the grizzly cheeks of the sturdy mountain giants, or stoop to gather fresh fragrance from the wooded valleys at their feet. The sight brought relief to their pent up thoughts and feelings. They smiled in sincere sympathy with the scene and with each other. The more matter of fact in the party took an entirely different view of the scene. Some talked of the bear dens, and rattlesnake dens, deer crossings, trout streams, and pheasants ground out there. One man grotesquely wondered how many feet of timber may yet be cut out there, and whether the stone is good for building purposes? He was asked to leave the train. At length we arrived at Snow Shoe. Our train stopped in front of the Mountain House. Mr. Peters in holiday attire was on the porch waiting for us. Arrangements had been made with him to provide dinner for about one hundred and thirty-five. One hundred and eighty-six walked into the house, and Mr. Peters was overwhelmed. But he was equal to the occasion in every respect. Received us in a lordly manner and had dinner for all. It was a good dinner. It consisted of three kinds of meats, four kinds of vegetables, abundance of bread and butter of the best quality, plenty of cake of several kinds, plenty of ice cream, and tea and coffee for those who wanted either. Everybody was not only well satisfied, but highly pleased, and Mr. Peters has the hearty thanks of our Sunday school and congregation for the important part he took in making our excursion a complete success. After dinner some strolled in the park near the house where "our member from Snow Shoe" had swings put up. Some played upon the lawn beside the house. Others distributed themselves in sociable groups in the hospitable parlors and on the spacious porches of the house, in convenient closeness to the lemonade tub. Nothing happened during the whole day to mar our pleasure, except that on the way home we had a tedious wait of two hours at Glen Harris. Here our engine ran off the track while shifting a car load of lumber on the siding. But we passed this time, some in discussing the events of the day, some in munching peanuts which were passed round to all, others in botanizing, and concluded by passing the following resolution:

Resolved, That the ride over the railroad was delightful; that Mr. Peters treated us handsomely; that we all had a good time; and that we would like to repeat the excursion another year.

The only objections to the resolution came from those who waited at the depot in Bellefonte for our train two hours without knowing where we were or what detained us.

We are authorized to announce that JOHN MEYERS, of Harris township, will be a candidate for Recorder, subject to the decision of the Democratic County Convention.

A FOOL ONCE MORE.—"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a United States flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays.—H. W., Detroit, Mich.—Free Press.

A Card.
To the Democrats of Centre County!
Finding that injustice is being done me by the circulation of a report to the effect that I am a candidate for sheriff in the interest of the present sheriff and his deputy, who, in case of my nomination and election, are to assist in filling the office and profit by my success, I take this opportunity of branding such report as false in every particular. I have no arrangement or bargain with any one. I have made no pledge, or given no promise to any one. I believe I am qualified and competent to fill the office myself, and if elected intend to do so.
L. T. MUNSON.
LOGAN CEMENT.—The retail price for LOGAN CEMENT on and after this date (May 9, 1881), will be two dollars per barrel and no charge for bags or barrels.
